We have put put up and sold this article for years, and CAN SAY IN CONFIDENCE AND TRUTH of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—NEVER HAS IT FAILED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak in this matter "WHAT WE DO KNOW," after years of experience, AND PLEDGE OUR REPUTATION FOR THE FULFILMENT OF WHAT WE HERE DECLARE. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation has been used with NEVER FAILING SUCCESS in

Thousands of Cases.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve Griping in the Bowels and Wind Colic.

We believe it the BEST AND SUREST REMEDY IN THE WORLD, in all cases of DYSENTERY and DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—do not let your prejudices, nor the prejudices of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief it will be SURE—yes, ABSOLUTELY SURE—to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. LINCOLN BUTTER POWDER.

Good Fresh Butter All The Year Round,

BUTTER IN 20 MINUTES.

Lincoln Butter Powder is an entirely harmless article made from a celebrated English recipe, and now in daily use by many of the most noted farmers in the butter counties around Philadelphia.

In hot weather this Powder makes butter much firmer and stronger than it usually is, and keeps it from turning rancid. It also removes the strong flavor of turnips, weeds, corn stalks, cotton seed, etc.; and the increased yield of butter much more than pays the trifling expense of using it.

Condensed History of Steam.

About 280 years B. C., Hero of Alexandria formed a toy which exhibited some of the powers of steam, and was moved by its powers.

A. D. 540 an architect arranged several caldrons of water, each covered with a wide bottom of a leather tube, which rose to a narrow top, with pipes extending to the rafters of the adjoining building. A fire was kindled beneath the caldrons, and the house shaken with the efforts of the steam ascending the tubes. This is the first notice of the power of steam recorded.

In 1543, June 17, Brasco de Garay tried a steamboat of 200 tons with tolerable success at Barcelona, Spain. It consisted of a caldron of boiling water and a movable wheel on each side of the ship. It was laid aside as impracticable. A present, however, was made to Garay.

In 1630 the first railroad was constructed at Newcastle-on-the-Tyne.

The first idea of a steam engine in England was in the Marquis of Worcester's "History of Invention," A. D. 1663.

In 1701 Newerman made his first engine in England.

In 1764 James Watts made the first perfect steam engine in England.

In 1766 Jonathan Hulls first set forth the idea of steam navigation.

In 1778 Thomas Payne first proposed the application in America.

In 1781 Marquis Jouffrey constructed a steamboat on the Saone.

In 1781 two Americans published a work on it.

In 1789 William Symington made a voyage in one on the Forth and Clyde canal.

In 1802 this experiment was repeated.

In 1782 Ramsey propelled a boat by steam at New York.

In 1789 John Fitch of Connecticut navigated a boat by a steam engine on the Delaware.

In 1804 Robert Fulton first began to apply his attention to steam.

In 1783 Oliver Evans, a native of Philadelphia, constructed a steam engine to travel on a turnpike road.

The first steam vessel that ever crossed the Atlantic was the Savannah, in the month of June, from Charleston to Liverpool. Hunt's Merchant's Magazine.

You Know! Says He!

Listen to some people's conversation. It is very amusing to notice the remarkable frequency with which these expressions occur. No matter how choice the language of the speaker may be, if he or she indulge in the habit of introducing these words on all occasions, their conversation cannot fail to sound very inelegant.

Where the habit is of many years' standing, and when the person who indulges in it has grown old in the service, it will not be easily abandoned; but young folks who have adopted the phrases can judge of how they sound to others, and very likely be glad to give them up, if they will read these beautiful lines from "Marco Bozzaris," which we found printed in a newspaper twenty years old, with these verbal extras attached:

"At midnight, in his guarded tent—you know,
The Turk lay dreaming of the hour—you know,
When Greece, her knee in suppliance bent—you Should tremble at his power—you know. [know,
'Strike, till the last armed foe expires'—says he,
'Strike, for your altars and your fires'—says he,
'Strike, for the green graves of your sires'—says he,
God and your native land,'—says he."

Nother Stopping Place.

The death of one of the oldest residents of Brookfield recalls an incident in her career, which happened some fifteen years ago:

She was going to Stamford to visit a daughter, and took her seat in the cars for the first and only time in her life. During the ride an accident occurred whereby the car in which she was seated was thrown down an embankment and demolished. Crawling out from beneath the debris she spied a man who was held down in a sitting posture by his legs being fastened.

"Is this Stamford?" she anxiously inquired.

The man was from Boston. He was in considerable pain, but he did not lose sight of the fact that he was from Boston, so he said—

"No, this is a catastrophe."

"Oh," ejaculated the old lady; "then I hadn't oughter got off here?"

This was so evident as to make a reply unnecessary.—Danbury News.

—At Lincoln, Neb., Mr. Russell, with his wife and three children, arrived in the city in a covered wagon, and crossing a railway track, the wagon was struck by a train, which instantly crushed it to atoms, killing the mother and daughter, and mangling the father and eldest son. At the time of the accident the mother held in her arms an infant eleven months old, but as the wagon went down before the cars, with maternal instinct she threw the child from the wagon, and it alone of the little family escaped unhurt.

—A negro witness in a trial the other day was asked what he was doing in a certain saloon at a certain time. He explained that he had gone there "to change his breff." The explanation was accepted.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1876

FOR PRESIDENT,

Rutherford B. Hayes,

OF OHIO.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,

William A. Wheeler,

OF NEW YORK.

Republican Electoral Ticket.

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

ZIMRI S. WALLINGFORD, of Dover.
JOHN J. MORRILL, of Gilford,
MOODY CURRIER, of Manchester.
LEVI W. BARTON, of Newport.
JOHN M. BRACKETT, of Wolfeborough.

Hayes' Platform in War.

In 1864, when Hayes was in the army, being nominated for Congress he was requested to come home and stump his district. His reply was, "I have other business just now. Any man who would leave the army at this time to electioneer for Congress ought to be scalped!"

Hayes' Platform in Peace.

"Honest money for all, and free schools for all. There should be no inflation which will depreciate the one, nor sectarian interference which will destroy the other."

The Public Credit.

Reform is necessary to restore the public credit.—St. Louis platform.

Yes, that is the language of the platform adopted by the democratic National convention, in which sat thirty-five delegates representing that sample democratic tax-reducer and credit-supporter—that mighty engine of democratic reform, Tammany Hall. And then they resolved that the "reform" necessary to restore the public credit can only be secured by placing the solid South and Tammany once more in control of the National government.

But what is the matter with the public credit now? The country is carrying a heavy load in the shape of an immense debt, long pension-list, etc., saddled upon it through the war waged by the party which sought to have the Union perish that slavery might live; yet in spite of this, thanks to republican management, the public credit to-day stands higher than it ever did at any time under any democratic administration, when National debt and pension list together amounted to but a mere bagatelle. More than that: until the idea recently got abroad that the election of Tilden and the consequent return to power of the "solid South" was among the possibilities, the credit of the United States was as high as that of any nation on earth, for no nation ever placed so large a loan on such advantageous terms as the new four and a half per cent. loan was being placed by the United States.

"Reform is necessary to restore the public credit." Restore it to what? To the condition to which the democrats had brought it at the time the republican party assumed control? This must be what is meant, as it is a manifest absurdity to talk of restoring anything to its present condition. What, then, was the condition to which the Tilden reformers propose to "restore" the public credit, if only they can get a chance?

Under the last democratic administration, (Buchanan's,) the public debt was greatly increased, though even at the close of that administration the debt was but a trifle in comparison with the war debt of the present. Bonds were issued, bearing interest at six per cent., but the democratic financiers were obliged to sell them at eleven and twelve per cent. discount; the republican financiers have been selling bonds bearing interest at only four and a half per cent., at a premium. Yet the democrats ask to be restored to power, that they may "restore the public credit!"

That a democratic restoration to power would quickly "restore the public credit" to at least as low a condition as the democrats left it in when they went out of power, is indicated by the effect on the European market of the mere apprehension of a democratic victory; the new low-interest bonds, which up to a few weeks ago were quoted at three and four per cent. premium on their face, having suddenly dropped to par, with no call for them.

Colorado.

The vote of Colorado for Member of Congress, Judges of Supreme Court, and Legislature, is officially announced, as follows: for Judges of the Supreme Court, republican majority 148; for member of the 44th Congress, J. B. Belford, republican, majority 1088; for member of the 45th Congress, J. B. Belford, republican, majority 939. The Legislature is divided as follows: Senate—19 republicans, 7 democrats; House of Representatives—32 republicans, 17 democrats. Republican majority on joint ballot, 27. Net republican majority for State Senators 1935; for members of the House of Representatives 2204. This Legislature will choose three Presidential Electors Nov. 7; also canvas the vote for Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Auditor, Treasurer and Secretary of State. The republican gain over the last election is 3201 on Congressman, and 4367 on Legislature. Yet the "reform" organs, for more than a week after the election, and with abundant and correct returns at hand, deliberately and persistently lied about the matter, claiming a great democratic victory, in order to influence the election in Ohio and Indiana. No doubt this was in obedience to the orders of Tilden's literary bureau, but it was none the less dishonest. A precious set of "reformers" they are, truly.

—The man who gets tight is apt to make very many loose remarks.

A Reform Scheme.

The managers of the Tilden reform party in Philadelphia, determined not to be out-done in effective work for the good cause by the repeaters and ballot-box stuffers of Tammany and Brooklyn, evolved from their true inwardness a nice little scheme by which 30,000 or more bogus votes could be made for Tilden without cost to the great reformer or his party. The plan was simply to furnish bogus tax-receipts, the possession of a tax-receipt entitling the holder to vote. The city receipts are printed on paper made to order, and waterlined "Personal tax, 1876;" and on Saturday night Henry Marcus, treasurer of the democratic city committee of Philadelphia, and Samuel Josephs, democratic candidate for the Legislature, were arrested for having in their possession unlawfully 30,000 or more blank sheets of this waterlined paper, the paper being captured at the time of the arrest. George McManus, chairman of the democratic executive committee, was in the hack with the others when they were arrested, but jumped out and ran away; a warrant was issued for his arrest. The three reformers were brought before the Court on Monday, when they were held in $5000 bail each to appear on Friday to answer to a charge of violating the election laws. There is proof that they have been engaged in a conspiracy to qualify 30,000 people who cannot vote lawfully, to do so unlawfully by the presentation of forged tax papers. All in the interest of Tilden, reform and a pure government.

News and Notes.

By a collision near Summit, Penn., on the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad, between a coal train and a passenger train, five persons were killed and many others injured.

Two negro women fought a duel with knives in Louisville, Ky., Sunday morning, and cut and slashed each other half an hour before they were stopped. One of them was terribly wounded in six places and lost an eye; the other was but little injured.

Mrs. Cora L. V. Heywood-Cheeseman, formerly a Boston clairvoyant, who shot herself (or was shot) in a New York hotel some weeks ago, is at present convalescing in Lynn, Mass., at the residence of Mrs. Blanchard. She returned from New York in company with Mrs. Blanchard on Saturday last.

The British Artic Exploring Expedition, when at Polaris Bay, hoisted the American flag and fired a salute as a brass tablet, with the following inscription, was fixed on the grave of Captain Hall: "Sacred to the memory of Captain Hall of the Polaris, who sacrificed his life in the advancement of science. This tablet is erected by the British Polar Expedition, who, following his footsteps, have profited by his experience."

Schooner Isaac Patch, of Gloucester, picked up sloop Louise, of Greenport, Conn., near Block island, and towed her into Newport, R. I. When fallen in with the sloop was on her beam ends, with sails set, and it is supposed the crew of two men are lost.

M. Sommerard, the French Centennial Commissioner, writes the Paris Figaro that the scurrilous letter concerning the Exposition and Americans in general recently published in that paper over his signature is a forgery.

Two attorneys in Biddeford who are opposing counsel in a case, recently met to arrange a day of trial. It was finally agreed, at the suggestion of the republican, that the case should be postponed until the day after Tilden's election. The clerk has struck the case from the docket.

The striking engineers of the New Jersey Central Railroad deny that any of their number wrecked the train which was thrown off last week by opening a switch, and the officers of the road exonerate them. A discharged employe is suspected, and the United Brotherhood of Engineers offer $5000 reward for his arrest and conviction.

Notwithstanding the talked-of armistice the fighting between the Turks and Servians is still going on. The Turkish army on Sunday defeated the Servians at Djunis, cutting their army in two. Roumania is said to have declared war against the Turks.

The meeting of the American Metric Bureau, which was held at the Technological Institute on Saturday afternoon, was the real beginning of the most practical movement that has yet been made in this country to have the metric system of weights and measures introduced with us. This system cannot but commend itself to anyone who will take the trouble to examine it, and we doubt not it will soon be popularized in this country, especially as it has for some time been made legal. We wish the movement all success, and congratulate the Bureau upon the admirable list of directors that have been chosen for the coming year. Globe.

Russia has sent an ultimatum to the Porte. Turkey is given forty-eight hours in which to accept an armistice. War is considered imminent.

Charles Madison, who left New York July 8, to cross the ocean in a dory, has probably been lost. When two days out he had his main boom broken, and on July 16 he boarded the British schooner Newport, where he remained about ten minutes, and later on he boarded the ship Beethoven and provisioned his little craft for the continuation of his voyage, since which time nothing has been heard from him.

It is reported that a portion of Captain Kidd's treasures have been found at Castle Hill in Ipswich, Mass. A man had a dream a few weeks since, and in it he saw a large tree, which had grown up since he last visited the spot. He dreamed that under that tree gold was buried, over which were six cannon balls. A man to whom this was told visited the spot, dug up the ground, found six cannon balls and some gold. There is much excitement over it, and it is stated that there is no doubt but what Kidd's buried treasures have at last been found.

New Hampshire Items.

Lyman Locke, Esq., of Barrington, a prominent lumber dealer and business man, was found dead in bed Sunday morning. Heart disease was the cause. He was an officer during the late war in the Eigth New Hampshire Volunteers. He was about 52 years old.

The Hillside House at North Conway was burned on Monday. Loss $6000; insured $4000.

Thomas Lymington was committed in the Tombs Police Court in New York on Monday, on a charge of robbing S. P. Brackett, Postmaster at Great Falls, who was a stranger in the city, and asked Lymington the way to the Fall River steamboats.

Humors of the Campaign.

A Washington wit furnishes a good bit to the humors of the campaign. A noted practical joker here got into a political discussion with a crowd of democrats, and offered to bet $100 that he could name a city in the United States of over 10,000 inhabitants in which not a single legal vote would be cast for Tilden.

"Are you in earnest?" asked a democrat.

"I will put up the money now," was the reply.

"Well," said a democrat, "I'll just take that bet to teach you a lesson. Fools can be taught sense."

The money was placed in the hands of a bystander, and, as the party was separating, the joker called the betting democrat aside and whispered to him:

"If you had thought a minute before you took me up you would have remembered that Washington has over 10,000 inhabitants."

From the fact that suffrage is not extended to the residents of the District of Columbia the joker insists that he need not wait until after election to have that bet decided.

Another joke that has been repeatedly played upon innocents here is an assertion that even if Tilden is elected the republicans will not allow him to be inaugurated on the 4th of March. After the victim has become sufficiently excited he is informed that the 4th of March next comes on Sunday, and either Mr. Hayes, Mr. Tilden or Peter Cooper will have to wait until Monday, before being inaugurated.—Graphic Washington Cor.

As he was walking along—but let him tell his own story: "Small boys now gather in the desolated country gardens, and, hiding down between the hedge, shy frost-bitten cucumbers at the unsuspecting passer-by and hit him on his bewildered ear."

—Quite recently a very unusually explicit will was admitted to probate in Albany: "I, Bridget Reilly, in my solid senses, wills this house to my husband. House and lot all belonging to, and furniture." It was written on the back of a receipted bill for groceries. If ordinary wills were as direct and explicit as this, there would be less trouble in the courts.

Forestalling Disease.

When we see that death is so often the penalty paid for a famous disregard of the symptoms of approaching disease, should we not be warned against the folly of neglecting defensive measures when called for in our own case? Assuredly we should, and upon the first manifestations of ill health or decay of physical vigor, seek the aid of medicine. The fortifying influence upon the system of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters entitle that medicine of many virtues to the highest consideration as a preventive, and it cannot be too strongly recommended as a means of arresting the progress of malarious fevers, dyspepsia, constipation, liver complaint, kidney and bladder troubles, gout, rheumatism and other disorders which in their incipiency are far more easily overcome than in their maturity—albeit, the great alterative has repeatedly demonstrated its power to vanquish them in their worst phases.

This Trade Mark is a guarantee that the medicine is genuine. Without it the Pills are a fraud and a cheat—when it is represented by any dealer that they are selling the LITTLE GIANT PILLS, which have effected such wonderful cures in Portsmouth.

This medicine has been prepared with the greatest care of the choicest ingredients for the cure of Sick Headache and Bilious Disorders. Its success has been very surprising, as the many certificates of well-known citizens testify.

EXA. JUNE 6, '76.

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

The republicans of Ward One will hold a caucus this (Wednesday,) evening, at half-past seven o'clock, at the Ward Room on Elm street, to nominate delegates to the Constitutional Convention. Per Order.

The republicans of Ward Two will hold a caucus for the nomination of delegates to the Constitutional Convention, at the Court House, on Saturday evening, Nov. 4th.

Per Order, E. H. LESLIE, Sec.

TORCH-LIGHT POLITICS.

The train for Manchester this (Wednesday) evening, to take the Hayes and Wheeler Guards, leaves at a quarter to 7 o'clock.

The torch-light parade of republican organizations in this city, Thursday evening, will be one of the greatest affairs of the kind ever gotten up here. In addition to the local clubs, others will be present from Manchester, Exeter and Dover, if the weather is favorable. One of the Dover companies, commanded by Zimri S. Wallingford, Esq., includes nearly every prominent merchant, banker, lawyer and business man of the city, the Mayor, ex-Mayors and other leading citizens,—showing that a class of men who usually confine their attention to political affairs to the mere act of voting, are this year taking an active part in the canvass. The column will form on Market square, and move at about half-past seven o'clock, over the following route:

From Market square through Market street to Deer, Deer to Elm and countermarch at Christian Shore, back to Railway Avenue to Deer street, through Deer to Bridge, Bridge to Islington, Islington to Cabot, Cabot to Middle, Middle to Wibird street, countermarch through Middle to Court, Court to Pleasant, Pleasant to Water, Water to State, State to Union, Union to Austin, Austin to Summer, Summer to Islington, down Islington street to Market square.

Citizens along the line of march, who believe the interests of the country will be best advanced by keeping out of power for four years more the party which depends on a "Solid South" and Tammany Hall for success, are requested to illuminate and decorate their dwellings and places of business.

Persons intending to join the cavalcade will please report as early as Thursday noon to John Stokell, and receive their torches.

JOTTINGS.

Let every republican voter see to it that his name is on the checklist, and his neighbor's name as well. Copies of the checklists of all the wards can be seen at the City Rooms; also, a copy of the check-list of Ward One can be found posted at the Eastern Railroad depot, of Ward Two at the Court House, of Ward Three at the Plains School House, and of Ward Four at Charles H. Tucker's store, corner of Water and Pleasant streets.

The Prince Society of Boston have just issued an historical work of great interest to New Hampshire, viz: "A Life of Rev. John Wheelright, founder of Exeter," written by Hon. Charles H. Bell. "The Life of Captain John Mason, patentee and founder of New Hampshire," written by Hon. Charles W. Tuttle, is the next to appear in this historical series.

"Entertaining an Audience," by W. H. Barnes of New York, assisted by Miss E. M. Stagg, is to be given at the Temple, under the auspices of the Odd Fellows order, on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, November 14th and 15th. It will be a novel entertainment.

Lew Benedict's Minstrels appear at the Temple this evening. The Philadelphia City Item, speaking after a week's performances, said: "The performance presented by the company was in every respect first-class, being chaste, interesting, amusing, fresh and sparkling, and fully deserved the lavish praise and hearty applause it drew out every evening."

The way of the repeater is hard—sometimes. Several of the patriotic gentlemen imported from Boston by the Manchester democracy, to swell the vote for reform in 1875, have come to grief, or at least have gone to jail. One of these patriots, named O'Brien, was tried a year ago; but his friend Mr. Charles Crohan, came to the rescue and swore so vigorously that Mr. O'Brien got clear. Recently Mr. Crohan was tried at Exeter for false swearing, and was convicted; and the Court, entirely ignoring the fact that Mr. Crohan committed perjury in the interests of true reform, sent him to State Prison for three years. What kind of a way is that to use a reformer?

Political.

Hon. Henry S. Sanford, late United States Minister to Belgium, (and long a resident at the South and now a large property holder in Florida and Lousiana,) has written a letter to Thurlow Weed, which the latter has published. From that letter we take the following: "I landed yesterday from the Russia, and within thirty days past have conversed with many prominent capitalists and bankers (members of the Syndicate included), on both sides of the Channel, who are interested in American securities, and in these conferences I was struck with the general feeling of uncertainty and distrust manifested in the contingency of the change of the Federal administration into democratic hands, and the apprehensions excited by the possible effect of Southern influences upon it. This seemed to be considered as inflation and the probable increase of the national debt through the admission of untold amounts of Southern claims and of some possible tinkering of the legislation upon upon which our present debt (and credit) is based."

In his testimony before the Congressional Committee on the New York election frauds, Tilden admitted his knowledge of the secret circular bearing his name, though denying that he "authorized" it. His supporters have stoutly denied that he knew anything about this circular, but here is what Tilden himself testified under oath, and it is conclusivs as to his complicity in that stupendous fraud, as charged upon him in 1869 by Horace Greeley: "A day or two before the election I was in the Committee-room, at the Metropolitan Hotel, and I then understood that a circular had been issued, asking for early election returns. It had been issued some time previously, by whom I do not know, but I understood its purport from somebody. I saw on a table, or shelf, some circulars, signed with my name, but I did not read them, for I understood their contents. I presumed they were the same circulars."

Jimmy O'Brien, representing anti-Tammany, has surrendered to Tammany Hall, and the anti-Tammany Convention has nominated Smith Ely, Jr., also the Tammany candidate, for Mayor of New York. This doubtless means that the energies of the repeaters and ballot-box stuffers of both factions are to be combined in favor of Tilden and reform.

Jeff Davis writes from London as follows: "The sympathies of the monarchists of England are all in favor of Governor Tilden, and confidentially the friends of 'the Lost Cause,' who spent their money so freely in aid of the rebellion to destroy the American Union, have contributed large sums to Gov. Tilden's election fund, and will freely contribute thousands of millions, if by that means they can break up the great Republic, which is a menace to every great monarchy in Europe."

The democratic Governor, United States Senators and Congressmen of Kentucky are out with an address "to the people of the United States," setting forth that "the southern people have no hope or expectation" that the claims of rebels for damages received during the war will be paid. Not a few of the rebel claims now before Congress were introduced at the last session, by some of the very men whose names are signed to the address!

Michael Scanlan, formerly editor of the Irish Republic, has issued an address to Irish voters, advising them to vote for Hayes and Wheeler.

Down in Meriden, Conn., a German who wanted to be naturalized, but couldn't find anybody who had known him five years, took his wife along; and the Judge, who couldn't find any law prohibiting a wife's testimony, took her word for it, and naturalized him.

The New York Herald is very much afraid that in the crush between the two great parties Uncle Peter Cooper will, after all, squeeze in.

The Dundee (Scotland) Advertiser informs its readers that Mr. Tilden is "President of New York." Well, that's consoling for Mr. Tilden, anyway.

The New York Tribune, speaking of the heavy fraudulent registration in New York and Brooklyn, says: "At no previous time has the system of supervising the elections been more nearly perfected than at present. Contrary to all hopes and expectations, we do not believe that a hundred suspected voters will succeed in fraudulently voting in this city; we hope very few will be any more successful in Brooklyn. It may be necessary to make hundreds of arrests on election day, but the legal papers, the official machinery, and the sworn men are ready for the emergency, should it arise. At this election, for the first time in many years, the Police Commissioners will be on the side of peace and order, and the police force under their direction will supplement the United States Supervisors in securing a fair election by arresting and detaining repeaters. We have not had, since 1868, to the present Board, a Police Commission that was not in the interest of Tammany Hall—even those headed by pretended republicans—and which did not cheat for it." The Tribune is confident that Tilden will be defeated in his own State.

JOHN TAGGART."

Daily Chronicle.

—"They were giving "Pique" at a theatre one Saturday afternoon, lately. Two young ladies, living at a distance, having to take the train at an early hour, were obliged to leave before the representation was finished. Selecting, as they thought, a very quiet time in the play, they were passing down the aisle, when an actor suddenly appeared on the stage, and repeating a part of his role, exclaimed: "There they go; the only two women I ever loved. One I couldn't have, and the other I can't get." Imagine the amusement of the audience and the astonishment of the young ladies. Hingham Journal.

—A singular accident occurred on the Midland (Canada) railroad, recently. The two forward wheels of the forward truck of a freight car, situated near the centre of the train, became detached from the others, sprang off the track and ran up a steep embankment a distance of twenty feet, dislodging a large stone and impedding themselves in the earth, but the train continued on its way for two miles before the mishap was noticed. How those wheels got away from the others and off the track without disturbing the rest of the train puzzles everybody.

—Among Confederate claims is the claim that Tilden will be elected.

THE OLDEST ESTABLISHED HOSPITAL

—IN THE—

UNITED STATES.

No. 9 Beaver Street, - - - Albany, N. Y.

SURE CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Dr. YOUNG,

SUCCESSOR TO

Dr. TELLER,

ESTABLISHED.

The above named private Hospital was established in Albany in 1835 by Dr. Lispenard and for a number of years his affairs were presided over by that gentleman, but for the past 20 years, Dr. Teller, who is now deceased, transacted the business of the Institution.

Owing to the great demand for more spacious apartments on account of the large increase of business, the Hospital has been removed to No. 9 Beaver Street, two doors above its old location, where patients will find magnificently furnished rooms for their reception, and are so arranged that patients do not come in contact with one another, seeing only the doctor, thereby avoiding the unpleasantness of meeting others, which always occurred at the old office.

LADIES will find rooms provided for their especial accommodation and entirely private.

YOUNG MEN, addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their health and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasures of married life and also those afflicted with private diseases of any nature, are advised that in consulting Dr. Young they will find a physician fully qualified to cure and restore them to full health and manly vigor.

Dr. Teller's great work for the married, or those contemplating marriage—100 pages—full of plates, price $5 cents. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail post paid.

TO THE LADIES—DR. YOUNG still retains the only agency in America for the sale of Dr. Vichol's Italian Female Monthly Pills. Sent by mail on receipt of $1.00, price per box.

DR. YOUNG is the only agent for Dr. La Mott's celebrated Galvanic Belts.

Invalids out of the city can be cured by consulting he Doctor by letter, and enclosing remittance. Medicines sent by mail or express, securely packed from observation. All letters must be addressed to

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, one of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty; but as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in health every day, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be bought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been at all troubled with the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, 75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anything. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrell, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative and could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trying climate of New England!

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

MAMMOTH HAND-PRESS.

USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

ARMSTRONG'S LINCOLN BUTTER POWDER.

Good Fresh Butter All The Year Round.

BUTTER IN 20 MINUTES.

Lincoln Butter Powder is an entirely harmless article made from a celebrated English recipe, and now in daily use by many of the most noted farmers in the butter counties around Philadelphia.

In hot weather this Powder makes butter much firmer and sweeter than it usually is, and keeps it from turning rancid. It also removes the strong flavor of turnips, weeds, cows, stalls, cotton seed, etc.; and the increased yield of butter much more than pays the trifling expense of using it.

Talking Politics.

"There is one thing," said Mr. Leatherby, as he was walking down town yesterday morning, "that disgusts me with politics, and that is the violent and abusive tone in which our daily papers conduct the discussion of every issue and question which they touch upon."

"Indeed, you may well be disgusted at it," replied old Mr. Bartholomew, who had just joined him. "It is as much as a man can do to lift a newspaper off his door-step with a pair of tongs. Time and again I throw the paper down half read, and I have seriously thought of stopping it altogether, for I consider its presence in my family a contamination."

"It is, in truth," replied Mr. Leatherby. "It is worse than a contamination. It is corrupting; it has a degrading, brutalizing influence that is, I am convinced, undermining the foundations of our moral structure. The daily press of to-day is one great engine of abuse, defamation, bad grammar, worse language, and worse morals."

"I cannot see, for my part," said Mr. Bartholomew, "why men cannot discuss politics as freely, as earnestly, and as entirely free from acrimonious expressions and feeling, as purely free from abusive language of any kind, from any heat and anger, in fact, as they could discuss the grade of a street or the style of a coat."

"And so think I," said Mr. Leatherby. "I cannot for my part conceive of an intellect so warped and narrow, a mind so shallow, that it cannot carry on a discussion upon any question in politics without falling into the asperities, vulgarity, abusive detraction, and shameful slander that is the reproach and disgrace of the newspaper press."

"It is a form of idiocy, I believe," replied old Mr. Bartholomew; "it is an indication of a feeble mind that looks upon abuse as an argument and bullying as logic. I am and always have been a republican, but I can express my disapproval of many democratic measures in a gentlemanly manner, and if I had not mind enough to keep my temper I would consider that I had no right to talk politics."

"You are perfectly correct," replied Mr. Leatherby, earnestly; "and, while we disagree on some points in political controversy, I being a life-long democrat, yet we can freely and with mutual pleasure, and, I trust, profit, meet and discuss our differences in a friendly way, without giving way to the insane and detestable exhibition of temper, ignorance, and prejudice which marks the tone of the morning paper."

"I had not noticed it so much in the Hawkeye," replied Mr. Bartholomew, with a show of awakening interest in the conversation, "but when that trashy democratic sheet that pollutes the evening air is brought to me by my neighbor, an ignorant dolt who can neither read nor write, but takes the paper as a party duty, to read for him, I am amazed that the gods of truth and decency do not annihilate the infamous, puerile sheet with their thunderbolts."

"You must bear in mind, however," rejoined Mr. Leatherby, speaking a trifle louder than was necessary in addressing a companion whose hand was resting on his arm, "the Gazette has such a tide of corruption, such an avalanche of political bigotry and villainy to rebuke that its voice must be raised in order to be heard, and it must speak boldly, defiantly and in the thunder tones of righteous denunciation to startle the people into a realizing sense of the peril which threatens the country from republican misrule and tyranny."

"By George!" shouted Mr. Bartholomew, "the republican party is the last, the only bulwark between the republic and eternal ruin. I tell you, sir, once let the democratic party obtain control of this government, once let that infamous organization of political thieves, knucks, outlaws, and castaways take charge of our political machinery, and we will find ourselves in the hands of a horde of the most abandoned profligates, the most utterly unprincipled, the most vicious, demoralized, diabolical set of scoundrels that ever cheated the gallows!"

"By the long horn spoon!" roared Mr. Leatherby, jerking his arm away from Mr. Bartholomew's hand, "if the satanic and infernal plans of the republican party were carried out, with all their attendant knavery and debauchery, this government would be a rule of branded malefactors and convicts, a government of felons, a penal colony in which the most hopelessly irreclaimable, graceless villains would administer the law. The bad faith of the republican party, its ignominious record, its vicious tendencies, have shocked the Christian world, and ——"

"You're a liar!" yelled Mr. Bartholomew, "and you are just like the rest of your besotted, low-lived, ignorant class—a low, mean, pitiful, beggarly, unscrupulous, and treacherous set, whose impudence in asking for the votes of honorable men is only equalled by your rapacious and unbridled greed for office, your ——"

"You are an old fool!" howled Mr. Leatherby, "a censorious, clamorous, scurrilous, foul-tongued old reprobate, and I disgrace my name when I talk to you on the street. You mistake vituperation and abuse for argument, and you reply to a simple, plain statement of facts with malignant and defamatory slander and calumny because you can't answer."

"Shut up!" shrieked Mr. Bartholomew. "Don't you say another word to me or I'll slap your ugly mouth. By George, I'll kick your head off!"

"You can't do it!" roared Mr. Leatherby, pulling off his coat and dancing around Mr. Bartholomew. "I can lick the whole republican party, from the big whisky thief and ring-master down to the sneak thief that picks pockets at mass-meeting! I can ——"

"You're a fighting liar, and you daren't take it up!" howled Mr. Bartholomew, pulling off his coat.

Then Mr. Leatherby ran up and kicked him twice while he was struggling in the arms of his coat, but the old gentleman got loose in a flash and hit Mr. Leatherby a resounding thwack on the nose with his cane, and when Mr. Leatherby stopped to hold a handkerchief over his bleeding probocis, Mr. Bartholomew got in a couple more real good ones with his cane. Then Mr. Leatherby went for the rocks in the macadamized street. He broke two windows in a grocery before he hit Mr. Bartholomew, when he caught the old gentleman on the side of the head and dropped him. Then Mr. Bartholomew took to the stone-pile, and hit a young lady on the other side of the street, and Mr. Leatherby hurled a tremendous big rock, which missed the old gentleman and blacked the eye of a policeman who was coming to separate them, but was so incensed that he arrested them, and they were each fined $10 and costs for fighting in the street. And they both firmly believe that the unbridled hatred and unreasonable recriminations and abuse of the daily papers is iniquitous in its influence and should be suppressed for the good of society.—Burlington Hawkeye.

The annual expenditures of the Government in 1876, as compared with 1866, show a reduction of	262,249,679 66
And in Federal taxation more than	$300,000,000 00

Other great results of this financial policy have been that, despite an indebtedness of more than two thousand millions, and while diminishing taxation, the credit of the country has been raised to the unprecedented point, that its four and a half per cent. bonds, issued in redemption of the six per cents, have been selling rapidly at home and abroad, above par in gold; and the Government has been enabled every year since 1866, not only to keep within its income, but to apply an average annual sum of $56,742,-284 20 toward the payment of its indebtedness.

A careful consideration of these results of judicious management of the National Treasury during republican administration of the Government, induces the undersigned to express their confident belief that a continuation of the same general policy which has so well sustained our commercial honor, and aided so powerfully in the preservation of the Union itself, would be best promoted by the election of Gen. RUTHERFORD B. HAYES and WILLIAM A. WHEELER to the offices of President and Vice President of the United States.

News and Notes.

Schooner F. A. Smith, of Gloucester, Mass., had three men washed overboard by a heavy sea on the 26th ult. Four other men were knocked down and hurt, but not dangerously.

Alfred Ingalls, one of the men employed at the Atlantic House, Salisbury Beach, went out gunning at Hampton, on the 30th., and was found dead on a pile of rocks. He was subject to heart disease, which probably caused his death.

By a fire-damp explosion in a coal-mine at Pottsville, Penn., on Tuesday, three men were killed.

The coroner's jury in the case of James Murray, who was killed at Lynn by an engine on the Eastern Railroad, on the 26th ult., returned a verdict that no censure can be attached to the railroad or any of its employes.

Morris Tyler, formerly Lieut. Governor of Connecticut, died suddenly of heart disease Oct. 31st.

Sarah Ann Robinson, a school girl of Lowell, Mass., was feloniously assaulted on the 31st ult. by a young fellow named Edward Humphrey, and left in the woods in an insensible condition.

Solon Wooley, the Grafton, Vt., man who killed his brother Frank, has been adjudged guilty of murder in the first degree by a coroner's jury.

Schooners David Nickels, of Islesboro; Me., and A. L. Putnam, of Harwich, Mass., have been abandoned at sea. Crews saved.

A false alarm of fire created a panic in the Chinese Theatre in San Francisco on Tuesday night. The building was crowded, and in the rush made by the audience to escape by the single means of exit a number of persons were thrown down and trampled on. The police dragged out the dead bodies of twenty persons, and about the same number of wounded. The Chinese refused to render any assistance, and the actors continued the performance until stopped by the police.

The American vessel reported as having been lost with all on board, on Sable island, is supposed to have been the schooner Mary B. Reeves, of Calais, Me., a vessel of 99 tons register.

Reeves and Cole, the ringleaders in the gang of Bennington, Vt., banditti, will doubtless remain in custody until their trial takes place. The $16,000 bail demanded was offered Judge Potter by sixteen men, who offered surety for $1000 each, but they all refused to become responsible for a greater amount. As the forfeiture of the bail would involve the State in sixteen suits, with a possibility of some part of the bail proving worthless, Judge Potter refused the security offered, saying, however, that he would accept security from Enos Adams, Esq., for the full amount, and that the remainder of the party of sixteen might, if they chose, secure Mr. Adams for $15,000. This proposition was not accepted. Reeves is a prominent democratic politician in Bennington.

American schooner Anna E. Carll is ashore near Cienfuegos. Since she went ashore her crew have saved six Spanish shipwrecked sailors, and sixteen of the crew and passengers of the English schooner Enterprise.

Brig Faustina, of Stockton, Me., foundered at sea Sept. 13th. Crew saved.

Johanna Turbin, a colored woman, has been sentenced to death at Washington for the murder of her husband.

Daniel Deronda, the new book by George Eliot, the famous author of "Adam Bede," "Middlemarch," etc., has created a profound sensation in the literary world. The Boston Journal pronounces "Daniel Deronda" "the literary event of the year." The London Globe calls it "an event in the history of literature." The Christian Intelligencer: "The story is profoundly absorbing." Scribner's Monthly says: "There are books which can only be measured by the largest standard, and such a work is George Eliot's new novel, Daniel Deronda." The publishers of the popular "Lakeside Library" editions of standard authors have issued a cheap edition of "Daniel Deronda," complete in two volumes, unabridged and unaltered, price, only 20 cents each, by mail 25 cents. Sold by all newsdealers, or sent postpaid by Donnelley, Loyd & Co., Publishers, Chicago, Ill.

Political.

The democratic organs that have been so dreadfully shocked at Zach Chandler's levies upon the department clerks will not publish the fact that the democratic employes of the House of Representatives have had to come down with nearly five per cent. of their salaries for "Tilden and reform."

The Meriden (Conn.) Herald, recently democratic, has come out for the republicans; and the Meriden Recorder, recently republican, has come out for the democrats. Each charges that the other is a venal and corrupt sheet, and has been bought at a very low figure—but still at more than its real value. This we gather from the New Haven Union, democratic greenback organ.

The republicans of New York have nominated Ex.Gov. Dix for Mayor.

A correspondent of the Globe, vouched for by that paper as "an astute observer of political events," and "without party bias," has been talking with the leading workers of both parties in this State, and visiting the headquarters of both State committees, and gives it as his opinion that the republican majority in New Hampshire will be about 2500.

Democratic dispatches to the effect that Lieutenant General Sheridan visited Washington with reference to the use of troops in the South are false. He was there solely to plan the winter's campaign.

New Hampshire Items.

Sylvester W. Cone has given in his testimony concerning the homicide of Paul Williams at Ossipee. He says that he shot Williams in self-defence.

A little eight-year old daughter of Henry Childs of Cornish was burned to death Saturday evening while attending a kettle of mush boiling in the swill house near her father's residence.

James Avery, of Campton, on Tuesday evening, Oct. 24th, discovered that his dog had treed a bear, not far from his house. He immediately went to the house for his gun. The moon was shining dimly, but the first shot brought old Bruin dead to the ground. He proved to be large and fat, weighing 400 pounds.

LITTLE GIANT!

REG. JUNE 6, '76.

This Trade Mark is a guarantee that the medicine is genuine. Without it the Pills are a fraud and a cheat, when it is represented by any dealer that they are selling the LITTLE GIANT PILLS, which have effected such wonderful cures in Portsmouth.

This medicine has been prepared with the greatest care of the choicest ingredients for the cure of Sick Headache and Bilious Disorders. Its success has been very surprising, as the many certificates of well-known citizens testify.

Parties in Portsmouth, well knowing this, are offering some other Pills, pretending that they are the same. GEO. E. HANSON, 41 Congress Street, is the Agent in Portsmouth who can produce the genuine Pills, put up in square boxes with the Trade Mark upon each box. Any one who has bought any other, supposing they have bought these, has been imposed upon, and had better go back and get his money and buy a reliable medicine of the authorized agent.

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

The republicans of Ward Two will hold a caucus for the nomination of delegates to the Constitutional Convention, at the Court House, on Saturday evening, Nov. 4th.

Per Order, E. H. LESLIE, Sec.

READ IT.

As the democrats have had a good deal to say about the public debt not having been diminished, and the annual expenditures of the government having been increased, by the republicans, and have asserted that it is necessary that the democracy should be restored to power that they may "restore the public credit," we print in another column an address "to the people of the United States," signed by many of the most eminent bankers and business men of New York, including several who have hitherto acted with the democratic party. We advise all who think the democratic party would have done better with the national finances than the republicans have done, during the last ten years, to first examine well the list of names signed to that address; then carefully read the address itself; then recall to mind the fact that the last bonds ever sold by a democratic administration bore interest at six per cent., and were sold at eleven and twelve per cent. discount; and then, if satisfied that the national finances will be safer in democratic than in republican hands, resolve to vote for Tilden, Tammany, a "solid South" and the payment of $2,500,000,000 of rebel claims. Read the address of the leading financiers of New York "to the people of the United States."

MR. BEECHER'S LECTURE.

The lecture by Rev. Mr. Beecher on Tuesday evening was, of course, a good one and beautifully uttered. The speaker talked one hour and twenty-five minutes without notes or manuscript of any kind, with as little evidence of fatigue at its close as would be shown by an ordinary person after saying "how do you do?" or exchanging the usual courtesies of meeting. Mr. Beecher's dramatic powers were also well exhibited in different portions of his lecture, which gift of nature has done much toward making him so famous as an orator. Still, it is something more than dramatic utterance or facial expression that has made for him his great reputation as a speaker. It is thought, richly clothed in language that can be comprehended by the merest child. This fact is well illustrated by a statement of one of our most esteemed citizens on the morning following the lecture by Mr. Beecher: said he, "my little granddaughter of fifteen years accompanied me, not however for the purpose of hearing, but to see the great minister. She supposed that the subject of money and credit was so dry and puzzling that she could not grasp it, and therefore did not try. Yet, in spite of this, she became intensely interested in the theme, ere he had spoken five minutes, and comprehend it well enough to intelligently repeat its main points." A better compliment could not have been uttered.

We have not space for even a synopsis of the lecture. The subject was "Hard Times," and the speaker showed the cause and the cure, elucidating the gold and greenback questions, very clearly and reasonably. It seems a pity that the audience was not larger, as it is rare that such a lecturer appears upon our boards. More than this; it is a benefaction to the public to secure such as Mr. Beecher in a lecture course or out of it, and the enterprise, costing as it does a large sum of money, is attended with no little pecuniary risk, and it should have been more generously responded to. The excitement usually attending the last week of the Presidential campaign had much to do with the failure to get a full house on Tuesday evening, altho', as it was, there was a goodly number present. We have no fault to find with our people, as generally a first-class entertainment of any kind is well appreciated and patronized here, inasmuch that in nine cases out of ten a popular lecturer or an A 1 theatre will be greeted with a full house.

TORCH-LIGHT POLITICS.

The republican demonstration this evening, if the weather is propitious, will be a big affair. The column will form on Market square, and more at half-past seven o'clock, or on the arrival of the visiting delegations. In this connection it may not be amiss for us to suggest to those citizens who propose to illuminate their houses, that if they defer lighting up until the procession starts they will save themselves much trouble and have their decorations at the best when the procession passes,—and the start of the column will be signalled by a discharge of rockets from Market square. The route of procession, somewhat changed from the arrangement as at first published, will be as follows:

From Market square through Market street to Deer, Deer to Elm and countermarch at Christian Shore, back to Railway Avenue to Deer street, through Deer to Bridge, Bridge to Hanover, Hanover to Vaughan, Vaughan to Congress, Congress to Islington, Islington to Cabot, Cabot to Middle, Middle to Wibird street, countermarch through Middle to Court, Court to Pleasant, Pleasant to South Mill Bridge, through South street to South School street, thence to Water street, Water to Pleasant street, Pleasant to Washington, up Washington to State, State to Union, Union to Austin, Austin to Summer, Summer to Islington, down Islington street to Market square.

After the procession is dismissed a collation will be served the visiting clubs. Ladies desiring to manifest their sympathy with the good cause are invited to contribute doughnuts, which may be sent to the republican headquarters) under the Journal fice) at any time to-day.

Persons intending to join the cavalcade will please report as early as noon to-day, to John Stokell, and receive their torches.

Zimri S. Wallingford, Samuel M. Wheeler, John Bracewell, Charles H. Sawyer, Rev. George B. Spaulding, Rev. Mr. Ricker, Rev. Mr. Stewart, Col. Charles M. Murphy, Hon. John G. Hall, Hon. Chas. H. Horton, Hon. James Bennett, Hon. E. P. Hodgdon (Mayor), John E. Bickford, Dr. Levi G. Hill, Wm. Stearns, Dr. C. H. Horsch, Col. S. C. Ferhn, Hon. Oliver Wyatt, Col. A. H. Young, G. R. Brown, D. C. Wiggin, Judge Woodman, and not less than one hundred and fifty others, including nearly every merchant and professional man in the city, will be in the delegation from Dover this evening. Their uniform consists of a tall hat, (otherwise known as a bell-topper, keg, stove-pipe, or "plug,") dark clothes and white gloves. The train from Dover will arrive at 6:30. We need not point out that in no other political campaign was there ever such a general and active interest taken by the professional and business classes as in this one, not merly in this State, but throughout the entire North; they would be the first to feel the effects of a financial and business set-back to the country, (though not the greatest sufferers from it, for it would bear hardest on the working men in the end,) and do not propose to run any risk of its coming through a democratic victory at the polls. It is proposed to receive the Dover club of "solid men" with a similar one of Portsmouth's business men; and all who wish to thus signify their desire for the success of the republican party are invited to meet at the City Rooms at 6 o'clock, dressed in the uniform of the Dover club,—tall hat, dark clothes and white gloves.

JOTTINGS.

Don't forget the great auction sale by Morse & Ilsley to-day, of A. T. Joy's large stock of Furniture. See advertisement.

The republicans of Ward One on Wednesday evening nominated Hon. Ichabod Goodwin, Hon. W. H. Y. Hackett, and Hon. James W. Emery, as delegates to the Constitutional Convention, — and appointed Messrs. Geo. W. Pendexter and Oliver M. Knight a committee to notify them of their nomination.

The "Winter arrangement" of working hours on the navy yard went into effect on Wednesday, the 1st inst., the hours now being from 7:45 A. M. to 12 M., and from 0:45 P. M. to 4:30.

The Eastern Railroad directors have dropped the subject of cutting down the wages of engineers.

A slight change has been made in the running time of the navy yard ferry steamer Emerald, she now leaving this city for the yard at twenty minutes before nine o'clock, A. M., instead of ten minutes before, as formerly. All other trips are run on the old time-table.

Schooner Ella Hodsdon, from Port Johnson with coal for Sise & Co. got ashore on the westerly point of Badger's island while trying to reach her berth on Tuesday, but came off without damage.

Mercer Goodrich, Esq., has opened his new bookstore under the City Rooms, and has an advertisement concerning the same in another column.

There was a discussion with knives between a boy from Newcastle and a Church Hill boy, near the Creek, Tuesday evening. The Church Hiller received a bad cut on his cheek and the Newcastle boy had his hand gashed. Who says Portsmouth is "slow?" A man sells peanuts on the street every evening, by lamplight, and brats of boys carve each other with jack-knives.

The Heavy Artillery will give their first military and civic ball on Thursday evening, Dec. 12th.

A counter complaint was entered by Murphy against Quinn, but it was dismissed by the Court.

SUPREME COURT.

Wednesday, November 1st.

Nicholas Wright, of Hampton, indicted for malicious mischief in stone throwing in that town, was cleared, the jury coming in with a verdict of not guilty.

The case of Lewis F. Harlow, charged with arson at Windham, which was commenced on Friday, Oct. 27th, was continued.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT.

Tuesday, October 31st.

William O'Brien was convicted on one count for illegally voting in Ward Three, Manchester, for Member of Congress, in March, 1865, and for voting twice in Ward Five, on the same day, and received sentence on each of six months' imprisonment and costs of prosecution. The court has taken a recess for some weeks.

The Welfare of the Human System

Is in a great measure dependant upon the way in which the bowels perform their evacuative function. If they are costive—and they are naturally so—rendered so by the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters—an important essential of health is secured, and that blessing is very apt to follow. If they are irregular, chronic constipation and indigestion supervene, the liver becomes disordered, and the bile, being diverted from its natural channel and purposes, enters and contaminates the blood, producing that yellowish cast of the skin and whites of the eyes which is such a sure index of biliousness. All these disastrous consequences, as well as others of a far more serious nature, are remedied and prevented by Hostetter's Bitters, the leading American specific for disorders of the bowels, stomach and liver.

Owing to the great demand for more spacious apartments on account of the large increase of business, the Hospital has been removed to No. 9 Beaver Street, two doors above its old location, where patients will find magnificently furnished rooms for their reception, and are so arranged that patients do not come in contact with one another, seeing only the doctor, thereby avoiding the unpleasantness of meeting others, which always occurred at the old office.
LADIES will find rooms provided for their especial accommodation and entirely private.
YOUNG MEN, addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their health and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasures of married life and also those afflicted with private diseases of any nature, are advised that in consulting Dr. Young they will find a physician fully qualified to cure and restore them to full health and manly vigor.

CONDITION PILLS!
The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaints, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!
No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well, I have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I feel every day in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will go to you advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.
JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 16, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving you another so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been free from the Rheumatism in twenty years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to have the same. Some may think I am telling a big story I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anyone. I have recommended my father for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrell, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as these pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.
MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.
BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.
is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative we could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before e was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.
Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.
Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is audorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.
CLEAR YOUR THROAT!
Relieve Your Lungs.
PULMOCINE CORDIAL
Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the cause of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not know ing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.
For Coughs,
Croup,
Diphtheria,
Asthma, etc.,
Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.
The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

Suicide by Dynamite.

In the annals of suicide few cases are more remarkable than one which occurred a few days ago at Nitshill, in Scotland, where a minor named Duncan deliberately blew himself up with dynamite. It seems that the unfortunate man, who was about fifty years of age, was much distressed at some remarks made about him by his neighbors. He was seen coming out of his house with a parcel in his hand, described as being about the size of a two-pound loaf, and to which were attached two pieces of colliers' "strum," or match. This parcel contained dynamite. Having procured a match from the house of a neighbor, to whom he remarked that "they had said a great deal of him lately, but he would put it past them now," Duncan went out into the street, and putting the parcel down on the ground leaned well over it. He then lighted the "strum" with the match. At this moment some boys, attracted by his unusual attitude, came towards him. "Keep back," shouted Duncan, "for the love of God! or you will be blown into eternity!" Thus adjured the boys did keep back; and it was well that they did so, for a moment later there was a loud explosion which startled the whole village, and Duncan was instantaneously blown to atoms. On the spot where the dynamite had been laid there was left a hole about three feet deep by two and a half wide.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Withdrawing Leisurely.

The Elko (Nev.) Independent tells the following: "While travelling through Arizona in 1849 with an exploring party, we made our camp one evening near a canon, the bottom of which was covered with fine sand that had drifted from the neighboring plains. While employed in arranging our camp, the botanist of the expedition, Dr. B., wandered some distance in pursuit of plants. He returned shortly and reported that there were Indians near at hand. He was as cool as a cucumber, and didn't show a sign of anxiety or alarm. In answer to our hasty inquiries, he replied that while he was engaged in examining a fossil specimen, he heard a grunt behind him, and on looking around discovered an Indian who had seized his gun, which had been placed against a rock. The Indian drew a bead on him, and in retaliation he drew his revolver and sighted the Indian, retreating at the same time toward the canon which was close at hand. Neither fired. On reaching the canon he walked leisurely into camp. A party immediately set out to determine the possibility of danger, and discovered two Indians and a squaw. After capturing them they examined the vicinity in which the Doctor had met with his remarkable adventure. They found his footprints, which signified a cautious retreat to the canon. But alas! for the frailty of human nature; his footprints in the canon were eight feet apart, by measurement, and not exactly indicative of the leisurely manner in which he had approached the camp. The Doctor acknowledged the corn, and remarked that that was about as leisurely as he ever wished to walk under similar circumstances."

—"Grace before meat," as the young lady remarked when she laced herself so tight she couldn't swallow.

—"That's a fine strain," said an old gentleman to another, alluding to the tones of a singer at a concert. "Yes; but if he strains much more he'll burst," was the reply.

—From the size of a street car ticket to that of a circus handbill is the latitude allowed for the dimensions of visiting cards this season.

—A man in Solano county, California, beat his wife so unmercifully that she died within a week. When the carriages and hearse passed through the streets of Knoxville, he was shaking dice in a saloon. Some one remarked that it was his wife's funeral, and he went to the door, lifted his hat, and hurrahed. This greeting seemed to shock the sensitive public sentiment of the town. The brute was discovered the next morning lying in the shallow water of the creek, with one or two boulders on top of him.

—The opening of an enormous grotto at Burgos, in Spain, has been followed by the discovery of a mysterious cavern in France. While workmen were cutting Jura limestone in a quarry near Belfort they noticed a small hole, and after widening the opening with their pickaxes found themselves in a vast cavern, the floor of which was about six feet lower than the orifice. Heaps of human skulls and bones were lying about, although no opening but the one which the workmen had made themselves could be discovered. On one side were beautiful columnar stalagmites, without corresponding stalactites from the roof; they resembled marble mausoleums arranged on steps in a necropolis. Nor was this an undeserved name, for on advancing further into the interior the explorers remarked a certain systematic arrangement of loose blocks in the shape of dolmens. In these half-natural, half-artificial cavities whole skulls, thigh and shoulder bones were seen, some of them half imbedded in the stalagmites. Associated with these were stone implements, polished rings and bracelets of the same material, and three fine vessels in the shape of urns, with mammillated handles, and designs on the outside.

Hayes' Platform in War.

In 1864, when Hayes was in the army, being nominated for Congress he was requested to come home and stump his district. His reply was, "I have other business just now. Any man who would leave the army at this time to electioneer for Congress ought to be scalped!"

Hayes' Platform in Peace.

"Honest money for all, and free schools for all. There should be no inflation which will depreciate the one, nor sectarian interference which will destroy the other."

The Prospect.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1, 1877.

A spontaneous and enthusiastic uprising of the Northern people within the last few days, evinced by recent advices up to this evening at the headquarters, leaves no doubt about the election of Hayes and Wheeler by a large majority of electoral votes. The evasive and valueless promises of Mr. Tilden, with the stereotyped and reluctant approval forced by him from a few Southern democratic committees not to press rebel war claims for loss or damage to property, although still demanding payment to rebels as well as to loyal persons of about two thousand million dollars claimed in their bills before Congress for supplies furnished or taken, or for the use and occupation of property, have failed to produce conviction in the face of overwhelming evidence of their contrary purposes, and have alarmed instead of quieted the people of the North.

The imminent danger to the public credit and to reviving commerce and manufactures, if the payment of the national debt is to depend on a government of men whose rebellion that debt was created to suppress, has aroused the merchants and business men of New York and of the country. The violation over nearly half the territory of the nation, by intimidation and murder, of the fundamental republican principle that the ballot shall be freely chosen and safely cast, is rallying a united North to put down promptly the new Southern rebellion.

With this uprising of Northern sentiment every Northern State will probably be carried for Hayes, the frauds in New York city will be prevented, and the democratic city majority kept down to such an amount that the large republican majorities elsewhere will not fail to overcome it and secure a decided majority in the State for Hayes and Wheeler.

The three Pacific coast States and New Jersey are believed to be surely republican, and there is a good fighting chance for Indiana, while the information from North Carolina, South Carolina, Florida and Louisiana shows that in spite of the murderous opposition of Tilden democrats, those Southern States will give majorities for Hayes.

The systematic and prearranged boastings from the Tilden headquarters in New York are only desperate expedients to avert the inevitable result. The republicans of the country have only to perform their full duty, every man go early to the polls, and the triumph of Hayes and Wheeler will be overwhelming.

ZACH. CHANDLER,
Chairman National Republican Commitee.

Southern Claims.

The Tilden Literary Bureau has not yet seen fit to furnish the public with information as to the provisions made by some of the Southern States in anticipation of the payment of Southern claims. Virginia, which is represented as the most conservative of States of the solid South, has placed the following among her laws:

"Be it enacted by the General Assembly, That it shall be the duty of the Clerks of the several County and Corporation Courts to keep a record of such papers relating to the loss of property during the late war as they may be required by this act. Any persons who have suffered losses by the operations of war since the 17th day of April, 1861, may make a statement of such losses, stating the kind and description of property, including negroes emancipated, at what time taken, damaged or destroyed by the army of such belligerents, and in whatever manner, by either army, and the amount of loss sustained, making the value of said property on the 1st of January, 1861, the standard of valuation, and offer the same, proved by the affidavit of one or more citizens to the Clerk of the County or corporation in which the said property was taken, damaged or destroyed, who shall receive and record the same in a book kept for that purpose. The original papers shall be safely kept by the Clerk, but they may be withdrawn at any time after they have been recorded."

News and Notes.

Four carriages, three wagons, one pair of mules, one span of horses, one harness and three cows, the property of Brigham Young, were sold at Salt Lake City at public auction on Wednesday by the Commissioner to pay the award of the court in the Ann Eliza case. They brought $1185. Further seizures of property will be made.

Second class cadet midshipmen Charles W. Garrett of Indiana and Federick A. Woodsworth of California were on Wednesday dismissed from the Naval Academy for hazing. So far twelve cadets have been dismissed for this offense.

Two horse thieves named William Fulton and Handley were lynched in Wyandotte county, Kansas, recently, by a Vigilance Committee. It is also stated that three more of the band have been captured and served in the same way.

General Miles had a successful fight, after an unsuccessful council, with Sitting Bull, on the 21st and 22d ult., on Cedar Creek, killing a number of Indians and wounding many, his own loss being two wounded. He chased the Indians about sixty miles, when they divided, one portion going toward the agency, and Sitting Bull toward Fort Peck, General Miles following. General Hazen has gone to Peck with four companies of infantry, and rations for Miles. Sitting Bull crossed the river below Peck on the 24th ult., and had sent word to the agent that he was coming in and would be friendly, but wanted ammunition. The Indians, in retreating after General Miles had defeated them, abandoned much dried meat and many worn out horses. It seems that Sitting Bull, Pelty Bear, Bull Eagle, Gall, White Bear, Goose Ears and other chiefs met General Miles in council on the 21st, previous to the opening of the battle, and expressed a great desire for peace on the basis of absolute freedom and plenty of ammunition. Of course Miles could not "see it," and opened the ball at once.

A serious accident occurred to the Buffalo express on the North Pennsylvania Railroad at Centre Valley, caused by the breaking of the axle of one of the cars. Three sleepers and one passenger car were thrown from the track, and the brakeman and porter killed, and several others injured.

Myron Emery, of Royalton, Vt., a boy about fourteen years old, was seized by three men while walking in the woods, gagged, and thrown into the lake. He escaped and made his way to a neighboring house, but the alarm was not given until it was too late to pursue the ruffians with any hope of success. Their tracks were found leading from the margin of the pond to the road leading towards Royalton. Their object is unknown.

The Public Debt was reduced $8,338,138 last month.

A misplaced switch on the South Shore Railroad, at East Braintree, Mass., caused an accident to a train on Wednesday. One passenger was killed.

The great maritime canal, connecting Amsterdam, Holland, with the German ocean, was opened on the 1st, with imposing ceremonies, at which the King, members of the Cabinet and foreign representatives were present. A grand banquet took place in the evening. The canal is sixteen miles long and has at the sea end a harbor covering 250 acres, which, however, is not quite completed.

Emmanuel Church (Episcopal) was consecrated in Bellows Falls, Vt., on the 1st. It is a fine stone edifice, building nine years ago, and cost $90,000. It was not consecrated earlier on account of debt. Bishops of Vermont and New Hampshire were present, and fifteen rectors. The consecration sermon was by Bishop Niles of New Hampshire, and the services were very interesting and well attended.

A passenger on a Pennsylvania Central railroad train some time ago could find no seat. He accordingly went into a sleeping car on the train and insisted on sitting there. The company's officials put him off the train. He sued for damages and has recovered a verdict for $8,500.

Papers with "patent outsides" have been declared by courts, both in New Jersey and Pennsylvania, to be not proper mediums for the publication of legal advertisements, inasmuch as they are not printed "in the county" in which the interests affected by such advertising exist.

New Hampshire Items.

Fred. W. Cheney, Esq., proprietor of the Lebanon Free Press, was married in Concord on the 1st to Miss Cora M. Mead, Rev. L. C. Field officiating. The happy couple took the northern express train for Canada on their bridal tour.

Daniel Rogers of Manyunk, Pa., was arrested in Nashua on the 1st for the larceny of two bales of woolen yarn from the store of Reed & Jackman. His actions lead the officers to believe he is a professional sneak thief.

The republican demonstration at Manchester, Wednesday evening, was an immense affair, the attendance being very large, the illuminations and fireworks extensive and fine, and everything passing off satisfactorily. The column started at 9:15 P. M., and after a long march visited the Fair grounds, where a substantial collation had been provided. A correspondent of the Boston Globe says that "owing to the refusal of the Superintendent of the Concord Railroad to give the organizations at Lawrence, Derry, Salem and Londonderry a special train to their homes after the parade, many were kept from attending the demonstration. All possible efforts had been made by the committees to induce this favor, but it could not be done for love or money. The republicans of Manchester have been subjected to this abuse by the manager of the Concord Railroad during the entire campaign. Whenever an organization desired to leave town by a special train they were charged such high tolls that half of their numbers could not afford to go, and in one instance, at Boston, on the 26th ult., owing to this outrageous treatment, the Hayes and Wheeler Guards, with their music and 150 men, were obliged to remain up all night in Faneuil Hall, until the regular train should depart in the morning. It is always the case, and your correspondent is informed has been for many years."

SUPREME COURT.

Thursday, November 2d.

The case of Lewis F. Harlow of Windham, charged with arson, which has been on trial for the past five days, was given to the jury Wednesday evening, and after being out all night they returned a verdict of guilty this morning. Sentence reserved.

Court adjourned until Wednesday, Nov. 8th.

LITTLE GIANT!

REG. JUNE 6, '76.

This Trade Mark is a guarantee that the medicine is genuine. Without it the Pills are a fraud and a cheat—when it is represented by any dealer that they are selling the LITTLE GIANT PILLS, which have effected such wonderful cures in Portsmouth.

This medicine has been prepared with the greatest care of the choicest ingredients for the cure of Sick Headache and Bilious Disorders. Its success has been very surprising, as the many certificates of well-known citizens testify.

Parties in Portsmouth, well knowing this, are offering some other Pills, pretending that they are the same. GEO. E. HANSON, 41 Congress Street, is the Agent in Portsmouth who can produce the genuine Pills, put up in square boxes with the Trade Mark upon each box. Any one who has bought any other, supposing they have bought these, has been imposed upon, and had better go back and get his money and buy a reliable medicine of the authorized agent.

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

The republicans of Ward Two will hold a caucus for the nomination of delegates to the Constitutional Convention, at the Court House, on Saturday evening, Nov. 4th.

Per Order, E. H. LESLIE, Sec.

TORCH-LIGHT POLITICS.

The Hayes and Wheeler Guards, to the number of over two hundred, went to Manchester Wednesday night to join in the big republican rally there. They returned to this city by special train, arriving at about three o'clock Thursday morning.

The grand democratic rally, Wednesday evening, was a complete success. There were 425 torches in line, and the procession probably numbered between 500 and 550 men and boys, all uniformed excepting about fifty men from Rye, who were the only out-of-town persons in the procession. The column was headed by a wagon bearing a locomotive headlight, followed by another from which fireworks were let off until the stock in trade took fire on its own hook, (when the procession was on Middle street,) and made things lively for a few minutes for the occupants of the wagon, no serious damage resulting, however. The Portsmouth and Rye Cornet and the Kearsarge Fife and Drum bands and the club Drum Corps made the music. There were two large brewery wagons, each drawn by two horses, bearing huge transparencies; one of them had special reference to the navy yard, and was very appropriate to a democratic parade, as a laudable desire to draw pay on the navy yard or in the post-office or custom house is the main-spring of the democratic "reform" movement. On one side of the other brewery-wagon was the following parody on Cowper's beautiful hymn:

"God moves in a mysterious way
His wonders to perform;
He plants his foot upon R. B.,
For TILDEN and REFORM."

"Tilden and Reform" was in capital letters, while "God" was in "lower-case"—showing the relative importance of each in democratic estimation. That is what may be called "stock-ale theology." We have no doubt that the low profanity of that doggerel parody was regarded as wit by the "reformers" of Water street, Church hill, the brewery district and the north end of Market street; but we cannot but believe that the better class even of the democrats were disgusted at the ostentatious contempt for sacred things displayed in an inscription which claimed the Creator as being but a mere follower of Samuel J. Tilden. We cannot believe the wholesale assassination and terrorism practised by the southern democrats and the wholesale frauds of Tammany are agencies specially employed by the Deity to advance the interests of "Tilden and reform;" if they are, then indeed does He "move in a mysterious way." We hardly think the offensively blatant blasphemy of that parody can help the cause of Tilden.

One of the small transparencies bore on one side, "Vox Populi, Vox Dei;" on the other, "The people want Tilden." The voice of the people is not always the voice of God, as it is a matter of sacred history that on one occasion the people "all with one voice about the space of two hours cried out, Great is Diana of the Ephesians," and on another occasion the "voice of the people" cried "Crucify Him, crucify Him;" and in the case of the "Vox populi" that demands Tilden, it needed too much nursing through the advertising agency of Bates & Locke and the liberal broaching of the reformer's "bar'ls of money," before it could make itself heard, to entitle it to a claim to be anything else than an awfully bogus "Vox Dei."

Another transparency represented Tilden in the middle of a ring,—probably intended to represent the Tammany Tweed Ring, as Tilden was chairman of the democratic State committee of New York all the time Tweed was in power.

The procession started about half-past eight o'clock, and marched up Market street, over to Christian Shore and up past the Almshouse. [What they wanted to enthuse the Almshouse for we cannot understand, for the paupers can't vote this year, —"old Ward Six" is rubbed out, and even in Sebastopol the making up of the checklist is not wholly in the hands of the able managers of past years.] The march about town was a long one, but was well sustained, the procession dismissing on Market square shortly after eleven o'clock. The processionists behaved in an orderly manner, so far as we have heard, and there was no trouble anywhere, to our knowledge.

The fireworks were good, and some of the illuminations were very handsome. The Rockingham House in particular made a splendid appearance, being dressed with flags and Chinese lanterns; the display of fireworks here was also very fine. The Times office was decorated—inside, with gas. [N. B. Bro. Guppy was in the editorial room.] When passing the Rockingham House a horse on one of the brewery wagons took fright and plunged through the column ahead of him for a short distance, and for a few moments a terrible accident seemed unavoidable, but fortunately the frightened animal was got under control before any one was injured.

The show was a creditable one, and but a few trifling incidents occurred to interfere with the arrangements, which were well planned and successfully carried out.

Thursday evening was the time set for the street parade of the Hayes and Wheeler Guards of this city, and visiting organizations from other cities, but early in the afternoon the weather looked as if the demonstration would have to be postponed. A cold, damp wind blew in from the northeast, and all the signs pointed to a wet and stormy night. Nevertheless, preparations for the event went on; a huge tent, in which to have the collation for the visiting clubs, was set up in the Rayhes ship-yard, and decorations were put up on many private buildings—very fine ones indeed on the Kearsarge House—while the front of the City Building was handsomely draped with bunting of more and brighter colors than Joseph's coat could boast of.

[This decoration of the City Building on the occasion of a partisan demonstration is not merely in bad taste, but is entirely wrong. The building does not belong to any party, but to the people,—including not only the democratic and republican parties, but the bolters from each, and all the side-show parties as well; and the adherents of one party have no more right to decorate it than they have to go to the private dwelling of a man of the opposite party and decorate that; indeed, the latter would be the less offence, as it would be an outrage on an individual only. It is no excuse for the republicans that the democrats illuminated the building some two years ago, on the occasion of a partisan jollification over a democratic victory,—the republicans should do better than the democrats, as the great mass of the party certainly know better what is right and proper than they. We hope never to see the City Building illuminated again by either party on the occasion of a partisan demonstration. The two parties are about "quits" now on this thing, (the democrats being a little ahead, if anything,) and should stop it right where it is.]

At about half-past seven o'clock the column commenced to form on Market square, and when the Dover delegation arrived, at half-past eight, the march was commenced, there being then 800 torches and not less than 1100 men in line. On arriving at the Concord Railroad depot the Manchester delegation was waited for, and on its arrival the column, now numbering about 1200 torches and fully 1500 men, again started, and went over the advertised route, arriving on Market square shortly before midnight. The visiting clubs were then escorted to the big tent, where a bountiful collation was duly attended to, after which the Manchester and Dover men took their trains home.

The illuminations on the line of march were numerous, and many of them fine; and though there was no 'one display to equal that at the Rockingham House on the previous evening, and the republicans had no big brewery-carts, no locomotive headlight and no blow-up of ammunition wagon, the republican demonstration heavily discounted the democratic one in the numbers engaged and the enthusiasm displayed.

This evening the Hayes and Wheeler Guards go to Dover to join in the great meeting of Strafford county republican clubs.

JOTTINGS.

The Times of Wednesday, after announcing that the democratic parade that evening had been intended solely as a local affair, said: "After the arrangements had been made by Lieut. Col. Hilton and Chief Marshal Wendell, letters were received from the Dover company stating that they desired to participate, and urgently asking for a position in line, which request could not under the circumstances be refused." Not much "gush!" about that welcome. In fact, it reads much more like an apology for the presence of the Dover delegation,—and they didn't come, after all!

By an advertisement in another column it will be seen that there is to be one more excursion to the Centennial, tickets from this city to Philadelphia and return being put at the low figure of $9.70. These tickets will be good only for November 9th, to go, but good for thirty days to return.

Lew Benedict's Minstrels gave an excellent entertainment to a small audience at the Temple on Wednesday evening. With over two hundred men off to Manchester to attend a republican rally, and a democratic corroboree going on in the streets of this city at the same time, it is a wonder the indoors show drew anybody at all; but those who did attend were richly repaid, for Benedict is keeping up his well-earned reputation as an "end man" and manager, and the entertainment he offers is fresh and new, and chock full of fun.

The Directors of the Portland, Saco and Portsmouth Railroad met in this city on the 1st, to act upon the matter of the mortgage to secure the new gold bonds of the road, of which $250,000 are to be issued, and the same offered to the stockholders in the first instance.

We are requested to give notice that the "Seaman's Home" Restaurant will be closed for a few days, in order to perfect the new arrangements for the coming winter. We feel sure that everything will be done to make the place attractive and home-like.

The Times says that at a parish meeting held Wednesday evening in St. John's chapel, it was unanimously voted to extend to the present acting Rector, Rev. Charles A. Holbrook, a request that he remain as settled Rector, with increase of salary.

—Charles Francis Adams was so dreadfully sick last Friday night that his family thought he would have died. (Round behind the wood-shed learning to smoke a short clay pipe.)—Hawkeye.

This kind of bread having come into extensive family use, it has been my purpose to furnish, from choice materials, an article which should meet the approval of the most fastidious as to neatness, looks and taste. Whether I have succeeded in giving to the public a PILOT BREAD, the consumer may be the judge; that the quality will not be suffered to depreciate, the past with the present is my best pledge. TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

"Mr. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases and at very reasonable charges.

Daily Chronicle.

Uncomfortable Wooing.

There is one race, called the "Love Chase," which may be considered a part of the form of marriage among the Kirghiz. In this the bride, armed with a formidable whip, mounts a fleet horse, and is pursued by all the young men who make any pretensions to her hand. She will be given as a prize to the one who catches her, but she has the right, beside urging on her horse to the utmost, to use her whip, often with no mean force, to keep off those lovers who are unwelcome to her, and she will probably favor the one whom she has already chosen in her heart. As however, by Kirghiz custom, a suitor to the hand of a maiden is obliged to give a certain kalym, or purchase money, and an agreement must be made with the father for the amount of dowry which he gives his daughter, the "Love Chase" is a mere matter of form. The kalym often consists, with rich individuals, of as many as forty-seven horses, and perhaps a medium would be thirty-seven cattle and a few horses. In the dowry given by the father must always be included a kibitka for the use of the bride. As mullahs are very rare in the Steppe, a religious ceremony of any kind at a marriage is unusual, but one thing must be strictly performed; after the women have sung the virtues of the bride, and the men have chanted those of the husband, telling of his great exploits, how many cattle he has stolen, and in how many marauding expeditions he has engaged, the young man must enter the kibitka where his bride is seated and take her out, although both entrance and exit are forcibly opposed by all her friends. This is probably a remnant of the old primitive custom when marriage was an act of capture.

SURE CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Dr. YOUNG,
SUCCESSOR TO
Dr. TELLER,
DECEASED.

The above named private Hospital was established in Albany in 1835 by Dr. Lispenard and for a number of years its affairs were presided over by that gentleman, but for the past 26 years, Dr. Teller, who is now deceased, transacted the business of the Institution.

Owing to the great demand for more spacious apartments on account of the large increase of business, the Hospital has been removed to No. 9 Beaver Street, two doors above its old location, where patients will find magnificently furnished rooms for their reception, and are so arranged that patients do not come in contact with one another, seeing only the doctor, thereby avoiding the unpleasantness of meeting others, which always occurred at the old office.

LADIES will find rooms provided for their especial accommodation and entirely private.

YOUNG MEN, addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their health and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasures of married life and also those afflicted with private diseases of any nature, are advised that in consulting Dr. Young they will find a physician fully qualified to cure and restore them to full health and manly vigor.

Dr. Teller's great work for the married, or those contemplating marriage—100 pages—full of plates,—price 25 cents. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail post paid.

TO THE LADIES—DR. YOUNG still retains the only agency in America for the sale of Dr. Vichol's Italian Female Monthly Pills. Sent by mail on receipt of $1.00, price per box.

DR. YOUNG is the only agent for Dr. La Mott's celebrated Galvanic Belts.

Invalids out of the city can be cured by consulting the Doctor by letter, and enclosing remittance. Medicines sent by mail or express, securely packed from observation. All letters must be addressed to

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Billiousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pains so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 26th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.
JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS I feel it my duty to have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you my testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good, at times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the good they do me.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, 75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, but I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, thinking that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrell, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.
MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative as could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trying climate of New England.

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

The reliable house of ALEX. FROTHINGHAM & CO., No. 12 Wall St., New York, publish a handsome eight-page weekly paper, called the Weekly Financial Report, which they send free to any address. In addition to a large number of editorials on financial and other topics, it contains very full and accurate reports of the sales and standing of every stock, bond and security dealt in at the Stock Exchange. Messrs. FROTHINGHAM & CO. are extensive brokers of large experience and tried integrity. In addition to their stock brokerage business, they sell what are termed "Privileges," or "Puts and Calls," now one of the favorite methods of legitimate speculation. Their advice is valuable, and by following it many have made fortunes.—[New York Metropolis.]

CHILDREN TEETHING

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP!

For Children Teething,

greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will relieve ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is Sure to Regulate the Bowels.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and

Relief and Health to Your Infants.

We have put up and sold this article for years, and CAN SAY IN CONFIDENCE AND TRUTH of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—NEVER HAS IT FAILED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of the warmest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak in this matter "WHAT WE DO KNOW," after years of experience, AND PLEDGE OUR REPUTATION FOR THE FULFILMENT OF WHAT WE HERE DECLARE. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation has been used with NEVER FAILING SUCCESS in

Thousands of Cases.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve Griping in the Bowels and Wind Colic.

We believe it the BEST AND SUREST REMEDY IN THE WORLD, in all cases of DYSENTERY and DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—do not let your prejudices, nor the prejudices of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief it will be SURE—yes, ABSOLUTELY SURE—to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle.

Be sure and call for

"MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP."

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN has probably done as much as all other Journals combined, to introduce and disseminate Improved Stock of every kind through the country; and commands to a greater degree than any contemporary, the confidence and support of breeders and purchasers.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN contains unusually full and trustworthy Market Reports, and devotes special attention to them and to the Products of the Crops, as throwing light upon one of the most important of all questions—When to Buy and When to Sell.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN embraces numerous minor departments of a practical character, such as the Dairy, the Poultry Yard, the Apiary, the Vine yard, and so on, and weekly gives to a column or two for the Housewife, and an interesting variety of Fireside Reading. It contains a well-edited review of Current Events, and its advertising pages furnish a directory of all the principal agricultural and horticultural establishments of the country.

ARMSTRONG'S LINCOLN BUTTER POWDER.

Good Fresh Butter All The Year Round.

BUTTER IN 20 MINUTES.

Lincoln Butter Powder is an entirely harmless article made from a celebrated English recipe, and now in daily use by many of the most noted farmers in the butter counties around Philadelphia.

In hot weather this Powder makes butter much firmer and sweeter than it usually is, and keeps it from turning rancid. It also removes the strong flavor of turnips, weed, corn stalks, cotton seed, etc.; and the increased yield of butter much more than pays the trifling expense of using it.

Colorado Mines.

The Mineral City correspondent of the Philadelphia Sunday Mercury writes:

"A correspondent writing to the St. Louis Republican from Silverton, in this county, says: 'The mines require capital for development. In California the placers required no capital, and every night the miner had the product of his day's work in a shape that he could use for his wants. Here he may have a rich mine away upon some high mountain, and may have a few tons of rich ore on the dump. He can't sell it, unless he can deliver it to the smelter, and he has no funds or facilities for doing so. He finds that his rich ore might as well be so much rock, and for present availability is of no use to him. He then tries to sell his mine, and as there is scarcely any competition here, as yet, between capital in the purchase of mines, (just as it was in California in '50 and '51,) he fails to sell at a profit on his labor, gets disgusted, and sells out at whatever he can get, or abandons it. Such will not be the case two years hence. I see these things plainly, but I have not the means to invest, nor the time to wait for returns from such operations. Could I have seen them in California as plainly as I see them here, it might be different with me tonight from what it is.'

He expresses, undoubtedly, the whole situation. For the want of capital mines that are worth thousands can be bought for a few hundreds. A man with ten or fifteen thousand dollars to invest can, by placing it judiciously, get property that next year, or the year after, may be disposed of at ten times the amount of money put in. Such mines as the Elephant, Little Emily, and a score of others, that can be bought now for a few thousands will command hundreds of thousands if they be but developed and shown up. I was offered a half interest in the Evening Star Lode for ten dollars, and refused. Two days afterwards that interest was sold for nearly two hundred dollars, and the present owner would refuse two thousand for it now. The Mexican was offered, two months ago, to some parties for nothing, but now the owners consider the mine worth several thousand dollars, though it is believed a few hundred would buy, simply because of the straitened finances of the holders. The Elephant was once offered for five hundred dollars, when its real value is probably that many thousands, though had I the money I confidently believe I could buy it all for a very small sum. The Pride of the West was valued at a few thousands, but its present owners refused a quarter of a million for it the other day, declining to part with it for less than three hundred thousand dollars. But a week or two since two mines that were traded for, were sold by the holders for fifteen and twenty-five thousand dollars respectively. To capital, such chances as this are open on every hand. Investments that will pay thousands of per cent., and be almost immediately made, holding for a year or two being all that is necessary. The longer I live here the more I become impressed that this is a perfect paradise for capital.

The proper machinery for crushing, milling and smelting the ore is another great desideratum, the present facilities being very limited. Here there is another splendid investment for capital, it taking but a few thousands to put up a small mill, and the profit being immense. I would advise no poor man, no one with limited means to come to this country, but for monied men this is the garden spot. Colorado will never amount to much until capital comes to stay, and no sooner shall the lucre be plentifully invested, than this new-born State will lead many of its older sisters. If the Mercury would like to invest a few of its spare millions, just put them in a registered letter and send to my address. I'll return them in two years doubled and trebled."

—A young lady at Niagara was heard to exclaim, "What an elegant trimming that rainbow would make for a white lace overdress!"

—The latest novelty in English agitations is a Husband's Rights Association, whose object is to protest against the tendency of legal changes in favor of women, and the partiality and injustice shown in favor of wives against their husbands. The prospectus inveighs against women gaining "the privileges of both sexes and the liabilities of neither."

—A lady took her son, of some five years, to church. After the minister had been preaching about half an hour the little fellow grew sleepy and began to nod. The mother aroused him into attention several times by poshing, but as it seemed a hopeless case she concluded to let him sleep undisturbed. After awhile the little fellow had his nap out, and saw the minister holding forth. He looked up in his mother's face and innocently asked, "Mother, is it this Sunday night, or next Sunday night?"

—A census has been taken as to the color of the eyes and hair of all the children under fourteen in the Prussian schools, some 4,000,000 in number, in order to settle a dispute in regard to the proportion of light and dark eyes and hair. It was found that 43 per cent. had blue eyes and 24 per cent. brown eyes; and that 72 per cent. had blonde, 26 per cent. brown, and 1 1-2 per cent. black. It was found that nearly one third of the Jewish children were fair, which is contrary to a prevailing impression.

Hayes' Platform in War.

In 1864, when Hayes was in the army, being nominated for Congress he was requested to come home and stump his district. His reply was, "I have other business just now. Any man who would leave the army at this time to electioneer for Congress ought to be scalped!"

Hayes' Platform in Peace.

"Honest money for all, and free schools for all. There should be no inflation which will depreciate the one, nor sectarian interference which will destroy the other."

The Democratic Game.

The instructions from the Tilden bureau to the democratic press, after the Colorado election returns were in but before Indiana and Ohio had voted, were: "Claim everything until election; then own up gracefully." In accordance with this plan every democratic paper in the land, editorially and in the news columns, shouted and yelled over "the great democratic victory in Colorado," while at the same time aware that the republicans had won a sweeping victory; it was only a game of "bluff," to influence the elections.

The same game is being carried on now, by the democrats, and will be until the election is decided. "Claim everything until the election," says the great "reformer" through his literary bureau; "then own up gracefully." So the democratic papers are doing it, and their wild boastings beat those of the Greeley campaign. One potent influence in favor of the great "reformer" is sought in the gambling rooms of the sainted Morrissey, the man who nominated S. J. Tilden at St. Louis, the telegraph being liberally used to spread over the country the fact that the betting in Hon. John Morrissey's pool room is in favor of Mr. Morrissey's candidate for President. The ease with which the betting of the reformer's gamblers can make the betting appear in his favor without a dollar of money being put up is not understood by everybody, and no doubt many persons actually believe that Tilden is the "favorite," as Morrissey announces.

In pursuance of this plan the chairman of the Democratic State Committee of Ohio has issued instructions to the democratic editors of his State, in which he says: "In your paper, from this until the seventh (7th) proximo, claim the National contest, and this State also. Be earnest in this matter. Do it exuitingly and with the utmost confidence. Don't be lukewarm in this, but fervent."

This is the democratic policy everywhere. It is really the cry of desperation and distress; but it has considerable effect where the facts are not known.

The Beecher Scandal.

The following letter to the New York Times explains itself:

Sir: I am directed by the Congregational Association of New York and Brooklyn to furnish to you, for the public, a report of its action concerning Rev. Henry Ward Beecher at its semi-annual meeting, the attendance upon which was unusually large, held on Wednesday, Nov. 1, in Tompkins Avenue Congregational Church, Brooklyn. The committee appointed in April, 1876, to co-operate in bringing evidence before the commission provided for by the Advisory Council called by Plymouth Church in the case of Mr. Beecher, reported that they met immediately on appointment, and prepared an appeal to all persons claiming, or supposed to have any information or testimony against Mr. Beecher not already tried in the civil court, urging them in the name of the Association at once to make such information known to the committee, and offering them, as far as possible, all the assistance they might need in bringing it properly before said commission for trial.

This appeal was at once published in full, or in part, in several newspapers in New York and Brooklyn, and with some editorial comment, and it was also probably copied extensively by the press at large. Copies were also sent to those persons reported or publicly supposed to have any information on the subject hostile to Mr. Beecher. Having thus done all that lay in their power in the line of their appointment to show the earnest desire of this Association to secure the most thorough, impartial and conclusive trial of an accused member, the Committee had only this to report: that up to this day, after more than six months' opportunity to speak, and after the most urgent and public entreaty that every one would speak who had anything to say against him, no one had seen fit to respond, no one had undertaken to make, either before the Association or before the Commission, the slightest responsible charge against the moral character of Rev. Henry Ward Beecher.

The Committee also refer to the meeting on July 22, 1876, of the Commission composed of five distinguished legal gentlemen from different parts of the country, and every way most suitable and competent for the service, to the endeavor of the sub-committee of the Examining Committee of Plymouth Church to have the commissions enter upon some consideration of certain alleged but untried information in the matter, and the reply of the Commission that while ready to examine all charges against Mr. Beecher, which they did not regard as already sufficiently tried, they did not think it expedient or proper to examine any allegations until they were embodied in charges by some one who would undertake the proof thereof in a thorough trial before the Commission.

The report of the committee concludes as follows:

"How long we, as a committee, shall stand waiting for some responsible accusers to appear, or whether reason, justice and Christian charity all demand an early determination of this inquest and a final declaration of confidence in Mr. Beecher as a brother honored and beloved, we leave to the united wisdom of this association to decide."

This report the Association adopted, and then unanimously passed the following preamble and resolution:

Whereas this Association, at its annual meeting, April, 1876, appointed a committee to co-operate with the commission created by the Advisory Council to investigate the case of the Rev. H. W. Beecher; and whereas the Association, in view of this appointment, resolved that if those who thus claim to have evidence, or to be able to substantiate charges against Mr. Beecher, shall knowingly fail or refuse to make use of this or any other means to bring such charges or evidence before that commission of investigation, this association, in the absence of further light, must hold itself thenceforth amply justified in utterly condemning those charges, allegations, insinuations and rumors as false and slanderous, and in defending Mr. Beecher as a worthy, honored and beloved member of this body; and

Whereas, The preceding report of said Committee indicates that there is no substantial ground for believing in the guilt of Mr. Beecher, be it therefore

Resolved, That we do, therefore, as an association, regard our brother as worthy of our confidence and love, and express to him our sympathy in the severe trial through which he has passed.

News and Notes.

A false wife at Brunswick, N. Y., was detected by the opening of a letter in which she proposed to her partner in crime, a boy of seventeen, to poison her husband, the only obstacle to their happiness. The injured husband confronted her with the letter, and gave her ten minutes to choose between him and her lover; she promptly preferred the lover, whereupon they separated, and the husband has begun a suit for divorce.

The schooner Anna, at New Orleans from New York, reports that the schooner Thomas H. Sweeney, Captain Stedman, from Philadelphia, October 6, with a cargo of coal and 2000 kegs of powder, for New Orleans, was wrecked during a recent gale on the Bahamas.

A passenger train on the Pennsylvania Railroad was wrecked in New Jersey on Thursday, by running into freight cars left standing on the track. A brakeman was killed, and several passengers injured.

About three o'clock Thursday morning, a charge of powder was placed in a window at the residence of August Suppies, of Rondout, N. Y., and fired. The building was shattered. Mr. Suppies, his wife and two daughters were asleep in the upper part of the house, but were uninjured. Mr. Suppies was the complainant against a house of ill-fame, the inmates of which were arrested, but the proprietor, named Keiser, is away.

A report from Camp Stambough, Wyoming, says a village of 500 lodges of Shoshones was attacked, Oct. 30th, by a large Sioux war party, estimated at 1200 lodges, at Painted Rock, about ninety miles from Camp Stambough. As far as learned, only one Shoshone escaped.

Merchant H. Weeden, of Providence, R. I., has been sentenced to imprisonment for life for the murder of Catherine E. J. Weaver, an inmate of a house of ill-fame in that city, in April last. He made no defence, except that he was in a state of unconsciousness from drink, and frenzy produced by taunts from his mistress, and knew nothing of the murder until he read it in a Sunday paper, he having wandered to the outskirts of the city during the night.

New Hampshire Items.

The Episcopal church in Keene was broken into, one night last week, and all the communion wine was drank and the alms boxes broken open and robbed.

James T. Chase, proprietor of the Hillsboro Messenger, died Wednesday night of malarial typhoid fever at the age of twenty years. He was a young man of much promise, and very highly esteemed by the whole community. He was the only son of Dr. P. Chase of Hillsboro.

William Merrill, a superintendent at the Concord coal sheds, had a leg broken Wednesday by a stone falling on it. The fracture was a severe one.

At a meeting of the Governor and Council, held at Concord Thursday, Hiram Hitchcock, of Hanover, was appointed a trustee of the New Hampshire College of Agriculture. Patrick O'Brien, a convict at the State Prison, whose term expired in December, was pardoned. Thursday, November 30, was appointed as a day of Thanksgiving.

Political.

The New Haven Union, inflation democratic, says: "Outside of the organization of the Tilden Guards, the democratic canvass in this city has been a complete failure. There has not been a genuine, soul stirring democratic mass meeting here since the campaign opened. The 'mass convention' on the Green was a disastrous fizzle, and the meeting last evening at Music Hall was the most disgusting failure we ever witnessed. At the opening the hall was not two-thirds full, and the speech of Judge Betts, violently pro-Southern in tone, thinned it down several hundred."

The beautiful harmony of the democracy is again strikingly illustrated. The leaders of the party in four Southern States—Kentucky, Alabama, Tennessee, and Arkansas—are moved simultaneously to issue an address to the people of the United States approving Gov. Tilden's letter on rebel claims, and lo! the addresses are word for word the same in each instance. The party thinks as one man—and that man turns a crank in Liberty street. An address prepared in this city and issued in the South is of course a most important representation of Southern sentiment. There is just as much spontaneity about it as there is in the dancing of a puppet when the proper wires are pulled.—New York Tribune.

In all the pother about Tilden and his income, the country is very likely to forget that Hayes is really the greater man of the two, and has held the most prominent positions in public life. Hayes has been three times Governor of the great State of Ohio, having successively defeated three of the most prominent democrats in the country—Pendleton, Thurman, and Bill Allen. He has also been a member of Congress, and was a general in the Union army. Tilden, on the other hand, up to the time he was elected Governor, although he has been a politician all his life, contented himself with a place in conventions. His time was employed in getting rich, and his acquaintance with politics was that of a party manager only.—Worcester Gazette. (ind.)

When troops were sent pell mell by the General Government, under direction of democratic Presidents, all over the country, for the return of fugitive slaves, there was no complaint of "Federal interference" from the democratic press. Now, however, that the slaves are free and troops are legitimately used in protecting their rights as freemen, there is no end of complaint and denunciation.

The rebel archives show that at the last meeting of Jeff. Davis' Cabinet, Reagan (then Confederate Postmaster-General, and now democratic Senator from Texas,) advocated in writing that the first adjustment to be made with the United States should be the adoption of the rebel debt, and in case of failure then, to continue during their lives the endeavor to obtain a return of the monies expended. With the election of Tilden this result is reached.

A number of citizens of Charleston, anxious to prove that all is lovely and peaceful in South Carolina, have issued a statement to that effect, the first signature to it being that of the Roman Catholic Bishop, Lynch. The signers to this manifesto are almost wholly ex-rebels; it was Bishop Lynch whose name, before Sumter was fired on, led the signatures to a denial that South Carolina was preparing for war, though he knew that as he wrote batteries were being planted against the fort; and Bishop Lynch is the prelate who celebrated a Te Deum after the fall of Fort Sumpter, and solemnly thanked God that civil war had been inaugurated, and that the first blow had been a rebel success. Pretty sort of a Bishop this, to send assurance of peace and quiet to Northern people, and to deny the official reports of army officers.

New York State is so close that the anti-Tammanyites have withdrawn all opposition to Tammany local ticket, and the fight will be straight between the two parties. In order to bring about this result a bargain has been made between the leading malcontents satisfactory to all parties. Tilden and Kelly have agreed to push through the next Legislature of New York, if it is democratic, a bill to pay Jimmy O'Brien several thousand dollars, which he claims is justly due him for services rendered while he was Sheriff of New York county, but which claim has been rejected by every Legislature since O'Brien's retirement from the office. Others of the anti-Tammany leaders have been placated by promises of various kinds. Tilden's only hope of election is by carrying his own State, and the prospects are dubious enough. The registration in of New York and Brooklyn is not up to the expectations of the managers, and the United States inspectors are rapidly thinning it down by the detection of frauds. The democratic majority in the two cities will not go beyond fifty thousand, which is thirty thousand less than is considered necessary to capture the State. In these calculations the Greenback vote is not taken into consideration, the politicians predicting that it will be insignificant, so that there is plenty of room for a genuine surprise.—New Haven Union (inf. dem.)

—The Scotch poaching angler suspends by straps under his outer garments a capacious bag of coarse linen for concealing the salmon, while he carries in his hand quite innocently a string of trout. Lord Scrope once caught a poacher with a salmon in his bag, and demanded how it got there. The reply was, "How the beast got there I dinna ken. He must ha' leuped into ma pocket as I war wading." His clever answer so amused Lord Scrope that he let him go scot free.—Scribner.

—A lawyer who lives at Galesburg, Illinois, was asked by a lady who was sitting behind him in a railroad car to get her a cup of coffee. He obeyed her request with alacrity, paid ten cents for the coffee, charged the lady fifteen cents therefor, and pocketed five cents as his commission on the transaction.

—That was a wise idea of the "genteel" lady who alluded to her first female ancestor as "Lady Eve nee Rib."

—Nothing circulates so rapidly as a secret.

REPUBLICAN RALLY!

Hon. E. H. ROLLINS, U. S. Senator-elect, will address the citizens of Portsmouth on the political issues of the day, at the Temple this (Saturday) evening, at half-past seven o'clock.

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

The republicans of Ward Two will hold a caucus for the nomination of delegates to the Constitutional Convention, at the Court House, on Saturday evening, Nov. 4th.

Per Order, E. H. LESLIE, Sec.

The republicans of Ward Three will meet at the shop of Jacob Haddock this (Saturday) evening at 7:30 o'clock, to nominate a Delegate to the Constitutional Convention.

Per Order.

POLICE COURT.

Friday, November 3d.

Andrew Callahan, for an assault on Jeremiah Murphy, was ordered to pay $9.90, fine and costs.

JOTTINGS.

Subject at Bow Mission, Sunday afternoon, "Children of the Bible." Children expressly invited.

On Saturday afternoon, October 28th, Mr. Elihu P. Wilson left the navy yard for his home at Kittery Point, was thrown from his wagon near the toll-bridge, and injured so badly that he was obliged to take to his bed on reaching home; erysipelas set in, followed by lockjaw, and on Friday afternoon he died. Mr. Wilson had been employed in the equipment department at the navy yard for some years, and his faithfulness, good temper and kindly disposition had won him the respect and warm friendship of all who were associated with him, and who now deeply sympathize with his bereaved wife and widowed mother, recognizing that their loss is no common one. Mr. Wilson leaves no children.

The cavalcade (numbering one hundred and six horsemen) that led the republican procession on Thursday evening, was raised mainly through the exertions of Mr. John Stokell. The Manchester delegation was a fine one, and marched well, the club that brought up the rear of the procession, composed entirely of young men, winning especial admiration for precision of movement and steadiness in marching, the verdict being that it was the best drilled and best disciplined company in the line.

Mr. Charles Staples, who resides on South Eliot Neck, is too outspoken in his opposition to Tildenism to suit some of his numerous democratic neighbors; and on Thursday evening, at about half-past seven o'clock, as he was leaving the Neck in a boat with the avowed intention of joining in the republican demonstration in this city, some one commenced to remonstrate in the favorite democratic style. One of the democratic arguments, weighing a little over five ounces, struck Mrs. Staples (who was in the boat with her husband), cutting a wide gash completely through her cheek, and loosening three of her upper teeth so that they will probably have to be extracted. Mr. Staples pulled ashore, but the cowardly assailant sneaked away under cover of the darkness, and Mr. Staples was unable to find him; but he will willingly pay fifty dollars to any one who will furnish evidence that will satisfy him of the identity of the contemptible cur who threw the stone, even though it may not be sufficient to secure a conviction.

The Times says the republicans paid men $2 each, and railroad fare, $1.15, to go to Manchester on Thursday evening. Such twaddle is unworthy a place in the columns of any paper. It is on a par with the stories we were told not long ago, of the democrats giving $5 and a uniform each to voters, and young men not old enough to vote, if they would join the Tilden and Hendricks Clubs; or the other story that the brewery workmen were compelled to join the uniformed clubs, and appropriate three days' wages to pay for their uniforms, on pain of being turned off from their work. The republicans have no "barl of money" to dive into.

The employe of the Atlantic House at Salisbury Beach, who went out gunning at Hampton on the 30th ult. and was found dead on a pile of rocks, was named Alfred S. Palmer, and not Alfred Ingalls, as first reported.

LECTURES.

An "independent course of lectures" is being arranged for, to be given at the Temple this season, the tickets to be disposed of at popular prices,—admission 25 cents, reserved seats 35 cents. No course tickets will be issued. The first lecture will be given on the 16th inst., by E. Warren Clark, Professor of Scientific Department in the National College of Japan. The second lecture will be given by Col. Russell H. Conwell, of Boston, who delivered the Memorial Address in this city on the 30th of May last; subject, "Lessons of Travel."

—They call them "narrow gauge skirts" out West.

Photographs of Actors.

The sale of portrait photographs depends mainly on the beauty of the subject. Portraits of authors, rifle teams, rowing crews and men otherwise famous sell numerously; but the bulk of the trade is in the faces of beautiful women. The general adoration of such handsome actors as Rignold, Booth, Montague, Thorne and others, attributed to school-girls, is not evinced in the purchase of their pictures to any astonishing extent. The purchasers are mostly women and girls, it is true, but in the main they buy the faces of their own sex. A dealer of whom the writer inquired said that probably more pictures of Maud Granger, formerly of the Union Square Theatre, now in Philadelphia, had been sold than of anybody else. Her features stand the test of any position, and in thirteen different attitudes, she is in the stocks of all dealers. Adelaide Neilson is a close rival, selling rapidly in a greater variety of poses and costumes. Her prominence in her profession plainly does not cause the demand, for Charlotte Cushman is seldom called for, while Emily Rigl of the Fifth Avenue is displayed in long rows of cards, each different from the other, and all in brisk demand. Miss Rigl is highly esteemed by the dealers, who rate her third in selling quality. Other leading favorites, judged by this test, are Fannie Davenport, who is in demand in Lady Teazle's costume; Eliza Weathersby, now at Niblo's; Lydia Thompson, the introducer of modern burlesque in New York, and Pauline Markham of her company; Alice Dunning Lingard, the wife of the concert ball singer; Mrs. Scott Siddons, whose dainty features have for years held their place in the window displays; Ada Wray, who used to play a banjo in variety shows, and afterward married John Wild, the negro minstrel; Jeffreys Lewis, of the Fifth Avenue; Bartoletti, the dancer at Booth's and the impish Lotta. About two hundred women are comprised in the largest assortments; but nearly half of them are foreign actresses, singers and dancers. The wife of the Marquis of Bute lies alongside an equally handsome ballet girl in one of the stores visited by the writer.

The effect of an actress' success in a play, however, starts a demand for her likeness, if in addition she be good looking. During the original run of "The Two Orphans" thousands of photographs of Kate Claxton and Kitty Blanchard were sold; and the same was true of the opera bouffe singers of ten years ago, and of the beauties of the "Black Crook" and subsequent spectacles. Clara Morris, whenever she appears in a new piece, is in moderate demand; the Vokes sisters, although popular, are not handsome enough to sell well; the late Kate Newton, wife of Charley Backus, had a run in picture stores at the time of her acting in "Formosa" at Niblo's; Minnie Conway's experience was similar while she was at the Academy of Music in "Across the Continent," about the period of her marriage to Levy, the cornet player; Alice Harrison's face was in the windows before her sojourn in California, as was that of Nina Varian, the daughter of Mr. Varian-Hoffman, at the commencement of her brief career on the stage.

Husbands often object to having their wives' faces exposed for sale. No picture of Agnes Ethel can be bought since her marriage to Mr. Tracy, or of Lulu Prior since her marriage to Mr. DeNyse, or of the three Kiralfy sisters since their retirement to wedded life. Inquiries will be made in vain for the portraits of stage beauties of years ago, such as Madeline Henriques, Mrs. Hoey and the women of their day. Adah Isaacs is kept in stock, but the picture is from an old negative that lacks the finish of the present work. An equally old-fashioned picture is the only one that can be had of Rose Eytinge. In the midst of her success in "Led Astray" she gave sittings to a leading photographer, and six different negatives were made. A large quantity of pictures were prepared for market; but their sale was absolutely forbidden by her husband, George H. Butler, and, consequently, they were destroyed. In several instances a like destruction has been ordered by an actress who did not like something about the picture. Clara Morris forbade the sale of one kind of her portraits, and Alice Lingard made a similar order because a sleeve of her dress did not hang gracefully. The photographers respect these whims, because they pay these ladies nothing, the advertising involved in the sale of photographs being considered a fair recompense. A few stars employ boys to sell their pictures among their audiences, and of course make a profit thereby; but the custom is not permitted in New York, except at the Academy of Music, where "Photographs, books of the opera," are familiar sounds.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON,

Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,

Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases and at very reasonable charges.

Daily Chronicle.

—According to the Iron Age, a wedge or plate of iron has been found imbedded in the masonry of the great Pyramid, the indications being that it must have been wrought in the age of Cheops, placed by some authorities as far back as 5,400 years ago. This makes the use of iron about 2,500 years more ancient than it is supposed to be, and affords opportunity for explaining the cutting of the sharp and well defined hieroglyphics on porphyry, granite and other hard stones employed in the construction of Egyptian pyramids, temples, and tombs. How these could have been cut before the age of iron has been a puzzling question to many. Further investigation may show iron to have been in use 6,000 years ago.

—The Lords of the Admiralty have formally reprimanded an English naval cadet because, when asked how he would proceed to get up steam, he replied:—"Tighten your funnel stays and regulate your funnel draught, then look up to Our Father and say: I am ready to go home if the boiler-front comes out."

—Eggs in France are sold at different prices by the dozen, according to the size, which is verified by government agents, who pass them through rings to test their size and value; and separate the clean and fresh from those stale or addled.

MAGIC

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Billiousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 23d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and one pounds, but am as active in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of your Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills.—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no purpose. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been so free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Please send me three I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, 75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried every patent medicine with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten months, and have tried traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter. I thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. T. M. Mobbs, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anything. I have recommended them and for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrell, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy, and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

TROS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For Fine nerves I think there is nothing so good as the pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

is a New discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative as could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before it was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the cause of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

USE

DATE SLIPS,

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. Its offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

A Matrimonial Hoax.

In spite of the many exposures of applicants for the marriage state through advertisements, and the hoax which is so often played upon them, another dupe has been found in Manchester in the person of a Glasgow merchant. It appears that some few weeks ago an advertisement appeared in the columns of the Manchester Examiner and Times of a certain "middle-aged gentleman who would like to correspondent with a lady of highly respectable parentage, with a view to matrimony. A photo required, which would be honorably returned." So read the advertisement of the wife-seeker, and in connection with it a number of young "gentlemen" met at one of the Manchester hotels, and they decided to engage the services of several amateur actors and actresses to carry the hoax into effect. A Miss Sherbourne, of London, was employed to carry on the correspondence, and in answer to her letter the advertiser forwarded the following:

GLASGOW, Oct. 2, 1876.

"MY DEAR: I am pleased to note in your letter that you trust this affair is not a hoax. I pledge my word as a gentleman of the most honorable Scottish birth, and holding one of the highest positions in commercial circles as a merchant in this city, that I shall treat your correspondence honorably, hoping the day is not far distant when I may claim you as my wife. I have had twenty-three applications to my advertisement, but I fear many of them were jokes, and your wish is no greater than my own that this shall be a bona fide 'transaction,' if such can be said of our correspondence"

The letter went on to state the large amount of money the writer was worth. "His independency had been gained, and he only waited for a wife to crown his joys." Several letters passed on each side, which were always addressed to the Post-office, and eventually, the merchant being convinced of the earnestness of Miss Sherbourne in the matter, proposed to meet her in Manchester, and after a week's stay in the city he suggested that they should get married. The young lady replied that she and her father would be most happy to meet him, and arranged that his visit should be on Saturday last. An amateur actor, Mr. J. Stoddart, of Manchester, had been engaged to personate old Mr. Sherbourne, and on Saturday last the pair awaited at the Victoria Railway Station the arrival of the Glasgow merchant. A signal of recognition having been previously given, the parties were soon together and safely seated in a waggonette, which was waiting outside the station gates.

The would-be husband appeared to be a gentleman of about forty-six, of highly respectable appearance, and was accompanied by a confidential valet, who seemed to look with great suspicion upon the "venerable old gentleman and his lovely daughter," as the merchant styled them. An adjournment was made to the Queen's Hotel, and after a few of the sights of the city had been seen, it was suggested that they should "homeward fly" which was accordingly done. In a short time the merchant was safely deposited at the supposed residence of the Sherbournes, in Plymouth Grove, near Longsight. Here the gay party received a cordial welcome from some twenty "guests," who had assembled to meet them, and everything passed on very smoothly until after dinner.

The advertiser proposed the health of Mr. Sherbourne in a very flattering manner; but as it had been arranged that the fun of the evening should commence at this juncture, Mr. Sherbourne, instead of replying threw off his disguise, much to the intense amusement of the company and the dismay of the merchant, who accused those present of being totally unfit to move in the circles of life which they seemed to belong. If it was money they wanted he would give it to them, and threw on the table some $80. He then made for the door, but this was found to be fast, and as he stood near uttering vengeance against all, a string was pulled, overbalancing a large quantity of flour on a shelf on the top of the door and which completely covered the unfortunate Scotchman. He picked up his hat—into which had previously been poured some paraffine oil—and as he placed it upon his head the oil streamed down his face and neck. While meditaing over the best mode of escape a bag of flour sulphur was emptied over his head, which changed his appearance considerably. In this state he was allowed to leave the house, but was greeted outside by a number of young men with small parcels of soot, and rotten eggs were not forgotten. Before being permitted to escape, his face was rubbed with treacle, which, when combined with the floor, sulphur, and paraffine, made his features present a novel appearance. The valet came in for a share of the treacle, soot, etc., and as they made their exit from the grove both looked more like members of the "Christy's Minstrels' in evening dress than a merchant and valet."—Liverpool Post.

—As President Chadbourne, of Williams College, during a lecture was telling the freshman class that the notion of allowing girls to enter the college for the sake of their good influence on the boys was not as good as it might be, a freshman raised his hand and eagerly inquired, "Don't you think that it would have a good influence on the young ladies?"

Hayes' Platform in War.

In 1864, when Hayes was in the army, being nominated for Congress he was requested to come home and stump his district. His reply was, "I have other business just now. Any man who would leave the army at this time to electioneer for Congress ought to be scalped!"

Hayes' Platform in Peace.

"Honest money for all, and free schools for all. There should be no inflation which will depreciate the one, nor sectarian interference which will destroy the other."

A Greenback Speculation.

The earnest organs of the two great parties having each elected their candidates by overwhelming majorities in the Electoral College—or in their tables of estimates—the New Haven Union, an inflation organ with strong leanings to democracy, on Friday published its review of the situation, which we reprint, as it may be interesting to look over next week. The Union's "probabilities" are as follows:

"A large number of hot partisans of both sides are roaming about, telling what they know about the way things are going. The Tildenites are quite sure that their favorite is going in with a rush, while the Hayesites are equally confident. Now it is all nonsense for anybody to claim a sure thing. We believe with the New York Herald that the Peter Cooper movement will play a prominent part in the general result. If all signs do not fail, the Greenback vote of New York city will be at least ten thousand and in the State at large from twenty-five to forty thousand. Two-thirds of this vote will come from the democratic ranks, as the dissatisfaction with Tilden is very great, and Peter Cooper is an old democrat. It is altogether likely that the Greenbackers will demonstrate that they hold the balance of power in the Empire State, and Tilden will be whipped on his own dunghill. As New York is recognized as the pivotal State, the chances of Tilden are slim indeed. Indiana is just as likely to go for Hayes as for Tilden, owing to the discontent of the democratic masses there on account of the sell-out at St. Louis. New Jersey is doubtful and the prospects are that Hayes will carry all the Pacific States. We would not be surprised if the result was as follows:

FOR HAYES.		FOR TILDEN.
California	6	Alabama	10
Colorado	3	Arkansas	6
Illinois	21	Delaware	3
Iowa	11	Georgia	11

RECAPITULATION.

Whole number of electoral votes	369
Necessary to a choice	185
Tilden	164

If Tilden can carry his own State—New York—he will be the next President in all probability. Such a thing might happen as Hayes' election without New York. If he carries New Jersey and Louisiana he will not require New York. There are some close political observers who maintain that Tilden will not carry one Northern State. The republicans are confident of New York and New Jersey, and lay some claim on Connecticut.

Democratic Testimony.

Before Samuel J. Tilden was nominated by the democrats, through the influence of John Morrissey, and the judicious use of money gained (according to the statement of Dan. Voorhees, another democratic reformer) by "wrecking railroads," not a few democratic papers spoke their minds freely concerning the great "reformer." That they have since become enthusiastic Tildenites does not in the least detract from the truth of what they said before he was nominated. Said the Cincinnati Enquirer:

"He is a hypocrite, a political swindler, has long been a public plunderer, and is really the only disreputable candidate prominently named on the democratic side. He has sought this high office by methods so unprecedentedly shameless and disreputable that it would be an everlasting stigma upon a democratic Convention to nominate him, and a reproach upon the American people to elect him if nominated. * * It could not but be that a man educated in cunning, hypocrisy, and iniquity, nominated in corruption and shameless effrontery, even though his millions could elect him, would give us the most corrupt administration the country has ever known. * * All the vicious, thieving, corrupt elements in the democratic party are moving toward 'reform,' under the banner of Sam. Tilden."

Said another democratic paper, the Albany Times:

"There is a great stress put upon the services of Tilden in 'breaking up the Tweed Ring.' Tilden was a co-worker with Tweed for years, and did not open his mouth against him until Jimmy O'Brien and the New York Times had furnished many of the leading facts to the public. When it was discovered that an outraged community could no longer stand the frauds of the Rings, but were determined to break them up, then it occurred to our great railroad financier that the opportune moment had arrived for him to make capital out of the facts of fraud with which for years he had been familiar."

The Albany Times, after the nomination refused to support Tilden; not so, however, the New York Express, which before the nomination spoke as follows:

"A man who has dealt so largely in railroads, and profited so largely by them, will not be trusted as a candidate. The losses have been too frightful upon the one hand, and the private gains too enormous on the other to make any man, identified, as Mr. Tilden is, with railroads, the proper candidate for the President of the United States."

And even the great reformer, August Belmont, whose name has been appended to so many certificates of character for Sam Tilden, used the following severe words:

"Those who claim that Tilden is unassailable do not know him, or if they do then they are quite as dishonest as he is. He has been counsel for all the broken-down corporations with which New York has been afflicted for a long term of years, and out of them he has not come with clean hands."

News and Notes.

Weeden, Goodwin and Collyer, found guilty of manslaughter by aiding in the killing of Walker, the prize fighter, were sentenced to six years' imprisonment each in the Trenton Penitentiary. The remaining prisoners, Clark and Neary, were sentenced to two years' imprisonment.

The jury at New York in the case of Captain Grindle, accused of cruelty to his sailors, brought in a verdict of guilty, and he was remanded for sentence. The penalty for such crime is from one to five years imprisonment.

Seth Baker, of Bingham, Me., was caught on a shaft in a saw-mill, and received terrible injuries, resulting in his death four hours after.

On Thursday a son of Henry K. White, of Chester, Vt., aged eighteen years, was found dead near a fox he had killed. He probably wounded the fox and then killed him with the breech of the gun, discharging the contents of the other barrel in his bowels and causing death.

All the farm buildings, with the exception of the dwelling house, of the late Carlos Pierce of Stanstead, Vt., were burned Thursday. There were ten or twelve of them, and the loss is about $25,000, partly insured. The fire is thought to have been incendiary.

A Mr. Cameron of Hillier, Canada, was attacked by a bull, a short time ago. The animal threw him down and was goring and trampling him in a savage manner, when Mrs. Cameron came to the rescue, seized the bull by the nose ring and literally dragged him away, and fastened him into the field again. She then returned to her husband and carried him to the house, but he lived only a short time.

The number of vessels belonging to, or bound to or from ports in the United States, reported totally lost and missing during the past month, is 48—of which 23 were wrecked, 18 abandoned, 2 sunk by collision, four foundered, and 1 missing. They are classed as follows—2 steamers, 4 ships, 17 barques, 5 brigs, and 20 schooners. Their total estimated value, exclusive of cargoes, is estimated at $950,000.

On the 16th of October the United States Coast Survey schooner Earnest, Lieutenant John M. Hawley, United States Navy, commanding, landed on a rock at Isle au Haut, Me., in a heavy gale, and remained pounding away for two weeks. Everything on board was saved. Within a few days she has been raised and beached, and a few thousand dollars will put her in as good condition as before the storm. It has been reported that the schooner was a total wreck, and it will be a matter of general interest to know that there is no wreck.

The San Francisco Bulletin says: "As the Weaverville stage was going down the mountain about thirty miles north of Shasta, a highwayman suddenly jumped from behind a bush, covering Wells, Fargo & Co's messenger, John McNemer, with a shot gun before he could make any resistance, and demanded the treasure box, which he was forced to hand over. The robber started for the bush with his booty and ordered the driver to drive on. As soon as they were out of sight of the robber, McNemer jumped from the stage, ran back, got on the robber's track, followed him a short distance, where he found him taking the treasure from the box, which he had already broken open with a pick. McNemer fired at him, knocking him over. The robber jumped up and ran a short distance, when McNemer gave him the contents of the other barrel, killing him instantly. He then recovered all the treasure and brought it safely here."

Several of the oldest and best of the first class hotels in the great cities have made a reduction in price, to meet the just demand of the times. In Boston, the popular American has reduced its rates on two hundred rooms, and affords the best accommodations at a most reasonable rate.

New Hampshire Items.

The Winnipesaukee Paper Company ship four car-loads of paper regularly every week for the New York Times. The first week in last month they shipped eight and the second week six car loads. They load sixteen rolls in each car, and each roll contains between four and five miles of paper in a continuous sheet.

Superintendent Chamberlain, of the Concord Railroad, indignantly denies the charge that he has given democratic clubs advantages of transportation which he has refused republican clubs, during the Presidential campaign. He says: "any assertion which alleges there has been any political discrimination whatever in the rates of fare charged or in the accommodation furnished to the different party organizations by this road, is an absolute, unmitigated falsehood."

Political.

One of the transparencies in the democratic torchlight procession in Providence, Thursday night, bore the inscription: "We drove the boys in blue."

Our readers may remember that we published the results of Tilden's war upon the Canal Ring for which his party gave to him the title of Reformer. It resulted in one conviction only—Jarvis Lord of Buffalo, whose case went up on exceptions to a higher court. Jarvis is the latest convert—he is out with a card for Tilden and Reform? He knows how it is himself.

The National Republican Committee and the Tilden Commitee on the 3d each issued their last pre-election manifesto. Hon. Zach. Chandler showed how absurd is any faith in Tilden's promise to oppose his party on the rebel claims question, and claimed Hayes' election as certain by a large majority. The Tildenites gave a last grand "blow" concerning the certainty of Tilden's election by at least 200 electoral votes; this of course is only the last of the game of mighty "brag" ordered by Tilden's bureau and faithfully kept up for the past two weeks by his followers.

—The ancient Greek buried their dead in jars. Hence the origin of the expression "He's gone to pot."

The Welfare of the Human System

Is in a great measure dependent upon the way in which the bowels perform their evacuative function. If they are regular, every thing can always be relied on; so by the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters—an important essential of health is secured, and that blessing is very apt to follow. If they are irregular, chronic constipation and indigestion supervene, the liver becomes disordered, and the bile, being diverted from its natural channels and purpose, enters and contaminates the blood, producing that yellowish cast of the skin and whites of the eyes which is such a sure index of biliousness. All these disastrous consequences, as well as others of a far more serious nature, are remedied and prevented by Hostetter's Bitters, the leading American specific for disorders of the bowels, stomach and liver.

Stand not upon the Order of Your Going, but go at once and buy a bottle of the fragrant SOZODONT. You will never regret it. It not only beautifies and preserves the teeth, and arrests decay, but leaves the mouth cool, and the breath as fragrant as a rose.

Spalding's Glue, cheap, convenient, useful.

ABSCESSES AND SORES OF LONG STANDING, which have resisted the operation of ointments and washes, may be cleansed and healed by frequent and persistent washing with GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP.

[From the Boston Saturday Evening Express.]

"If you have a cold take Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam. It is a sure cure for coughs, colds, sore throat, &c. All druggists have it. The proprietor offers a reward of $1000 for a case it will not cure. To those satisfied we recommend a trial of this superior remedy."

Go to the Grand Central Hotel, New York. It is the only first class hotel that has had the courage to reduce rates from $4.00 to $2.50 and $3.00 per day.

Important to persons visiting New York or the Centennial. The Grand Union Hotel, New York, opposite the Grand Central Depot, has over 350 elegantly furnished rooms. Elevator, steam and all improvements. European plan. Carriage hire is saved, as baggage is taken to and from the depot free. Guests can live better for less money at the Grand Union than at any other first-class hotel. Stages and cars pass the Hotel constantly to all parts of the city, and to the Philadelphia depot.

THE GREAT REMEDY FOR SORE THROAT, PULMOCINE COURGHAL is for sale at the UNION STORE, market Street. Price 50 cents per bottle.

LITTLE GIANT!

REX. JUNE 6, '76.

This Trade Mark is a guarantee that the medicine is genuine. Without it the Pills are a fraud and a cheat—when it is represented by any dealer that they are selling the LITTLE GIANT PILLS, which have effected such wonderful cures in Portsmouth.

This medicine has been prepared with the greatest care of the choicest ingredients for the cure of Sick Headache and Bilious Disorders. Its success has been very surprising, as the many certificates of well-known citizens testify.

Parties in Portsmouth, well knowing this, are offering some other Pills, pretending that they are the same. GEO. E. HANSON, 41 Congress Street, is the Agent in Portsmouth who can produce the genuine Pills, put up in square boxes with the Trade Mark upon each box. Any one who has bought any other, supposing they have bought these, has been imposed upon, and had better go back and get his money and buy a reliable medicine of the authorized agent.

A GAME OF BRAG.

The Tilden campaign is now marked by boasting as persistent and apparently confident as marked the Greeley campaign. Up to the time when Tilden, thoroughly alarmed at the uprising of the business men of the country in opposition to him, rushed into print with a letter in which he declared he would stick to his official oath if elected, "bluff" held but a subordinate position in the democratic plan; but after that, recognizing his chances to be desperate, Tilden ordered the rest of the campaign to be conducted wholly on the brag and bluster system. That the order came from the great "reformer" who is striving so desperately for office, is evinced by the fact that the plan was simultaneously adopted by the democratic papers everywhere.

Up to that time the betting on the election, among the New York gamblers, had been in favor of Hayes on the general result, and slightly in favor of Tilden on the vote of New York; but no sooner was the brag game taken up by the democratic papers that it was announced that the betting had suddenly flopped around in favor of Tilden, and every day since those papers have had the "betting at Morrissey's pool rooms" in a conspicuous place, with big head-lines to call attention to it. This is but another instance of Tilden's "powers of organization;" finding the influence of the manufactory and counting room telling terribly against his hopes, he promptly pitted against it the influence of the gambling hell. The sudden change in the betting was simply due to the "bulling" of Tilden stock by Morrissey and a few other reformers; the big bets, heavily in Tilden's favor, are made solely between confederates, and not a cent of money is really put up except on the small bets, in which Morrissey's agents "hedge" heavily on Hayes.

But it is not merely the gambling hell that is "bouncing" for Tilden; the local leaders of the democracy everywhere are shouting themselves hoarse, per order, they having been instructed to claim everything for Tilden, as a last hope that such tactics may influence enough undecided voters to give Tilden some of the close States, and avert the defeat that now seems inavitable for him. And they are doing it, in this city as well as other places in this State, but it will avail nothing, for the electoral vote of New Hampshire is sure for Hayes and Wheeler by 3000 majority, if not more. As an indication of the style of "argument" used we may mention a proposal in the Times of Saturday evening to the republicans to bet $3000 on six "events," every one of which are claimed as sure for the democracy; that offer, made so near the election, is a very cheap bit of bluff," and simply shows that the brewery as well as the gambling hell is anxious for the success of Tilden and reform.

All the republicans have to do is look out for their own side; the democratic blowing will never elect Samuel J. Tilden.

TORCH-LIGHT POLITICS.

On Friday evening the Hayes and Wheeler Guards of this city went to Dover, where the republicans had the biggest demonstration seen in the place for years. The Tilden clubs, and a lot of the uninformed unterrified who were induced to go by a free ride over the railroad, went to Manchester, where the democrats had a display. Some of the Portsmouth democrats were terribly indignant because they were drawn up on the street to be "collated," and the grub was passed around, though we see no reason why they should be,—ought to think themselves lucky to get anything.

The Tilden battalion went to Rochester on Saturday evening, to join in a democratic procession, the republicans of Rochester having a procession the same night. Both parties illuminated their houses, and they were all labeled for "Hayes and Wheeler" or "Tilden and Hendricks," as the case might be, thus preventing the processionists from cheering in the wrong places. Two Portsmouth Democrats, on landing from the train, promptly fell in at the rear of a procession that just then passed, and marched round quite a while, cheering with the rest, until the cheers given a Hayes and Wheeler flag notified them of their blunder.

POLICE COURT.

Saturday, November 4th.

John Tobin was arraigned, charged with having been drunk. He denied this, but acknowledged that he had become so "bewildered" that he could not find Atkinson street, and was searching for it near the Kearsarge Mill when arrested by the police. The Court, having learned that Tobin has resided in this city for five or six years, thought the latter's bewilderment very remarkable, but it was much increased when he was ordered to pay $9.90.

JOTTINGS.

Let every republican make a personal inspection to see if his name is on the checklist. The importance of attending to this matter personally and at once cannot be overestimated.

The Times heaps contumely on the abundant and palatable collation furnished the visiting clubs by the republicans on Thursday evening, and says the principal dish was "condemned beef." The editor who talks that way didn't seem to experience much difficulty in getting away with a grown person's share of it, anyway.

As the Tilden battalion was marching to the depot, Saturday evening, some miscreant threw a heavy missile of some kind at the procession, when it was near the Hanover street school-house. Master Henry M. Goodrich, one of the drummers, was nearest the projectiles line of flight, and had one of his drumsticks broken and the head of his drum caved in; had it been his own head instead of his drum's which was hit, the cowardly ruffian who threw the missile would probably have been a murderer. A reward of twenty dollars is offered for the detection of the rascal.

The contemptible falsehood published in the Times of Friday, that the beef used by the republicans at their collation the previous evening was stolen from the navy yard, and that it was "condemned" beef at that—"A raid had been made on Uncle Sam's institution on Wednesday and three whole barrels of beef captured,"—was repeated on a banner carried to Manchester by the "reformers" Friday evening. The beef was of the best quality, and furnished by a prominent firm of provision dealers in this city, as the Times, and fellows who willingly repeated its malicious slander, no doubt know; but then a lie told "for the good of the party" is a venial offence in the eyes of a Tilden "reformer."

We have received from O. Ditson & Co., Boston, the following peices of new music, 'Angels wanted her in Heaven," words by Jennie Crockett, music by C. Lyle; "They're beckoning me," words by Jennie Crockett, music by C. Lyle; "I'm feeling like a big Bull Frog," song by Q. Brigham Bishop; "Wood shade waltz," by Sep. Winner; "Emma Polka," by C. G. Bergendahl; "First Battalion March," by R. C. Heuel.

—Two sisters at Wahring, Austria, celebrated their golden weddings October 6. The elder, seventy-four years old, had about her six children and thirty-six grandchildren. Of the other, seventy-two years old, the Fremdenblatt says she has so far been childless.

—Terre Haute thought she had found a rough diamond in H. O. Wagner, acting brakeman of a coal train, and took him to her bosom, washed his face, put clean raiment upon him, and, he being musical, made him leader of her brass band, gave him a benefit concert, and feted him in various ways. In return he wooed a fair daughter of that fair city, borrowed ten dollars of her father and various sums from other people, besides a hundred dollar fiddle from a friend, pocketed the gross receipts of the concert and departed for fresh fields and pastures new.

—The prosecution of the Mountain Meadow murderers will not end with the conviction of John D. Lee. In passing sentence of death upon the prisoner on October 10, at Beaver, Utah, Judge Boreman said that the witnesses whose mouths had been unsealed, would be ready to testify agains the other leaders who had plotted the wholesale slaughter of the emigrants nineteen years ago. If the Mormons by consenting to his death fancied that public indignation would be appeased by his conviction they were greatly mistaken. Those who had planned and executed the awful deed would all be brought before the bar of justice. The dread crime would not down.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

For Inventions Trade Marks or Designs

No. 78 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity for a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART."

Boston, Jan. 1, 1876. 1y

Daily Chronicle.

—A Captain Edmands has patented in England a most useful little machine, which will probably do much to alleviate the sufferings of those who are committed to the sea in open boats, should they be lucky enough to have the apparatus with them. It is remarkably compact, and fits into such a small compass that the bows of any ship's boat are sufficient to contain it; and it produces good and drinkable water from the sea at the rate of a pint per hour. The system of working it is as follows: An oil lamp securely suspended keeps a small boiler filled with sea-water continually boiling, the steam from which passes into a condensing chamber, and thence in the form of fresh water to a tank, whence it is drawn off by a tap as required. To assist the condensing process, a continual stream of cold sea-water is admitted by a head-pipe through the stem of the boat, and, passing round the condensing chambers, is got rid of again through waste pipes at either side.

—In a city in the south of France was once building an important structure, under the direction of a State engineer. The building finished, there only remained to be built the inclosing walls, which, to be of a considerable height, were strengthened by chaines of stone, which were to be carefully bonded. The engineer, making his daily tour of inspection, always saw a through-stone just being set in place, and thought all was as it should be. No sooner was his back turned than this was replaced by a stone four inches thick, backed up with the rubble-stone, while the through-stone was laid aside for use the next day. Thus the same stone did service throughout the entire wall, and was finally carried back in triumph to the stone-yard of the enterprising contractor.

—A man and woman at Richford, Vt., who were divorced from each other twenty years ago, were remarried one day last week. Since the dissolution of the original tie the bride has been married once and the groom twice. They met one noon, failed to recognize each other, were introduced by a mutual friend and were remarried the same evening.

Dr. YOUNG,
SUCCESSOR TO
Dr. TELLER,
SPECIALISTS.

The above named private Hospital was established in Albany in 1825 by Dr. Lispenard and for a number of years its affairs were presided over by that gentleman, but for the past 26 years, Dr. Teller, who is now deceased, transacted the business of the Institution.

Owing to the great demand for more spacious apartments on account of the large increase of business, the Hospital has been removed to No. 9 Beaver Street, two doors above its old location, where patients will find magnificently furnished rooms for their reception, and are so arranged that patients do not come in contact with one another, seeing only the doctor, thereby avoiding the unpleasantness of meeting others, which always occurred at the old office.

LADIES will find rooms provided for their especial accommodation and entirely private.

YOUNG MEN, addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their health and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasures of married life and also those afflicted with private diseases of any nature, are advised that in consulting Dr. Young they will find a physician fully qualified to cure and restore them to full health and manly vigor.

Dr. Teller's great work for the married, or those contemplating marriage—300 pages—full of plates,—price 25 cents. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail post paid.

TO THE LADIES—DR. YOUNG still retains the only agency in America for the sale of Dr. Vichot's Italian Female Monthly Pills. Sent by mail on receipt of $1.00, price per box.

DR. YOUNG is the only agent for Dr. La Motte's celebrated Galvanic Belts.

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!
No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their patronage is on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:
Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.
WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1875.
MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $2.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.
Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.
WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875
MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken ill, four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.
Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.
WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.
MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to your agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking Dr. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.
JOHN W. LORD.
Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."
EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.
MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take a pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My health has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and I tried everything that I could hear of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them myself. He has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ELI F. PEVARE.
DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, 75.
MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get relief temporarily. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for the last ten winters. I have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Melody, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your Pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrell, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.
Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy, and Headache.
LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.
THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they are used. I shall recommend them to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.
MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.
BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.
Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.
Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.
CLEAR YOUR THROAT!
Relieve Your Lungs.
For the terrible diseases engendered by the lungs trying climate of New England
PULMOCINE CORDIAL
Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.
For Coughs,
Croup,
Diphtheria,
Asthma, etc.,
USE
Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.
The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. His effered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

Good Fresh Butter All The Year Round.

BUTTER IN 20 MINUTES.

Lincoln Butter Powder is an entirely harmless article made from a complicated English recipe, and now in daily use by many of the most noted farmers in the butter counties around Philadelphia.

In hot weather the Powder makes butter much firmer and sweeter than it usually is, and keeps it from turning rancid. It also removes the strong flavor of turnips, weeds, corn stalks, cotton seed, etc., and the increased yield of butter much more than pays the trifling expense of using it.

Terrible Punishments.

One of the most terrible punishments ever conceived was that formerly used in England on those who, arraigned for felony or treason, refused to plead. As the trial could not proceed until the indicted person had answered the question, "Guilty or not guilty?" the torture of the "Peine Forte et Dure" was resorted to in order to compel compliance.

This strong and harsh penalty well deserved the name. All the old law books agree that the prisoner was carried back to prison and laid in some low, dark room, almost naked, upon his back. A sharp stone was placed beneath the back, a board on the body, and on this weights were gradually piled. The unfortunate prisoner received each day, alternately, either a small piece of bread of the worst description, or some water from the nearest stagnant pool. Thus he continued until he died, for he could not, after the pressing begun, offer to plead. The earliest statute imposing this penalty is that of Westminster the First. It continued in use until 1772, when it was abolished. In 1692, Giles Corey, an old man of eighty, and husband of a reputed witch, was pressed to death.

Even women were subjected to this punishment. Among the recorded cases is that of Margaret Clitheroe, pressed to death at York, in 1586, during the reign of Queen Elizabeth. She was a lady of some position, her stepfather being at the time mayor of the city. She was arraigned for having given shelter to a priest. On being brought to the bar she declined to plead, either to save her children from being brought as witnesses against her or because she did not wish the jury to be made instrumental in her death. It may be, too, that she underwent the torture as a mode of death more painful, indeed, than hanging, but at the same time attended with less injury to her family, as no confiscation or attainder followed pressing to death.

Judge Clinch sentenced her to this effect: "That in the lowest part of the prison she shall be stripped, laid on her back on the ground, and as much weight laid on her as she could bear, and so continue for three days; and on the third day, should she still refuse to plead, be pressed to death, her hands and feet tied to a post and a sharp stone under her back."

On the day appointed she was led to the toll-booth. Here Fawcett, the sheriff, commanded her to undress. She implored upon her knees, as did other women, to be spared the shame, but in vain. The women then disrobed her, and she put on a long linen habit she had prepared. Being thus ready, she lay quietly down on the ground, her face covered with a handkerchief. Then the door was laid upon her, and she covered her face with her hands, but the sheriff told her she must have her hands bound to two posts, which was done, so that she seemed extended on a cross. As the first weight was laid upon her she cried: "Oh, Jesus, have mercy upon me!" but those were her last words. A sharp stone was then placed under her back, and seven or eight hundred weight piled upon the door. After an agony of a quarter of an hour she expired.

Fashion Notes.

The coat sleeve still holds its reign.

Poplins are coming into vogue again.

Quilted satin skirts are very fashionable.

Passementerie is much in demand for trimming cloaks.

There is an effort to introduce swallow-tailed basques.

Drop buttons are used to ornament both wraps and costumes.

Bows are worn on shoes; sometimes as many as three on one shoe.

Smyrna lace is the lace of the moment for trimming undergarments.

Gloves with gauntlets will be worn this winter with walking suits.

Brocaded raw silk is an exquisit fabric for the overdress of costumes.

The "Gainsborough" is among the prettiest of bonnets worn this season.

Coquettish little bows made of lace and colored silk are to be worn in the hair.

Chenille fringes are handsome for trimming dresses made of black velvet and silk.

Black silk circular cloaks and sacks lined with fur are desirable only for extremely cold weather.

Broad, military braid is used for trimming wraps. It is also used for striping overskirts and basques.

Linen bows, edged with lace and made to button on to the collar, are used by ladies for the morning toilets.

The hair is either braided or pulled low in the neck, when worn under the "Lucca" or "Massanielle" net.

Breakfast caps are the height of fashion for young ladies. They are generally made of Valenciennes lace and colored ribbon.

Silk skirts to dresses are not fashionable as those made of the same material as the rest of the suit and trimmed with silk.

Polonaises with wraps made of the same goods, both garments being edged with bands of cock's feathers, are very stylish and popular.

A very pretty style cloth double-breasted, and very long. The coat and pocket holes are edged with gray astrakhan.

The latest imported dresses are simply princess polonaises looped very low down, and have one deep flounce at the bottom so arranged as to imitate an underskirt.

Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 3. 1876.

The end of the campaign is at hand and the forebodings of evil which have oppressed many hearts during its continuance have become nebulous and unreal under the cheering influences of the favorable character of the advices received daily from all parts of the sharply contested field. Washington a point for political observation during the past six months, has not been surpassed by any other locality in the country. Thousands from every State and Territory have visited it, on their way to or from Philadelphia; and if the preferences of these Centennial pilgrims correctly represent the sentiment of their respective sections, "Tilden and reform" are in a hopeless minority throughout all the great North and west. But the recent call of the merchants, professional men, bankers and other capitalists of our great manufacturing and commercial cities, to patriotic citizens of every political faith, to unite against the sinister design of the Tilden managers, has been provocative of much dismay among the representatives of a sham democracy, here. No event of the campaign, not even Tilden's perjury, startling as it was—has created so much disorder and been so generally demoralizing. It is regarded here as the appeal of the exponents of the culture, morality and wealth of the country to all friends of American institutions against the fell purpose of their avowed enemies. It is having a most salutary effect. Since the reports of the military officers sent into the South have been received here, and the quieting effect produced by the presence of the troops upon the lawless Southern democracy have become generally known, the managers here have been shamed into silence relative to "Grant's bayonets," etc. The determination of the President to protect the citizens of South Carolina and the Southern communities from the beartless democratic reformers who have murdered and tortured them without let or hindrance, has increased his popularity with every law-abiding citizen. At least that is the inference drawn from its effect on the public here. Mr. Tilden appears quite as unfortunate in his attempts to define his position relative to rebel war claimsas when he set Mr. Sennot to the hopeless task of explaining away the little discrepancies between his two statements as to his income. The effect of his latest manifesto which is so heartily endorsed by members of Southern democratic State committees, some of whom gained much notoriety by their persistent advocacy of claims of this class during the last session of Congress, has only increased the feeling of distrust with which he is regarded, and, it is said, has made him many enemies with ex-rebels who don't understand the dodge, especially in Missouri which has so far recognized the validity of this class of claims as to grant certificates, promising their payment after the General Government shall have allowed and paid the amount to the State. The Lockport (N. Y.) Daily Journal, under date of October 30, prints a letter cut, it says, from the Cleveland Herald. It was furnished to the Herald by a number of a highly respectable business firms of Cleveland, who can only explain its reception on the supposition that the writer put the letter designed for his Wisconsin correspondent into the envelope sent to his (the Cleveland) firm, and the letter relative to shipments, for his firm, was sent to the Wisconsin party by mistake. The letter is as follows. "New York Oct. 23, 1876. Dear Lewis. As promised, I stopped here on my way home from the Centennial to see our friends, I write you briefly as this is my tenth letter to-night. and it is late.

They promise us aid but say it must be through the State Committee, Hewitt was so occupied that I had no opportunity to talk to him as I wished. A few minutes with the Governor, however, who happened to be in the city, did as well. He talks hopefully, but is solicitous about Wisconsin, and thinks there is a possibility of its vote determining the election. Among other things which I will tell you, he feels the necessity of a full Catholic vote and wishes its importance cautiously urged upon the priests and officers of the Church. The fact should be remembered by them that the school question has been dragged in the issue in some of the States, and that the democratic party is their true friend. He wants them reminded that he and the party are constantly assailed for 'the Gray Nun's act, and such favors, and for the Church to be lagged now would be little less than trescherous. This matter he wishes to have looked after with the utmost caution outside of committees, and by none not of our order. I'll stop at Milwaukee as I go up and look after the matter there. Can you not go over to Madison and do so there? There is no time to be lost. I'll also look after the mining regions when I get home, which will be not later than the 28th. I start to-morrow by 3 P. M. via Albany. Business is looking up. Truly ours Jas. C.* Devan. If this letter recalls the purposes of the reformer, and it was generally known, he would probably disappear from American politics under the weight of infamy that a knowledge of such trafficking would provoke.

MAXWELL.

News and Notes.

The President has accepted the invitation of the Centennial Commission to formally close the exhibition on the 10th inst. He will be accompanied to Philadelphia by the members of the Cabinet. On Thursday the Commission and the Board of Finance will entertain the Foreign Commissioners of the exhibition at a dinner in St. George's Hall, together with other distinguished guests.

The following are the postal changes for the week; Postmasters appointed—Byron C. Matthews, at Boothbay, Maine; D. F. Cushing, Jr., at Cambridgeport, Vt.; B. Edson Herrick, at Highgate, Vt. An office has been established at Hudson Centre, N. H., with Eli Hamblett as Postmaster.

There is now no serious subject of controversy between the United States and Spain, the latter having in a spirit of friendship, acceded to the views of the former for the trial of the United States citizens in the island of Cuba accused of crime before civil tribunals.

No correspondence has recently passed between the Government of the United States and Great Britain concerning the extradition treaty, and therefore the question remains in the same condition that it was at the close of the late session of Congress.

The scarcity of Croton water in New York is causing some alarm among the people, and a water famine is feared. Uptown residents have suffered considerable inconvenience from a lack of the article, and the scarcity is reported to be growing worse and the supply in the reservoirs is becoming rapidly less. The Graphic editorially calls the attention of the authorities of the danger. It says that it may lead to a plague, and that stringent measures should be at once taken to prevent wast of water and thus avert the disaster.

While members of a colored club from Jersey City were returning home after being disbanded from a republican parade in New York, Friday night, they were attacked by a number of white men near Desbrosses street ferry, who threw a volley of paving stones, brickbats, etc., into the ranks, and attempted to gain possession of the colored men's torches. The colored men turned upon them and fired into the crowd, while some used dirk-knives. William Merriman was stabbed in the left breast and his wound may prove fatal. Thomas Fisher was shot in the right leg, James Newton was shot in the left breast and two others were slightly wounded. None of the colored men are known to have been injured, nor were any arrested.

The body of Philip Ottman, a wealthy Fulton Market dealer, who disappeared so mysteriously a few weeks ago, was found to-day at the foot of Twentieth street, in the East River. It bore no marks of violence and contained all the money and jewelry he had with him at the time of his disappearance. It is supposed that he accidentally fell into the river and was drowned.

Storing Vegetables.

By the middle of November, and in some sections a week or two earlier, garden vegetables have attained their full growth, and it is time to make preparations for their winter protection. In former years, when the laws of health were less understood than now, the dwelling house cellar was, as a rule, turned into a pit for keeping all sorts of vegetables intended for use during the cold weather. Among the more intelligent this plan is now very generally given up, and vegetables are now stored out of doors, so that, if they do decay through the winter or early spring months, the health of the inmates is not in danger from the breathing of impure air. Of late years there have been some improved methods of storing vegetables put in practice by market gardeners, and some of these are worth knowing. These improved modes are less expensive, and more certain than the old fashioned ways.—Scribner's Monthly.

—Unbecoming behavior of yachtsmen—hugging the shore.

—"What's this, mister?" said a countryman who was wandering through a jeweler's store, and as he spoke he rung a statue of Mercury with his thorny knuckles. "That," said the attendant, "is Mercury," and he passed on to wait on a customer. The ruralist gazed for a moment with open mouth at the bronze representation of the messenger of the gods, and then beckoned to a companion at the other end of the store, to whom he said: "Jim, what do you suppose that figger is?" "I dunno," responded Jim, in turn giving it a resounding rap, "brunze, hain't it?" "No," said the other, "taint; it's quicksilver." "Whaat! the stuff they put into thermometers? Waal, I am durned. What'l they do next?"

—He was carving at dinner, and thought he must talk to the æsthetical looking angel on his right. "How do you like Beethoven?" said he at a venture. "Well cooked," said she, interested in the business at hand.

—A pretty widow, whose husband has been dead several years, received a beautiful bouquet. The man who sent it had been flying around her with an earnestness worthy of a dry goods clerk, and it was with extra delight he saw her pass his store that evening with the bouquet of flowers in hand. "Am so pleased to see you with them," said he, and a thousand little Cupids dimpled in his smile. "Yes," she replied, "it was very kind in you; I always knew you liked him; I am taking them to his grave."

—A man in Concord had a silver dollar. It had served in his father's family successively the office of "tooth-cutter" to its various members. One day in his youth, as he was going to muster, he got possession of this family keepsake, and not thinking of its value, spent it. Its recovery was sought in vain, and for years after in trade and then as a banker, he kept a lynx-eyed watch on the pieces of silver received, in hopes it might wander back to him. He obtained a piece as near its age as possible in lieu thereof, when one day being in a bank at Dover and comparing coins, the cashier remarked, "I have a coin that will beat that," and before the astonished gaze of our banker was laid the original keepsake, with his initials scratched thereon, as he had scratched them so long ago. He obtained the coin, and it now rests securely, after the vicissitudes of its many wanderings, in the pocket of its orignal owner.

The Welfare of the Human System

is in a great measure dependent upon the way in which the bowels perform their evacuative function. If they are regular—and they can always be rendered so by the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters—an important essential of health is secured, and that blessing is very apt to follow. If they are irregular, chronic constipation and indigestion supervene, the liver becomes disordered, and the bile, being diverted from its natural channel and purposes, enters and contaminates the blood, producing that yellowish cast of the skin and whites of the eyes which is such a sure index of biliousness. All these disastrous consequences, as well as others of a far more serious nature, are remedied and prevented by Hostetter's Bitters, the leading American specific for disorders of the bowels, stomach and liver.

LITTLE GIANT!

This Trade Mark is a guarantee that the medicine is genuine. Without it the Pills are a fraud and a cheat—when it is represented by any dealer that they are selling the LITTLE GIANT PILLS, which have effected such wonderful cures in Portsmouth.

This medicine has been prepared with the greatest care of the choicest ingredients for the cure of Sick Headache and Bilious Disorders. Its success has been very surprising, as the many certificates of well-known citizens testify.

Parties in Portsmouth, well knowing this, are offering some other Pills, pretending that they are the same. GEO. E. HANSON, 41 Congress Street, is the Agent in Portsmouth who can produce the genuine Pills, put up in square boxes with the Trade Mark upon each box. Anyone who has bought any other, supposing they have bought these, has been imposed upon, and had better go back and get his money and buy a reliable medicine of the authorized agent.

TO REPUBLICANS.

Before this paper is again issued, the Presidential electoral campaign will have ended in the choice of Electors who will choose either Rutherford B. Hayes or Samuel J. Tilden—we hope and believe the former—to be President of the United States for four years from the 5th of March, 1877. Both parties claim to be certain of victory, —which proves nothing, for both parties made the same claim four years ago, when only one party won. The parties figure enough electoral votes as "sure for Hayes" and "sure for Tilden" to elect them both by good majorities,—but the republicans of New Hampshire have only to secure New Hampshire's electoral vote for Hayes and Wheeler, and may leave the men of other States to take care of their own affairs. Let each republican cast his own vote for the right, employ all proper means to influence the wavering to do the same, and see to it that no votes are lost through indifference, and whatever other States may do New Hampshire will give the noble standard bearers of the republican party a majority worth the candidates and the cause.

VOTERS.

Don't be bluffed or browbeaten by Sam Tilden's managers, but do your duty like men.

Don't be tempted to try crossing on a bridge full of rotten planks, but stick to the one that has proved thus far safe.

Make it a personal matter to see every doubtful voter of your acquaintance and get him to the polls.

Don't be alarmed because some one says he is ready to bet any sum from one hundred to ten thousand dollars that Sam Tilden is the next President. Say to all blusterers, votes tell, not bets.

If every republican voter in New Hampshire does his duty to-day, the State is sure for Hayes by 3000 majority. So is Connecticut by 1500 majority.

JOTTINGS.

On Monday forenoon, a two-horse team belonging to Mr. Jedidiah Rand of Rye, ran away from Robinson's corn and flour store on Bow street and dashed up Market street smashing a carryall left standing in that thoroughfare, thence on down Pleasant and into Court street and up Middle road, passing scores of teams, fortunately without collision, until it reached the junction of South and Lafayette roads, near the residence of Jerome C. Butler, where they stopped. No great damage was done to either horses or wagon.

Mr. Ford of Kittery Point, brought to this city on Monday, a white owl, which he shot one day last week, which measured five feet from tip to tip.

An Actress' Nervousness.

Laferriere, says a French journal, has been playing "The Poor Idiot" in the provinces. At one small town the stock company was very nervous about playing with the great star, especially a hapless woman who was cast for the mother, and with whom Laferriere has the crack scene of the piece. It is in the fifth act, at the moment that the idiot begins to distinguish the persons that surround him; then she rushes to him, and, folding him in her arms, shrieks:

"My son, I am your mother!"

At every rehearsal Laferriere encouraged her. "Don't be nervous," he would say: "keep cool. All you have to do is to cry, 'My son, I am your mother,' and then embrace me."

"Oh, yes; but, Mr. Laferriere, I am so frightened to play with you."

All went well through the first four acts, and in the wait before the fifth Laferriere went to the actress' dressing-room to cheer her.

"Keep up a stiff upper lip," he said, cheerfully; "you know what you have to do. The whole play leads to this scene. I reckon on you. 'My son, I am your mother!' and embrace me."

"Yes, yes, 'my son, I am your mother! I shall not forget."

The curtain rose. Laferriere was playing with even more than his furious vigor. The crisis comes and the lady clasps him to her bosom.

"Now, then," he whispered encouragingly, then taking up his part, yelled:

"Who is the woman? Who is she?"

"My mother! I am your son!" gasped the actress; then she shrieked. Laferriere had made his teeth meet in her arm.

Penetrating China.

The story is not a long but it is a very exciting one. Yesterday afternoon a squad of indolent Chinamen, with the curiosity and cupidity of their race, were intently gazing into the window of a money-broker's office, on the corner of Sacramento and Montgomery streets. While they were bending over with the thought of what the amount of glittering coin would do for them in the Flowery Kingdom, a couple of hoodlum girls, rigged out in all the subdued glory of cardinal red hats, bows and tinged neck ruffles, came down on the same side of the street. Just before reaching the Celestial group one of the girls was observed to remove from her belt an enormous shawlpin, and as she passed, with the rapidity of lightning she plunged the instrument into that part of a Celestial body which has the most flesh on. The effect was electrical. With a wild yell of agony and surprise the Chinaman shot up into the air, and bounced down on his frightened companions. His first thought was that he had been assaulted by a highbinder for neglecting to pay his laundry assessment. Then he began to examine the sidewalk, to see if some Satanic porter or basement clerk had not reached up through the grating and stabbed him with a pitchfork or the end of a lightning-rod. Meantime the girls moved on, with perfectly sober faces, till they had turned the opposite corner, when the snickers broadened into uncontrollable laughter, and the cardinal red bows fluttered with wild delight at the success of the experiment.—San Francisco Chronicle.

—It is said that a man's reputation for sobriety often hangs upon a breath.

—Said a philosopher: "My friend conducted his future wife to the altar—and there his leadership came to an end."

—Brahmin girls in Dacca are so scarce that a man who has a marriageable daughter is certain to get rich by disposing of her.

—Augustus now compliments Angelina upon the perfection of her toilet by assuring her that she looks as fine as a hired-girl.

—"How well he plays for one so young," said Mrs. Partington, as the organ boy and his monkey performed near her door; "and how much his little brother looks like him, to be sure."

—"The world owes me a living," said a Salt Lake bummer. "Yes," replied a creditor, "but a few men have had to stand the cost of it so far; you'd better try to equalize the expense now."

—An English surgeon says that women can be easily frightened to death, and every husband should be careful how he climbs into the pantry window when he returns from the procession.

—It is narrated by railroad men, speaking of an accident that lately occurred, that a tramp was sitting on the rear platform of a caboose, when the engine of the train following ran into it, and he was knocked three or four rods by the force of the collision. He was picked up insensible, and though the physician who was summoned did not discover any wounds on his body or evidence of broken bones, it was decided that his injuries must be internal, as no one could withstand such concussion as he had experienced and escape unhurt. He was conveyed to a hotel, put in bed, and efforts made to resuscitate him, but they were unsuccessful, and it was generally believed that he would not regain consciousness. Some hours later, however, the attempts to bring him to met with success. He opened his eyes, stretched himself, sat up, looked around him, evidently tried to comprehend the situation but could not, and getting out of bed with the remark: "Well, I must have been jolly drunk this time!" he walked away without so much as saying, "Thank you."

PILOT BREAD.

This kind of bread having come into extensive family use, it has been my purpose to furnish, from choice materials, an article which should meet the approval of the most fastidious as to neatness, looks and taste. Whether I have succeeded in giving to the public a PILOT BREAD,

SUPERIOR IN EXCELLENCE,

the consumer may be the judge; that the quality will not be suffered to depreciate, the past with the present is my best pledge. That I can compete with all the various qualities of Pilot Bread in the market, as to price, I make no pretensions,—but in price, all things being equal, I fear no competition.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases and at very reasonable charges.

JOHN TAGGART."

Daily Chronicle.

—English merchants and shipowners are becoming much alarmed at the increasing crime of broaching cargoes at sea by sailors. Many instances are on record where sailors, obtained at low wages, and consequently untrustworthy, have broken into the cargoes, helped themselves to wines, spirits and provisions, and became mutinous, and through using lights and matches in their search, have set ships on fire. The only practical remedy as yet suggested consists in having the bulkheads lined with sheet-iron.

—One of the Savannah benevolent association encountered on his beat, the other day, an applicant for aid. He asked: "Have you a husband, madam?" "Yes, sir." "What is his occupation?" "Cotton hoosier, sir," (laborers who stow cotton in vessels, and whose wages are five dollars a day under favorable circumstances). "Well, why don't he go to work; he can get plenty to do?" "Sure, sir, they won't give him but four dollars a day." That settled her application. Equally futile was the claim of a man for three dollars a day for nursing his wife.

—Many years ago a Florentine gentleman had a mule so vicious that his grooms and servants could hardly approach it without receiving a kick or a bite. Its master, after employing in vain every means to render it more tractable, resolved to expose the creature to the wild beasts in the menagerie of the Grand Duke. A lion was accordingly let loose, whose roaring would have frightened any other animal; but the mule wisely retired without showing any sign of fear to a corner of the court, in which he could only be attacked from behind, where its greatest strength lies, and there awaited the attack of its enemy, observing him all the while from the corner of its eye, and presenting its crupper. The lion, sensible of the difficulty of the assault, employed all his address to catch his foe at disadvantage. At length the mule found an opportunity to give him so violent a kick that nine or ten of his teeth were broken, the fragments flying in all directions. The king of beasts acknowledged a defeat and retreated to his den, leaving the mule master of the field.

THE OLDEST ESTABLISHED HOSPITAL
—IN THE—
UNITED STATES.
No. 9 Beaver Street, - - - Albany, N. Y
SURE CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Dr. YOUNG,
SUCCESSOR TO
Dr. TELLER,
DECEASED.

The above named private Hospital was established in Albany in 1833 by Dr. Lispenard and for a number of years its affairs were presided over by that gen tleman, but for the past 29 years, Dr. Teller, who is now deceased, transacted the business of the Institution.

Owing to the great demand for more spacious apartments on account of the large increase of business, the Hospital has been removed to No. 9 Beaver Street, two doors above its old location, where patients will find magnificently furnished rooms for their reception, and are so arranged that patients do not come in contact with one another, seeing only the doctor, thereby avoiding the unpleasantness of meeting others, which always occurred at the old place.

Private wards and rooms are provided for their especial use, cooking and comfort, entirely private.

YOUNG MEN, addicted to secret habits, which have impaired their health and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasures of married life and also those afflicted with private diseases of any nature, are advised that in confiding Dr. Young they will find a physician fully qualified to cure and restore them to full health and manly vigor.

Dr. Teller's great work for the married, or those contemplating marriage—100 pages—full of plates,—price 25 cents. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail post paid.

TO THE LADIES—Dr. YOUNG still retains the only agency in America for the sale of Dr. Vichot's Italian Female Monthly Pills. Sent by mail on receipt of $1.00 per box.

Dr. YOUNG is the only agent for the celebrated Galvanic Belts.

Patients out of the city can be cured by consulting the Doctor by letter, and enclosing remittance. Medicines sent by mail or express, securely packed from observation. All letters must be addressed to

MAGIC
CONDITION PILLS!
The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well, and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I remain, &c.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 23d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some weeks to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk over three miles and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.
JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving my testimony, so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been so free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish to share nothing in the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, 75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I had given up the hope of being free from it all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was too poor to go to Florida. I thought, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anything. I have few applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrell, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of these Pills.
MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.
BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.
is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative as could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before e was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating, it increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!
Relieve Your Lungs.
For the terrible diseases engendered by the lungs trying climate of New England.
PULMOCINE CORDIAL
Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent—there is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.
For Coughs,
Croup,
Diphtheria,
Asthma, etc.,
USE
Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.
The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. Its offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

CHILDREN TEETHING

MRS. WINSLOW'S

SOOTHING SYRUP!

For Children Teething,

greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is Sure to Regulate the Bowels.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and

Relief and Health to Your Infants.

We have put up and sold this article for years, and CAN SAY IN CONFIDENCE AND TRUTH of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—NEVER HAS IT FAILED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak in this matter "WHAT WE DO KNOW," after years of experience, AND PLEDGE OUR REPUTATION FOR THE FULFILMENT OF WHAT WE HERE DECLARE. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation has been used with NEVER FAILING SUCCESS in

Thousands of Cases.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve Griping in the Bowels and Wind Colic.

We believe it the BEST AND SUREST REMEDY IN THE CUP, in all cases of DYSENTERY and DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—do not let your prejudice, nor the prejudice of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief it will be SURE—yes, ABSOLUTELY SURE—to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle.

LINCOLN BUTTER POWDER.

Good Fresh Butter All The Year Round.

BUTTER IN 20 MINUTES.

Lincoln Butter Powder is an entirely harmless article made from a celebrated English recipe, and now in daily use by many of the most noted farmers in the butter counties around Philadelphia.

In hot weather this Powder makes butter much firmer and sweeter than it usually is, and keeps it from turning rancid. It also removes the strong flavor of turnips, weeds, corn stalks, ton seed, etc.; and the increased yield of butter much more than pays the trifling expense of using it.

After a strange man had finished eating a hearty meal at one of the stands in the City Hall market yesterday he remarked to the woman:

"As I was sitting down to this meal I said to myself that I'd bet one dollar against the dinner that the Greenback candidate would not carry a single State. If they do, you have won the dollar, and shall have it."

"I want thirty-five cents of you," she replied, pulling off her comforter.

"Or I'll bet you five dollars against the meal that the democrats carry New York State," he continued.

"I want my pay or there'll be trouble right here!" she exclaimed, slipping off her bonnet.

"Or, I'll bet the same sum, on the same terms, that the republicans will carry it," he remarked, as he wiped off his sandy goatee.

"I never bet and I want my pay?" she called out, being now already for action.

"Great Heavens! but look at the odds I offer you?" he gasped. "I not only let you bet on either side, but I offer you the most fearful odds that have ever been given since the advent of the Christian era!"

"I can't help the odds," she answered as she got hold of his coat-tails. "You don't leave heto till I get my money."

"Or, I'll bet you $35 against this 35 cent debt," he went on, "that neither Hayes nor Wheeler nor Tilden will be elected. One of them must be, but I offer to bet they won't be, simply to permit you to coin $35 out of my hard earnings. Great Jigs! but such another offer was never known since Oliver Cromwell kept a fighting dog!"

"Thirty-five cents!" she shrieked, pulling him around.

"Last, but not least, I'll bet you forty to one that I haven't had thirty-five cents about me for a month! Come, now, I offer you every chance to win."

She gave him two solid kicks, and was designing and drafting a third, when he made a bolt and left a coat tail in her grasp. While an officer was looking for him around the market he was placidly surveying the Soldier's Monument and picking his teeth with a straw.—Detroit Free Press.

By Atlantic & Pacific Line.

BOSTON, midnight.

The returns so far indicate in our own State the election of the republican ticket for President by a vote of nearly two to one. The election of Gov. Rice by a handsome majority. The election of Mr. Crapo in the 1st Congressional district, Mr. Harris in the 2nd, Mr. Field in the 3d. The fourth very doubtful. In the 5th Banks is probably elected. In the 6th enough has not been heard to form an opinion. Mr. Norcross is elected in the 10th; the 11th is not heard from. New Hampshire is very close; both parties claim it. Maine will give 15,000 rep. majority. Maryland, democratic majority. South Carolina gives a very large majority for Wade Hampton. A private dispatch to the N. Y. Tribune from Indianapolis states that it looks now as if Indiana had gone republican as the returns received show a large gain over the the election of Oct. 10.

The Boston Journal just published the following: Hayes is undoubtedly elected, receiving 221 electoral votes. Tilden and Adams carry Boston by 3400 maj., New Hampshire is republican by 2000 majority. Maryland entire democratic delegation elected. New York Times and Tribune claim North and South Carolina for republicans while democrats claim to have carried South Carolina.

Rhode Island largely republican and elects two republican Congressmen. Connecticut close. The N. Y. Tribune claims the election of Hayes by 35 votes in the electoral college. Returns from New York state show large republican gains but it is beleived it will not overcome the city vote.

NEW YORK, 1 A. M.

The latest returns are less favorable to republicans. Democrats are claiming large gains and the election of Tilden. New York gives him 40,000. North Carolina is democratic, also Wisconsin, Indiana, and South Carolina. Tilden elected. There seems to be no doubt about the election of Tilden by a large vote. New York midnight, crowds in the streets are immense. There is intense excitement. All the papers concede the election of Tilden.

3 A. M.

The New York Tribune, Herald and World, and Boston Journal concede the election of Tilden.

News and Notes.

James E. Ford, editor of the Irish World, died in Brooklyn, Friday. He was a native of Boston.

Cardinal Antonelli is dead.

The Direction of the Bureau Veritas has just published the following statistics of maritime disasters reported during the month of August, 1876, concerning all flags: Sailing vessels reported lost — 30 English, 10 German, 8 Dutch, 5 Norwegian, 4 American, 4 French, 3 Spanish, 2 Danish, 1 Austrian, 1 Italian, 1 Swedish, and 7 of which the nationality is unknown—total 70; in this number are included 4 vessels reported missing. Steamers reported lost—6 English, 2 German, 1 American, 1 Belgian, and 1 Portuguese; total, 11.

The steamer Brittanic, of the White Star line, which arrived at New York on Sunday, made the quickest passage across the ocean on record, viz., seven days, thirteen hours and eleven minutes, mean time, from Queenstown to New York.

William Hildebrandt, supposed to be one of the editors of the Chicago Free Press, committed suicide, Saturday afternoon, in Morrisania, a suburb of New York city, by shooting himself in the head with a pistol. A lawsuit with William B. Ogden is supposed to have led him to commit the deed.

Cone, the Tamworth homicide, is quartered in State prison for thirty years, if he lives so long, for manslaughter in the first degree in shooting a young man named Williams for bathing in a pond near his premises one Sunday last Summer.

Michael Keating was run over by a freight train at Claremont, Saturday, receiving fatal injuries.

NEW YORK, 8 P. M.

Domestic Sewing Machine Block is in flames, and the whole block will go.

No Use Trying.

"How did I carry myself in that torch-light procession the other night?" inquired one man of another as they aired themselves on the Court House steps. "I didn't see you," was the reply. "What! didn't see me at all! Why I was right there and carried a torch, I was next behind a tall man." "Well, I did not see you. You couldn't expect me to recognize you in that crowd." "Well, that's the last time I march around," grumbled the first; "if no one knew it was me I might as well have been a Chinaman or a horse. I see the papers didn't mention my name, either, and I shan't try any further to save this State."

Giving Him Plenty of Time.

Tom Harvard kept a gun shop in the town of Riverside. Tom was a first-class workman, but distressingly dilatory in the dispatch of business. He would meet his patrons with a positive promise which he would renew month after month, until at length his shop became an armory of unfinished rifles and fowling pieces. One day his neighbor Smith, who had suffered repeatedly by Tom's habit of procrastination, entered his shop. "Tom," said he, "I want you to make a gun for my little boy—a small, well finished piece, and as light in the barrel as will be consistent with safety." "Oh, yes," said Tom; "I will make it immediately. You shall have it at once. But, by the way, how old is the boy?" "Well, as to that," replied Smith, "the boy is not born yet, but I thought I had better get the gun under way."

—A curious instance of physiological change wrought by eating a peculiar sort of food exclusively is what happened to the castaways of the Strathmore upon one of the Twelve Apostles, where that vessel was wrecked on July 1, last year. There they found nothing to eat but penguin's eggs, which soon made them plump and happy. The remarkable thing was, however, that the skins even of those who had been dark before became fair, and their hair all turned light, even the eyebrows, the change being attributed to their diet. On this same island all the birds were white, even to the crows. The rock of the Twelve Apostles, in the Crozet group, would be a good place for negroes who wish to become white, if there are any such; or it might pay to form a company and import penguin's eggs for use when the mania for blondines shall set in again. The wrecked crew of the Strathmore seem to have found them palatable enough, as each man and woman was accustomed to eat thirty at a meal.

—The Empress of Brazil gave Queen Victoria a dress woven from spiders' webs, the fabric being far finer than the finest silk. Some time ago the London Society of Arts conferred upon Mr. Rott their medal of honor for obtaining a thread of silk of the estimated length of some 18,500 feet from twenty-four of the aranea diadema, or ordinary garden spiders. In the course of an investigation which followed this remarkable achievement, the thread was found to be six and three-tenths times finer than that produced by the silkworm, and, as the average number of the latter required to yield a pound of silk is found to be between three and four thousand, it is calculated that no less than twenty-five thousand spiders would be required to spin a similar quantity. Unfortunately, however, except in the use of spider filaments for astronomical purposes, no further encouragement seems to have been given to this species of industry. This is owing to the fact that when collected together the insects cannot be prevented from fighting and killing each other.

—We have all heard of the enthusiastic Methodist brother who shouted "Amen, hit or miss," after having been warned not to interject his responses in the wrong place; but now comes the story of exhortation in which the speaker, on saying, "This is, perhaps, the last time my voice will ever be heard in this house," was followed by a vigorous, though thoughtless, "Amen."

—"Send me a Kiss in a Letter" is a beautiful song. It sounds more sweetly to the ear than "Send me Four Dollars."

LITTLE GIANT!

This Trade Mark is a guarantee that the medicine is genuine. Without it the Pills are a fraud and a cheat, when it is represented by any dealer that they are selling the LITTLE GIANT PILLS, which have effected such wonderful cures in Portsmouth.

This medicine has been prepared with the greatest care of the choicest ingredients for the cure of Sick Headache and Bilious Disorders. Its success has been very surprising, as the many certificates of well-known citizens testify.

Parties in Portsmouth, well knowing this, are offering some other Pills, pretending that they are the same. GEO. E. HANSON, 41 Congress Street, is the Agent in Portsmouth who can produce the genuine Pills, put up in square boxes with the Trade Mark upon each box. Any one who has bought any other, supposing they have bought these, has been imposed upon, and had better go back and get his money and buy a reliable medicine of the authorized agent.

ELECTION DAY

In this city was rainy from the opening of the polls to the closing thereof, yet the vote, as shown by the figures given elsewhere, was large. The republicans made a gain of 156 on the vote at the March election, but lost from the municipal election in August, when their majority was 332. This loss however was only apparent, for the large percentage of the Irish vote which was cast for the republican candidates in August was not really cast against the democratic party, but against a democratic official—Hon. Moses H. Goodrich—for doing his duty in morally supporting a city official. This recalcitrant element recanted at this election, in favor of "Tilden and reform." The headquarters of both parties were kept open, and both telegraph lines were in requisition to bring the welcome news of victory to each party—and each party in this vicinity had seemed confident of victory for the week preceding the voting day, and on that day, the democrats being however much the more boastful; and numerous bets had been made and many more talked of, the supporters of "Tilden and reform" being abundantly ready to back up their faith by their works, which in this case means by their bets.

There was not a great amount of drunkenness observable during the day, and we heard of but one or two trifling disturbances.

Early in the evening the despatches commenced arriving, at first indefinite,—and not much more definite for many hours later—though the indications were all in favor of a republican victory, and as the evening advanced sanguine republicans might have been heard cheering, while the democrats were not at all demonstrative. Whether the betting which had been so lively for two or three days still continued to be as popular we do not know, but we saw one offer of a republican to bet $10 that Hayes was elected snapped up by a still confident democrat in a moment, at ten o'clock.

Shortly after eleven o'clock a remarkable jumble of despatches arrived from New York, indicating that the democrats had carried every Southern State excepting Texas, and quite a number of the Northern States previously claimed by the republicans; but before this cheering news arrived the democrats in this city had closed their club-rooms and gone home, though the headquarters at the Rockingham House was still lively.

Before midnight the republicans, disgusted with the wretched returns, ceased cheering; and before one o'clock the democrats took it up.

If anybody wants to know any more about election day they may look in the telegraphic returns.

A report having been spread around town that the Portsmouth correspondent of a Boston paper had telegraphed to said paper the ruinous statement that "the man who carried the 'bloody shirt' in the democratic procession" in this city voted the republican ticket on Tuesday, he (the shirt carrier) and one or two of his friends called upon us and requested us to correct the injurious rumor. This we declined to do, as we are in no way responsible for the errors of Boston papers, and suggested to our visitors that the proper place to apply was either to the Boston paper's correspondent or to the Times; but as we did not see any correction in the latter's Tuesday evening edition we reconsidered our declination, and now announce that the man who carried the "bloody shirt" in the democratic procession voted the straight democratic ticket; he told us so himself, and we are confident he did. And it would have taken a good deal of evidence to have convinced us that a man who would carry that disgraceful thing in public would vote anything but a democratic ticket.

"A LAST RALLY BEFORE VICTORY"

Was held by the democrats of this city on Monday evening, when the Tilden and Hendricks Torchlight Battalion assembled on Market square at half-past seven o'clock, marched about town, and returned to the square at half-past nine. The battalion then formed in hollow square, standing at parade rest, and Lieut.-Col. Frank W. Hilton called for "three cheers for the next President, Samuel J. Tilden"—which were given with hearty good will, and at the same moment a half-dozen or more rockets, several bombs, and other fireworks, were set off from various points inside the square, and hundreds of Roman candles in the hands of the processionists sent balls of colored fires into the air. The spectacle was a brilliant one—undoubtedly the most brilliant one ever seen in this city in the shape of a fire-works display, while it lasted; rockets were sent up as fast as possible from a dozen points within the hollow square, and colored fires were kept burning until the Roman candles were exhausted and the last bomb had been sent skyward; and then the battalion formed company fronts and marched up street as far as Mechanics' Block, there breaking into column by fours, marching up to the Academy and countermarching to Market square, where the parade was dismissed, the evolutions being very creditably done considering the time the battalion has been organized. The affair was an entire success,—none the less so that the few disgraceful features of former democratic processions were wanting in this one.

The Howard Atheneum Company, of Boston, John Stetson, manager, will give an entertainment at the Temple on Monday evening, Nov. 13th. Reserved seats now for sale at Preston's. See advertisement.

—Passing up street a gentleman saw a man sitting on the steps of a dilapidated old house, and looking so lonely and friendless that he halted and asked: "Anybody dead in the house?" "Next thing to it," sighed the man, as he scratched his knee through a hole in his trowsers; "the old woman's got an idea that she wants twenty-one yards in a calico dress!"

—Every man is liable to fail in business, but the amount of liabilities is important to the creditor.

The Welfare of the Human System

Is in a great measure dependent upon the way in which the bowels perform their evacuative function. If they are regular—and they can always be rendered so by the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters—an important essential of health is secured, and that blessing is very apt to follow. If they are irregular, chronic constipation and indigestion supervene, the liver becomes disordered, and the bile, being diverted from its natural channel and purposes, enters and contaminates the blood, producing that yellowish cast of the skin and whites of the eyes which is such a sure index of billiousness. All these disastrous consequences, as well as others of a far more serious nature, are remedied and prevented by Hostetter's Bitters, the leading American specific for disorders of the bowels, stomach and liver.

Important to persons visiting New York or the Centennial. The Grand Union Hotel, New York, opposite the Grand Central Depot, has over 350 elegantly furnished rooms. Elevator, steam and all improvements. European plan. Carriage hire is saved, as baggage is taken to and from the depot free. Guests can live better for less money at the Grand Union than at any other first-class hotel. Imparting Information.

Hon. Frank Allen, of Albany, N. Y., who has just returned from the Centennial Exhibition, relates the following:

Mack always likes to impart information, and often scrapes an acquaintance with strangers. He accosted a gentleman who was standing near the Main Building, apparently waiting for somebody:

Mack—"Fine day, sir."

This being a plausible statement, the stranger nodded.

Mack—"This is, I guess, the finest exhibition the world has ever seen."

Stranger—"So I understand, sir."

Mack—"You would be surprised to learn the immense sum that has been expended on these grounds and buildings."

Stranger—"No doubt."

Mack—"Yes, sir; that Main Building itself cost"—

Just then another gentleman approached Mack's stranger, saying, "Ah! General Hawley, could I see you for a moment?"

"Certainly," replied the General, and turning to Mack as he walked away, he said, "I may see you again and get the exact figures."

"Thunder and lightning!" whispered Mack hoarsely, as he leaned against me for support, "that's the high munky-munck that runs the Exposition.—San Antonio Herald.

—A little girl, four years old, created a ripple by remarking to the teacher of her Sunday school class, "Our dog's dead. I bet the angels was scared when they saw him coming up the wak. He is cross to strangers."

—To be successful in Nantucket a candidate must wear a blue flannel shirt and have an India ink anchor on his arm.

ESTABLISHED IN 1835.

IN THE
UNITED STATES.

No. 9 Beaver Street, - - - Albany, N. Y

SURE CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Dr. YOUNG,
SUCCESSOR TO
Dr. TELLER,
DECEASED.

The above named private Hospital was established in Albany in 1835 by Dr. Lispenard and for a number of years its affairs were presided over by that gentleman, but for the past 20 years, Dr. Teller, who is now deceased, transacted the business of the Institution.

Owing to the great demand for more spacious apartments on account of the large increase of business, the Hospital has been removed to No. 9 Beaver Street, two doors above its old location, where patients will find magnificently furnished rooms for their reception, and are so arranged that patients do not come in contact with one another, seeing only the doctor, thereby avoiding the unpleasantness of meeting others, which always occurred at the old office.

LADIES will find rooms provided for their especial accommodation and entirely private.

YOUNG MEN, addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their health and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasures of married life and also those afflicted with private diseases of any nature, are advised that in consulting Dr. Young they will find a physician fully qualified to cure and restore them to full health and manly vigor.

Dr. Teller's great work for the married, or those contemplating marriage—166 pages—full of plates,—price 25 cents. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail post paid.

TO THE LADIES—DR. YOUNG still retains the only agency in America for the sale of Dr. Vichot's Italian Female Monthly Pills. Sent by mail on receipt of $1.00, price per box.

DR. YOUNG is the only agent for Dr. La Motte's celebrated Galvanic Belts.

Invalids out of the city can be cured by consulting the Doctor by letter, and enclosing remittance. Medicines sent by mail or express, securely packed from observation. All letters must be addressed to

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 26, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall gain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done, I feel it my duty to inform you of the fact so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What indeed him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. At times, however, there seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for three days. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrell, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins County, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

MAGIC

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative as could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

BUTTER IN 20 MINUTES.

Lincoln Butter Powder is an entirely harmless article made from a celebrated English recipe, and now in daily use by many of the most noted farmers in the butter counties around Philadelphia.

In hot weather this Powder makes butter much firmer and sweeter than it usually is, and keeps it from turning rancid. It also removes the strong flavor of turnips, rutabaga, onions, weed, seed, etc.; and the increased yield of butter much more than pays the trifling expense of using it.

HOW!

Perhaps I am a little too hasty, a little too ready to light up at a minute's notice; but there are some words that seem to me to carry an especial grain of gunpowder in them, and the above is one of the sort. To have a person, after you've been through a long explanation, put his fingers to his mental ears and query you thus, or, worse still, "Haow?" is too exasperating for human nature to bear. But that is what John Stringer did to me, bending his head a little nearer, and speaking in an absent, aggravating manner that tantalized me beyond words.

You see John Stringer and I were engaged; we'd been engaged for a long time, and perhaps had got to be a little too matter o' course to each other.

We were sitting there over the fire, after the old folks had gone to bed, and I fell to telling him about Sophie Mill's wedding—her white silk dress, her bride-cake, and her bridesmaids frosted all over to match it, and I ended this way:

"But it don't make any difference, John, to people that love each other; all that's o' no more account than last year's snowdrift. They could be married in calico and homespun, with their feet on a rag carpet like this, and love each other just as well."

"How?" said John, absently. He was watching the coals flicker up and die out again, and picking up a stray chip now and then to fling on the embers—a fashion he had when he was thinking.

Now I had had the headache all day, and I guess I was rather more tindery than usual though I didn't think so then; but when John bent his great broad shoulders over, as if he hadn't heard a word I said, and, in fact, had something better to occupy his mind, I just fired up, first, and then the blaze died down into sulks, and when we parted that night John and I had our first and last quarrel.

My heart did not misgive me that night when I saw John's tall figure going out the door, it was the last time he'd lift the latch for many a year; but so it was.

You see, I held my head pretty high in those days, and I wouldn't show that I was a bit cut up about it, so I paired off with Mrs. Plumber's Jesse, a likely, spruce young fellow enough, but no more to be compared with John than a cockle-shell is to a brigantine.

Oh, well, mother sighed, and tried right hard to bring us together again, but it wasn't to be.

John was a powerful, muscular man, and I used to see him go up the road many a time when I was out in the shed milking, and, peeping out at him through the chinks, I thought his broad shoulders stooped more than ever, and his figure was growing more stalky-like. Such an awkward fellow as John was! I came near rushing out on him once, with my sun-bonnet, and with my sleeves rolled up, and flinging my arms around his neck, but my John liked to see folks tidy, and I never did it.

Jesse Plumber was the beau of the village—dapper, neat, and dainty as you please; and all the girls thought I had come to my senses when I ousted 'em of Jess. And by-and-by it was Jess that came sparkin' o' nights, and sat o' winter evenings over the embers, and he was so soft spoken and pleasant that even mother forgot her vexation. (She always set store by John, mother did.) Well, in the spring we were married, and I had a string of pearls and a real silk bridal dress, and felt kind o' lifted like when the girls crowded round me and hoped I'd be happy. I hoped so, too; I wasn't sure of it.

Remembering the days that came after, I can't recall one hard word I ever heard from Jess. We weren't near enough to each other to quarrel; we just laid apart like two odd volumes; there wasn't any fire 'twixt us, nor anything 'twixt us, either love or laughing, whereas John and I had always been bubbling over one way and another.

I worked hard, for my silk dress and neck-lace were all I had of riches; and I cut up my gown one day to make a cloak for the baby. You see, I couldn't give up my pride, and was just as high spirited as ever. But our farm didn't prosper, and Mrs. Plumber came to live with us, to look after things, she said; and she got to pitying him every now and then for marrying a poor wife, and—oh, well, what's the use o' talking?—sometimes I couldn't help wishing John Stringer's strong shoulders were at the wheel, when I was working myself to death morning and night for nothing!

Then when the baby grew bigger I took to teaching an A B C class as I used to before I was married; but what little I knew had run wild since then, and I couldn't keep the boys straight somehow; and the girls didn't care about samplers, for the sewing machine had ridden right over everything. Then Jesse fell ill of the fever, and with all the fuming and fretting and nursing of his mother, and with all my watching day and night, somehow he soon slipped off between us. And I found myself a widow with the ill fared, wasted farm on my hands, and Mother Plumber drizzling and maundering after Jesse in a way to break my heart.

But I kept my spirits up yet, and I advertised half the place for sale at the court house; for if I could sell it we should skin hrough somehow on an acre or two, I thought.

Well, who do you suppose came over one sunny afternoon as I was standing in the kitchen? Who, to be sure, but John Stringer, large as life—a little gray, maybap, and a little more angular, but keen and strong as ever. He'd a use for that bit o' land, it seemed, and had his eye on it along back. "Always was wanting what wasn't his," Mother Plumber said. She owed him a grudge for being more forehanded than Jesse. It took a deal of looking after, and lawyering, and surveying, and the Lord knows what to settle it; and I used to see John Stringer's stooping shoulders and broad felt hat down just beyond the rise of the meadow time and again. But he scarce ever came near the door, till one day,—I can't tell how it was—when the settlements were to be made, I just took baby up stairs and had a good cry; for that bit o' land had been Jesse's favorite piece, and Mother Plumber had been harrying me all day about it.

"The ways o' Providence are so strange!" said Mother Plumber, laying her specs down atop o' the Bible, and putting on that awfully patient air which was wearing me to skin and bone—"past finding out. Now if Jesse had married Sophie Mills that was, and you—"

But I did not wait to hear any more. As I say, I just caught up baby and went off to the garret. And while I sat by the cobwebbed window, Mrs. Barret—Sophie Mills that was—went riding by in their new spring wagon, she and her half dozen children round and rosy as a barrel of apples. Sophie nodded and smiled to some one coming up the road, and looking along I saw John Stringer walking, thoughtful-like, right up to our gate, just as he used to come in courting days—for John never had any foolish ways about him. I saw Sophie look back at him as she and the children, with their fluttering ribbons and gay ginghams, disappeared at the turn of the road. Then I smoothed my hair and washed my face and went down. The time of settlement had come, I knew.

"Mary Ann," said John gravely, "the lawyer will be here presently; but I reckon we can make it all clear in our own minds without his help. And I've settled it, in fact, that there are certain conditions on which I'll take the land—if you agree."

Then I flew into a passion, "You've been long enough making up your mind," says I. "I don't throw my land at anybody's feet, and I haven't asked any favors of you, leastways, John Stringer."

"Softly, there, softly!" says John, putting out his hand. "Don't be in a hurry, little woman."

"John Stringer," says I, all in a heat, "you're just the same man you was years ago, when you thought I was always firing up every time you got out o' temper yourself."

"And weren't you, little woman?" said John, quite gravely. "Don't women folks always like their own way better than anything else?"

"You don't know anything about women," I cried, "any more than you did then. You thought I wanted silks and furbelows more than—than—"

"Than you did me," said John; "and right enough you was, too, if you could ha' got 'em. I always said so, Mary Ann."

"Any man with half an eye would have known better," says I, hotly.

"How?" said John. His great bulking figure lifted itself up, and he looked at me with those sharp, brown eyes that used to give me a start in the old time. "How?" he repeated, softly. "Do you mean to say I was mistaken years ago?" His big, brown hand was all of a tremble as he held it out to me. "Little woman, little woman," says he, "let's ha' done with it all now, and it all be as it never was."

Presently Mother Plumber put her head in the door. "Pears to me that lawyer's making a long spell of it," says she. "Ben't you a' most tired o' waiting' for him, Mr. Stringer?"

"I guess we've settled it pretty much without the lawyer," says John, rising; "and that is the condition I had to propose, Mary Ann—to take you and the meadow land together?"

And he did.

Daily Chronicle.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 1876

A daring attempt was made to steal the body of the late President Lincoln, at Springfield, Ill., on the night of the 7th. The vault was opened and the burial case removed from its sarcophagus, when the ruffians were scared away by a shot from a revolver. There is a slight clue to their identity.

It Shoots Eggs.

A miner, with a revolver in each boot-leg, and a gallon of California whisky under his hat, was lounging in the streets of Deadwood City, in the Black Hills, when suddenly a stranger happened to brush against him. Out came the pistol from the right boot, and up went the right arm with a flourish. "Now, look yer, everybody in this yer gulch; look at me and crawl! I'm Wild Cat Tip from Bear Gulch. Git out here, a half dozen of yer, and form a line of battle, 'cause I can't hold onto this yer hammer much longer; so trot 'em out." Some one in the crowd fired a pistol in the air, and simultaneously, a rotten egg struck Tip between the eyes. "I'm murdered," he yelled, dropping his revolver and falling heavily to the ground. In a moment he came to himself, and, straightening up, remarked plaintively: "Boys, let me see the caliber of the gun what shoots eggs."

—"It is proof of the singular operation of the human mind," says a mental philosopher, "that when two men accidentally exchange hats, the man who gets the worst is always the first to discover the mistake."

The republicans claim a majority in both Houses of the new Congress.

The Republicans in New York claim to have advices that Florida has gone republican and Hayes' election secured. Lake City, dem. majority 452; Madison County, rep. 392; Nassau Co., repub. maj. 90; St. Johns Co., dem. maj. 200; Monroe Co., estimated dem. maj. 75. Baker Co., dem. maj. 98.

St. Louis. Sixty-five towns not including St. Louis,—Tilden 11,086, Hayes 6392. Vernon County, reported dem. maj. by 1200; and Livingston, dem. by 400.

Two democrats and one republican elected to Congress from Brooklyn.

A telegram from Charleston, South Carolina, says Hayes has undoubtedly carried the State. Wade Hampton, democratic candidate for Governor, is certainly defeated.

Illinois.

Returns from Illinois at 11.30 A. M. 426 towns not including Chicago Hayes 89,673. Tilden 69,274, Hayes net majority in 461 towns 21021. Dem. majority in Chicago. But Hayes has net maj. so far, 19021.

Wisconsin.

MILWAUKEE, NOON.

262 towns and wards give Hayes 1601 maj., though there is a net dem. gain of 776. Chairman rep. State Com. claims Wisconsin by 3000 to 4000. Also election of Caswell, repub. Congressman in second district.

Oregon.

NEW YORK, 3:30.

Oregon is sure for Hayes.

GOOD FOR HAYES!

The latest returns indicate that Hayes and Weeeler are elected by one majority, receiving 185 votes from 21 States. Tilden has 174 votes, with fuller returns necessary to determine the status of North Carolina.

By Atlantic & Pacific Line.

BOSTON, 6 P. M., 8th.

Result now depends upon Florida and Louisiana.

NEW YORK, 6:45 P. M., 8th.

Florida and Louisiana sure for Hayes & Wheeler, electing them by one majority.

TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA,
Nov. 8, evening.

Florida gives 1500 republican majority.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8, 8 P. M.

Democrats concede Louisiana to Hayes.

By Western Union Line.

SAN FRANCISCO, 8th, 7 P. M.

Private dispatches say Nevada is surely republican by a decided majority.

The next Congress is likely to be in republican hands. It is conceded that they have a majority in the Senate. The House will be close, 34 republican members having been gained in the recent elections.

Later returns give the republicans a decided victory in Florida. A bulletin has been posted at the Tribune office stating that Florida has surely gone republican.

A special dispatch from Philadelphia says the republican majority in Pennsylvania cannot be less than 25,000. Tilden's majority in Delaware is probably less than 2000.

The republican majority in South Carolina may reach twenty-five thousand. Five republican Congressmen are undoubtedly elected in that State. Louisiana gives at least 5000 republican majority; probably more.

Wisconsin is sure for Hayes. Kansas at least 20,000 for Hayes. The republican majority in Ohio exceeds 20,000.

The republican majority in New Hampshire is over 3000.

The republicans gain two Congressmen in California.

The democratic majority in New York is 35,000 to 40,000.

—"John!" exclaimed Mary, throwing her arms around her brother's neck, "what substitute can there be for the endearments of a sister?" "Well," said John, "you see, Sis, that depends on whose sister it is."

The Influence of Malaria Counteracted.

That the harmful influence upon the human system of malaria may be effectually counteracted has been demonstrated for years past by the protection afforded the inhabitants of vast miasma-breeding districts in North and South America, Guatemala, Mexico and the West Indies, by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Used as a preventive, they have invariably been found to be a most reliable safeguard against chills and fever, bilious remittents, and still more malignant types of malarious disease, and when employed as a remedy have always proved their adequacy to the task of eradicating such maladies from the system. For disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, which in hot climates and miasmatic localities are particularly rife, the Bitters are a prompt and thorough remedy. They also strengthen the system, tranquilize the nerves, promote digestion and sound sleep, and impart unwonted relish for food.

The Word "Sozodont."

Which is fast becoming a household word, is derived from the Greek, and composed of two words, "Soso" translated, means to preserve, and "Odonta" the teeth—"Sozodont," a preservative of the teeth. And it is true to its name. For beautifying and preserving the teeth, hardening and invigorating the gums, and correcting all impurities of the breath, it is without a peer in the world.

LITTLE GIANT!

This Trade Mark is a guarantee that the medicine is genuine. Without it the Pills are a fraud and a cheat—when it is represented by any dealer that they are selling the LITTLE GIANT PILLS, which have effected such wonderful cures in Portsmouth.

This medicine has been prepared with the greatest care of the choicest ingredients for the cure of Sick Headache and Bilious Disorders. Its success has been very surprising, as the many certificates of well-known citizens testify.

Parties in Portsmouth, well knowing this, are offering some other Pills, pretending that they are the same. GEO. E. HANSON, 41 Congress Street, is the Agent in Portsmouth who can produce the genuine Pills, put up in square boxes with the Trade Mark upon each box. Any one who has bought any other, supposing they have bought these, has been imposed upon, and had better go back and get his money and buy a reliable medicine of the authorized agent.

THE NEXT DAY.

Perhaps our readers may have noticed that the CHRONICLE was not illustrated on the morning of the 8th, as has been customary for some years on the mornings after the Presidential elections. The fact is we were so interested in the election returns that we neglected it, and we don't know yet as our interest in the election returns will ever abate sufficiently to enable us to attend to it. We should probably have thought more about crowing had it not appeared probable the democrats would attend to that duty,—which they did, faithfully, in this city, on Wednesday.

Wednesday morning the democrats were fairly delirious with excitement and delight. An extra edition of six hundred CHRONICLES was quickly exhausted and the morning papers from Boston had a large sale. The streets were thronged with singing, cheering "reformers;" a huge pictured rooster was put out at the Times office early in the forenoon, and soon after a carved and gilded eagle; then a genuine "crower" appeared on a perch at the headquarters of the "die-hard" Tilden Club, followed by others until a dozen or so were displayed, crowing a cheerful defiance to each other; and three "live" fellows were also exhibited outside the Times office windows. It was the very best crowing ever done in this city, and was a capital thing,—no matter who the next President may be.

At half-past twelve o'clock the following despatch was received and posted on the CHRONICLE bulletin board, which immediately became a grand centre of attraction:

NEW YORK TIMES OFFICE,
Noon, Wednesday.

Conceding New York to Tilden he will have the following: Alabama 10, Arkansas 6, Connecticut 6, Delaware 3, Georgia 11, Indiana 15, Kentucky 12, Maryland 8, Mississippi 8, Missouri 15, New Jersey 9, New York 35, North Carolina 10, Tennessee 12, Texas 8, Virginia 11, West Virginia 5: total 184.

Hayes will have California 6, Colorado 3, Illinois 21, Iowa 11, Kansas 5, Louisiana 8, Maine 7, Massachusetts 13, Michigan 11, Minnesota 5, Nebraska 3, Nevada 3, New Hampshire 5, Ohio 22, Oregon 3, Pennsylvania 29, Rhode Island 4, South Carolina 7, Vermont 5, Wisconsin 10: total 181.

This leaves Florida in doubt, and republicans claim that State, which will give them a majority.

As might naturally have been supposed, this despatch was read by the democrats with less pleasure than the morning's reports had given them, while the republicans thought it much the best. Other telegrams continued to arrive, giving nothing positive, but all indicating that States which had been conceded to Tilden would have to be transferred to the Hayes column, and that the election would turn out to be very close, even if it did not flop over entirely from the morning's report. The excitement increased and showed no sign of being diminished. The newspaper offices were besieged by anxious crowds, eager for news. A dispatch which was being read by hundreds at the CHRONICLE bulletin, in the afternoon, announcing that Hayes would have 185 votes, just enough to elect him, was immediately covered with mud by the enthusiastic Tilden "reformers."

An extra edition of two hundred papers issued from this office at about four o'clock was quickly exhausted, and more would have been taken had they been printed. A little later Ex-Sheriff Rowe promulgated a despatch setting forth that Tilden had secured States enough to give him 220 votes in the Electoral College, and the spirits of the unterrified (who nevertheless had been terribly exercised in their minds,) jumped up again—but not quite to the height they had attained in the morning.

The Times came out with the grandfather of all roosters and a brood of little ones, with pictures of Tilden and Hendricks and a list of the States that voted for them, with the majorities given, a list "subject to revision," we hope, and majorities that will in many cases be largely reduced in circumstances by later reports. But this, like the crowing of the forenoon was well done and made a good show.

With all the uproar, confusion and excitement of the day, and though many on the streets were very "happy," we saw not much of what is erroneously called "beastly" drunkenness; and political enthusiasm led to no fights of any magnitude, so far as we have heard, the only instance reported to us having been a little "scrapping match" between two democrats on Water street.

ATTENTION, "REFORMERS!"

All Tilden "Reformers" desirous of securing employment at the navy yard are requested to register immediately at the democratic headquarters. First come—first served.

The many friends of B. P. Shillaber, Esq., will regret to learn that he is lying dangerously ill at his residence in Chelsea, Mass. He has inflammatory rheumatism badly, and erysipelas has set in, severely affecting his head. His condition at the present time is considered critical.

Decent democrats apologized for the mud-throwing "reformer" who embellished the CHRONICLE bulletin board on Wednesday afternoon with some of his principles.

War Trappings of an Indian Chief.

The Smithsonian Institute received a few days ago a valuable and interesting addition to its museum in the shape of a complete and very fine outfit of the war trappings of an Indian chief. The contribution comes from west of the Rocky Mountains, but no letter of transmission or description has been as yet received. The suit consists of a very fine headdress of red flannel, trimmed and decorated with beadwork and eagle's feathers. The long train which descends from the head and over the shoulders is also fringed with eagle's feathers. There is an undershirt which is worn next the skin. It is of red flannel also, with a black and white border, and is sewn over with elk teeth. The suit includes a pair of war leggings of red cloth, highly decorated with thick beadwork in alternate squares of dark blue and light blue beads, and with fringes of buckskin down the sides. The war-skirt, worn outside, is of buckskin, ornamented with beads and human hair, and is painted on the breast and shoulder. In addition to these articles there is a complete flowing shabraque which is worn over the shoulders with the ends falling on each side of the wearer. It is worn only when the chief is mounted, as a chief is not fond of carrying much weighty apparel or accoutrement, and is of flannel, faced with otter skin. To this is attached the bow-case and quiver-case, which are both heavily ornamented with beadwork in various colors. There came with the suit a pair of squaw's leggings of red flannel, very thickly and tastefully sewn with beadwork. These articles could not have cost less than some two hundred dollars in the aggregate, and the thick ornamental beadwork is very costly.

PILOT BREAD.

This kind of bread having come into extensive family use, it has been my purpose to furnish, from choice materials, an article which should meet the approval of the most fastidious as to neatness, looks and taste. Whether I have succeeded in giving to the public a PILOT BREAD, the consumer may be the judge; that the quality will not be suffered to depreciate, the past with the present is my best pledge. TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful solicitors with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Sparing the Rod.

A young Danbury boy proposed to his father that he go fishing, but his father had other business for him that day.

"Father," said the young man, "do you know what Solomon said about boys going fishing?"

"Solomon didn't say anything about it," replied the parent.

"Yes, he did. He said if you spare the rod you spoil the child.

"I won't spare it," said the old gentleman promptly.

And he didn't, but the son thinks he got hold of the wrong rod.

—Boston Sat. Eve. Gazette.

—It has been customary on the railroad, says the Virginia City (Nev.) Chronicle, to allow Indians to ride free providing they sat on the platform. Recently, after the arrival of the train, an Indian entered a shed with a large bundle. His manner excited suspicion, and a man was detailed to watch him. The fellow, on getting inside the shed, stripped off his leggings, moccasins and other aboriginal paraphernalia, and put on the garb of civilization, if not of gentility. He then took out a bottle of water, wet a handkerchief and washed the paint off his face, and lo! he was no longer an Indian, but a white man, who had been stealing a free ride from Reno.

SURE CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Dr. YOUNG,
SUCCESSOR TO
Dr. TELLER,
DECEASED.

The above named private Hospital was established in Albany in 1835 by Dr. Liepenard and for a number of years its affairs were presided over by that gentleman, but for the past 30 years, Dr. Teller, who is now deceased, transacted the business of the Institution.

Owing to the great demand for more spacious apartments on account of the large increase of business, the Hospital has been removed to No. 9 Beaver Street, two doors above its old location, where patients will find magnificently furnished rooms for their reception, and are so arranged that patients do not come in contact with one another, seeing only the doctor, thereby avoiding the unpleasantness of meeting others, which always occurred at the old office.

LADIES will find rooms provided for their especial accommodation and entirely private.

YOUNG MEN, addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their health and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasures of married life and also those afflicted with private diseases of any nature, are advised that in consulting Dr. Young they will find a physician fully qualified to cure and restore them to full health and manly vigor.

Dr. Teller's great work for the married, or those contemplating marriage—100 pages—full of plates,—price 25 cents. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail post paid.

TO THE LADIES—DR. YOUNG still retains the only agency in America for the sale of Dr. Vielot's Italian Female Monthly Pills. Sent by mail on receipt of $1.00, price per box.

DR. YOUNG is the only agent for Dr. La Motte's celebrated Galvanic Belts.

Invalids out of the city can be cured by consulting he Doctor by letter, and enclosing remittance. Medicines sent by mail or express, securely packed from observation. All letters must be addressed to

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 1, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength every day, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you my testimonial. My wife and son have been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried every thing that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I care not. Remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only partly relieve. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room during all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do pills. One told me I could never get well; they advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The relief I have here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrell, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative so could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before a was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is antiseptic and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lungs trying climate of New England,

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocanon by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,
Croup,
Diphtheria,
Asthma, etc.,

USE —

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

Lincoln Butter Powder is an entirely harmless article made from a celebrated English recipe, and now in daily use by many of the most noted farmers in the butter counties across the Atlantic.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

Our School Girl.

She flirts about the streets, by all odds the most picturesque object to be seen in them. Her cheeks are tanned by the country air, her eyes bright, and step and gesture the freer for long practice out of doors. She chatters as she goes with her bosom friend, is not above a bit of hearty fun, and lingers longingly at every pie and candy-shop window. Beside her sister, the thorough-paced belle in the coupe yonder, she is a thorny bud just plucked compared to the same rose mounted on a wire and doing duty in a gilded bouquet-holder. Critical eyes detect, however, that the bud has begun already to wilt and to give signs of over-heating in ball-room air. The boy, her brother, tramps on through the crowd, regardless of observers; but if a man's eye falls on our school girl, she grows instantly self-conscious from tossing head to mincing feet.

Her dress, now that we look closely, is a strict copy of her sister's—frills, hampering skirt, high torturing heels and all. Her talk with this twin friend, could we hear it, is a series of confidences about some new lover with whom she waltzed last night, or anxious discussion of the fall style of hats, or the social standing of the new girls at school. Incipient passion, fashion, the vulgar twaddle of the most vulgar of all rulers, Society, are the ideas which fill the brain behind that pretty show of pink and white innocence.

We might content ourselves with the sight of the pretty pink and white, careless that it hid all manner of stale and useless foolishness, were it not that these girls are the wives and mothers of the fast coming years. That she is at fourteen a sad little flirt, careless of everything beyond beaus, and the knowledge of all that a girl in her station ought to know, is not of much importance; but that at forty-five the mother of growing boys and girls should be destitute of common sense, delicacy and religion, matters much to her own household and to the country.

The girl's mother, no doubt, means to make of her daughter a good and useful woman. She is not of that extreme class who choose a school because of the fashionable acquaintances her child will make there. She is particular in finding good teachers, in urging the girl to study, in leading her whole family to church and Sunday-school. Meanwhile she is on nettles hourly lest her own dress and her daughter's should not be "in the style." If she has not much money the two spend days at the machine, frilling and decorating dresses for the street. At the table or about the fire, it is not the great subjects of public interest which she discusses with zest, but her neighbors's new polonaise, or the expediency of visiting the Smith's, "whom nobody knows." She makes each child on Sunday drop money in the poor box, and teaches them how "blessed are the poor in spirit," while through the whole week her every word and action is based upon views of life mean and meagre and false. The world into which she leads her children outside of the church doors is made up of carking cares for money and a tawdry anxiety for appearances; its God is, in reality, not the lowly Divine Master, but, "Society," the poor little clique which she has chosen for a ruler.

How are we going to help this matter? How do we propose that our school-girls be rescued from the vulgarizing, enfeebling influence, the universal love of show and sham which has well-nigh wrecked the whole country in the last five years. The only hope is in their mothers. A sudden shock in her jog-trot life, a death perhaps, will usually rouse a woman to a true consciousness of the meaning of life, and to the paltriness of her aims. Something less might do it. If any well-meaning but foolish mother will read a chapter each day in the old-fashioned Book on her dressing-table, heartily striving to comprehend it, she will rise to higher levels of thought and action. The cure is an old one—almost out of date—but a certain one. There is also a different class of mothers, who no doubt read such strictures as these with complacency, the reformers, whose daughters are in training to take a certain place in the world as its workers and helpers. Such vanities as dress, love-making, etc., are bidden to take the lowest room in their lives' work, or some especial hobby of reform is made its informing motive. The mistake made by these good women is, we think, that their daughters are placed in advance, in a belligerent attitude toward the world, especially the other sex. It is an unnatural attitude, and one which costs a woman, sooner or later, loss of dignity and power. In short, as what our daughters shall be depends upon their mothers, a mother has no more right to weaken her child's future life in order to gratify her own whims than her own vanity.—N. Y. Tribune.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 1876

JUST ONE!

NOT FOR SAM!

HAYES ELECTED!

And the Colored Troops Fought Nobly!

Since noon of Wednesday, republican hopes have been steadily yet surely rising, and the returns received to date indicate that Gen. RUTHERFORD B. HAYES has secured a majority of the electoral votes and is to be the next President of the United States. The democratic national committee seems to have arrived at the conclusion that Gen. HAYES has a better prospect of receiving the vote of Florida than Mr. Tilden, and the charges of fraud emanating from the Tilden headquarters in New York go to show the desperation of the democratic cause and the grand downfall of all the fond anticipations they have nursed of late. Florida, South Carolina and Louisiana are undoubtedly republican, and the latest returns from North Carolina largely reduce the estimated democratic majorities and give the republicans good reason to hope that the electoral vote of the State will be given to HAYES and WHEELER. Should this expectation prove true, Mr. Tilden will receive but 174 electoral votes to 195 for Gen. HAYES.

Several dispatches went over the Direct U. S. Cable Co's line on Thursday to Europe announcing the election of HAYES & WHEELER.

Collector Howard received a dispatch on Thursday evening from Collector Simmons, of Boston, announcing that the election of Hayes and Wheeler was conceded and that the New York bankers had telegraphed the fact to Europe.

A Washington dispatch to the Traveller, Thursday evening, says returns from the interior counties of North Carolina report large republican gains. The democrats are very despondent, and the republicans still claim Hayes' election. The Traveller's New York dispatch says North Carolina is still in doubt, although claimed by Tilden. Senator Mitchell telegraphs Oregon is sure for Hayes. The republicans claim the result is no longer in doubt. The National Republican Committee Rooms are packed with enthusiastic politicians, congratulating themselves on the favorable news.

The vote of Massachusetts is all in, with the exception of one or two unimportant towns, and is the largest ever thrown, being about 255,000. The vote four years ago was 192,732, and eight years ago 195,787. Governor Rice's plurality is about 27,500; majority over all 15,000. Hayes' majority, 36,852.

A New York dispatch says a telegram from Gov. Stearns of Florida to his brother in Brooklyn says the republicans have certainly carried the State.

A dispatch from Charleston says Hayes and Chamberlain have carried South Carolina.

A Washington dispatch says Zach. Chandler has just sent a telegram saying that Hayes is without doubt elected President.

Tilden's majority in New York is 30,500. The republicans have 15 majority in the Assembly and 6 in the Senate. The Congressional delegation will stand 19 republicans and 15 democrats, a republican gain of four.

The republicans gain four Congressmen in Illinois.

The indications are that the republicans and democrats have each elected 145 members of Congress.

Sheriff Jones, of Jacksonville, telegraphs that Florida is undoubtedly republican. The chairmen of the republican State committee of Florida claims the State by two thousand. Senator Jones of Nevada says that State elects the republican ticket. Attorney Gen. Elliott and Gov. Kellogg claim 10,000 rep. maj. in Louisiana. Betting in pool-rooms on Hayes is $100 to $80, and $50 to $38; at the Brokers' Board betting was $125 to $100 on Hayes beating Tilden.

The estimates of the New York Herald, Tribune and Times give all the doubtful States to Hayes.

The New York Tribune says all things now indicate victory, but a victory that has its perils; it will depend on the life of a single Hayes electoral vote. The men who did not scruple at massacre may not hesitate at assassination.

By Atlantic & Pacific Line.

NEW YORK, 9. P. M., 9th.

At present writing everything indicates a republican victory, notwithstanding a few democratic dispatches to private parties claiming Wisconsin, Louisiana, South Carolina and Florida. Advices from New York headquarters give it as certain that Florida has gone in their favor, and placing Hayes high and dry above all doubts. The bulletins of independent journals in Boston and New York to-night concede a republican victory. Collector Simmons and Zach. Chandler both say that there is no doubt of Hayes' election, and the dispatches received here up to present time give Hayes one majority in the Electoral College.

News and Notes.

At the close of a democratic procession in Dedham, Mass, the night before election, some of the members went into a drinking place and got into a row with a German named Hohn. Soon after, one of the parties, named Perchard, met Hohn near the latter's house, but seeing he had a gun in his hands turned and ran away, receiving a charge of shot in his back as he ran; his wounds were painful but not dangerous. Wm. Fleming, who saw the shooting but was not concerned in the affair in any way, was then shot dead by Hohn, who had a double-barrelled gun. The murderer is held for trial.

Russia, France and Austria accept the English proposals for a conference concerning affairs in Turkey.

Late reports from Newfoundland say there have been as many as thirty shipwrecks on that coast since the 1st of October. Several lives were lost. A late case was that of the schooner Minnie Ornon of Halifax, which left Bay of Islands on the 15th of October for Picton. She has been fallen in with dismantled and sinking. The crew and three or four passengers are supposed to have been lost.

Closely following each other in a democratic torchlight procession in New York were two transparencies, one marked "Civil Service Reform," the other, "One more blow and the Navy Yard is ours."

The schooner Blue Wave, of Marblehead, from Grand Banks, partly fish laden, struck on Black Rock Shoals, Mainadieu, on Friday night last, and became a total wreck. The materials and part of cargo were saved. No lives lost.

The Mexican rebels are very generally throwing down their arms, their resources being about exhausted. General Diaz and his followers are compelled to keep in the mountains. The House of Deputies having constituted itself an electoral college and declared the reelection of Lerdo de Tejada as President, Justice Iglesias recently asked the Supreme Court to declare that there had been no legal election, and dissolve as a Constitutional body, but his proposition was voted down. Iglesias has since obtained leave of absence for one month. He is broken down forever as a public man, and the Decembristas are crushed out. Lerdo de Tejada has weathered a tremendous storm, and shown himself a man of great ability. He has the support of all the governors except at Oaxaca.

Backergunge district in India was ravaged by a cyclone on the 2d inst. A thousand native houses were destroyed. The town of Dowlutkhan was submerged by a wave, and 5000 persons drowned.

—An old man in Baltimore who has been a great favorite with children, gave three little girls some small cakes which he carried in his pocket. After eating the cakes the girls were taken very ill, and one of them died before a physician arrived. The lives of the others were saved by the prompt use of emetics. On going to the old man's room he was found dead in his bed. An examination of his pocket showed that he had carried matches with the cakes and the phosphorus had poisoned them.

—On the first train from Danvers on the Eastern Railroad, one morning recently, was an elderly gentleman, who seemed to be trying to think of something he had forgotten, when all of a sudden he rose up and appealed frantically to the conductor to stop the train; "for," said he, "I declare I have left my wife in the depot." Amid the shouts of the other passengers the train was stopped and detained while the wife was hurried from the depot to the train, and "one more family was made happy."—Peabody Press.

—No moral culture is complete that does not include the determination which gives strength to character. A prize was once offered in a college for the best answer to the question, "What is the secret of success?" The student who bore off the palm merely wrote one word, "Determination." This was the thing in a nut-shell. The lack of determination will surely lead to failures as determination will insure success. In educating children, parents should see that they are not forming the habit of beginning things and laying them aside before completed. Set them an example of courage and determination to begin a work and go through it resolutely. Measure their capacity and induce them to work it up. Spare no time and pains to teach them to have confidence in their power.

—Walter Bagehot says of Adam Smith, the great political economist, that this founder of the science of business was one of the most unbusinesslike of mankind. He was an awkward Scotch professor, apparently choked with books and absorbed in abstractions. He was never engaged in any sort of trade, and would probably never have made sixpence by any if he had been. His absence of mind was amazing. On one occasion, having to sign his name to an official document, he produced not his own signature, but an elaborate imitation of the signature of the person who signed before him; on another, a sentinel on duty having saluted him in military fashion, he astonished and offended the man by acknowledging it with a copy—a very clumsy copy no doubt—of the same gestures.

—At the dedication of the Girl's Normal School on Monday evening, Judge Peirce told how once the wife of a man who had been convicted of larceny as bailee, and to eighteen months' imprisonment, had, by her eloquence in a private interview, induced him to make the term only four months and a half. The Judge was so impressed with her ladylike bearing and the force of her appeal that he asked her where she had been educated. She replied, "In the Girl's High School." "Thus," said Judge Peirce, "you see the grand results of education." A ripple which swelled to a roar of merriment swept over the audience. "I understand," said the Judge, in some confusion, "that the laugh is that young women should be educated that they may be able to get their husbands out of jail."—Philadelphia Times.

—Wabash College forbids gambling among the students, and the boys want to know how they can ever be appointed Minister to England without a knowledge of poker.

—A gentleman in Virginia City, Nev., whose Chinese cook left him, was unable to retain any of numerous "Johns" for over a day, until he induced one of them to explain that some apparently meaningless strips of red paper on the kitchen wall contained the Chinese inscription: "Boss woman, long time tongue. Muchee jaw, jaw."

—An Omaha girl recently married a man whose features were nearly obscured by a heavy growth of whiskers. "Now," said she, at the conclusion of the marriage ceremony, "my first anxiety is to get that hair off your face, so that I can see what you look like. I've married a pig in a poke, so far as your features are concerned." The barber had a call that day.

The Influence of Malaria Counteracted.

That the harmful influence upon the human system of malaria may be effectually counteracted has been demonstrated for years past by the protection afforded the inhabitants of vast miasma-breeding districts in North and South America, Guatemala, Mexico and the West Indies, by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Used as a preventive, they have invariably been found to be a most reliable safeguard against chills and fever, bilious remittents, and still more malignant types of malarious disease, and when employed as a remedy have always proved their adequacy to the task of eradicating such maladies from the system. For disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, which in hot climates and miasmatic localities are particularly rife, the Bitters are a prompt and thorough remedy. They also strengthen the system, tranquilize the nerves, promote digestion and sound sleep, and impart unwonted relish for food.

The Word "Sozodont."

Which is fast becoming a household word, is derived from the Greek, and composed of two words, "Sozo" translated, means to preserve, and "Odontes" the teeth—"Sozodont," a preservcr of the teeth. And it is true to its name. For beautifying and preserving the teeth, hardening and invigorating the gums, and correcting all impurities of the breath, it is without a peer in the world.

SUPREME COURT.

Thursday, November 9th.

At 9 o'clock A. M. the case State vs. Sharp and Haines, arson at Salem, was resumed. County Solicitor Small on the part of the State made an opening address, in which he said it would appear that the Salem Hotel, (the property alleged to have been burned by the defendants,) situated in Salem, N.H., owned by D. W. Johnson, was an old building, very much out of repair, value estimated at $1600, and insured for $3000. That it was destroyed by fire on the 4th of September, 1876; that three days before the fire the defendants went to Salem for the pretended purpose of repairing the hotel, secured board in the vicinity and made arrangments to lodge in a front room of the hotel; that they took with them to Salem very few tools and no lumber; that on the day before the house was destroyed, fire was discovered there under very suspicious circumstances, and was extinguished; that on the night of the fire two men, supposed to be the defts., were seen to enter at the front door of the hotel about 10 o'clock, and that just before 11 P. M., fire was discovered breaking out in the back part of the house by one of the neighbors, who gave the alarm; that Sharp and Haines came out soon after; neither said anything about the fire; one of them had his bundle and the other his carpet bag; that all the windows in the lower story were found to be nailed down, and the doors secured, and that nobody had access to the house except these two men. These and other facts will appear in course of the trial. A number of witnesses were examined for the prosecution to-day and seemed fully to substantiate the allegations. Others will be examined to-morrow.

POLICE COURT.

Thursday, November 9th.

Thomas Philbrock, for assault and battery on James Kehoe, was sent to Brentwood for thirty days and ordered to pay costs, $8.04.

JOTTINGS.

Concerning Mr. Wm. H. Barnes, who is to appear at the Temple on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of next week, the Nashua Telegraph says: "He fully met the 'great appreciations' of the immense audience, and gave an entertainment that has not been excelled in Nashua." The Germantown (Penn.) Guide says "for the funniest of fun Mr. Barnes cannot be beaten."

Maffit and Bartholomew will appear in "Sinbad the Sailor" at the entertainment to be given at the Temple on Monday evening by the Howard Atheneum Company.

Mr. McIver of the Seaman's Home has left that establishment, the term of service for which he was engaged having expired. He has started a restaurant on Daniel street, which he will manage in connection with his Bakery. Good food, well cooked, will be served at all hours at very low prices. Balls and parties will also be supplied at liberal rates. He intends to have beans and brown bread, and bread and pastry, baked twice a day, and will deliver to houses if desired, free of charge for delivery.

We took a short trip up Salt River last Tuesday night, and returning for a brief parting glimpse of old friends found to our exceeding pleasure a motley and numerous company of democrats who went whizzing up the old Salt. We have concluded not to follow them.

Mr. Wm. A. Loyne on Thursday received from two misses who do not desire to be known, $28.35, the proceeds of a Fair held by them on the 8th inst. The money is to be appropriated for a parlor time-piece and a carpet for the front stairs, at Faith Home. Mr. Loyne also received (anonymously) $40 for general use, on the 27th ult.

A lady residing on Jefferson street was not a little astonished on Wednesday, on passing the headquarters of the "die-hard" Tilden club, to recognize one of the roosters ornamenting the windows as her property, she not having loaned the bird; and as the lady's political sympathies are strongly republican, she was naturally not a little indignant that the "reformers" should thus usufruct her poultry yard. She should feel mighty thankful that the fowl was returned, instead of being made into pot-pie by some reformer.

PILOT BREAD.

This kind of bread having come into extensive family use, it has been my purpose to furnish, from choice materials, an article which should meet the approval of the most fastidious as to neatness, looks and taste. Whether I have succeeded in styling to the public a PILOT BREAD,

SUPERIOR IN EXCELLENCE,

the consumer may be the judge; that the quality will not be suffered to depreciate, the past with the present is my best pledge. That I can compete with all the various qualities of Pilot Bread in the market, as to price, I make no pretensions,—but in price, all things being equal, I fear no competition.

All necessity for a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases and at very reasonable charges. Daily Chronicle.

The Theory of True Greatness.

Aaron Burr was a keener thinker than was George Washington. He was a far more ingenious man, a more active man, and if he had been a moral man, and maintained normal relations with himself, with his fellow-men and with the laws of rectitude, he would have been an abler man. Washington was a man of good sense, but he was not a man of genius in any direction except that of conscience. He was a man of singular equity, great interestedness, and of pure and upright intent. Sagacious he was, by a light which comes from integrity. He endured, having faith to believe that right was right, and that he was safe, and that right in the end would prevail. That which made Washington the great hero of our revolutionary struggle was the light of the moral element that was in him—not any intellectual genius which he possessed; not any rare tact in administration or any remarkable executive power. And if you look back upon those names in our history that have best stood the test, you will find that they have been men who were faithful in the highest moral elements. And as time goes on those men who lack these elements fall lower and lower, till they set below the horizon; and those who possess them rise higher and higher till they reach their meridian, with undying splendor to shine upon history and the world.

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 2, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 23d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk as every day of my life I am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Send me by return mail another package.
JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving you my name, so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been an free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, 75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I need I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrell, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will have a ready sale wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.
MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative it could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, greatly stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is Mild and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England.

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent its spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

"Is a Paint Mule a Hoss?"

Nothing is more remarkable, says the San Antonio Herald than the facility with which the colored population become acquainted with the forms of law, and the practical management of a case in court. There was a striking illustration of this fact in the Recorder's court, recently.

The prisoner was accused of riding across one of the bridges in a gait faster than a walk, and the proof was that he galloped a paint mule over Houston street bridge. He managed his own case.

His honor said: "I think I'll have to fine you, Johnsing."

"May I ax yer a question?"

"You may."

"Isn't thar a sign over dat bridge, warning people how they must ride?"

"There is, and that makes you all the more guilty."

"It does, does it?" Now Mr. Recorder, is dat what I has to go by? Is dat de law?"

"It is."

"Well, den, dat sign reads: 'Walk your horse or you'll be fined.' Don't it—don't it boss?"

"It does, Johnsing."

"Well, the proof is, I was gallopin' a paint mule, wasn't it, boss?"

"Y-e-s, I believe so," replied his honor, beginning to smell a rat.

"Now, if your honor is willing to admit dat a paint mule ain't no hoss, I'll rest de case heah, because you see de law is I shall walk my hoss, and as it was a paint mule, dat is fatal to de indictment. You is a lawyer, and you ought to know dem pints most as well as myself."

Recorder—"Ahem! for the purpose of this suit, Johnsing, I'll regard that paint mule is a boss."

Prisoner—"Your honor will please note my 'ception. I jess wants to make one more pint. Allowin', for the sake of argument, dat a paint mule is a hoss, de sign reads:—'Walk your hoss.' Now I has de witness here in court to prove dat paint mule hoss was not my hoss at all. De law says walk your hoss."

Recorder—"I'll fine you ten dollars, Johnsing."

And as Johnsing was conducted to the lockup he expressed great sympathy for the tax-payers, as he intended to bring a suit for $100,000 damages for false imprisonment.

He is now, however, at work on the streets.

The Unfortunate Somnambulist.

Tommy Harrison walks in his sleep. He is ashamed of it, but he can't help it. He was born so. Last week Tommy changed boarding places, securing a nice set of rooms at the Oliver House. Thinking that perhaps as the bed, room and furniture were all new and strange to him, he might indulge in the propensity for nocturnal perambulations, he called to his room just before retiring the colored porter, who plays with the seven-story trunks, and bounces impecunious board-bill forgetters. To this individual, who stands just seven feet in his stockings, he explained the whole matter, and handing him a dollar bill, said, "Now, Charley, you just keep an eye on my room during the night, and in case you hear me moving about inside, come in, and shake me a little. I'll awake and then everything will be all right." The darkey said he understood, and departed. Tommy undressed, turned out the gas, threw open his window and jumped into bed and was soon sound asleep. Patiently the darkey waited in the hall outside the door No 10. But not a sound was heard. About 12:30 o'clock the air blowing in through that open window in Tommy's room became so uncomfortable that Tommy awoke shivering like a frozen chipmunk. Seeing the cause of the difficulty, he sprang out of bed to close the window, and in doing so tumbled over a chair.

That was just what Mr. Darkey had been waiting for. With one bound he was in the room, and seeing a form outlined against the window, he made a grab for it and caught it with a grip of iron. Tommy yelled with pain, and told Charley he was awake, that it was all right, he wasn't walking in his sleep. But Charley wouldn't have it in that way. He tripped up the unfortunate somnambulist and threw him on the floor with a thump that rattled every bone in his body. Then he sat down on him and began shaking him, by thumping his head up and down on the floor. In vain Tommy insisted that he was not asleep, and had not been that night—the darkey kept right on. Every time Tom made an attempt to get up, the darkey put his knee on his chest and pinned him to the floor, all the time keeping up his shaking process. At length, all tired out, Tommy remained perfectly still, and the porter, supposing by this time that he quietly slumbered after his attack of jim jams, placed him on the bed and retired. The next morning that colored porter came to Tommy and asked him for another dollar on account of the trouble he had had in getting him out of his fit.—Toledo Blade.

—"What's this crowd around here for?" demanded a policeman, as he came upon a dozen boys grouped near the gate of a house. "Keep still," replied one of the lads; "there comes old John tight as a brick, and we're waiting to see his wife pop him with the rolling-pin as he opens the front door."

Daily Chronicle.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 11, 1876

The State Vote.

Returns from all towns in the State, except thirteen, give Hayes 40,965, Tilden 37,765, scattering 69; Republican majority 3,131.

Same towns last March gave Cheney, republican, 41,369, Marcy, democrat, 37,579, scattering 405. Showing a democratic net gain of 254.

Towns yet to be heard from gave in March last, Cheney 393, Marcy 554.

The aggregate vote will probably be a trifle less than 80,000, and the republican majority about 3000.

The National Election.

The republicans certainly gain six, and probably seven Congressmen in Illinois.

A despatch was received in Boston from Hon. Lot M. Morrill, Secretary of the Treasury, on Friday, saying: "Advices deemed reliable give us Wisconsin, South Carolina, Florida and Louisiana."

The New York Times of Friday had on its bulletin board: "Hayes' majority in South Carolina 8500. Republicans carry Louisiana by 9000 and Florida by 2000."

The chairman and secretary of the republican committee of Louisiana, and Gov. Kellogg, all telegraphed on Friday that the State was certainly republican.

The following dispatch was received by Collector Simmonds from M. A. Clancey, Assistant Secretary of the National Republican Committee: "Please credit us with knowing what you do, and a great deal more. Be perfectly assured that we have elected Hayes by one majority and shall not be cheated out of it."

The New York Herald's bulletin concedes Florida to Hayes by 500 majority.

The Boston Journal has taken North Carolina out of the "sure for Tilden" column, and put it in the "doubtful" list, which now consists of that State and Florida.

Serious troubles are reported from Louisiana. The democrats have destroyed the ballot-boxes in several places, and burned Lieut. Gov. Antoine's house.

Gov. Chamberlain and Congressman Elliott telegraph that Hayes' majority in South Carolina is not less than 8000.

Senator-elect Beck, Senator Bayard, Heister Clymer, Abram Hewitt, Henry Watterson and other distinguished democrats have gone to Louisana to help finish the election.

The New York Post of Friday takes South Carolina and Florida out of the doubtful list and gives them to Hayes, and thinks it "reasonable to expect a republican majority" in Louisana.

The Republican Congressional Committee have received a dispatch from Florida to the effect that the returns are nearly all in, and on a revenue cutter, where they cannot be tampered with, and that the State is certain for Hayes. Gov. Stearns telegraphed that Florida will give Hayes 2300 majority. The returns by counties, as published in the New York Times, give Hayes 4734 majority so far.

[By Western Union Line.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 10th, 4 P. M.

The reports of estimated majorities from Florida, Louisiana and South Carolina, widely conflict; probably nothing positively decisive from either State will be known before Monday next. The parties in the respective States estimate majorities as follows: Louisiana,—democratic 8000, republican 4000; South Carolina,—democratic 1200, republican 5000; Florida,—democratic 1700, republican 1200. Everything quiet in New Orleans, notwithstanding reports to the contrary.

NEW YORK, 10th, 7:30 P. M.

At request of parties in New Orleans a plan is being arranged for fifteen representative men of each party to go to New Orleans and attend the counting of votes, so that the country may be satisfied of the fairness of it, and prevent bloodshed. Chas. Francis Adams is mentioned as one of them.

Gen. Butler's Speech.

Gen. Butler addressed the Republicans of Boston at Faneuil Hall, election night, as follows:

Fellow-Citizens: I have fought the good fight; I have finished my course; I have kept the faith. I won't go further with the quotation. I beg pardon for having used so much Scripture, but the fact is I have had so many clergymen up in my district I have got used to the language of that good book, which they should read more. I have the honor to say, the regular republican candidate is elected in the Seventh District by 1,200 majority and 3,000 plurality over all. I hope the rest of the State has done as well. On this platform, one year ago, the word was given, "Bummers and sutlers of the rear." The gentleman who gave that command took charge of 1,500 bummers and marched them fully to the rear. What is a bummer? [A voice—"Look at him!" and laughter.] I will tell you. It means a man who follows the camp, but never is known to do duty but when the bugle cries out "Roast beef." The republican party of this State has 75,000 majority, when hate is not put into the canvass. We have raised our district vote over 5,000. Has this been done anywhere else? If so, I am glad to hear of it. After a campaign of 30 days, you will pardon me if I conclude rather summarily these remarks. [Cries of "Go on; don't be afraid."] But before I do, I desire to say a word to you of the future of the republican party. It deserves success for what it has already accomplished. It will accomplish a good deal more. But I believe we will have success; but whether success or defeat, so far as in me lies, in behalf of the equality of the powers and the burdens of government shall be advanced by my best efforts, and Massachusetts principles shall find in me a defender not only here, but also on the floor of Congress. I rejoice in my election for the reason that the tariff question will come up in Congress. I am interested in it, like all our merchants and manufacturers. In Boston's glory, honor, and prosperity I am interested, and her citizens will find that in every department of her interest, so far as in me lies, they will find in me her defender to the best abilities God has given me.

News and Notes.

Schooner A. McDonald, of Portland, left that port on a fishing cruise March 31st, and was last seen on the Western Banks, April 26th, lying to in a gale, where it is supposed she was lost, as she has not been heard from since. The crew, master, mate and seamen numbered twelve, nine of whom had families. The master, A. McDonald, lived in Portland. The estimated value of the vessel was $4000, with an insurance on vessel and outfits of $3600. The owners have given up the vessel, and the papers have been cancelled at the custom house.

On the 9th, near Utica, N. Y., four young girls were on a railroad trestle when a train came suddenly upon them. Two of them jumped off into the water below and escaped unharmed. Nettie Hicks, nine years of age, was too frightened to move, and Julia Hazard in vain endeavored to pull her off, the latter dropping from the trestle barely in time to save her own life, the engine taking off her hat and comb and inflicting a slight scalp wound as she fell. Little Nettie's head was severed from her body, and crushed beyond recognition. The children had been gathering beechnuts.

In a bar-room row in New York, on the 7th, Richard O'Keefe stabbed John Fitzsimmons in the eye with an umbrella, fatally injuring him. The murderer is under arrest.

Jules Briere, a Frenchman, strangled himself to death in South Boston on Thursday evening. He had been heard to swear he would kill himself if Tilden was elected, and had been greatly depressed since Wednesday morning.

"Webb" on Thursday telegraphed from Washington to the Boston Journal that the navy department is much concerned over the non-arrival of the U. S. S. Franklin, with Boss Tweed on board. She should have arrived on the 6th. There are fears that she was caught in the recent cyclone, and a steam vessel is to be sent out to look for her. Naval officers express very grave concern for the Franklin.

A London special says the ship Prince Waldemar, British, for Calcutta, to load for Barton, is reported lost in a cyclone prior to November 7th while going up the Hoogly. Eleven other vessels were also lost.

An old resident of Medway, Mass., was sent to the poor-house, not long ago, on the same day that his son laid the foundation of a fine double house in the most aristocratic part of the village for himself.

The motive of the scoundrels who attempted to steal the body of President Lincoln is said to have been to secure the pardon of a wealthy counterfeiter now in prison in the West, as a condition of the restoration of the corpse.

George Lunt, of Newburyport, a brakeman on the Eastern Railroad, was run over by a train in Boston on Thursday and instantly killed.

A democratic reform mob in Baltimore, enraged at the election news, on Friday compelled the Baltimore American to take in its bulletins and haul down its Hayes and Wheeler flag. The Mayor ordered out 500 police to save the building.

New Hampshire Items.

The roll of delegates to the Constitutional Convention shows that it will be a body of great ability. Among the distinguished members are ex-Gov. Goodwin of Portsmouth, ex-Gov. Symth of Manchester, Hon. W. H. Y. Hackett of Portsmouth, ex-Chief Justice Sargent and Hon. W. E. Chandler of Concord, Hon. Harry Bingham of Littleton, Hon. James W. Johnson of Enfield, Hon. Levi W. Barton of Newport, Hon. W. C. Sturoc of Sunapee, Hon. Nathan R. Perkins of Jefferson, Hon. Jacob Benton and Hon. Wm. Burns of Lancaster, Francis A. Faulkner of Keene, John M. Shirley of Andover, Samuel R. Page of Haverhill, and Gen. Daniel E. Colby of New London.

The Manchester Mirror of the 8th announced an auction sale of all its election cuts of roosters. On the 9th it said: "We hereby reserve a right to reject all bids received for the poultry advertised yesterday. We may want them ourselves."

The Pitman Manufacturing Company's mill at Laconia took fire Wednesday evening. Loss $3000; insured.

How They Look At It.

Gov. Tilden was promptly interviewed after election day by a reporter, and expressed himself thus:

"My election was due to the fact that people looked more to the issues of the canvass than to party restraints. Fealty to party was, to a great extent, forgotten. There is no doubt that I received a great number of republican votes, and when the result is generally known and officially proclaimed, all true citizens, whether republicans or democrats, will hail the event as a great national benefit, and indicative of at least one thing, and that is the unity of all sections of the country. This is a very essential decision. The election has also been decided in part upon my record as Governor. It was well scanned and construed in divers ways, and the result has convinced me that I have, in that capacity, done well enough to satisfy the masses of the people. The closeness of the contest shows conclusively what opposition I had to overcome. I have every reason to be well pleased with the result."

Gov. Hayes was also interviewed, and after pleasantly rallying his friends over their gloominess, said:

"By the way, I do not think it right to joke over this matter. I don't care for myself. The party—yes, and the country, too—can stand it; but I do care for the poor colored men of the South. I do not fear that business will be greatly disturbed by Mr. Tilden's election. Trade governs itself. Capitalists may just at present say, 'We won't lend money;' but it will be only a nine days' wonder, which will wear away as soon as they recover from the chagrin of defeat. Business will, I think, go on as usual. I do not consider the parties responsible for financial depression. We see the troubles they have had in Germany and Austria. If any part of the country suffers or remains at a standstill it will be the South, under the new regime. Northern men cannot live there and will leave, and emigration into the States will cease. But, as I said before, I do pity the poor black men of the South. The result will be that the Southern people will practically treat the Constitutional amendments as nullities, and the colored man's fate will be worse than when he was in slavery with a humane master to look after his interests. That is the only reason I regret the news as it is."

A Big Cannon.

The London Times of October 28th publishes a despatch from Spezzia, Italy, which says that the trials of the hundred-ton Armstrong gun made for the Italian Government, were eminently successful. A bolt fired with 341 pounds of powder attained a velocity of 1,500 feet per second, smashed solid wrought-iron plates twenty-two inches thick, completely pierced the strong backing and thirty-inch skin of a target, the resistance of which is supposed to equal the sides of the great Italian iron-clad "Duilio," and had enough velocity remaining to have smashed the other side of the ship, and would have carried complete ruin into her interior. An equal charge completely demolished soft steel plates of Schneider manufacture, but did not penetrate the backing, though it is stated that the shock would have so shaken the structure of a vessel like the "Duilio" as to cause a leak. The heaviest blow of the bolt equalled 31,250 foot tons.

Large Sale of U. S. Property.

A very large sale of Government property took place Oct. 26 at the St. Louis Arsenal. The sale had been extensively advertised, and as a large number of purchasers, from almost every direction, were present, the bidding was very spirited, and each article sold is considered to have brought an extraordinary price. Among the articles disposed of were: 4,000,000 percussion pistol caps, at 17 cents per M, J. W. Frazier, of New York; 20,931 cartridge boxes, calibre 58, at 6 cents each, same buyer; one lot German percussion caps, at 29 1-4 cents per M, same; 1,000 Joslyn carbines, at $2.06 each, same; 1,500 cavalry sabres, at 21 cents each, same; one lot bayonet scabbards, at 3 1-4 cents per M, same. Schuyler, Hartley and Graham, of New York, bought 120 Sharp's carbines, first-class, at $9.10 each; 470 second-class do., at $8.20 each; 240 third-class do., at $7 each. J. T. Moore and Co., New York, 1,280 muzzle-loading muskets, at 23 cents each. Cal. Hirsch, city, 2,245 curb cavalry bridles, at 22 cents each; one paper-cutting machine and 25 tons of belt plates. Charles H. Townsend, of New York, 699 Cosmopolitan carbines 16 cents each, 1,600 Merrill's carbines 22 cents each, 1,000 Smith's carbines 25 cents each, and one lot Gallagher carbines $2.25 per 100 lbs. There were about 28,000,000 Prussian caps sold at 29 1-4 cents per M, 21,000 cartridge boxes at 6 cents each, 3,417,000 pistol caps, and 1,500 cavalry sabres at 21 cents each, sold, but the reporter was unable to learn the name of the purchaser. The balance of the articles sold consisted principally of bridles, saddles, halters, and cavalry equipments in general. The majority of the pistols, including some few carbines and several other lots of leading articles, were retained in consequence of the price limited by the Government not having been reached.

LITTLE GIANT!

REG. JUNE 6, '72.

This Trade Mark is a guarantee that the medicine is genuine. Without it the Pills are a fraud and a cheat—when it is represented by any dealer that they are selling the LITTLE GIANT PILLS, which have effected such wonderful cures in Portsmouth.

This medicine has been prepared with the greatest care of the choicest ingredients for the cure of Sick Headache and Bilious Disorders. Its success has been very surprising, as the many certificates of well-known citizens testify.

Parties in Portsmouth, well knowing this, are offering some other Pills, pretending that they are the same. GEO. E. HANSON, 41 Congress Street, is the Agent in Portsmouth who can produce the genuine Pills, put up in square boxes with the Trade Mark upon each box. Any one who has bought any other, supposing they have bought Little Giants, has been imposed upon, and had better go back and get his money and buy a reliable medicine of the authorized agent.

A SOOTHING DOSE

Whatever may be the final settlement of the momentous question, "Who's elected?" the despatches of the 8th which so dampened the ardor of the democrats were a good thing for that party,—as the "indications" were, all Wednesday forenoon, that the democracy would get so full of enthusiasm and delight, and expectation of office, and other and more material stuff, that they would "bust." The shock which had apparently jerked the democracy into power had sent the dregs of the party to the surface, in this city as well as in other places; and several instances have been reported to us in which ladies of the highest respectability were grossly insulted on the streets by democrats, simply because their male relatives were well known republicans. Most of the bantering of republicans by the democrats was good-natured "chaff," which, if it did not display an excess of magnanimity, perhaps displayed as much as could be expected from politicians who had been out in the cold for sixteen years and had suddenly got near enough the inner warmth to feel it; but there was also, on the part of the democratic sub-soil which had suddenly risen to the surface and become more than usually saturated with patriotism and whiskey, an excess of exaltation which seemed particularly provocative of insults to nearly every prominent republican who appeared on the streets. The respectable democrats kept a pretty stiff upper lip under the depressing despatches of Wednesday afternoon, but the back-slum element went into its boots in a wonderful manner,—we doubt not to the equal relief of decent men of both parties.

HUMOR AT COURT.

Two amusing witnesses were called to testify in the arson case on trial before the Supreme Judicial Court on Friday. One, on being asked how much he made or lost while keeping the tavern that was burned, replied: "I didn't have anything to lose, and didn't take anything away." This brought down the house and Sheriff Kent rapped to order as the next witness was called. This witness on being asked if he had gone in a straight line to the tavern when the fire was discovered what particular part of the house he would have struck, discounted his fellow witnesse's reply by answering: "I rather think I should have struck about the b-a-r-r-o-o-m!" Judge Doe gave the jury a recess of five minutes.

CITY AFFAIRS.

Petition of S. W. Hoyt and others, for supplying oil and lighting street lights on North and Dennet streets, was referred to committee on gas lights.

Communication from City Treasurer notifying the Board that the appropriation of $20,000 for schools had been expended, was referred to the finance committee, with power.

Petition of C. E. Myers for leave to open Middle street to lay drain was referred to Street Commissioner, with power.

Report of the committee on accounts was accepted, and bills ordered to be paid.

Voted, that when the Board adjourn it be for two weeks.

Adjourned.

POLICE COURT.

Friday, November 10th.

Patrick Sheehan, for having been drunk, was fined $3, costs $8.04. On a charge of assault and battery on George E. Currier, Sheehan was given thirty days in the County House; costs $6.90. Sheehan tried hard to bite one of Currier's fingers off during the fracas, and partially succeeded.

John Kelly (not the shoe-dealer of that name, but a young fellow,) was brought before the Court on a charge of having brawled and tumulted, but no one appearing in support of the complaint he was discharged.

SUPREME COURT.

Friday, November 10th.

State vs. Sharp and Haines, Salem arson case. The defense was opened this morning, the first witness being Matthew J. Sharp, one of the defendants. He testified: Am a carpenter, and was engaged with Mr. Haines in repairing the Salem hotel. On the night of the fire we went into the hotel together about 9 o'clock, and after going over the house to see that no one was there, I retired, at 9:30. I went to bed first and went to sleep immediately, leaving Haines to blow out the lamp, which I suppose he did. A short while after I was aroused by Haines, who told me the back part of the house was on fire. I dressed and we went out doors. I took my bag of clothing and a few tools with me. I tried to obtain a ladder to reach the fire, as at that time it could have been extinguished with a few bucketsful of water; failing in this I worked to save as many shingles as I could; there were a number of bunches of them just in front of the house; while I was there at work I was arrested by an officer. [Cross examination failed to elicit any more facts or to materially change those above given.]

Albert L. Homer, of Ayer Village, was the next witness. He testified that Bryant, the landlord of another public house in the same town, had said in conversation with him a day previous to the fire that "the old building was liable to burn," (referring to the destroyed property,) and that he would not let any other house live there.

A number of other witnesses were examined, including Alfred H. Davis of Salem, and M. W. Johnson of Boston, the owner of the property, who testified as to the value of the premises, insurance, and other facts.

The evidence will be closed Saturday morning.

JOTTINGS.

Democratic crowness is not so exuberantly irrepressible of late.

Subject at Bow Mission on Sunday, "Children of the Bible," continued. Service at 4 o'clock P. M.

The readiness of the democracy to believe every dispatch favorable to their hopes, and to bawl lustily at the slightest provocation, reminds us of "Col. Sellers'" argument (when detected in an endeavor to make it appear there was a fire in the stove by placing therein a burning candle,) to the effect that he was endeavoring to prove by experiment the truth of one of his favorite assertions, that only the appearance of heat was necessary to impart warmth to the human frame.

"Bits of Talk in verse and prose for Young Folks," by H. H.,—a volume of short stories in verse and prose, not only interesting to the young folks but to the parents also, published by Robert Brothers.

The Centennial Exposition of 1876, by S. R. Cracker, is a small pamphlet containing a consise description of the Exposition, is published by Roberts Brothers.

Wenderholme, by Philip Gilbert Hamerton. Although Mr. Hamerton has been known and appreciated as a writer in other departments of literature, this is his first attempt at novel writing, and what is very unusual in such cases it has proved a decided success. Wenderholme is a story of country life in Lancashire, in the North of England, some years ago; the story was originally published in England in three volumes, but the author was induced by his publisher to curtail the American edition of some of its less interesting parts. As published by Roberts Brothers of Boston it appears in one very handsome volume. For sale in this city by J. H. Foster; price $2.00.

On the morning after election an ardent civil service reformer of the democratic variety hastened to the navy yard and requested the captain of the yard to appoint him boss caulker. His commissions is not yet made out, we believe.

Mr. Calvin Staples of Eliot has been missing since election day, and up to Thursday night no trace of him had been found. He came to this city on Tuesday and registered at the Kearsarge House, and was last seen on Vaughan street at noon of that day. At the time he left home he had $100 on his person.

Mr. McIver's Bakery has been increased in its facilities by the recent addition of fifty brown bread molds.

Punished at Last.

Two or three years ago, a wild young man of St. Louis city married a beautiful blonde in New York, and after living with her a couple of weeks, separated from her and returned to St. Louis. The ceremony was performed under peculiar circumstances and the young man did not believe the marriage was legal. He became steady and settled down to business, and in time, married a young lady of the highest respectability. Afterwards he thought that the first marriage might have been legal, and so he applied for and obtained a decree of divorce from his New York wife. She employed a lawyer to get the decree of divorce set aside, and this was accomplished several months ago. The case was taken up to the court of appeals, and the judgment of the circuit court was affirmed, but the court, on a motion for a rehearing, suspended the judgment of affirmation, and the matter remains in suspense. The young man finds himself in an awkward position, and realizes the fact that "The way of the transgressor is hard."

—"Jake," said the blushing damsel to a lover that her father had forbidden the house, "I don't care if your feet are big; I love you just as much." "Wall, Saby, I don't mind so much about the size of my own feet, but I wish your dad's were a little smaller; I should feel more confident, you know, about staying."

Daily Chronicle.

—Mrs. Hynes read that a washbowl of water sprinkled with meal would catch all the mice, and she tried it. Hynes came home from a procession at two o'clock and took a wash. Said he, "Hayes and Wheeler! Mariah, I've got 'em agin."

—A Scotchman being asked by his minister, "What kind of a man was Adam?" replied, "Oh, just like ither folk." The minister insisted on having a more special description. "Weel, nae body got anything by him, and many lost."

—The Government works undertaken for the protection of the Falls of St. Anthony will be completed about the middle of this month. The immense wall of solid concrete, which is to prevent the water from percolating the sand-rock and undermining the limestone ledge, is nearly finished. This wall is 1875 feet long, extending across the river and running underneath the bank on each side. It is forty feet high, seven feet thick at the base, and four feet thick at the top, where it connects with the ledge over which the waters of the Mississippi plunge.

—It is understood that after Tupper's intimation that Walt Whitman was a plagiarist he received the following note from the indignant American: "Great snakes! Incomprehensible prevarication of the preverbial grub slinger! Let the pine trees howl! What d'ye mean by lyin' about me? Yea, sound thy barbaric yawp and I'll outyawp thee! High-low-jack-and-the-game! Git! Swash afar eastward across the wide salt slope! Upon my auricular I mount. I gnash my teeth and the lime flies! Doleroot of lactral imbecilites. I rend thee! Avaunt!"—Cin. Enq.

MAGIC

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 23d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS as well as any one, I have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be bought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not become free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I treat I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for the last three years, and have been travelling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and I thought this was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. R. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have no applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mr. Laura Sherrell, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy, and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing as good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England.

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the course of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

USE —

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

BUTTER IN 20 MINUTES.

Lincoln Butter Powder is an entirely harmless article made from a celebrated English recipe, now in daily use by many of the most noted farmers in the butter counties around Philadelphia.

In hot weather this Powder makes butter much firmer and sweeter than it usually is, and keeps it from turning rancid. It also removes the strong flavor of turnips, weeds, corn stalks, cabbages, &c., and the increased yield of butter much more than pays the trifling expense of using it.

Two Boys and Two Cakes.

"An' it was once, long ago, in the could counthry," said Mrs. Biddy, "there was livin' a fine, clane, honest, poor widdy woman, an' she havin' two sons, an' she fetched the both of 'em up fine and careful, but one of them turned bad intirely. An' one day, says she to him, says she:

"I've given you your livin' as long as iver I can, and it's you must go out into the wide worruld to sake your fortune."

"'Mother, I will,' says he.

"'An' will ye take a big cake wid me curse or a little cake an' me blessing?" says she.

"'The big cake, shure,' says he.

So she baked a big cake and cursed him, and he wint away laughin'. By and by he came foruinst a spring, and sat down to eat his dinner off the cake, and a small, little bird sat on the edge of the spring.

'Give me a bit of cake for me little ones in the nest," says she; and he caught up a stone to throw at her.

"I've scarce enough for meself," said he; and she, bein' a fairy, put her hake in the spring and toorned it black as ink, and went away up in the trees. And while he looked for her to kill her, a fox wint away wid his cake.

So he wint away from that place very mad, an' nixt day he stopped, very hungry, at a farmer's house, and hired out to tind the cows.

"'Be wise,' says the farmer's wife, 'for the next field is belongin' to a giant, and if the cows gets in his clover, he will kill you dead as a stone.'

"But the bad son laughed and wint away out to watch the cows; and before noontime he wint to slape up in a tree, and the cows all wint in the clover, an' out comes the giant and shook him down out of the tree an' killed him dead, and that was the end of the bad son.

"And by the next year the poor widdy woman, she says to the good son:

"'Ye must go out into the wide worruld and sake your fortune, for I can kape ye no longer' says she,

"'Mother, I will' says he.

"'An' will ye take a big cake wid me curse, or a little cake wid me blessing?'

"'The little cake,' says he.

"So she baked it for him and gave him her blessin', and he wint away, an' she awapin' afther him folne and loud. An' by and by he came to the same spring in the woods where the bad son was before him, and the small, little bird sat again on the side of it.

"'Give me a bit of yer cakeen for me little ones in the nest,' says she.

"'I will,' says he, an' he broke off a foine piece, and she dipped her bake in the spring and toorned it into sweet wine; and when he bit his cake, shure an' she had toorned it into a fine plum cake intirely; an' he ate and drank and wint on lighthearted. And nixt he come to the farmer's house.

"Will ye tind cows for me?" says the farmer.

"I will," says the good son.

"Be wise," says the farmer's wife "for the clover field beyant is belongin' to the giant, an' if you lave in the cows, he will kill you dead."

"Never fear!" says the good son; "I don't slape at me worruck."

"And he goes out into the field and lugs a big stone up in the tree, and thin sinds ivery cow far out in the clover field, and goes back ag'in in the tree. And out comes the giant a-roarin so that you could hear the roars of him a mile away; and when he finds the cow-boy, he goes under the tree to shake him down, but the good little son slips out the big stone, an' it fell down and broke the giant's head intirely. So the good son wint running away to the giant's house, and it bein' full to the eaves of gold and silver and splendid things! See what foine luck comes to folks that is good and honest! An' he wint home and fetched, his old mother, an' they lived rich and contented, and died very old and rispected."

—The most attractive feature on the bill at the Theatre Comique, Boston, is the marvellous exhibition of skill at shooting, by Mr. Ira A. Paine, the champion pigeon shot. Glass balls are tossed from a rubber bowstring into the air at the back of the stage, and Mr. Paine, standing gun in hand on a platform in the audience, fires at them breaking them into atoms. He fired at them singly, and then two were tossed at once, both of which he broke, firing with great rapidity. He fired with one hand only on the gun, never missing a globe. He then had them thrown up while his back was toward them; and turning suddenly and with hasty aim he smashed them with apparent ease. The performance is a novel and pleasing one and was heartily applauded.

A Correction.

We take the following from Zion's Herald:

The democratic papers, especially of New Hampshire, have given wide circulation to a malignant slander against Rev. J. Pike, D. D., which first appeared in the Boston Post, and which was afterward honorably retracted by that paper. The country papers added to the first charge the most false, unmanly, and un-Christian tirades against one of the most honorable, honest and sincere of citizens and clergymen. His own State of New Hampshire has ever held him in high esteem, and honored him with responsible positions. Such vile and malicious slanders only react upon their unprincipled propagators, and bring down upon them the reprobation of all true men. This card explains the whole matttter.

A Card.

To the Editor of the Boston Post:

My attention has just been called to an article in your paper of the 25th inst., under the head of "Another Revelation," containing statements concerning myself which are not true.

1. You affirm that in the year 1872 I was the republican candidate for Governor of New Hampshire, which is not the fact.

2. You assert that during that year I obtained $5,000 from the Freedman's Savings Bank of Washington, whereas I never at any time, directly or indirectly, obtained for any purpose any funds from that institution.

3. You insinuate by various forms of expression that I procured and used money corruptly for political purposes. I have done neither.

It is not in your power to repair the cruel wrong and injustice you have done me by your article, but believing it may have been inserted without due consideration I trust you will withdraw its charges and publish this note. Respectfully.

JAMES PIKE.

South Newmarket, N. H., Oct. 31, 1876.

The card of Rev. James Pike of South Newmarket, N. H., which is published in another column, corrects an error into which the Post was led by statements from high, but, as we now learn, mistaken authority. The facts appear to be that the note of Rev. Mr. Pike, found by the examiners of the Freedmen's Savings Bank, was never negotiated; that Mr. Pike did not obtain his accommodation of that bank; and that no cause exists for connecting him with the rascalities of that institution, or for reflecting in any way injuriously upon his character as an honorable man and a respected minister of the Gospel.—Boston Post.

The Electoral Vote.

The Method of Counting It.

The New York Tribune of Thursday says:

The extreme doubt in which the returns received yesterday left the result of the Presidential election has made the counting of the electoral vote in February next likely to be an event of very great interest and importance. On more than one occasion the defects of the machinery for determining which of two or more candidates has been legally elected to the Presidency have been strikingly shown, and attempts have been made to remedy them; but while none of these efforts have met with success, it has also been fortunate that on no occasion which has ever arisen has the actual result been affected by the vote of any State which forwarded its vote and the validity of whose returns has been questioned. Now it seems possible that such a contingency may arise.

No provision has ever been made for settling a dispute of this kind. Section 1, Article II., of the Constitution directs that "each State shall appoint, in such manner as the Legislature thereof may direct, a number of electors equal to the whole number of Senators and Representatives to which the State may be entitled in the Congress; but no Senator or Representative, or person holding an office of trust or profit under the United States, shall be appointed an elector."

The Twelfth Amendment of the Constitution provides that the electors "meet in their respective States, and vote by ballot for President and Vice-President, one of whom shall not be an inhabitant of the same State with themselves. * * * And they shall make distinct lists of all persons voted for as President, and of the number of votes for each; which lists they shall sign and certify, and transmit sealed to the seat of the Government of the United States, directed to the President of the Senate. The President of the Senate shall, in the presence of the Senate and House of Representatives, open all the certificates, and the votes shall then be counted. The person having the greatest number of votes for President shall be the President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed," etc.

By acts of 1792 and 1804, as adopted in the Revised Statutes of the United States, the following regulations are made:

SEC. 135. The electors for each State shall meet and give their votes upon the first Wednesday in December in the year in which they are appointed, at such place, in each State, as the Legislature of such State shall direct.

SEC. 136. It shall be the duty of the executive of each State to cause three lists of the names of the electors of such State to be made and certified, and to be delivered to the electors on or before the day on which they are required, by the preceding section, to meet.

SEC. 137. The electors shall vote for President and Vice-President, respectively, in the manner directed by the Constitution.

SEC. 138. The electors shall make and sign three certificates of all the votes given by them, each of which certificates shall contain two distinct lists, one of the votes for President, and the other of the votes for Vice-President, and shall annex to each of the certificates one of the lists of the electors which shall have been furnished to them by direction of the Executive of the State.

SEC. 139. The electors shall seal up the certificate so made by them, and certify upon each that the lists of all the votes of such State given for President, and of all the votes given for Vice-President, are contained therein.

SEC. 140. The electors shall dispose of the certificates thus made by them in the following manner:

One. They shall, by writing under their hands, or under the hands of a majority of them, appoint a person to take charge of and deliver to the President of the Senate, at the seat of Government, before the first Wednesday in January then next ensuing, one of the certificates.

Two. They shall forthwith forward by the post-office to the President of the Senate, at the seat of Government, one other of the certificates.

Three. They shall forthwith cause the other of the certificates to be delivered to the judge of that district in which the electors shall assemble.

SEC. 142. Congress shall be in session on the second Wednesday in February succeeding every meeting of the electors, and the certificates, or so many of them as have been received, shall then be opened, the votes counted, and the persons to fill the offices of President and Vice-President ascertained and declared, agreeable to the Constitution."

On several occasions prior to 1869 objections had been made to receiving the votes of certain States on account of alleged irregularities, but no such vote was ever formally rejected. In 1864 a resolution was adopted by Congress excluding the electoral votes of States then in rebellion, but as no votes were received from any of them, none were rejected. A precedent was, however, set for the rejection of the vote of a State by a joint resolution concurred in by both Houses of Congress.

When the questions arose during the first half of the century touching the acceptance or rejection of the vote of States, the returns from which were irregular, long debates sometimes arose which seriously interfered with the prompt announcement of the result. To cut off such debate, the Twenty-second Joint Rule of the two Houses was adopted in 1865, and readopted by each succeeding Congress except the present. The following is the text of the rule;

"If upon the reading of any such certificates by the tellers any question shall arise in regard to the counting of the votes therein certified, the same having been stated by the presiding officer, the Senate shall thereupon withdraw, and said question shall be submitted to that body for its decision; and the Speaker of the House shall in like manner submit the said question to the House for its decision, and no question shall be decided affirmatively, and no votes objected to shall be counted except by the concurrent votes of the two Houses, which being obtained the two Houses shall reassemble, and the presiding officer shall then announce the decision of the question submitted; and upon such question there shall be no debate in either House, and any other question to this object for which the two Houses are assembled may be submitted and determined in like manner."

In 1873 electoral votes were rejected from several States under this rule, but its operation was so unsatisfactory that the sentiment at the time was almost unanimous not only for its repeal, but also for an entire change in the mode of electing President. It was repealed at the last session of Congress by a failure of the Senate to adopt it.

From this hasty review it appears (1) that the President of the Senate has never assumed to determine any question as to the validity of the vote received from any State, but that when such questions have arisen, they have invariably been referred to the two Houses of Congress for their decision.

(2.) That neither House of Congress by itself has ever claimed the right to reject the vote of any State, or to determine, in case two sets of returns from a single State appear, which of them shall be counted, except by authority of the Twenty-Second Joint Rule, which no longer exists.

(3.) That while neither the Constitution nor the laws of the United States expressly provide the means of determining controversies that may arise in regard to the counting of the electoral vote of any State, that power has been exercised by the concurrent action of the two Houses in Congress.

The President's Orders.

Serious indications of trouble in Florida and Louisiana over the counting of the votes having reached the President, he issued the following orders:

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 10.

To General W. T. Sherman, Washington:

Instruct General Auger in Louisana and General Ruger in Florida to be vigilant with the force at their command, to preserve peace and good order and to see that the people and legal Boards of Canvassers are unmolested in performance of their duties. Should there be any grounds of suspicion of a fraudulent count on either side, it should be reported and denounced at once. No man worthy of the office of President would be willing to hold it if counted in or placed there by fraud. Either party can afford to be dissappointed in the result. The country cannot afford to have the result tainted by suspicion of illegal or false returns.

U. S. GRANT.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 10.

General Sherman, Washington:

Send all the troops to General Augur he may deem necessary to ensure a quiet and peaceable count of ballots actually cast. They may be taken from South Carolina unless there is reason to suspect an outbreak there. The presence of citizens from other states I understood is requested in Louisana to see that the Board of Canvassers make a fair count of the vote actually cast. It is to be hoped that representative and fair men of both parties will go.

U. S. GRANT.

The New York Herald says that President Grant, in his order to Gen. Sherman in relation to the placing of troops, uses words which are most honorable to him, and which accurately express the thoughts of all patriotic men. Gen. Grant has done many wise acts, but this is the wisest act of his life.

It is reported that one of the causes that led to President Grant's issuing his orders to Sherman was to ally excitement, and to assure bond holders that there is to be no civil war, as the latter have been receiving inquiries from Europe indicating that civil war was believed to be imminent.

Go Slow.

We express in another column the view which we should hope all honorable Americans, of whatever party, would take concerning any effort to tamper with the election returns. But, now, let us suggest that it is just as well for the defeated party to be a little slow in making such charges.

There is not, and there never has been, any reason to suppose that the States which seem now to decide the contest would be otherwise than republican. There would have been far more reason, prima facie, to suspect fraud if they had been reported as democratic. As they have been republican for years, there is, prima facie, reason to suppose that, on an honest vote, they are republican now. There never was any ground for conceding Mr. Tilden's election save the belief that he had carried Wisconsin. The moment it was clear that the republicans had not lost Wisconsin, his prospect seemed hopeless. Louisiana was from the first placed in the Tribune's list of States certainly secured by Hayes; Florida and South Carolina, in the list of "Doubtful, or not heard from." Since then they seem to have been heard from.—N. Y. Tribune.

New Hampshire Items.

The trial of Johnson, the Bristol wife murderer, has been postponed until the March term at Haverhill.

At a meeting of the Governor and Council, Friday, Hon. Charles H. Bartlett of Manchester, Dr. J. W. Parsons of Portsmouth, Charles J. Amidon of Hinsdale, and William H. Cummings of Lisbon, were appointed a Board of Auditors to examine the affairs of the New Hampshire Asylum for the Insane, in accordance with the joint resolution of the late Legislature. Col. Chester B. Jordan of Lancaster, Erastus O. Jewell of Laconia, and Rev. L. S. Beske of Concord, were appointed a committee to examine into the affairs of the State Normal School. Both of the above named committees are to report to the next Legislature.

Albert E. Flagg has been sentenced to three years and six months in the State Prison for stealing a watch and chain last September in Grafton.

Gertrude Creeley, of Manchester, aged 60, a German woman, attempted suicide Friday by jumping into the canal. She is a woman of some property, and is subject to fits of insanity.

Lucinda Gaudreau, 28 years old, an employe of the Stark Mills, Manchester, attempted suicide Friday morning by jumping into the Merrimac river. She was rescued in an exhausted state. No cause is assigned.

A meeting of the Board of Trade of Manchester was held Friday to consider the concessions of the Concord Railroad in freights, but no definite conclusion was reached. There was a small attendance, owing to the election excitement.

The Influence of Malaria Counteracted.

That the harmful influence upon the human system of malaria may be effectually counteracted has been demonstrated for years past by the protection afforded the inhabitants of vast miasma-breeding districts in North and South America, Guatemala, Mexico and the West Indies, by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Used as a preventive, they have invariably been found to be a most reliable safeguard against chills and fever, bilious remittents, and still more malignant types of malarious disease, and when employed as a remedy have always proved their adequacy to the task of eradicating such maladies from the system. For disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, which in hot climates and miasmatic localities are particularly rife, the Bitters are a prompt and thorough remedy. They also strengthen the system, tranquilize the nerves, promote digestion and sound sleep, and impart unwonted relish for food.

The Word "Sozodont."

Which is fast becoming a household word, is derived from the Greek, and composed of two words, "Sozo" translated, means to preserve, and "dontos" the teeth—"Sozodont," a preserver of the teeth. And it is true to its name. For beautifying and preserving the teeth, hardening and invigorating the gums, and correcting all impurities of the breath, it is without a peer in the world.

Spalding's Glue will mend everything.

The Grand Central Hotel, New York, "leads the van" among the first-class hotels, by reducing its rates from $4.00 to $2.50 and $3.00 per day.

WHEN IMPURITIES IN THE BLOOD are determined to the surface in the form of blotches, dry exfoliations, rashes, &c., the safest and most expeditious remedy is GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP.

Important to persons visiting New York or the Centennial. The Grand Union Hotel, New York, opposite the Grand Central Depot, has over 350 elegantly furnished rooms. Elevator, steam and all improvements. European plan. Carriage hire is saved, as baggage is taken to and from the depot free. Guests can live better for less money at the Grand Union than at any other first-class hotel. Stages and cars pass the Hotel constantly to all parts of the city, and to the Philadelphia depot.

Wishing to say something civil to him, and knowing that he and his better half got on pretty well together, I remarked that he 'must feel rather lonely without Mrs. X., and the little ones.' 'Yes,' he replied, 'I do, but the wind is tempered to the shorn lamb; you see, when my wife is away I can smoke in bed.'"

SUPREME COURT.

Saturday, November 11th.

State vs. Sharp and Haines, arson at Salem.

This morning the defence was continued, and several witnesses were examined, including Joseph W. Haines, one of the respondents, who testified as follows: Am a carpenter; live in Malden, Mass.; went with Mr. Sharp to Salem in September last, to assist in repairing the Salem Hotel. Sunday, the day before the fire, Sharp went away with Mr. Bryant to see about some lumber; while they were gone I went to walk in the direction of Spicket Hill; turned around and came back before I had gone more than half way to the hill; met two men driving, (this was substantiated by the parties); when I got back to Bryant's house was told that the Salem Hotel had been on fire; went to the hotel and nailed the windows and fastened the doors; there was a quantity of chips and sawdust in the second story of the ell where the fire had been; Monday night Sharp and myself retired about 9:30, and went to sleep; I was awakened soon after by some one crying "fire" under my window; looked out and saw smoke coming from the back of the house; aroused Sharp, and we hurriedly dressed and went out together; I then began to assist in tearing down the barn, and while so doing was arrested; deny that I had anything to do with burning the house, or that I had any knowledge or information that the same was to be burned.

This closed the evidence for the defence, and the case was submitted by counsel without argument.

The Judge charged the jury at some length, and seemed to lean decidedly in favor of the accused. He said no motive appeared why they should have burned the building; on the contrary it seemed for their interest that it should stand; their evidence had been very fair and unimpeachable, and was well substantiated.

The case was given to the jury at 1 o'clock, and they soon agreed on a verdict of not guilty as to both respondents; and Court adjourned until Monday at 10 o'clock A. M.

Mr. E. It is printed in three colors and in a very attractive style, and costs but seventy-five cents. It is an easily comprehended key to the geographical position and a reliable guide, whatever shall be the issue of the present unsettled condition of affairs, in tracing the events of the Eastern complications.

The entertainment advertised for Tuesday and Wednesday evenings at the Temple under the auspices of the Odd Fellows of this city, will be one of the rarest and most enjoyable treats heard here for a long time. Of William H. Barnes, we clip the following notice from the Cleveland (Ohio) Plaindealer. "Mr. Barnes, who has been popularly regarded as an improvement upon Gough, was most happy in every effort. He has an agreeable manner and voice for his preluding lecture, and a most wonderful scope of musical powers in his singing efforts. His imitation, recitations, and in fine everything he represented, was applauded to the very echo." The committee in charge guarantee perfect satisfaction, else a return of the admission fee to every dissatisfied person.

The vote of several towns in York county, Me., was as follows: Kittery—Hayes 435, Tilden 207; Eliot—Hayes 188, Tilden 183; Acton—Hayes 135, Tilden 69; Alfred—Hayes 146, Tilden 115; Kennebunk—Hayes 333, Tilden 199; Limerick—Hayes 164, Tilden 137; North Berwick—Hayes 207, Tilden 173, South Berwick—Hayes 241, Tilden 271.

Secretary Robeson is not likely to become Senator from New Jersey. The democrats have one majority in the legislature.

Gov. Hayes said on Friday: "I don't give it up, although things do not look as bright as they might; but we may still pull through by that one important vote."

The White Leaguers destroyed several ballot boxes containing 1400 votes in Madison County, Louisiana, but not until the official count had been made from all the boxes. The republican majority in the parish is 2150.

Hon. Jerome B. Chaffee has been unanimously nominated as a candidate for United States Senator, by a caucus of the republican members of the Colorado Legislature. The election takes place on Thursday.

News and Notes.

The Boston Globe of Saturday, not satisfied with the disgusting uncertainty of the election returns, in an editorial on the cat propounds the soul-harrowing conundrum, "Is the cat immortal?"

The Canadians, fearful of another Fenian raid, are looking after the efficiency of their volunteer forces.

A London dispatch says "Russia has officially notified the powers of its acceptance of the English basis for a conference on the Eastern question, and the maintenance of the integrity of Turkey, Russia renouncing any intention of aggrandizement or annexation. It is expected that the Conference will begin its session in about a fortnight." A St. Petersburg despatch says "General Ignatieff has been instructed to propose to the Turkish Government the ultimatum of Russia on the subject of autonomy in the provinces. Should the other powers fail to co-operate with Russia that power will act alone."

The Centennial Exposition was formally closed on the 10th, by President Grant. It will be kept open for visitors for ten days longer, however, and there will be more there to see than can be inspected, as the goods cannot be removed in a hurry.

It appears from all accounts that the cod fishery in the gulf of St. Lawrence is very unsatisfactory, this year, the catch being two-fifths below the average, and the smallest known for thirty years.

Of the first class hotels of Boston there are none that enjoy a larger patronage from the mercantile community and the better classes of travellers than the "American." Many of the oldest and best families of the great cities always make their home at this house when visiting or passing through the modern Athens.

There were 176,755 admissions to the Centennial Exhibition on Thursday.

U. S. S. Franklin has arrived at St. Thomas, West Indies. It is consoling to be able to report that Boss Tweed is all right.

There is an old political saw to the effect that you cannot tell who is Governor until after election. It appears that you cannot tell who is President even then.—Worcester Gazette.

If the democratic vote were only equal to the party's "claims" Tilden would have at least two-thirds of the Electoral College. The leaders claimed Wisconsin, New Hampshire, Illinois, California, and even Ohio and Pennsylvania, but the votes are all in the Hayes column.—N. Y. Tribune.

The Charleston riot on the day after election, in which one white and one colored man were reported killed, turns out to have been a much more serious affair. Senator Patterson says thirty or forty were killed on each side, and charges the instigation of the riot to democrats. He says the colored people had not interfered with the democrats throughout the entire day, when the latter had been shouting for Tilden, but upon the reception of the first despatch stating that Hayes was possibly elected, the democrats began their fire. The colored men after exhausting their small arms retired to their houses and obtained guns, then formed in regular line of battle 1200 strong and drove the White Liners with their rifles, who also formed in line of battle, for two entire blocks. The U. S. troops came up behind the rifle clubs, when the latter opened their ranks and allowed the troops to come between them and the negroes. The latter then ceased firing. The whites made urgent appeals to the troops for protection. Indeed, the white democrats requested that troops be stationed at the polls in some of the coast counties, which the republicans in no instance did. The only troops at the polls in South Carolina were there at the request of the democrats.

PILOT BREAD.

This kind of bread having come into extensive family use, it has been my purpose to furnish, from choice materials, an article which should meet the approval of the most fastidious as to neatness, looks and taste. Whether I have succeeded in giving to the public a PILOT BREAD,

SUPERIOR IN EXCELLENCE,

the consumer may be the judge; that the quality will not be suffered to depreciate, the past with the present is my best pledge. That I can compete with all the various qualities of Pilot Bread in the market, as to price, I make no pretensions,—but in price, all things being equal, I fear no competition.

LITTLE GIANT!

This Trade Mark is a guarantee that the medicine is genuine. Without it the Pills are a fraud and a cheat—when it is represented by any dealer that he is selling the LITTLE GIANT PILLS, which have effected such wonderful cures in Portsmouth.

This medicine has been prepared with the greatest care of the choicest ingredients for the cure of Sick Headache and Bilious Disorders. Its success has been very surprising, as the many certificates of well-known citizens testify.

Parties in Portsmouth, well knowing this, are offering some other Pills, pretending that they are the same. GEO. E. HANSON, 41 Congress Street, is the Agent in Portsmouth who can produce the genuine Pills, put up in square boxes with the Trade Mark upon each box. Any one who has bought any other, supposing they have bought these, has been imposed upon, and had better go back and get his money and buy a reliable medicine of the authorized agent.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

No. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity for a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them as early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART."

The Cariboo King.

The homely but true old adage, "Easy come, easy go," was never better exemplified than in the career and end of William Abbott, the king of the Cariboo gold mines, whose death was lately announced from Victoria, British Columbia. Abbott was one of a company who struck rich pay on Williams Creek in 1861, arriving at Victoria with 300 pounds of gold in the fall of that year. He was the "lion" of the winter of 1862, and spent his gold lavishly with the coarsest, most foolish and wasteful ostentation. Not satisfied with gratifying every whim of his fancy, he destroyed and threw away large sums of money. On one occasion he entered a saloon and shied a handful of $20 pieces at a large plateglass mirror behind the bar, shattering it. When reproached by the bar-keeper, he requested him to keep the gold for the damage. At another time he and a boon companion astonished the populace of Victoria by throwing $20 gold pieces at each other until stopped by the police. On his return to Cariboo, Abbott's good fortune continued, and he has been known to stake $10,000 on a hand at poker. After two or three years' prosperity, accompanied by similar wicked wastefulness, he reached the bottom of his claim and his purse, and like many another vulgar and ill-balanced man who has suddenly become rich by accident, he died miserably poor, even lacking the simple comforts of life at the last.

—"Had you, sir," said Erskine to a dilatory carpenter, "been there to build the ark, we should not have had the flood yet."

—The Silver City Times scolds the Virginia City papers for using the expression, "Hit over the head." It says: "It is quite ungrammatical, illogical, and nonsensical. One can never receive an injury over the head, inasmuch as there is no part of one over the summit of the crown." The Gold Hill News resents the criticism as senseless and impudent, and calls to the stand its fighting editor, who testifies with great gravity that he once hit a man over the head with a fence rail; that the rail crushed the hat, but did not touch the head; that the owner of the hat lay insensible for an hour or two and had a terrible headache the next day.

—The Newark Courier tells how a Mr. and Mrs. Edwards, from Connecticut, lost their money at the United States Hotel while on a visit to the Centennial. Mrs. Edwards, without informing her husband, placed her money, $110, in one of her shoes. In the morning he, in blissful ignorance of the contents of the shoe, took the pair down stairs to the bootblack to polish. A bellboy named Henry Williams received the shoes and took them to the bootblack. Soon afterward the dutiful husband entered his wife's room with smiling face, carrying her shoes, now neatly polished, in his hand. The lady's exclamation was decidedly spirited. Williams and the bootblack were both arrested, but the money was not found upon them.

—The arms and accoutrements of officers of the French army are undergoing modification. A stout rapier is recommended. It is urged that the sword-belt should be worn underneath instead of over the tunic. In summer the looser garment would be cooler than the tight fitting, and in winter a woolen or other waistcoat could be worn beneath it. Also that the blade of the sword should be bronzed. Both the barrel and the bayonet of the new pattern rifle are so treated, in order that the sunlight glancing from bright metal may not betray to the enemy the position or movements of any body of troops. An improved officer's knapsack is thus described: The bag is of varnished leather, and can be carried either as a knapsack, or slung over the shoulder, the same straps being used for both purposes. It is divided into four compartments, one holding a small lamp, another to contain bread or biscuit, a third to carry a provision box, which, dividing, also forms two plates, while the fourth is appropriated to a goblet, which serves either as a glass or cup. There remains besides room for a small kit, while the flap of the bag is fitted to carry writing materials, a map, and compass.

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS!

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I send the money.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 21st of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and twenty-six pounds. I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 16, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take great pleasure in giving you my mind so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been an free from the Rheumatism and pain for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story I am. But remember I am not giving them the praise they ought to have. Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, 75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I used I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been travelling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applicants already for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrell, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins County, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy, and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who meet them. Please send three packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS are put up only by the AMERICAN MEDICINE CO., Manchester, N. H., THOMAS W. LANE, Agent.

PULOMCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative as could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before it was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England,

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

ARMSTRONG'S LINCOLN BUTTER POWDER.
Good Fresh Butter All The Year Round. BUTTER IN 20 MINUTES.
Lincoln Butter Powder is an entirely harmless article made from a celebrated English recipe, and now in daily use by many of the most noted farmers in the butter counties around Philadelphia.
In hot weather this Powder makes butter much firmer and sweeter than it usually is, and keeps it from turning rancid. It also removes the strong flavor of turnips, weeds, corn stalks, cotton seed, etc.; and the increased yield of butter much more than pays the trifling expense of using it.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

The U. S. S. Ossipee in a Cyclone.

A correspondent of the Baltimore American, who was on board the Ossipee when she encountered a terrific storm, gives a graphic account of the affair. The storm began on the afternoon of the 19th ult., the vessel at that time being in the Gulf Stream, about twenty miles east and south of Cape Canaveral light. During the progress of the storm the heavy seas which came over the deck tore away hammock nettings, sails, smashed the boats, and stove in the cabin bulkhead and door, carried the four men away from the wheel, flooded the cabin and quarter deck to the depth of three feet, tossing the officers and men about like rubber balls, and destroying the furniture and woodwork generally. Returning as the ship lurched, it carried away heavy bulkheads with a force of many tons, and finally went to sea again, over the port side, by knocking out the heavy ports of the pivot gun and smashing the launch that was stowed away on the port rail. One sea came entirely over the ship, and lighting in the launch tore it completely from its fastenings, smashed it like an egg shell, and took it off to sea. At about half-past nine o'clock A. M. the storm had reached its fiercest force and fury. The barometer was down to 28.82, and the noise of the rushing wind was so great that it was impossible to hear the human voice unless the mouth of the speaker was placed close to the ear of the hearer. Sight was equally impossible, except to leeward, for the air was loaded with small globules of seawater, which struck the face and eyes and any exposed part with the fierceness and sting of myriad bees. The men in getting about the decks to attend to their duties were thrown violently from their feet, and blinded by the salt spray, were obliged to go groping about as if they were in total darkness. They could only stick to their stations by the most desperate struggling against the hatches, gratings, doors, deck buckets and many other articles that were being swept back and forth across the decks by the rushing of the water as the ship rolled and tossed. Breathing was difficult, and the air taken into the lungs was so loaded with sea salts that it caused excessive irritation, producing violent coughing and vomiting. The suffering of the men was most intense, especially among the firemen and coal heavers, who were not only deprived of ventilation, but obliged to inhale the salt water steam produced by the seas rushing into the fire room. As soon as the wind had ceased the seas commenced lifting up their huge backs in long rolling high masses of tremendous size, which seemed to roll from nowhere in particular, and were going and coming everywhere. They piled themselves over and against each other in a strangely confused manner that caused the ship to pitch and roll so fearfully that it was nearly impossible to keep one's footing. Riding on the backs of those huge billows were smaller seas, white crested and cone shaped, that would leap up towards the clouds, topple over and disappear and give place to others, which seemed to be thrown out from the interior of the long seas with volcanic force. Thus, as far as the eye could reach, in all directions about the horizon, this dance of the waves, this Titanic can-can went on—sea piling on sea, like Pelion upon Ossa. Sometimes one of these huge seas would come thundering down, bearing its back load of smaller waves in such force as to threaten destruction. On one occasion three of these "riders" were upset so near the ship that their tops came tumbling on board from three directions at once, one over either bow and one over the poop. The ship trembled and creaked and stopped rolling for a moment, and seemed to shake herself free from this grasp of the waves, and slowly surged ahead again from the impulse of the engines. The sky during this time presented a no less ominous appearance than did the sea. Banks of ashen-hued clouds lay along the horizon, while overhead broken scuds sped across the zenith from different directions, but principally from the north. A heavy rumbling sound would occasionally come from somewhere, like the distant roar of an earthquake. The barometer continued stationary at 28.82, with frequent but slight oscillations. All these indications convinced the most skeptical that we had passed through one hemisphere of a cyclone, and were then in its vortex or centre. At about fifteen minutes of noon a little puff of wind and rain came from the north. The barometer rose two-tenths of an inch, but immediately fell back again.

Within five minutes of the commencement of the second attack, the cyclone had us again in its powerful grasp. For the space of two hours and forty-two minutes the storm was more fearful than in the morning, and in ten minutes the wind had completely flattened out the "riding seas," and was exerting such a heavy pressure upon the "rollers" that they could do but little mischief. The voice of the wind was pitched in a fearful key, in several fearful keys, no two of which were in harmony, like that of a thousand women shrieking in terrors of a nightmare, combined with a metallic cracking vibration like the highest notes of a calliope and steam fog whistle. The sufferings of the sailors were repeated and intensified, as was the moral effect upon everybody else. The sheets and storm staysails were carried away with a report like that of a cannon almost as soon as they were set. The ship was held down to leeward and pressed into the water by the force of the wind. The seas made clean sweeps over both bulwarks. The fires were extinguished in the lee furnaces. The fore and main top-gallant masts were snapped off like clay pipe stems, and all sorts of debris was thrashing about the deck. At twenty minutes past one the barometer commenced to rise steadily, though very slowly, and at two o'clock the fiercest of the wind began to come in gusts, with intervals of lesser violence, which intervals became longer till three o'clock, from which time till midnight it gradually eased off to a steady blow from the northwest.

Thus ended the most violent storm it was ever my lot to experience, and I have met cyclones, and typhoons, and borers, and pamperos, and all sorts of storms in nearly all seas. This one lasted but twenty-six hours.

Wendell Phillips Hits the Bullseye.

On Sunday evening Parker-Memorial hall in Boston was crowded with an attentive audience, to hear the famous orator of Massachusetts give his idea as to "The Meaning of the Presidential Election." In the course of his remarks Mr. Phillips said:

"If Tilden is really the next President he ought to thank first of all the Boston and New York papers so-called republican. They have made it possible that the natural order of things can be reversed, and have perhaps gained a victory for the country's foes at a time when all history indicated that the Government should be kept in the hands of the men who saved it. I say this for this reason. The republican journals of the North have been credulous in the extreme in regard to every piece of gossip against their own leaders. No tale was so improbable that, once started, these journals would not give it wind, if not full credence. Thus they fouled their own nests, frittered away the cohesion which held the once strong party together till it became a mere mob. On the other hand, these papers were most astonishingly incredulous at every tale which came from the South disclosing its real condition. No matter how complete the evidence, how fair the record, how overwhelming the testimony, until the 1st of September you could hardly get a hearing in any republican columns for a true statement of affairs at the South."

New Hampshire's Vote.

In the intense excitement of "waiting for the returns" of the Presidential contest, the vote of New Hampshire has less attention than it is entitled to. For years the democrats had maintained that there was a legitimate democratic majority in the State, and that republican victories were won only by fraud and the improper use of money, aided by the powerful "influence of the navy yard." There is not even a pretence that the republicans had any money to use in the late State campaign; indeed, New Hampshire was placed in either the "doubtful" or "sure for Tilden" column by the democrats before the election, for the avowed reasons that the republicans had no money and no "navy yard influence" to aid them. The democratic canvass was fully equal to that of the republicans; there was quite as much money forthcoming to pay for uniforms and torches and rallies on the democratic as on the republican side; and the democratic leaders and masses appeared quite as confident as did the republicans. Yet the republican majority is three thousand, the vote of the State exceeding 80,000,—one of the heaviest ever cast in the State. The Lake Village Times very sensibly remarks:

In the overweening interest centreing upon the "general result," we need not lose sight of our magnificent victory in New Hampshire. The enemy saw fit to rank ours as a "doubtful State." They made a desperate struggle for its capture. It has been a square, stand-up fight, and victory perches upon our banners. We gave to Hayes and Wheeler a majority of 3,100, which was glory enough in one day for the New Hampshire republicans. It settles the political status of New Hampshire for years to come. New Hampshire is a republican State, and let it be our duty to keep her in right column in the continuation of the same old fight which we so fondly but mistakenly hoped was ended at Appomattox.

The National Election.

The inflationists concede the defeat of Peter Cooper.

There is nothing new in the political situation. Both parties claim the "doubtful" States, but the democrats are making threats concerning what they will do unless those States are given to Tilden, which looks as though they were satisfied the ballot-box had given them to Hayes. The prospect looks brighter for the election of Hayes and Wheeler than at any time hitherto.

Secretary Chandler has received two despatches from Florida which contain renewed assurances that the republicans have carried both the State and National tickets. One is from Gov. Stearns himself, the other from Hon. Wm. E. Chandler of New Hampshire. Both are dated Tallahassee, Monday morning, and both are positive of republican victory.

Pinchback telegraphs that the official vote is necessary to determine which party carries Louisiana.

M. Martin, Chairman of the Republican State Committee at Tallahassee, Florida, telegraphs as follows: The reported net republican majority in twenty-five counties heard from is about 5000. The remaining fourteen counties gave in 1872 about 2000 democratic majority, and cannot possibly overcome the republican majorities already ascertained, except by large democratic frauds.

The New York Herald gives its Democratic readers this excellent advice: "We advise our democratic friends to keep cool. They made a mistake in 1861 which has cost them and the country very dear. If they should make another mistake of the kind it will cost them very much dearer. The country means that there shall be fair play, but it does not mean to stand any nonsense."

Gov. Chamberlain of South Carolina telegraphs the following to the Herald: The counties officially reported since last night increase Hayes's vote over all the former reports or estimates. No doubt is now felt by republicans, and I think by democrats, that Hayes has carried the State, upon the face of the official returns, by a majority of not less, probably, than 3000. The changes also favor the success of the republican State ticket, and the republicans now regard the election as secure.

Extensive democratic frauds in New York and North Carolina are being exposed.

The South Carolina rifle clubs threaten a raid on Charleston on Thursday of this week for the purpose of intimidating the Board of State Canvassers.

One of the North Carolina Democratic papers already throws out the suggestion that "the proper course for Northerners to take is northward."

A New York despatch says: Wallace, Marshal of Charleston, denies having conceded South Carolina. Hampton may be elected but Hayes has the electoral vote.

Gov. Chamberlain's secretary telegraphs: Officials have received returns from 18 out of 32 counties, and estimates of parties differ widely. The republicans expect from five to six thousand for Hayes, and four to five thousand on the State ticket.

The chairman of the republican committee of Florida telegraphs that the republican majority will reach 3000 sure, allowing every democratic claim. Enough democratic fraud cannot be expected to change the result by Wednesday. The democrats had already conceded the State, but Abe Hewitt's New York despatch was taken as a request to commit fraud or do anything to elect Tilden.

Gov. Hayes sends a message, saying: I believe I am elected.

The South Carolina returning board met on Monday, and voted to commence canvassing the votes for electors on the 16th.

Kellogg writes from New Orleans, saying: "My first despatches of Wednesday and Thursday last must stand. I claimed the State then. I prove now that the republicans have carried it, and the returning board begins to count to-morrow. Pay no attention to betting men or demagogues."

Political.

The majority of William R. Shelton, democratic candidate for mayor of New Haven, is 436. He is the man who put out electioneering arguments in the shape of little tickets marked "Good for One Drink. W. R. S."

That able paper, the St. John (N. B.) Globe, thinks it will not make much difference to Canada whether Hayes or Tilden will be President of the United States.

"Burleigh" writes from New York to the Boston Journal as follows: "The Catholics took the field as Catholics in Brooklyn. I have before me a handbill, issued under Catholic authority and sent to the Catholic voters of the city. The one I have was sent to a gentleman supposed to be a Catholic. His wife was of that faith, but he was not. The sheet is a white one, embossed with the Cardinal's coat of arms; crosses under this, and under that a running line, reading; 'Catholic first, citizen next. Bishop Gilman.' The circular is filled up with advice to Catholics to make their influence felt, and the name of every candidate for office who is a Catholic was printed plainly on the circular. Of course the Tilden electors are not omitted. Our people are quite sensitive on the subject of the tampering with our public schools, turning the Bible out of some, and Protesant teachers out of others. When this matter comes into politics, as it certainly will come, this direct interference of the Catholic priests with the great national election will surely be remembered, and, like chickens, will come home to roost."

John B. Gordon, a well-known drover of Bristol, was thrown from his carriage Friday evening in New Hampton, and sustained a bad fracture of the bone in his right ankle.

O. F. Searles, Jr., who has been at Philadelphia for several weeks, wrote to his friends in Nashua to expect him home on the 7th, and as he has not yet arrived his family is anxious about him.

Johnnie's Dreadful Punishment.

Johnnie had been naughty. It's astonishing how naughty two year-old babies can be when they try; and Johnnie had tried. His blue eyes didn't look as blue as usual, and his hair wasn't as golden, and instead of a bright smile a cunning—oh! dear, what am I saying?—an ugly pout rested on his pretty little mouth. There he stood in the middle of the floor, baby fists on baby hips, feet very wide apart, the sweetest—I mean the mightiest—wee rebel that ever defied mamma. Just think of it, only two years old, and defying mamma! "Will you be good?" asked mamma sternly. "No, mamma!" replied Johnnie. Mamma opened her eyes—they were not as blue as Johnnie's—very wide. "You won't?" said she. "No, ma'am," repeated Johnnie. "Then," said she, solemnly, "You must be punished. Go into the store-room and stay in there until you can say 'Yes, ma'am.'" Johnnie went, and mamma closed the door, expecting to hear the wished-for "Yes" shouted forth instantly. But, to her great surprise, she heard not a word or cry. Five minutes passed; utter silence. Ten minutes went by; not the slightest sound; and mamma began to grow impatient—for, after the manner of mammas, she was longing to kiss and forgive her boy. "Oh! the blessed darling," she said to herself, as the twelfth minute passed away; "the punishment is too dreadful for him. How could I have been so hard-hearted? To shut a merry little thing like that in a dark place; a baby, that should never be out of sunshine except when he's asleep; it's too bad." And she flew to open the closet door. "John," as his father calls him, looked up at her, his whole face sparkling with fun. The blue had come back to his eyes and the gold to his hair and the smile to his lips. In his chubby hand he held the last piece of what, just fourteen minutes before, had been a fine, brown, fragrant, fresh-baked loaf of cake. Crumbs covered his face from chin to eyes, his cheeks shone, and sundry crisp fragments clung to his neck and bib. "Good gracious!" said his mamma. "Dood take!" said Johnnie.—Baldwin Monthly.

The Influence of Malaria Counteracted.

That the harmful influence upon the human system of malaria may be effectually counteracted has been demonstrated for years past by the protection afforded the inhabitants of vast miasma-breeding districts in North and South America, Guatemala, Mexico and the West Indies, by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Used as a preventive, they have invariably been found to be a most reliable safeguard against chills and fever, bilious remittents, and still more malignant types of malarious disease, and when employed as a remedy have always proved their adequacy to the task of eradicating such maladies from the system. For disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, which in hot climates and miasmatic localities are particularly rife, the Bitters are a prompt and thorough remedy. They also strengthen the system, tranquilize the nerves, promote digestion and sound sleep, and impart unwonted relish for food.

The Word "Sozodont."

Which is fast becoming a household word, is derived from the Greek, and composed of two words, "Sozo" translated, means to preserve, and "dontes" the teeth—"Sozodont," a preserver of the teeth. And it is true to its name. For beautifying and preserving the teeth, hardening and invigorating the gums, and correcting all impurities of the breath, it is without a peer in the world.

SUPREME COURT.

Monday, November 13th.

George B. Griffin vs. town of Auburn, for injuries received in August, 1873, caused, as alleged, by a defect in the highway in Auburn, was called. This case was entered at the January term, 1874, of the late Supreme Judicial Court, and at the October term in that year was referred to Hon. Isaac W. Smith of Manchester, who, at the October term, in 1875, filed his report awarding the plaintiff six hundred dollars damages, whereupon the town of Auburn elected a jury trial and the case now comes on for trial. The plaintiff alleges that he was badly injured by being thrown from his wagon, his horse having become unmanageable by reason of a wheel of the wagon striking a tree by the side of the traveled path. The theory of the defense is that the tree was not near the road and that Griffin's team was out of the road. Clark, Cross and Hiland for the prosecution; Briggs, Little and Hatch for the defense. The jury will view the premises.

POLICE COURT.

Monday, November 13th.

Charles Newell, drunk, fine and costs $9.90.

Martin Brown, drunk, $9.90. Martin Brown, tramp, four months at Brentwood, costs $6.90.

James Ferris, James Hall, John Clark, Thomas Fitzpatrick, Charles Crafts, John Sullivan, James Bafford, Christopher Martin and Michael Monday, tramps, were all sent to Brentwood for six months, costs in each case being taxed at $6.90.

Patrick Doyle was complained of for having been drunk, but the complaint was placed on file to see if Patrick would leave town within twenty-four hours. He announced that he would do that same in five minutes, and on being released started off at a rate that promised to carry him beyond the city limits within the specified time.

JOTTINGS.

Mr. M. Bird, a native of Florida now in this city, is quite confident that the State is all right.

In another column will be found the advertisement of the "Independent Course of Lectures," the first of which will be given at the Temple on Thursday evening, by Prof. E. Warren Clark, late of the Imperial University at Tokio, Japan; subject, "Four Years in Japan." Reserved seats can now be procured at Preston's, thirty-five cents each; admission tickets, twenty-five cents.

To-day the sale of tickets to "Esther" commences. Secure a good seat. Superb costumes have been procured from Boston, and the people are assured that the entertainment will be satisfactory in every particular.

Mr. Calvin Staples of Eliot, who was for several days missing, has turned up all right, having been on a visit to Boston, going there without leaving any intimation of such intentions.

We don't know whether the democrats are now satisfied that Portsmouth is a republican city on a fair vote, or not. We have been so long accustomed to hear the shout of "money and navy yard" after each republican victory in this city, that its absence this time is quite striking. The democracy do not pretend that the republicans made any improper use of money, or had any to use; and not even the vivid imagination of 'Squire Hatch could conjure up a vision of "crowds of navy yard workmen marched to the polls to vote, with bosses in front and rear and at each side," at this election. Yet the city went republican.

Concerning Mr. Wm. H. Barnes, who appears at the Temple this evening in the first of his grand drawing-room entertainments, the Washington Republican says: "He is a genius—a live, comic, serio-comic, sentimental, and tragical genius—a whole company of artists in and of himself. His entertainment is equal to an evening with Mark Twain, John B. Gough, John E. Owens, and Offenbach combined." The Clinton (Mass.) Courant says: "He entertained the audience beyond all expectation for two hours; his elocution is fine, his songs were beautiful and apt, and his genius cannot be beat by any lecturer of the present age." The Utica (N. Y.) Herald "recommends Barnes as an antidote against the wrinkles consequent on blue Mondays and protested notes." Go and see him.

GIVE THEM JAIL FARE.

The long list of tramps sent to Brentwood on Monday suggests to us to ask if it would not tend to diminish the constantly-growing tramp nuisance if the fellows committed to the County House were put on prison fare, instead of receiving the same food and treatment as the simply unfortunate poor? It is right that those who from feebleness of body or mind, or old age, are unable to support themselves, and who have no friends able and willing to care for them, should be kindly treated and furnished with an abundance of good, wholesome food, at the public expense; and a moderate expenditure for luxuries, even, for their use, would not be apt to call forth any decided reprobation from humane men. But it is a shame and an outrage to put worthless vagabonds on a level with the unfortunate poor—to feed all at the same table. The great majority of the army of tramps are able-bodied men, who can work if they would, but won't; who prefer to roam about the country during the warm season, begging and stealing for a living until winter comes, and then take refuge in some comfortable public institution where food is plenty and work scarce, and wait the advent of warm weather again to make another start. The feeding of these worse than useless bummers has been a serious tax upon the county in winters past,—a tax not likely to be lessened by sending them to Brentwood to eat pauper's fare; but if they were placed upon prison diet, as they should be, it would have a tendency to make them give us the only thing of value they possess—their room, which is infinitely preferable to their company. Give them jail fare.

News and Notes.

Matters at St. Petersburg look warlike.

Schooner Early Bird, from St. Domingo for Boston, arrived at Port au Prince Nov. 3d in charge of the chief officer of brig Oliver Cutts, picked up abandoned and in good condition, except the loss of main boom and fore gaff spliced.

A passenger train of the New York and Philadelphia line ran thro' the Central New Jersey Railroad station at Communipaw on Saturday, and plunged into the river. No one was killed, but several persons were slightly injured.

Barque Waldo, of Boston, grain laden, has been abandoned at sea. Loss $25,000; all hands saved.

William R. Piper, of Boston, has been arrested for receiving 5000 lbs. coffee, 3000 lbs. nutmegs, 250 boxes of sardines and two barrels of sugar, the whole valued at $1425, from one Glover, a clerk for Silas Peirce & Co., wholesale grocers, Piper knowing that Glover had stolen the goods. Nearly 3000 lbs. of the coffee was recovered. Glover has escaped.

Ship United States, of Newburyport, with 1700 tons coal from Liverpool for San Francisco, has been burned off Cape Horn by spontaneous combustion. Crew saved.

Three men were seriously injured on Saturday by an explosion of fire damp in an ochre mine at Brandon, Vt. They were all badly burned, but it is believed not dangerously.

A despatch from Cairo says that the Egyptian Minister of Finance was exiled to Dongola, and died while going to that place, the alleged cause of his death being an excess of drinking.

The Czar has made a speech in which he said that every means consistent with honor would be tried to bring about a peaceful solution of the Servian troubles; failing in which Russia will act alone, if need be, to protect the Scalvonic races from Mahomedan tyranny.

G. Foster and wife, and an unknown man, started from Omaha to go to some point down the river, in two skiffs lashed side by side. When some miles above Iatan, Kansas, the craft was overturned at night by a snag, the stranger was drowned and Mr. Foster rendered insensible; but Mrs. Foster managed to hold on to the boat with one hand and keep her husband's head above water with the other until they were rescued, four hours after the accident, by a man who heard the woman's cries for help. Mr. Foster was restored to animation after several hours' exertion, and with his wife forwarded to Forest City to their friends.

One of the boys in the High School at Woonsocket, R. I., drew a revolver Friday and threatened to shoot his teacher.

The coroner's jury in the murder case at Bucksport, Me., returned a verdict that Melissa Thayer came to her death at the hands of Edward M. Smith, and that the buildings were burned, and Trim and the little girl, Josie Thayer, killed by parties unknown.

—"What do you know of the defendant, Mr. Thompson? Do you consider him a good musician?" "On that point I wish to swear with great care. I do not wish to insinuate that Mr. Vasslopes is not a good musician—not at all! But I could not help observing (people will observe very queer things at times) that, after he commenced playing on the clarionet, a saw-filer, who lived next door, left home, and has not yet been heard of."

—The little daughter of an earnest Connecticut republican took him a copy of the Hartford Times Wednesday evening and wanted him to explain the picture of one rooster chasing another. The father told her to take the paper away; that he was sick, and didn't want to hear anything more about elections. "But, papa," said the young hopeful, "the republican rooster is ahead!"

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON,

Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,

Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases and at very reasonable charges.

Coal Ships and Spontaneous Combustion.

The coals with which a vessel called the San Rafael was bound from Liverpool to Valparaiso not long ago burst into spontaneous combustion off Cape Horn, where eleven of the crew, after great privations and suffering in two of her boats, were picked up by a passing vessel—the remains of the other eight, and a woman, having but recently been discovered by some hunters on a desert island near the Horn, where they had perished of starvation. The terrible catastrophes consequent on the spontaneous combustion of coal are of far more frequent occurrence than the general public is aware of, and are most common in cargoes of over five hundred tons bound on long sea voyages. Of the 31,126 shipments of coal to foreign ports in 1874, 1,181 in number were lost, and more than five-sevenths of all the fires, it is said, occurred on board coal vessels for Asiatic, Pacific, or other distant shores and in all cases in the vessels best ventilated. The immediate cause of this effect is the oxidation of the coal, which is materially facilitated by moisture, and fed, so to say, upon air. On one occasion three or four ships, laden each with from 1,500 to 2,000 tons of coal at Newcastle for Aden, were well ventilated, and one bound for Bombay, which had been laden, and sailed at the same time, was not. Of these, the last alone reached her destination, the three others having perished through spontaneous combustion by the way. The moral to be drawn from these facts of course is, that when laden with coals the hatches should be hermetically sealed during the voyage, and the ship kept always pumped dry; but there is another and far surer precaution, which, as it strikes the root of the whole evil, it would be better to have taken at first. Chemists say that the iron pyrites, or admixture of iron and sulphur with coal, are the direct cause of combustion. Now, prior to the advent of school boards, boys were employed at the chutes and mines to pick these pyrites out; at present, however, such boys are—where, on the whole, it is better boys should be—at school; and the consequence is that the pyrites remain, and, being shipped off on long voyages, have, as the Scientific American points out, conduced most materially to increase the numbers of such dreadful catastrophes as are ships on fire at sea.—Land and Water.

—A lady was complaining of her husband's stupidity. "But you knew when you married him that he was not clever?" remarked a lady friend. "Alas! no," replied the afflicted wife. "Were you not acquainted with him before the ceremony?" "Yes; but nobody had told me that he was a fool."

—Up in Snyder County, N. Y., they have a panorama of the Holy Land, which is enlivened by sparring matches, conducted by two eminent bruisers between the scenes. A few evenings ago the pugilistic contest became unnecessarily warm, and was prolonged to such an extent that the boy at the crank became disgusted and turned on the next picture, just as the ninth round was about to conclude. The consequence was that one of the combatants was knocked clear through the ruins of Solomon's Temple, and took refuge behind the Sea of Galilee just as his adversary kicked his hoof through that sheet of water. The panorama is now closed for repairs.

—A married couple living on Elizabeth street, do not always agree, and when the thunder-cloud looms up the husband goes off on a spree and remains away from home for several days at a time. The wife gets over her madness and seeks to bring him back, but he pays no heed to messengers or the warnings of the police. Yesterday morning, after he had been absent three days, taking up quarters at a hotel, the wife hung crape on the doorknob. He heard about the crape and returned home, supposing that his wife had committed suicide. There was a "scene" in that house, and he was heard to remark: "Well, I say it's a mean trick to make fun of such a solemn thing as death!"—Detroit Free Press.

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 8th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I have taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty; but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise, so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story and not truthful, but remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; that I advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I intending to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrell, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 26, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

PULOMCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative as could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before e was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lungs trying climate of New England!

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy elief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

ARMSTRONG'S LINCOLN BUTTER POWDER.

Good Fresh Butter All The Year Round.

BUTTER IN 20 MINUTES.

Lincoln Butter Powder is an entirely harmless article made from a celebrated English recipe, and now in daily use by many of the most noted farmers in the butter countries around Philadelphia.

In not two months hence this Powder makes butter much firmer and sweeter than it usually is, and keeps it from turning rancid. It also removes the strong flavor of turnips, weeds, corn stalks, cotton seed, etc.; and the increased yield of butter much more than pays the trifling expense of using it.

Political Mass Meetings.

The celebrated tourist from New Zealand would probably be chiefly impressed by the real self-restraint and good nature of our great political meetings. Hogarth's pictures and the English memoirs show a kind of brutality at the British hustings which is unknown among us. The rioting, the brickbats, the disorder and terror, which attended an old English election have had little parallel in this country. There have, indeed, been election riots, but very few and exceptional. We naturally find the explanation in our system. The universality of the suffrage gives every man a sense of responsibility and importance which is essentially conservative. In England, the mob that chaired the member was not a mob of the voters. In a population of eight millions a hundred years ago there were but a hundred and sixty thousand voters in England. It is a favorite fancy of clubs, and one which comes in with the old Madeira after dinner, that general suffrage is the source of all our woes. But the practical question is not so much what we might have been without it, as what we shall do with it now that we have it. Garland says in his Life of John Randolph that that wayward character cherished fond dreams of a patriarchal society as the best of all—a society in which a baron lived in a fine castle, surrounded by swarms of happy dependants, whom he guided and befriended, and who looked up to him as their protector. Many other Americans besides John Randolph have dreamed the same dream. The fancy lurks in that fine old Madeira. But, in that Arcadia, Randolph always means to be the baron, and not one of the happy dependents. It is like Disraeli's picture of the political ideal of "Young England" in Coningsby and Sybil. In other years the Easy Chair has heard from the lips of an accomplished college president the same glowing praises of a political and social system of superiors and inferiors. But the implication was the same. The painters and the poets of that visionary realm always reserve the best places for themselves.

When we consider the intense and profound excitement of such a summer and autumn as those just ended, the passionate appeals to prejudice and political hostility, the natural personal rivalries and jealousies, with the general irresponsibility of declamation among a fluent people, arising from a half admission that all is fair in politics, and above all these the sincere conviction of so many honest thousands that the prosperity and progress, if not the actual existence, of the nation are at hazard, the tranquility of the election itself and the prompt acquiescence in the result are very agreeable facts. They are certainly significant signs of the peculiar "capacity of this people for self-government," whatever may be true of other people.—Harper's for December.

A Prison Story.

A pleasant prison story comes from Missouri, where, it appears, a prisoner in the Missouri penitentiary, too weak to work, and who had the run of the yard, one day asked the warden if he could be allowed to cultivate a small corner in the enclosure. "What do you want to raise?" "Cucumbers, sir." "Why, you can't raise them here, the prisoners would steal them." "No, sir," said the man firmly, "they will not steal one of them." "Well, go ahead," said the warden; "If any of the cucumbers are stolen, don't come to me with your complaints." "You will never hear from me on that score, sir." The cucumbers were planted, watered, trained and cultivated, and an immense crop was the result. At last, however, as the grew, it fruit disappeared, and the warden became convinced that the owner sold it for liquor, produce or some other contraband article. He directed the man to be watched, and finally he was detected in the act of carrying his cucumbers to the hospital and giving them to the poor fellows who in their sickness craved them. Not one had been stolen.

—It will surprise most persons to hear Norway now ranks as the third maritime power on earth.

—In one of the largest and most thriving towns of Ohio a well-known hotel-keeper and politician was appointed collector of internal revenue. One morning he found on his desk a letter addressed to him officially, without postmark, containing a five-hundred dollar greenback, to which was pinned a small piece of paper with "Conscience money" written thereon. Quietly folding up the greenback and putting it in his pocket-book, he remarked, "I always did suspect that bar-keeper of mine.—Harper's for December.

—There is an anecdote about a deceased practical philanthropist, which, if not true, is remarkably well founded. Mr. Peabody, with all his prodigality on works of benevolence, looked closely after his pence. He hated nothing more than the notion of being taken in, and it was rare indeed that any trickster could make that boast. On on occasion, when traveling in Ireland, he was greatly annoyed by what seemed a very extortionate demand on the part of a car-driver, and he accordingly resented the attempt at imposition by giving the man his bare legal fare. After looking at the coin for a few seconds, Pat began to laugh. "Bedad," said he, "they may call you Mr. Paybody, but I call you Mr. Paynobody."

The Beginning of the End.

SOUTH CAROLINA REPUBLICAN.

CHARLESTON, Nov. 13.

Returns from all the counties give the State to Hayes and Hampton. The official count will elect Chamberlain.

R. M. WALLACE,
U. S. Marshal.

The National Republican Committee on Tuesday received a letter giving the vote in all counties of South Carolina, by which it appears that Hayes has 7616 majority, and Chamberlain 5229.

South Carolina elects three republicans and two democrats to Congress.

Hayes will be 1500 ahead of Chamberlain in 30 counties heard from, leaving Chamberlain's majority at about 9000 in the State.

LOUISIANA REPUBLICAN.

The Louisiana vote will be canvassed on Thursday or Friday of this week.

A New Orleans despatch of the 13th says: Avoyelles Parish, just heard from, heretofore claimed democratic, goes for Hayes and elects two republican Representatives, giving the republicans five majority on joint ballot.

New Orleans specials have the following: Republicans say that official returns now coming in show that the democrats have claimed the whole vote cast in distant parishes as majorities.

Pinchback telegraphs to the New York Herald that official returns come in slowly, but enough is known to warrant the belief that Hayes has carried Louisiana.

A telegram to Senator West, Tuesday, from a Conservative Republican in New Orleans, says returns from all parishes have been received, and that the republicans have carried the National, State and legislative tickets beyond all doubt, without throwing out the vote of intimidated parishes.

East Baton Rouge has given a republican majority of 300, yet the democrats have been claiming it by 600.

FLORIDA REPUBLICAN.

As the returns come in republicans become more confident and the democrats lose hope in Florida. They would give up the fight altogether if they were not urged continually by the Democratic National Committee and by Tilden in person to keep up a bold front at all hazards.

From Florida Stearns writes, "We are certainly safe. Conover declares that he never sent a despatch north that did not positively claim the State for the republicans. The most remarkable fact is that all messages show that Tilden has run behind the State ticket in South Carolina, one thousand; in Florida, in 17 counties, he was nearly 500 behind Drew."

The National Election.

The Albany (N. Y.) Journal says; "The democrats may be thankful they haven't the Assembly, for they haven't a member fit to be Speaker."

Field, republican, is really elected to Congress from Boston, instead of Dean, democrat.

Political.

The whole country unites in a vote of thanks to President Grant.

It should be remembered that the Tilden Bureau which is now claiming Florida, Louisiana, and South Carolina for Tilden, is the same news manufactory which carried Colorado for the democrats in October.

Colorado has been the cause of a good deal of unhappiness to the democrats. They admitted her to the Union just in time to allow her to vote for Hayes. If they had not done that Gov. Tilden would be elected now. If their foresight had been equal to their hindsight Colorado would be out in the cold to-day. It is queer, though, to see them confessing that they were given to understand that her vote would be cast for them or else they would slammed the door in her face so quickly as to make her head swim.

Election Frauds.

Nothing can be more touching than the solicitude of Tammany that there shall be "a fair count of votes" in the South. No sooner was it apparent that Tilden must have the vote of either Florida, South Carolina or Louisiana to secure his election, than Tammany—the virtuous Tammany that once cast over thirty thousand votes after the ballot-boxes were closed—hastened to send a delegation to the South to secure "a fair count" a la Tammany Hall. And in the meantime a shout is raised that "the democrats confidently claim all three of the disputed States, and their claims can only be overthrown by gross frauds in the count of votes." There was some cheap talk by a few democratic papers, at first, of what terrible things would be done by the democrats unless those States were given to Tilden; but the great majority of the really influential party organs have spoken moderately and in good temper, and the rule-or-ruin element of the democracy, which crawled out of its hole to hiss on the first appearance of democratic success, seems mostly to have crawled back again. As to election frauds,—while waiting the official returns it can do no harm to query as to what grounds the democrats have for assuming that the carrying of acknowledged republican States by the republicans must of necessity indicate fraud.

South Carolina is unquestionably a strongly republican State. This was acknowledged by the democratic press and speakers of that State, all through the compaign. "There is a large adverse majority to be overcome," said the Charleston News and Courier, the leading Tilden organ of the State. But the democrats promised to overcome this large adverse majority—by social and business proscription, (which however reprehensible is not opposed to the statute law,) and terrorism. In pursuance of the latter part of the programme the brutal massacres of Hamburg, Aiken and other places were carried out; and now the democratic cry is that their reign of terror was so effective that if it did not succeed in overcoming the "large adverse majority" the result must be due to republican frauds. It is not a pleasing picture to contemplate, —this open attempt to carry a State by violence, against the wishes of an acknowledge majority of its citizens,—and all the "centennial gush" to which we have been treated by some so-called republican papers of the North does not make it any the more pleasing. But we wholly fail to see that all the murders committed "for the good of the party" by the democratic white liners of South Carolina, justifies the northern cry that the republicans can have carried the State only by fraud.

In Louisinna there have been immense frauds, unquestionably. In East Feliciana the colored men outnumber the whites more than two to one, and in 1874, according to the democratic count, the republican vote was 1,688 to 874 for the democrats; this year the democrats claim 1,740 votes for Tilden to three for Hayes! In Ouachita the blacks are more than double the number of the whites, and the vote in 1874, by the democratic count, was 1,694 republican and 766 democratic; this year the democrats claim 1,070 majority! In the former parish the registrar was driven away and no republican ticket was allowed to be put in the field; in the latter, the army officer stationed there reports the assassination of the leading republican of the parish, and the shooting of the United States marshal and the destruction of the ballot-boxes under his charge on election day. Similar tactics were employed in Morehouse, West Feliciana and East Baton Rouge parishes, in all which the colored population is greatly in the majority, and all which in previous years were heavily republican; but this year they all give heavy democratic majorities. These are what is called the "bulldozed" parishes—where murders and whippings of colored republicans have been carried to great lengths; and there can be no question that the vote of every one of those parishes is fraudulent to the very worst degree, and should be thrown out. But these are not the "frauds" to which the northern democrats refer when they denounce possible frauds in Louisiana. Fraud is not fraud when committed in the interest of the democratic party; and the democratic outcry simply means that the democratic scoundrelism in Louisiana has been so great that if allowed to pass unquestioned it will probably give the State to Tilden—and to question it will be a "fraud" on the part of the republicans.

That Tilden received the vote of Mississippi there is no question. But it was given to him by the shot-gun and bowie-knife, not by the free ballots of the State. There has never been any pretence of concealment, on the part of the democratic press and speakers of the State, as to the means adopted in 1874 to turn the republican majority of thirty thousand into a democratic majority equally as large.

The democrats pretend to believe that if Gov. Hayes is the next President he will owe his election to fraud in declaring as republican the vote of certain republican States; the republicans know that if Tilden is the next President he will owe his election to the wholesale murders and terrorism which have certainly given him Mississippi and Alabama, and which the democrats claim have given him South Carolina and Louisiana. The fight has been between the loyal men of the country, white and black, on one side, and the ex-rebels, the Catholic church and the nearly solid foreign vote on the other; and in spite of all the desperate means employed to defeat them, we believe the former have won.

Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 11.

If the residents of Washington are not quite as demonstrative to-day as they were yesterday and the day before, it is because exhausted nature is unequal to the task of maintaining the nervous tension of the past four days longer. Prostration has very naturally succeeded the high state of febrile excitement that has moved our citizens and visitors as with a common impulse, since the evening of the momentous election day; but our comparative quietness indicates only the reaction, and not any diminution of interest in the result. Very few actual breaches of the peace have occurred, and those were mostly of a mild character.

The wide dissimilarity of spirit governing or animating the two great parties into which the citizens of the country are divided, is well illustrated by noting the effect produced on the adherents of each, as despatches relative to the result have been received from time to time since the close of the polls Tuesday evening. The first returns were almost uniformly favorable to Tilden; and the reception of every additional telegram confirming the probability of his election changed the bluster and brag with which the Bourbon groups scattered about town began the evening's entertainment, to downright insolence; and their taunts and menaces as they became more confident of success tested to the last degree the forbearance of their political opponents. At midnight the belief in Tilden's election was general, and the vile groggeries, as well as the more pretentious sample-rooms, were resonant with the exultant yells and imprecations of democratic politicians. Secretly cherished dreams of revenge and reprisal were now openly discussed, with evidences of the most intense satisfaction, as the humiliations and burdens intended for their republican neighbors were dwelt upon with a minuteness of detail quite amusing. Our two republican morning dailies, the Chronicle and Republican were especially singled out for condign punishment; and the fiendish glee with which one benzine-saturated reformer proposed the destruction of both offices by nitro-glycerine or by aid of a machine after the Thomasen style, and the unbounded enthusiasm and merriment which greeted his suggestion, would have appalled the stoutest heart. No mitigation of their sanguinary purposes was indicated on Wednesday, but an increase rather.

The persistency with which they argued their claims to the electoral vote of many known republican States surprised many intelligent men among us, and, in case the official count gives the election to Hayes, it will have proved the ruin of hundreds of their dupes, who effected many bets at the frightful odds of ten to one, on the assurances of Hewitt and other party oracles. But the developments of the past two days have made the seeming folly intelligible to the understanding of many observers of long experience in political affairs. It is explained by them in this way: The bragging and boasting which have marked the democratic canvass, and the preposterous claims set up, are a part of the programme to render their assertions of a fraudulent count more plausible in case they should need the electoral votes of one or two States to elect Tilden in addition to those conceded to him. The contingency they anticipated has come about, and the emphatic manner in which the Pacific States rejected the spurious democracy has reduced them to the necessity of securing one of the three States of South Carolina, Louisiana or Florida. The latter was probably considered the most available for their purposes, but the prompt action of the President in ordering the military there to suppress the KuKlux frustrated their plans; and baffled and rendered desperate as they found themselves checkmated at this point, Louisiana is all that is left them as a "forlorn hope." The precipitate departure of Hewitt, Clymer, Watterson, Curtin and other associates, followed by tales of fraud and republican intimidation of the Louisiana Ku-Klux, leaves the impression of preconcerted measures in furtherence of the alleged revolutionary plan rather than that of coincidence.

General Grant's noble and patriotic utterances, as contained in his order to General Sherman, had the effect to calm the agitation somewhat, and to make us doubly thankful that the helm is in the hands of a resolute patriot who will not shrink from his duty. His course during the past nine months has restored him to his old-time popularity with many of his fellow-citizens, who had become more or less estranged from his administration because of honest differences of opinion.

When it was the belief, from the false claims of Tilden managers, that he (Tilden) had been elected, the uniform feeling among republicans was one of unquestioning submission to the recorded will of the majority, although many believed that it had been effected through the grossest and wide-spread intimidation. There was a disposition to refrain from any factious opposition to Mr. Tilden, and to aid him, by willing obedience to all laws, in making his administration one of honor to himself and of prosperity to the country. But I regret exceedingly to record that no such disposition toward Mr. Hayes was manifested after it became apparent that he was the winning man. The bitter enmity animating those on the street and at places of public resort toward the victorious party and its chosen standard-bearer, found vent in mutterings and in an openly expressed determination to resist his inauguration. The difference between the manner in which the two candidates received the intimations of probable defeat was quite as marked and characteristic as that manifested by their respective supporters as above indicated. But we shall see what we shall see. From what knowledge I have of the situation, I believe I am justified in saying that while members of the great republican party here are willing to submit to the verdict of the constituted authorities in the premises, they will not tamely submit to the revolutionary designs which they believe are contemplated by their reckless political enemies.

MAXWELL.

Sovereigns of Industry.

The Sovereigns of Industry of Massachusetts, Vermont, New Hampshire and Maine have taken an important step in opening a general purchasing agency at Boston, open to all the stores, boards of trade and councils of the order. The agency is under the control of the "New England Co-operative Board of Trade," a new organization, composed of delegates from the co-operative store companies, Sovereigns' local boards of trade and the State councils. The principal officers of the new board are: J. T. Rockwood of Nashua, President; D. T. Batchelder of Newburyport, Secretary; Charles Mulcahey of Boston, Treasurer; and John Orvis of Boston, Manager, pro. tem. The Manager's office is at No. 10 State street, Boston, and he has already begun filling orders from the Sovereigns' stores in the interior.

—A correspondent relates the following incident of Governor Cheney's reception on New Hampshire day at the Centennial. One gentleman on taking the Governor by the hand, remarked: "I saw you last under far different circumstances." "What were they?" asked the Governor, his curiosity aroused. "I was one of the stretcher-bearers who conveyed you to Washington from Falmouth in '62 and placed you in General Stevens' wife's bed!" It must have been terribly embarrassing to the Governor to have had it mentioned right there.

—"The glide" will be the waltz most favored by young ladies this season. Young men will adopt the off-glide when they waltz down to the bar.

POLICE COURT.

Tuesday, November 14th.

John Condon and Thomas Tong, tramps, were ordered to the country for six months and to pay $6.90 each.

James Benningham, tramp, six months at Brentwood, costs $5.76.

Gideon Carter, drunk, $9.90, fine and costs. On a complaint of being a tramp Carter was discharged.

James Keefe, charged with being a tramp, and James Dermody, accused of having created a brawl and tumult, were discharged.

JOTTINGS.

On election day Mr. Calvin Staples, of Eliot, came to this city and registered at the Kearsarge House, and then went to Boston so as to get the earliest possible election returns. Not having intended to visit Boston when he left Eliot, of course he had said nothing of it to his friends; and they becoming somewhat alarmed at his absence, the local papers published the facts as above given. The following is the way the item appeared after having travelled as far as Providence, R. I.: "Calvin Staples Eliot, of Portsmouth, N. H., has been missing since election day. Up to Thursday night, no trace of him had been found. He came to Boston on that day and registered at the Kearsarge House. He was last seen on the street at noon time. When he left home he had $100 on his person." This is something like a correction made by the Boston Herald recently, when that paper, having stated that a citizen of Portsmouth had been removed from the office of Deputy Sheriff of Rockingham County "at the town's request," instead of "at his own request" as the despatch was written, next day straightened things out as follows: "C. Dwight, of Hanscom, N. H., has been removed from the office of Deputy Sheriff at his own request—not the town's as at first reported."

The torches at the die-hard democratic headquarters were diminished from ten on Saturday night to three on Monday night. Tuesday evening there were none at all.

We clip the following from the Jaffrey correspondent of the Peterboro' Transcript: "The Conant High School closed this week. The trustees were fortunate in securing the services of two able and efficient teachers, Mr. William H. Gardiner of Portsmouth and Miss Derby of Dublin. Thorough order and discipline prevailed in the school, and the progress made by the pupils was solid and substantial. The mental drill was well adapted to develope thought, strengthen the mind, and make each scholar a master of the studies taken up and not a slave to the text books. A system of marking was adopted at the commencement of the term and the school as a whole attained a high rank and excelled in a high degree. The attendance was remarkably good, cases of tardiness and absence being rare. The town may well feel proud of the school. The whole number of scholars during the term was fifty-one. Number of visitors, including the closing day, forty-nine. So far as we know there is a hearty and unusual satisfaction over the result of this school, and the return of the same teachers to take charge of the spring term would give great pleasure; we trust their services will be secured."

The lecture of Prof. E. Warren Clark (which is advertised in another column) should be well attended. He is the son of Rev. Rufus W. Clark, formerly of the North Parish of this city, has had better advantages of studying the Japanese than any other American, and his lecture has had the highest commendation of the best literary societies of the country. Let him have a good house here in his native city.

The Howard Atheneum Company had a good audience Monday evening, and the entertainment offered was highly enjoyable, Maffit and Bartholomew being amusing as ever.

Come to think of it, that much-talked-of democratic jollification didn't come off, Tuesday evening, after all. But they still bet on Tilden! Oh! yes, they'll bet—but had better pay their grocery bills, instead.

"Shout for the absent ones. WILLIAM."

Mr. Wm. H. Barnes' entertainment, at the Temple on Tuesday evening, was all it promised to be—and a great deal had been promised. Mr. Barnes is possessed of wonderful delineative and musical powers, and his idea of "Entertaining an Audience" is the correct one, judging from the commendations of his audience last evening. He appears again at the Temple this evening, with a change of programme. If you want a good time, go.

An item that has been going around the papers relative to a hack and pair of horses having been "missed" from a Portsmouth stable, "traced to Biddeford and returned to this city," was so worded as to convey the impression that the team was stolen. This is incorrect; the team was driven to Biddeford by its owner, and driven back by him.

—A crafty fox was found lying dead drunk in a Massachusetts cider mill the other morning.

News and Notes.

Lieut. Commanders Nicoll Ludlow and Lewis Clark are ordered to temporary duty at the Newport torpedo station. The U. S. S. Pensacola, flagship of Rear Adm. Murray, was at Acapulco October 25th.

A freight conductor was shot by three tramps, all whom were armed with revolvers, at Shelby, Ohio, on the 12th. The assassins are under arrest.

Francis Graspotte, convicted of murder in the second degree at Watertown, N. Y., on Monday, hung himself in his cell Monday night.

On Monday a singular accident happened at Cincinnati. While a drove of cattle were being driven over the suspension bridge from Covington to Cincinnati an unmanageable steer jumped over the side of the bridge near the water's edge, falling on William Hickey, who was standing under, and killing him instantly. The steer was also instantly killed by the fall.

Advices from Europe report a heavy and destructive gale on the Portuguese and English coasts. A Greek barque was run down and sunk in the English Channel, with eight of her crew. Many minor disasters are reported.

The loss of life by the cyclone in India, and consequent flooding of low lands by the ocean, is now estimated at from 20,000 to 40,000 persons.

Mr. L. H. Scriven, a conductor on the Vermont Central Railroad, was choked and robbed, and then stabbed, by three desperadoes at Bennington, Vt., on Sunday night. The assailants are supposed to belong to the gang whose leaders—prominent democratic politicians of the town—came to grief some weeks since and are now in jail charged with blowing up houses and burning mills owned by men who were obnoxious to the gang.

—Madame X. has a numerous offspring, to which she is in the habit of adding a new specimen regularly every year. Among the number is a little boy who has just returned from boarding school for the holidays. The evening after his arrival a newly-engaged servant inquired of the school-boy how many brothers and sisters he had. "I don't know," replied the child; "I only came home this morning."

The Influence of Malaria Counteracted.

That the harmful influence upon the human system of malaria may be effectually counteracted has been demonstrated for years past by the protection afforded the inhabitants of vast miasma-breeding districts in North and South America, Guatemala, Mexico and the West Indies, by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Used as a preventive, they have invariably been found to be a most reliable safeguard against chills and fever, bilious remittents, and still more malignant types of malarious disease, and when employed as a remedy have always proved their adequacy to the task of eradicating such maladies from the system. For disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, which in hot climates and miasmatic localities are particularly rife, the Bitters are a prompt and thorough remedy. They also strengthen the system, tranquilize the nerves, promote digestion and sound sleep, and impart unwonted relish for food.

The Grand Union, of New York.

The Grand Union Hotel, opposite Grand Central Depot, New York, is one of the largest and most popular of the New York city first class hotels. It is so conveniently located to the Grand Central Depot, that all expense of carriage and baggage expressage is saved its guests. Persons contemplating visiting or passing through New York, or to attend the Centennial, will do well to give the Grand Union a trial. The Grand Union supplies every advantage afforded by a first class hotel, while the rates of charges are moderate, being suited the stringency of the times.

The Word "Sozodont."

Which is fast becoming a household word, is derived from the Greek, and composed of two words, "Sozo" translated, means to preserve, and "dontes" the teeth—"Sozodont," a preserver of the teeth. And it is true to its name. For beautifying and preserving the teeth, hardening and invigorating the gums, and correcting all impurities of the breath, it is without a peer in the world.

Spalding's Glue will mend everything.

The Grand Central Hotel, New York, "leads the van" among the first-class hotels, by reducing its rates from $4.00 to $2.50 and $3.00 per day.

WHEN IMPURITIES IN THE BLOOD are determined to the surface in the form of blotches, dry exfoliations, rashes, &c., the safest and most expeditious remedy is GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP.

Important to persons visiting New York or the Centennial. The Grand Union Hotel, New York, opposite the Grand Central Depot, has over 350 elegantly furnished rooms. Elevator, steam and all improvements. European plan. Carriage hire is saved, as baggage is taken to and from the depot free. Guests can live better for less money at the Grand Union than at any other first-class hotel. Stages and cars pass the Hotel constantly to all parts of the city, and to the Philadelphia depot.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases and at very reasonable charges. Daily Chronicle.

Opening of the New York Aquarium.

The New York Aquarium, located on Broadway at Thirty-fifth Street, was opened for members of the press and invited guests on Tuesday evening, October 10th. and for the general public on the following day. The building is of brick, and one story high. Attached to the main hall is a room furnished as a smoking and reading-room, after the fashion of European aquaria. There is also a library for the use of teachers and students of natural history, in which books on the branches of this science and scientific periodicals will be found. This library is free to those who will make a proper use of it. Another room has been fitted up as a naturalists' laboratory and fully equipped with microscopes, drawing-tables, dissecting-sinks, and all the paraphernalia needful to a pleasant study of Nature, with a set of experimental tanks in which to observe the workings of fish-life under varying conditions.

The rooms are also intended to be the headquarters of various scientific bodies. The American Fish Culture Association has already located therein, and the biological branch of the Academy of Sciences has been invited to do so, which matter is now under consideration. Arrangements have also been made with Professor Baird, of the Smithsonian Institute and United States Fish Commissioner, whereby casts shall be taken of such dead fish as shall be sent thither and duplicates thereof returned.

In the center of the main hall is a circular tank, six feet in height and thirty feet in diameter. The surface of the water is a little above the eye, so that the movements of the fish when under water may be readily observed. This tank was built for the white whale, which was successfully placed therein on the opening day. The seal-tank is near it—a large basin constructed of Portland cement. This tank has received its contents in the shape of three seals and a number of turtles. The tank for seafisions, at the west side of the room, is filled up with a rocky staircase and grotto for the animals to climb upon and hide within. A series of tanks extend along the northern side of the building, the largest ones in the centre, and sloping downward toward the side. This slope is for the purpose of causing a circulation in the water and allowing it to pass into aerating pumps after it has lost its good qualities. From the aerating pumps, where the water is purified, it is returned by distributing pumps to the larger tanks. The aerating pumps force their sprays of water into the air with such force that it absorbs a large portion of oxygen. The remaining tanks in the room consist of a large tank sixty-five feet long by six feet high, in which fish of a large kind—sharks, sturgeons and porpoises—are to be kept, and a series of small tanks for the smaller fish.

Another branch of study which the managers of the Aquarium have afforded is the process of fish-culture. For this purpose 215,000 eggs of salmon and trout have been procured, with which to make a beginning.

Mr. Coup will charge a small admission fee to the Aquarium until he has defrayed the expense of building and stocking it with fishes. Among the gentlemen who have assisted Mr. Coup in this enterprise are Professor H. D. Butler, General Superintendent; Professor W. S. Ward, Naturalist, and Director of Educational Department; Frederick Mather, of the United States Fish Commission, Superintendent of Fish Culture; and W. Roberts.

—In 1875, in Indianapolis, a marriage was celebrated with a champagne supper, during which it was suggested that the whole party attend a ball then progressing. The bride approved, but the groom somewhat forestalled his authority in his objections. She attended the ball with her friends and his expecting him to follow, but when the party returned, he was gone, and the two have never met since. This week she obtained a divorce for abandonment.

—Some people have queer ideas of what constitutes a good sleeping apparatus. One of our cotemporaries exclaims, "now is the time to lay in your coal."

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pronounced I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of Dr. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I remain yours truly,
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I feel it my duty to give my testimony, so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and had tried everything that could be bought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. But remember I am not gaining them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, as they thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to make for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrell, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins County, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.
MRS. F. L. ELLIOTT.

PULOMCINE.
BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.
Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.
Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.
CLEAR YOUR THROAT!
Relieve Your Lungs.
For the terrible diseases engendered by the lungs trying climate of New England!
PULMOCINE CORDIAL
Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or Inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.
For Coughs,
Croup,
Diphtheria,
AND
Asthma, etc.,
USE
Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.
The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

Old Time Chronicles, No. 141.

BY UNCLE JOSEPH.

It is of no particular consequence as to what town a Governor belongs, he is to be Governor of the whole State. There may be a laudable pride nevertheless in a town, that it has a citizen worthy of such honor.

Exeter has had those that have filled the office of Governor more years than any town in the State. The number of years has been fifteen, Gov. Gilman fourteen and Gov. Jeremiah Smith one. Sixty-one years have passed, however, since a citizen of the town was in this office, Gov. Gilman retiring in 1815.

So far as this matter is concerned, Portsmouth is next to Exeter. Gov. Langdon was in office seven years, Gov. Woodbury one and Gov. Goodwin two, total ten. Concord is next, Gov. Hill three years, Gov. Baker one, Gov. Gilmore two and Gov. Stearns two, total eight.

John Taylor Gilman was a native of Exeter, and that town was his home through life. He was born Dec. 19, 1753. His education was at the common schools. Ship building was formerly carried on in the town, and it is said he was engaged in that. When the war of the Revolution came on, his father, Nicholas Gilman, was colonel of a regiment for a time at Cambridge. John was there for a season, having marched with a company on the news of the battle of Lexington, April 19, 1775. In 1779, which was while the war was existing, he was chosen a member of the New Hampshire Legislature. By the Legislature he was chosen a member of the Committee of Safety. In 1781 he was chosen a member of the Continental Congress. In June, 1783, he was chosen by the Legislature, State Treasurer.

After the war, and the State had adopted a Constitution, Mr. Weare of Hampton Falls and Dr. Bartlett of Kingston successively filled the office of Chief Magistrate. In 1793 Gov. Bartlett, in consequence of declining health, signified that he did not wish a re-election, and, it is said, that he was favorable to Mr. Gilman as his successor. At the election in March, 1794, the total vote for Governor was 10,470 and Mr. Gilman had 7,329. He was re-elected in the five following years with scarcely a show of opposition. In one year, 1798, Oliver Peabody, also of Exeter, was a candidate, but he received less than 1200 votes, while Mr. Gilman had over 9000 of the 12,000 cast. In 1800 and 1801 Timothy Walker was a candidate, but his vote was only about one-third of those cast.

Parties then were Federalist and Republican. Gov. Gilman was a Federalist. In 1802 and '3 the republicans supported John Langdon of Portsmouth, who had a pretty large vote. In 1804 Gov. Gilman had 12,216, Mr. Langdon 12,066; Mr. Gilman's majority 150.

At the close of that political year, he had been Governor nine years in succession. Langdon and Smith were then Governors till 1813. In 1812 the contest was a close one, Gilman and Plumer were the candidates. Gilman had 151 votes more than Plumer, but over eight hundred scattering prevented a choice. In the Legislative Convention Mr. Plumer was elected, having 194 votes to Mr. Gilman's 82.

In the three following years—1813, '14 and '15—Mr. Gilman was again elected. Mr. Plumer was the candidate of the republicans. The two parties were nearly balanced, but Mr. Gilman was chosen by a small majority. The next year, 1816, Gov. Gilman was not a candidate. Mr. Plumer was chosen and Gov. Gilman retired to private life.

Gov. Gilman was not a man of the most brilliant talents, but of good common-sense and excellent judgment. His penetration of character was considerable. One year while Governor, we think it was 1802, he nominated Hon. Daniel Webster, then of Portsmouth, as Attorney General. But the Council, 3 to 2, negatived it, thinking he was not fit. Jeremiah Mason was appointed. Mr. Gilman died Aug. 31, 1828, aged 75 years.

—An unusually intelligent justice of the peace in Baltimore swore a Chinaman on a tea chest the other day, in default of the writings of Confucius.

—Dr. Cuyler recently recommended everybody to lie in bed until a cup of coffee had been prepared. There is, consequently, a very serious discussion going on as to who shall prepare the coffee.

—Since the abolition of capital punishment in Maine there have been seven murders in the State, within about six months, while during the entire year previous there was but one murder, and the murderer committed suicide.

—"Look at the old Bay State," screamed a red-nosed stump speaker at a North Carolin barbecue, as he gesticulated with one hand, and munched a chunk of beef he held in the other. "Yes, indade," sung out a disgusted Irishman, pointing to the speaker, "look at the old baste ate."

—The persistent manner in which our judges show by their sentences that they consider property of more value than life is beginning, remarks a critic, to have its effect. On the stage of a transpontine theatre the indignant hero thus apostrophizes the double-dyed villain: "Scoundrel, tremble; your hour is at hand! I 'ave long known yer to be a murderer; but you are worse—ay, far worse! You are a forgerer!"—London Paper.

Democratic Hedging.

A good indication that the democratic leaders have no faith in their claims that Florida, South Carolina and Louisiana have gone for Tilden, is the fact that their claims of the electoral votes in those States grow fewer by degrees and most beautifully less, and that they now resort to quibbles unworthy the consideration of honorably disposed men, in regard to votes of electors in such undoubted republican States as Vermont, California and Oregon. The democratic Governor of California is said to be considering the propriety (?) of refusing to give certificates of election to the republican electors of that State on some newly-thought-of pretext of fraud trumped up at this late hour to afford a loop-hole on which they may transfer democratic expectancy from battle grounds in the South on which they know perfectly well they are certainly and fairly beaten. The pretext that one elector in Oregon and one in Vermont have no right to hold the positions, being holders of appointments of trust and emolument from the National government, is entirely exploded by the fact that both these electors some time since resigned their position as postmasters. But the charge answers the purpose of the democratic leaders to distract the attention of their followers and dupes from their defeats in twenty-one of the thirty-eight States, and postpone acknowledgement and full recognition of it until the logic of events shall in time bring the Presidential inauguration ceremonies to a close.

We do not believe the democratic Governor of California, were he inclined to withhold certificates of election from the republican electors, would hardly dare to brave the indignation of the best men in his own party, to please the democratic desperadoes whose whole desire is to rule or ruin. A free and intelligent constituency like that he represents will brook no such shameless conduct, which in itself would be a crime against the Nation that would endanger its continued existence. Believing that at least 185, a clear majority of the Presidential electors, have been chosen without fraud or intimidation to cast their ballots for HAYES and WHEELER, we look confidently for the inauguration of both on the 5th of March next. The contingency of the purchase of any elector who has been chosen to vote for HAYES and WHEELER for the democratic candidates, we do not regard in the range of probabilities and hardly among the possibilities. Certainly any person who would be guilty of so doing would deserve to be shot out of his boots, its far-reaching effects would be so disastrous and so fraught with peril to life and property of every class of men in the Nation.

What particular course the democrats of the lower House of Congress may adopt in opposition to the declaration of the electoral vote will not interfere very largely with justice and its execution. Already, with one accord, the republicans look with great unanimity to the selection of Senator Blaine as President of the U. S. Senate as the man eminently needed in this emergency, whom democratic bluster cannot frighten and whose ardor republican ingratitude has never cooled. It seems a distinct Providential interposition that brings him to the U. S. Senate so opportunely, and we hope no mean spirit of jealousy will interfere with the desire so universally expressed by republicans all over the land. The "stone which the builders rejected" at Cincinnati in a moment of faint-heartedness may yet become "the head of the corner" at a crisis in the history of the Nation which shall demand the service of its ablest and bravest spirits.

Election Votes.

Hon. Martin I. Townsend, who made the humorous but effective speech in the House of Representatives against the pardon of Jeff Davis, is re-elected by 2278 majority. His majority in 1874 was 514.

If you want a really impartial man to count your Louisiana votes, send Samuel Bowles. He is earnestly in favor of both sides, and sits on the haymow and doesn't care whether the bear or the dog comes out ahead. If he can't elect either Hayes or Tilden honestly, he will put in the son of the last of the Adamses.—N. Y. Graphic.

There is a vague suspicion in the public mind that this delay in the verdict is a conspiracy to sell newspapers. In the newspaper offices, on the contrary, there is a firm conviction that it is a deliberate plot to kill off the editors.—N. Y. Tribune.

In reply to Marshal Pitkin's invitation to him to visit New Orleans, General Butler replies as follows: "I don't believe Northern men ought to go down and interfere in the affairs of Louisiana except, if necessary, with arms in their hands. Have a fair count of the honest vote at all hazards. Nobody will submit to anything else. Every true man will sustain you in that."

There is but little additional news to chronicle this morning from the three disputed southern States. The report in circulation yesterday that the republicans of South Carolina conceded Hampton's election for governor is denied. The New York Tribune's special from Jacksonville says that Hayes runs from 600 to 800 ahead of the gubernatorial ticket in Florida. The Times claims the State by 1000 majority for the republicans, and Louisiana by 3000. An interchange of views between the President and his Cabinet, yesterday, disclosed a unity of belief in Hayes' election.—Advertiser, 15th.

The census of 1875 shows that in Edgefield county, S. C., there are 7122 males, white and colored, over 21 years of age. On Thursday, Hampton is returned as having had 6267 votes, and Chamberlain, 3107; a total of 9374. This is 2252 more votes than there are legal voters in the county! Besides this there were in two polls more than 600 colored men who were waiting to be allowed to vote when the boxes were closed. Not less than a thousand colored republican voters were prevented forcibly from voting, so that the fraudulent discrepancy would be 3750, or just about the claimed majority for Hampton. The election managers, county canvassers, federal marshals, commissioners and supervisors have united in a protest against the reception of the returns from this county, and have furnished a mass of sworn statements to substantiate the protest. This is one of the counties managed by "Butler's cavalry."

Judging the matter impartially we are forced to confess that the evidence of fraud in Louisiana is altogether against the democrats. In five parishes where the negroes outnumber the whites two to one, hardly a republican vote is returned, while in 1872 and 1874 the republicans had very large majorities. The republicans claim fraud in these cases and will have but little difficulty, we apprehend, to prove it. It is altogether against reason to believe that the colored people either bodily abstained from voting in five populous parishes, or voted the democratic ticket. In all the other strongholds of radicalism the negroes voted solidly for Hayes. We have no desire to sustain the republican charges of fraud, except where the evidence is all in their favor. The democrats seem wholly unable to explain the vote in the five Louisiana parishes above alluded to.—New Haven Union, inf. dem.

The Louisiana legislature is republican and will seat Packard as Governor.

Gov. Kellogg has applied to the President for troops under Attorney General Taft's circular. There are sixteen companies now in New Orleans.

Commodore Vanderbilt hopes to live long enough to hear the result of the Presidential election.

March 5, 1877—Wait Til-den.

"My son," said Mr. Marrowfat to Artaxerxes, "you are old enough now to choose a vocation in life. What pursuit do you think you would prefer?" "Father," said Artaxerxes, "you know I cannot tell a lie. If Tilden is elected I want to be a railroad wrecker."—Brooklyn Argus, dem.

In one election district of Albany, N. Y., the democratic "reform" officers returned 945 votes for the democratic candidate for Congress and but 50 for the republican candidate; but over 140 republicans have already signed a statement that they voted for the republican candidate, and his entire vote in the district is estimated at 350, whereas only 50 votes were returned as cast for him. Reform! reform!

The democratic commissioners of election in the fourth Congressional district of Virginia threw out the vote of republican precincts giving 1700 majority, notwithstanding which the republican candidate is elected by 1000 majority. This throwing out was done in open, gross violation of the State law, by the election officers appointed by the democratic judges. Unusual care was taken to draw their attention to the especial law providing for such cases, but in defiance of it, particularly in Nottaway county, very nearly all the republican precincts were thrown out. The courts are in the hands of democrats, and the commissioners feel perfect immunity from punishment for these gross violations of law. Leading democrats there have said openly that any means, fraud or otherwise, were justifiable to prevent republican success.

The democrats of South Carolina argue that the returning board can only legally canvass the vote as returned by the local boards, and that no fraud, however gross and palpable, will justify the throwing out of the vote of any district. This of course is to secure the counting of the vote of the Edgefield district, where "Butler's cavalry" and Georgia repeaters threw some thousands of votes in excess of the entire adult male population, and of other districts where the grossest frauds and intimidation were openly employed in the interest of "reform." On the other hand, the democrats of Charleston county remonstrate against the returning board counting the vote of that county, on the ground that the republicans practiced intimidation.

The democrats have tried to draw comfort from the alleged facts that one of the republican electors in Vermont and one in Wisconsin are office holders and therefore ineligible, the democrats claiming that this would elect in those States the democratic candidate having the highest number of votes. It turns out that the Vermont postmaster resigned his office the day before election, and the Wisconsin office-holder was not voted for at all, another name having been substituted for his on the ticket. Per contra, it is asserted that in several of the southern States that voted for Tilden, ex-rebels whose disabilities have never been removed were chosen electors. Nearly every Tilden elector in the South served in the rebel army or civil service.

Does anybody know who the great Mulligan voted for?

The democratic coloring given to all the Associated Press despatches from Charleston, S. C., will be readily understood when it is known that one of the Press agents in that city is lieutenant of a democratic "rifle club" and the other is editor of the News and Courier, the most rabid white-line organ in the State. The latter would be an infamous carpet-bagger if he was a republican, as he is a native of New York and went South after the war; but he is a rabid democrat and advocates the "white line" and social proscription of republicans, so he is a high-toned gentleman of the very highest caste; but he is an able-bodied liar, for all that.

The New York World has found it out; The President's suggestion that representative men of both parties should go to Louisiana to assure the country of an honest count of the vote, is "a turning of the United States government into an Absolute Monarchy!" The World is not such a consummate ass as to believe its own statement, but it probably knows what kind of stuff will best suit its readers. The President simply offered advice, as any citizen has a right to do; and no one is obliged to act on his advice. But it is a little odd that when the accomplished democratic wire-puller, Abe Hewitt, ordered a raid on New Orleans by a swarm of the most prominent democratic tricksters in the country, with the evident purpose to overawe the returning board and force the counting-in of Tilden and reform, the World could see only virtue in it.

On the morrow of the Presidential election, the Southern democrats, believing fully in the election of Tilden, began to manifest the old slave-driving disposition which has been held in abeyance, and only in abeyance, since 1865. They upset at once all the theories and arguments by which they have sought to induce the immigration of Northern industry and Northern capital. Even in West Virginia, Northern men settled there who were republicans, were made to understand that they could only remain under a social ostracism unendurable by any person of spirit. The Raleigh, N. C., News thinks it was evidence of great Southern forbearance that Kilpatrick was not mobbed, if not killed; and in various sections the newspapers have given notice, "Northern men to the North." If even before, and while the election of Tilden is more than doubtful, the South is so sectional, so mobocratic, so utterly disregardful of the rights of white citizens, what would likely be the fate of such citizens under a completely democratic administration, and how would the colored race probably fare? The country may have to learn, but not through the fraudulently-declared election of Samuel J. Tilden, or the forcible rejection of Rutherford B. Hayes, legally chosen.—Providence Press.

Howard Carroll's dispatch from Tallahassee to the Times says as the county canvassers go on it becomes more and more apparent that Hayes has run far ahead of his ticket. The republicans are sure that in spite of all democratic frauds their State ticket is elected by a good majority, but no matter how that may be, there can be no doubt as to the success of the National ticket. Hayes and Wheeler have carried Florida beyond all question.

A Columbia (S. C.) dispatch to the Times Tuesday night says official returns from 27 counties are in; five yet to be received. Hayes' majority will not be affected by the action of the Supreme Court, whatever it may be.

Senator West's advices assure him that Hayes has a majority in Louisiana without rejectinff any votes in the disputed or bulldozed parishes.

Gov. Chamberlain telegraphs Senator Patterson from Columbia, S. C., Wednesday: "Everything is safe and right."

The Cabinet is but of one opinion, that Hayes has been legally elected, and will be duly inaugurated. The President is advised that the republicans carry Louisiana without throwing out a single parish.

William E. Chandler telegraphs Secretary Chandler from Tallahassee, Fla., that the certainty of Hayes having carried the State is fully established, and that only the grossest frauds in the remote democratic counties, by changing ballots, can change the result. The republicans have taken every precaution, and will checkmate democrats if such attempts are made.

At democratic headquarters in Washington despondency reigns, and Tilden voters are as silent as though no election had been held.

A telegram from New Orleans says the democrats have discovered that a serious mistake has been made in compiling returns; that the reported democratic majorities in the same county and parish are simply aggregate democratic votes. The error is a very fatal one to the democratic claims.

To Worry the Liver

And injure the system generally take blue pills and calomel. To regulate it, and endow the entire system with healthful vigor, use Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Bilious invalids, which of these two recipes will you adopt? We doubt not, the latter. By so doing, you will avoid the disastrous consequences which the persistent or frequent use of mercury entails, and effectuate the desired reform in the action of the biliary gland without danger, as well as speedily and thoroughly. The Bitters invariably remedy yellowness of the complexion and whites of the eyes, pains in the right side and under the right shoulder-blade, furred tongue, high colored urine, nausea, vertigo, dyspepsia, constipation, heaviness of the head, mental despondency, and every other manifestation or accompaniment of a disordered condition of the liver. The stomach, bowels and kidneys also experience their regulating and tonic influence.

POLICE COURT.

Tuesday afternoon two boys, John Hennessey and Stephen Murphy, were before the Court on a charge of truancy, and both were convicted. Hennessey paid costs, $6.90, and gave bonds in the sum of $25 that he will attend school for the next six months; Stephen Murphy goes to the Reform School.

On Wednesday, Philip Kirby was brought up on a continued case, the charge being cruelty to his wife. Acquitted, Ancient song of ye democratic office-seekers—only one short week ago: Hold the forks, the spoons are coming, knives are on the way; lay the dish-cloth on the table, pass the hash this way!

The great interest in the Presidential election overshadowed State and local matters to a wonderful extent. The republican victories in this State and city were among the most brilliant of the achievements which republicans have won in twenty years. The democrats confidently claimed both State and city, and in many cases wagered large odds on each, yet their boasting came to naught, and notwithstanding the desertion of quite a number of navy yard patriots who expected the election of Mr. Tilden, and "flopped" for the man they thought was "coming," the republicans carried the city handsomely against the hardest kind of work on the part of their untiring opponents. So much for an honest registry, and fair voting by daylight. The victory in the State in any ordinary election would have warranted an unusual jubilation among republicans; and the fact that it was won solely on the merits of the candidates and their principles, against the ever-aggressive and plucky opposition, whose score of defeats have only hardened them to the punishment, but increases the satisfaction of the victors over the result, as indicating clearly that New Hampshire takes no step backward, when republican principles are at stake. When the people vote, a republican triumph is assured; whey they are careless of their duty the ever-vigilant enemy wins.

Eccentric Father Moody used to be the delight and guide of York, Me., the old seaport town which disputes with St. Augustine in Florida the honor of having been the first city in America. In its ancient meeting house he administered his celebrated rebuke to his tardy parishioner, a stately Englishman, who walked up the broad aisle in prayer time: "And, O good Lord," prayed the worthy parson, "among thy other kind dispensations, cure thy servant who has just entered thy house of that ungodly strut," The sad life of his son, "Handkerchief Moody," suggested Hawthorne's pathetic story. "The Minister's Black Veil."

Owing to unavoidable circumstances the entertainment advertised for Wednesday evening at the Temple is postponed. Those holding tickets can have them redeemed at No. 5 Congress Street.

News and Notes.

The schooner Medford, Captain G. F. Kelley, from Bangor for Boston with lumber, went ashore Monday night on the Londoner, a reef close to Thatcher's Island, and went to pieces. Crew saved.

Mrs. Henry N. Bigelow of Clinton, Mass., jumped from a runaway team, at Clinton, on the 13th, sustaining injuries which resulted fatally in about an hour.

Samuel F. Besse, of South Wareham, a State Prison graduate, broke out of the Wareham lock-up, where he was confined on charges of horse-stealing, burglary, etc., recently, and then broke into the Court House and stole all he could lay his hands on. He then called on one of the witnesses against him, and gave him a black eye, after which he took to the woods and announced that he would kill any man who attempted to arrest him. The local authorities were afraid to tackle the desperado, so two State Constables went after him, and found him asleep in an upper room of his father's house on the night of the 13th. He attempted to jump out of a window, but was prevented, and caged. He will go back to State Prison again shortly.

The New York city Board of Aldermen has passed, over the Mayor's veto, a resolution to introduce Croton water into the great Roman Catholic Cathedral at the expense of the city.

Mrs. Maria Smith died in Portland on Sunday. In 1845 her husband, James Smith, died of sunstroke in that city. In 1857 her son and son-in-law were murdered on board the Albion Cooper. In 1859 a son died of ship fever at home. In 1865 she lost two sons, a daughter-in-law and three grand-children in the barque Orisina, Capt. Hiram Smith. In 1866 she lost a son and daughter-in-law at sea, Capt. J. W. Smith and wife.

The Moulton-Beecher Suit.

Judge Westbrook on the 13th granted the defendant in Moulton vs. Beecher a change of venue from New York or Brooklyn to Delaware county. The principal reason he gives is that the plaintiff, by publications in local newspapers has sought to mould public opinion on the matters in controversy in this suit, for it would be an insult to his intelligence to suppose he had no purpose whatever in such publications. No court, he says, should allow a trial by jury of a vinciuage the general opinion and belief of which, upon the matters involved in such trial, either party has industriously through newspapers sought to form. The mutual friend declined to submit to the removal of the trial of his case to Delaware county. In pursuance of this determination, the suit has been discontinued, Moulton paying the costs.

—On a cruise, the sailors saw a comet, and were somewhat surprised and alarmed at its appearance. The hands met, and appointed a committee to wait on the commander, and ask his opinion of it. They approached him, and said, "We want to ask your opinion, your honor." "Well, boys, what is it about?" "We want to know about that thing up there." "Now, before I answer you, first let me know what you think it is." "Well, your honor, we have talked it all over, and we think it is a star sprung a leak."

—A Hartford gentleman who had tarried late at a wine supper found his wife awaiting his return in a high state of nervousness. Said she: "Here I've been waiting and rocking in a chair till my head swims round like a top." "Jess so where I've been," replied he; "it's in the atmosphere."

—So tender and so true—Edwin: And now, darling, before we part, how are we to keep our marriage a profound secret. Angeline (promptly): Nothing easier, Edwin dear. You have only to behave to me as you always have done and nobody will suspect it.

—Said a college professor to a notorious laggard, who was once, for a wonder, promptly in his place at morning prayers, "What is your excuse?" "Couldn't sleep, sir," was the reply.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

No. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity for a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART."

Boston, Jan. 1, 1870. 1y

Daily Chronicle.

A Sensible Appeal.

The following is good reading after election, as well as before:

"Do you want to vote for the best man? Then you would be pretty safe as a rule to vote as a majority of the best men in the community vote, would you not? If you desired to be on the side of temperance you would be pretty likely to vote as sober, practical temperance men voted, and not go with the rabble who cry for free rum, would you not? If you wanted to be on the moral side of any question, the way to secure that desired end would not be to vote for or be found with the vile and vicious, would it? If you wanted business to be better, you would most likely vote as the largest number of business men vote, for if business is good with them it will be likely to be good with you, and they cannot help themselves without helping you to a greater or less degree. As a rule you can determine by looking at the men who vote which is the good and bad side of most questions. The party that has the largest number of good men and the smallest number of bad men, will be most likely to promulgate the best doctrines and put forth the best measures. Look at all questions candidly and dispassionately, and you will, if you follow the dictates of conscience, most likely be on the side of right, good order, morality and good government."—Rochester Courier.

Fluctuating Value.

The other day when a New Yorker took a coat around to a dealer in second hand clothing the man looked it over in a contemptuous manner, elevated his nose, flung the garment aside and said: "Do you know how much I wouldn't gif for dot goat? I gif twelve shillings, only." "It's worth five dollars," replied the owner. "Five tollar! Shust wait tell I gall my wife and dell her dot we haf a lunatic in der store. Why, mine goot frent, you must haf been sunstroke by der heat last summer." He finally got the coat for two dollars. Passing the same store in the evening, and seeing his coat hanging at the door, the seller halted and asked: "How much for this old coat?" "Old goat," exclaimed the dealer, "why, dot goat was made only last week, worn to one party, and can't be bad any more for only seven tollars!" "I'll give you two." "Two! Here wife, hurry up! Put up der plinds, lock up der doors, and let us say our prayers, for we must go into bankruptcy to-morrow! Shust think of dot man offering me two dollars for dot goat what you bought of a great alderman yesterday for five tollars!"—Leavenworth Times.

—The other night a man who had won five election bets went home so elated that when his wife met him in the hall he hugged her so rapturously that she had to tell him it wasn't the hired girl before he would let go of her.

—Macaulay, when a child, had a little plot of ground at the back of his father's house—which was marked out as his own, we are told, by a row of oyster shells, which a maid one day threw away as rubbish. On discovering the act, the little fellow went straight to the drawing-room, where his mother was entertaining some visitors, walked into the circle and said very solemnly: "Cursed be Sally! For if is written, 'Cursed be he that removeth his neighbor's landmark.'"

—The San Francisco News Letter tells a pleasant tale of a farmer's wife from Blind Gulch, who went to town to buy a music-box or something of the sort for the girls at home. She had $500 tied up in a handkerchief and attached to the hay-bands which formed her bustle. After she had looked at a dozen or more pianos she remarked to the clerk: "You can't fool me with no pianners as has got smooth legs like that. I'll have 'em carved if I die first." The astute manager signaled to a musician to try a richly-carved "square grand," but she protested that she didn't want funeral music in her house. There was a change of instrument, and, what was more important, a new tune —"The Mulligan Guards." "The old lady was delighted. It was the "kind of box as would suit the gals." She bought it.

CONDITION PILLS!
The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Billiousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!
No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and the Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 8th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

[DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The improvement seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrell, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

PULOMCINE.
BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.
is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Cerealine he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.
Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.
Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.
CLEAR YOUR THROAT!
Relieve Your Lungs.
For the terrible diseases engendered by the damp, trying climate of New England!
PULMOCINE CORDIAL
Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.
For Coughs,
Croup,
Diphtheria,
Asthma, etc.,
use
Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.
The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

CHILDREN TEETHING

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP! For Children Teething, greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is Sure to Regulate the Bowels. Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and Relief and Health to Your Infants.

We have put put up and sold this article for years, and CAN SAY IN CONFIDENCE AND TRUTH of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—NEVER HAS IT FAILED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak in this matter "WHAT WE DO KNOW," after years of experience, AND PLEDGE OUR REPUTATION FOR THE FULFILMENT OF WHAT WE HERE DECLARE. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation has been used with NEVER FAILING SUCCESS in Thousands of Cases.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve Griping in the Bowels and Wind Colic.

We believe it the BEST AND SUREST REMEDY IN THE WORLD, in all cases of DYSENTERY and DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—do not let your prejudice, nor the prejudice of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief it will be SURE—yes, ABSOLUTELY SURE—to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle.

ARMSTRONG'S LINCOLN BUTTER POWDER.

Good Fresh Butter All The Year Round. BUTTER IN 20 MINUTES.

Lincoln Butter Powder is an entirely harmless article made from a celebrated English recipe, and now in daily use by many of the most noted farmers in the butter counties around Philadelphia.

In hot weather this Powder makes butter much firmer and sweeter than it usually is, and keeps it from turning rancid. It also removes the strong flavor of turnips, leeks, corn stalks, cotton seed, etc.; and the increased yield of butter much more than pays the trifling expense of using it.

Bound To Vote.

Charles A. Frech, is the man that did it. Last October he voted in the Fourteenth Ward. Twenty days ago he moved into the Twenty-third Ward, and so got things muddled that on Tuesday he was challenged at the polls in both wards and was unable to vote in either place. Charley got mad at this, and swore by the great horn spoon that he was a free-born American citizen, and would not be deprived of his little vote, and that he would not be found sleeping when his country called. He went to George Schoonmaker for advice, and "Schooney" told him that if he were married he could vote in the ward at once. An idea struck Charley. Said he, "By thunder I'll do it; I'm going to vote, if I live," and away he went. He got a friend to go with him. It was getting well along into the forenoon, and his sweetheart lived over in Covington. He borrowed fifty cents, as he had but fifteen with him, and the two mounted a bounding, bob-tailed street-car, drawn by a blue mule, and departed for Kentucky. Arriving there they sought the residence of the young lady, Miss Elizabeth A. Sigle, and cheerfully he unfolded his plan to the astonished girl. He said: "Come, it must be done at once or I shall lose my vote. If you are a true-born American woman you will come to my rescue and the relief of the country in this emergency." But she protested "it couldn't be done;" "nothing prepared," and a thousand other protestations were put in. Then Charley's friend took Elizabeth aside and told her that he (Charley) had assured him that if she did not marry him at once he would vote in Covington and go to the Frankfort Penitentiary. That settled it, and she consented. Then the two hurried back to Cincinnati. Charley went to the store where he is employed and drew out $50, got a carriage and hurried back. In a couple of hours the two stood up with a few friends before Rev. Mr. Eisenlor and were made one. And at 5 o'clock P. M., Charley, with his fair bride, was back in the Twenty-third Ward, and,—at 5:35, but in time,—he walked up the gangway at the Second Precinct voting place for the second time, swinging his vote defiantly and aggressively, asking, "Where, oh! where is the man that is going to challenge this vote? Show me the man." No one challenged it, and Charley exercised the heaven-bestowed gift of the free-born citizen unmolested.—Cincinnati Times, Nov. 10.

An Odd Chair for the Next President.

Seth Kinman and his son Carlin, the renowned Californian hunters and trappers, are now in the city. Seth has gained considerable notoriety as the maker of unique chairs for several of the Presidents of the United States. He presented Buchanan with a chair made of elk horns and hoofs in 1854, and gave Abraham Lincoln a similar one in 1864. Andrew Johnson was the recipient of a chair made of grizzly skins and claws. During a recent visit to the Centennial Exposition Seth called on Gov. Hayes at Columbus, Ohio, and presented him with a chair similar to the Lincoln and Buchanan chair—of elk horns and hoofs, with a grizzly robe covering. He has another similar to the Andrew Johnson chair in store for the President elect, only it has the addition of a grizzly's ferocious head cunningly concealed underneath the seat, which, by touching a spring in the rear of the chair, is thrown forward, the jaws snap viciously two or three times, when it returns to its place of concealment. This interesting little ornament Seth thinks his old friend Hayes is going to get.—San. Francisco Bulletin.

The Campaign of Slander.

The presidential election of 1876 will long stand out in unpleasant distinctiveness for the vile slanders and lies that were poured out by the republican press and speakers. To the honor of the supporters of Tilden it can be truthfully recorded that this reproach does not rest on them. They have treated the leading candidates with fairness while showing up their weak points or their misdeeds.—Times.

That "the supporters of Tilden" have not done so well in the line of mud-slinging at Gov. Hayes as they usually do in the case of republican candidates, may readily be admitted; but the reason was certainly not that they were not willing to fling mud, but that they found they could fling none that would stick. So high an authority as Dorsheimer announced, in his Faneuil Hall speech, that one of the first acts of the Tilden managers was to send a detective to Ohio to try to rake up something against Gov. Hayes' record, as a soldier, as Governor of Ohio, or as a Congressman; he admitted that the trusted spy could find no weak spot in his record,—and from this the great "reformer" argued that Gov. Hayes did not amount to much. The few petty attempts of the democracy to blacken Gov. Hayes were so promptly shown to be nothing but reckless campaign slanders, that the democratic mud-slingers were not encouraged to keep on in that line.

As to the numerous and grave charges brought against Gov. Tilden during the canvass,—they may be "vile slanders and lies;" but if so they are democratic ones—not republican. It was the democratic Cincinnati Enquirer that exposed the operations of Tilden's Michigan companies in "wild-cat currency," and denounced him as a swindler of the men in his employment; it was the same paper that said "he is a hypocrite, a political swindler" and a "public plunderer, and really the only disreputable candidate" named by the democrats, that he "sought the office by methods unprecedentedly shameless and disreputable," and that he was "educated in cunning, hypocrisy and iniquity" and "nominated in corruption and shameless effrontery." It was Dan. Voorhees who called Tilden a "railroad wrecker." It was August Belmont who said Tilden "has not come with clean hands" from his connection with "all the broken-down corporations" of New York. It was the Albany Times and Brooklyn Argus, both straight-out democratic papers, that most mercilessly ridiculed Tilden's pretensions as a "reformer," and persistently maintained that he was fully cognizant of, if not indeed an active participant in the gigantic frauds on the ballot-box by the Tweed Ring. It was Tilden's own letter, and the reports of his speeches as published in democratic papers, that proved his sympathy with secession and his bitter opposition to the war for the preservation of the Union; and it was Samuel J. Tilden himself who at one time swore that his income from all sources in a certain year was some $7000, and at another time swore that his income from one source alone in that same year was $20,000. All the various charges against Tilden have been made on the very best democratic authority.

Presidential Contests.

Five Presidential elections in which the vote of some one State might have changed the results occurred out of the 22 from 1789 to 1872. In 1796, when the State Legislatures chose the electors, Adams had only a majority of two over Jefferson, the vote being 71 to 69. In 1812 President Madison was chosen over De Witt Clinton by 128 to 89. In this contest the vote of either Pennsylvania (23) or Virginia (23) would have made De Witt Clinton President. In 1824 the full electoral vote of New York (34) would have given Andrew Jackson a majority of all the votes cast. As it was he received only one vote from that State, and the election devolved upon the House of Representatives. The contest in 1844 was exceedingly close. Polk received 170 votes; Clay, 105. The loss of New York (34 votes) was fatal to Henry Clay. Polk's plurality in that State was only 5,106—so that a change of 2,554 votes would have secured the election of Henry Clay, with all its eventful consequences. At the sixteenth Presidential election (1848) the vote of New York (34) or Pennsylvania (24) would have given Cass a majority over Taylor. Buchanan won in 1856 by 52 votes. Without the aid of Pennsylvania he would have had only 148 votes—the exact number necessary to a choice. Had Pennsylvania gone republican in October, his defeat was inevitable. Lincoln received, in 1860, 180 votes, against 123 for his opponents. Notwithstanding his great plurality, he needed the vote of New York to give him a majority of all the votes cast. Henceforth small as well as large States may deem themselves of great account.

The Bull-Dozed Parishes of Louisiana.

This is a very significant paragraph in Governor Kellogg's statement to the country, furnished by the Associated Press:

"The democrats only claim the State by estimating the republican parishes of East and West Feliciana, East Baton Rouge, Morehouse and Ouachita as having given them, as they claim, nearly 4000 majority. No one can dispute that these parishes were overrun and intimidated by armed bands of the White League before and on the day of election. These parishes have always been largely republican. The registration in these parishes is, white, 3,608; black, 8,709. They gave me 3000 majority in 1872, by the returns of the fusion Democratic Board, and they gave the republican candidate 3,900 majority, in 1874, as conceded by the Democratic State Committee."

The statement will appear even stronger if regard is had to the character of the population of these five "bull-dozed" parishes. We take the following figures from the census of 1870:

	White.	Colored.
East Feliciana	1,106	9,761
West Feliciana	1,263	8,815
East Baton Rouge	6,471	10,243
Morehouse	5,012	6,275
Ouachita	3,759	7,923
Total	18,611	43,849

It is a most impudent claim to assert that such a population is likely to give an honest democratic majority of even one, to say nothing of nearly 4,000. The proof of intimidation is on the face of the returns.

The registration of votes in these parishes in 1874, under democratic auspices, was as follows:

	White.	Colored.
East Feliciana	885	1891
West Feliciana	442	2668
East Baton Rouge	1366	2879
Morehouse	649	1221
Ouachita	836	1819
Total	4377	10479

Thus, according to democratic showing, there was in those parishes in 1874 a clear majority of colored over white voters of 6,093. How the vote was divided between the two parties in that year the following table will show, the figures being those of the Democratic Returning Board:

	Dem.	Repub.
East Feliciana	847	1868
West Feliciana	561	1358
East Baton Rouge	1556	2746
Morehouse	654	1617
Ouachita	706	1694
Total	4324	8283

These figures show that in 1874 there was a republican majority in these parishes of 3,979, of which East Feliciana gave 841. This year the democrats claim a majority of over 4000 in those parishes, where they acknowledge there is an honest republican majority of 4000; and they claim that the vote of East Feliciana—with its acknowledged republican majority of 841 in 1874—is this year unanimous for Sam. Tilden! In nearly every other parish in the State the republicans have made large gains over the vote of 1874, and have even carried parishes always democratic hitherto; yet the people of the United States are asked to believe there was an honest election in the bulldozed parishes, and that it will be a "fraud" not to count the vote of those parishes as returned by the bands of assassins who have made a farce of the election in them. We can see no remedy for the outrageous villanies perpetrated by the democrats beyond the throwing out of the entire vote of the bulldozed parishes; there is no way to justify the counting of votes that would have been thrown under other circumstances, but were not; but if the vote of those parishes should be counted and Louisiana's electoral vote thereby given to Tilden, we should present to the world the strange spectacle of a few thousand cowardly and brutal murderers in Louisiana electing the chief magistrate of forty millions of people,—in which case the aristocratic sneer of Europe that "the republican bubble has burst at last" might well be repeated, and with more truth than when it was uttered in 1861.

The Centennial Exposition.

It is gratifying to all Americans that the Exhibition has been remarkably successful. It has been the largest of the great World's Fairs ever held, and the average daily attendance has been greatly in excess of that at either of the London or Paris exhibitions, or that at Vienna. The comparative statistics of attendance are quite interesting. The following are the figures:

Year.	Place	Number of visitors.	Receipts.	Days Open.
1851	London	6,039,195	$2,536,029	141
1855	Paris	5,162,330	640,500	200
1862	London	6,211,103	2,300,000	171
1867	Paris	10,000,000	2,322,922	210
1873	Vienna	7,254,687	3,000,000	186
1876	Philadelphia	9,786,151	3,761,598	158

The daily average attendance at Philadelphia was 61,938; at London, in 1851, 49,923; at Paris, in 1855, 25,811; at London, 1862, 36,322; at Paris, in 1867, 47,619, and at Vienna, in 1873, 39,003.

The average daily receipts at Philadelphia were $23,807.50. The largest attendance was 274,919, on the Pennsylvania day, September 28, when the receipts were $118,673.75. The largest monthly attendance was in October, when the number of visitors was 2,663,579, and the cash receipts $1,160,811.50.

Gov. Kellogg's Statements.

The following is clipped from a newspaper correspondent's account of an interview with Gov. Kellogg of Louisiana:

Gov. Kellogg says he is delighted that many prominent democrats of the North are in Louisiana. They will now have an opportunity for themselves to see the villainies of the white people here. He has telegraphed asking that Messrs. Hoar and Fry shall come. "We want the people of the North," said he, "to see this thing for themselves. Things are bad enough with both parties here, I admit, but if they get at the facts they will see that all the rascality is very far from being on our side."

Here the Governor became quite excited at the duplicity, falsehood and treachery of the white people of New Orleans. "Why, sir," he said, "the democratic committee here can get up any lie they please to send North, and the whole Chamber of Commerce will sign it. The day after the election they sent a dispatch North claiming 10,000 democratic majority in Louisiana before they had got the returns from three parishes. This dispatch was signed by five bank presidents. I met Mr. Baldwin, one of these presidents, the next day, and said to him, 'How could you put your name to such a dispatch, when you could know nothing of the truth of the allegations?' 'Well, Kellogg,' he replied, 'I didn't read the —— thing, but these people bring these things to my bank and I sign them without looking at them.' " The Governor, warming up, then said that the newspapers of New Orleans were bigger liars than the democratic committee.

Gov. Kellogg then gave an account of intimidation alleged to be practiced upon the negroes before the election. The democrats had also attempted to buy up the negroes around the polls with new silver half dollars, which the negroes think are a very big thing. I said, "why, Governor, the democrats tell me that a great many negroes voted with them." Bringing his fist down on the table, he said, "I will bet any of them five thousand dollars that they do not get twenty-five negro votes in the whole State. Nicholls, the democratic candidate for Governor, is a gentleman, but he could not even control the negroes of his own plantation; and in his own parish and the surrounding parishes we have increased the republican vote immensely over the vote of 1874. We have also carried several parishes which heretofore have always been carried by the democrats."

News and Notes.

A report from Sheboyan, Mich., states that the tug J. W. Bennett went ashore on Monday night, the 13th, near St. Helena Island, Straits of Mackinaw. Five of her crew were smothered and scalded to death, in a room over the boiler, by steam escaping from the safety-valve.

"Bulldozer." Where does the word come from? We know very well who the "bulldozer" is; he is a truculent ex-rebel of Louisiana, who goes about with his fellow bulldozers at night, murdering and whipping white and colored republicans, and burning schoolhouses and churches, in the interests of Tilden and true reform; but where did he get his name?

The creditors of ex-Governor Shepherd of Washington voted to extend their claims for five years.

A curious story of the failure of justice in Newfoundland reaches us. In July last, a sailor named John Carter, of Ship Harbor, N. S., one of the crew of a schooner that was trading along the Newfoundland coast, got into an altercation at Boone Bay, Newfoundland, about a woman, with a half-breed Indian named Blake, when the latter shot Carter, killing him instantly. Blake was subsequently arrested and brought before a Captain Thompson, commander of one of Her Majesty's vessels, who, as senior officer at the place, acted as examining magistrate. Two or three local magistrates acted with him for the occasion. On the prisoner being asked to plead he frankly acknowledged having shot Carter, and said, "If he was here now I would shoot him again." This of course, closed the examination, but the man, instead of being at once committed for trial, was released "to fix up his things," and frequently afterward visited the vessel while she remained in port. The brother of the murdered man was a shipmate of his, and threatened to kill the half-breed if he got a chance, but his vessel sailed before he got an opportunity to do so. He said that if the Indian could be so easily forgiven for killing his brother, he ought to be allowed to escape. St. John Globe.

A cable despatch from the U. S. financial agent says that large amounts of U. S. bonds have been shipped home in consequence of the first announcement in London that Tilden had been elected. The later news announcing the election of Hayes will prevent further shipment.

Brig Orowacto was wrecked near Wexford, Ireland, with the loss of three men, and ship Caroline Agnes near Berwick, England, with the loss of six men, during the great gale of the 12th. Both vessels were British.

James Campbell, Esq., late senior editor of the Manchester Union, has gone to Florida, where he intends to spend most of the winter.

Newfoundland advices bring reports of several shipwrecks, but the details are scanty. A large brig drifted into Crow Harbor, Fortune Bay, with four dead men lashed to the rigging. A fishing schooner, bottom up, drove into the same place. Schooner Walrus, owned by the Hudson Bay Company, from Labrador, was lost on Block Island. All hands were drowned except the Captain's son. Schooner Emily Laren, with cod fish, was wrecked on the Labrador coast. The crew were saved. Schooner Nautilus, of Prince Edward Island, was lost on the Newfoundland coast. The crew perished.

Two brothers named Nugente and a man named Medcliffe were recently killed at Belle's Cove Copper Mine, near Halifax, N. S., the roof of a shaft falling on them.

W. R. Shelton, recently elected Mayor of New Haven, has sued the Palladium of that city for libel in publishing an article concerning the issuing of "drink tickets" by complainant for election purposes. The Palladium was deceived by outside parties, and had in type a statement to that effect when the suit was brought.

It is alleged, with good show of truth, that an uprising in Poland is imminent. The chaius of Russia do not rest lightly on the Poles, and an uprising at this time would not be at all unlikely.

To Worry the Liver

And injure the system generally take blue pills and calomel. To regulate it, and endow the entire system with healthful vigor, use Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Bilious invalids, which of these two recipes will you adopt? We doubt not, the latter. By so doing, you will avoid the disastrous consequences which the persistent or frequent use of mercury entails, and effectuate the desired return in the action of the biliary gland without danger, as well as speedily and thoroughly. The Bitters invariably remedy yellowness of the complexion and whites of the eyes, pains in the right side and under the right shoulder-blade, furred tongue, high colored urine, nausea, vertigo, dyspepsia, constipation, heaviness of the head, mental despondency, and every other manifestation or accompaniment of a disordered condition of the liver. The stomach, bowels and kidneys also experience their regulating and tonic influence.

Armed to the Teeth,

is a very common expression, but we think armed to embellish and preserve them to a ripe old age is decidedly more beneficial and appropriate—this can only be done by the fragrant "Sozodont." For cleansing, beautifying and preserving the teeth, sweetening and purifying the breath, it has no equal.

SUPREME COURT.

Thursday, November 16th.

The case of Griffin vs. the town of Auburn, for damaged caused by alleged defective highway, is still on trial. The defense opened this morning and examined a number of witnesses. One of the chief grounds of defence appears to be that the plaintiff was intoxicated at the time of the accident and consequently drove carelessly.

JOTTINGS.

The announcement in Thursday morning's paper concerning the Young People's Union Rooms, was not authorized by the Directors. They are contemplating a "change of base," which they hope will make the Union more useful than ever. When the excitement of election has passed away sufficiently to leave people's minds free to think of anything else, they will make their plan public.

The season-ticket passengers on the Eastern railroad have raised a purse of $205, and the employes of the road another of $125, which they have presented to Mrs. Lunt, widow of brakeman George Lunt, who was killed a few days ago on the road.

Two freight trains on the Eastern railroad backed into each other near Conway Junction Wednesday night, throwing several cars off the track and damaging some of them. The Pullman train due here at four o'clock Thursday morning was delayed several hours, and the mail which usually reaches this city on that train did not get to the depot until about 9:45. Nobody was injured.

Election Notes.

Prominent republicans are confident that the returning board will be compelled by overwhelming testimony to return the Hayes and Wheeler electors, as chosen by the honest vote of Louisiana. Everything is quiet and the democratic visitors seem staggered by the representations of reputable citizens as to the intimidation and violence practiced at the polls at the late election.

Colonel Jerome B. Chaffee, of Denver, and Henry M. Teller, of Central City, have been elected United States Senators from Colorado.

The question "What will be done if one of the electors chosen this month should die?" is often asked. The U. S. Statutes, Title 3, ch. 1. sec. 13, provide that

"Each State may by law provide for filling any vacancies which may occur in its college of electors, when such college meets to give its electoral vote."

This law was passed in 1845. The New Hampshire statutes provide that

"——the electors present, who do accept, in presence of the Governor and council, shall forthwith choose by ballot the number wanting to complete the board."

An examination of the State laws of South Carolina, Louisiana and Florida shows that all three States have made provision for filling any vacancies that may occur in electors, occasioned by death, resignation or otherwise, by providing that such vacancies shall be filled by the remaining electors of each State. The statement made to the contrary in some newspapers is therefore incorrect.

Attorney General Taft is understood to say that if a Presidential Elector is ineligibly elected, that fact does not elect an opposing Elector. The principle is that the majority must rule. The rule in most of the States is said to be that when a vacancy occurs the other Electors fill the vacancy by ballot. According to Hon. Caleb Cushing's views, the disability of the "ineligible Electors" does not apply to the date of election but only to the date of entering upon the functions of office. These persons, he says, could not legally act as Electors while holding the office of postmaster; they have very properly resigned the office of postmaster and are now perfectly competent at the proper time to enter upon the duties of Electors, or they might have declined to accept the office of Elector, retaining that of postmaster, the effect of which would have been to leave a vacancy in the Electoral College.

Mr. Tilden, if elected, will be elected by the defection of the three Northern States whose delegates at Cincinnati howled loudest and longest against Blaine—New York, Connecticut and Indiana.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Peter Cooper sails around expressing his sympathy for Hayes and Tilden. "I like," he says, "to see a man get a big majority, whether it's for or against him."

It would seem that the democrats, seeing the fruitlessness of their efforts to capture Louisiana, are concentrating their forces in Florida and endeavoring to wrest the State from the republicans.

The following telegram was on Wednesday sent to Gen. James A. Garfield at New Orleans: "The republicans of Mississippi earnestly invite you and your associates of both parties, when you have completed your investigations in Louisiana, to visit this State to make a like investigation into the frauds and violence with which the State has been carried." This telegram was signed by R. H. Ware, chairman of the republican State Executive Committee.

And now Mississippi wants to be investigated as to election frauds; and New York should be, whether it wants to be or not.

Peter Cooper's total vote in New York was 266.

The New York Mail reminds the Sun that Gen. Sheridan, whose presence in New Orleans distresses the latter paper, is, and has been for some years, Commander of the Department of the South, in which department the city of New Orleans happens to be situated.

Ex-Governor Warmouth is one of the republican members-elect of the Louisiana Legislature, being elected to the House.

Democrats will not admit how much President Grant's order relieved them, but the suddenness with which they let the responsibility of saving the country slide off their shoulders was at once comical and touching, and showed that they were relieved.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

Martha Scofhield, a teacher for nine years in Aiken, S. C., writes a letter to the Tribune, dated Aiken, Nov. 10, in which she gives the details of the horrible murder of six colored men for being republicans in Aiken county, within a few weeks, and closes as follows: "Already about seventy voters have been killed, and had it not been for the presence of United States troops many more lives would have been sacrificed. If any one wants to hear more of these outrages, let him follow up the report of the United States Court proceedings commencing the fourth Monday in this month at Columbia, S. C. I could write many pages of facts but forbear."

Independent journalism of a certain kind is described as follows by the New York Tribune: "There were a few journals of independent professions in the campaign which ended last week which seemed to think that the only way to be independent was to mount the housetop and throw cabbages at both parties, selecting always the most unsavory vegetables for the particular candidate they professed to favor. About once a month they would say: 'On the whole, our preferences are for Hayes,' and during the rest of the time they worked for Tilden."

The Portland Argus has taken in its roosters, and hasn't promised to bring them out again.

The democrats, in making much ado about the Vermont elector, who is supposed to be ineligible, forget that many of their Southern allies may be in the same dilemma.

There is a rumor to the effect that the democratic Governor of California may refuse to issue certificates to Hayes electors until after he has examined into certain alleged frauds. If he does so refuse, perhaps the republican Governor of North Carolina may for a far better reason refuse certificates to democratic electors, and California has only six, while North Carolina has ten electors.

The official vote of South Carolina, from all save four counties, is reported to give Hayes a majority of 1200.

New Hampshire Items.

The dwelling-house of John B. Goddet—, in Nashua, was entered Tuesday night by Peter Germain of Salem, Mass., who stole some clothing and a silver watch valued at $50. The stolen property was recovered at Lowell on Wednesday. The thief is an old offender, and is wanted at St. Hyacinth, Canada, where he broke out of prison a short time since.

The Dover Reform Club and kindred temperance organizations had a banquet at the City Hall Wednesday night. An address was delivered by Mrs. Martha Hunt of Indiana. The hall was crowded with temperance and reform men.

Kendall Crossfield, formerly a prominent contractor and builder of Keene, died on the 14th, aged 69. He had been confined to his bed for four years.

The third annual Convention of the Woman's State Temperance League is to be held at Manchester on Nov. 22d. Delegates are expected from all female temperance organizations in the State. Mrs. Malloy of Indiana and others will be present to address the Convention. The business session begins at 11 o'clock in the forenoon.

The trial of Doolittle and Miss Boorn for child murder, which was assigned for trial at Keene on Tuesday, the 14th, was postponed until the 21st. A large jury has been drawn.

George Ladd, son of Jerry Ladd of Newport, aged eighteen years, was found drowned in Sugar river on Tuesday morning. His death was caused by the upsetting of a small sail boat.

A laborer from the mills of Saunders & Co., lumbermen, Upper Bartlett, reports several cases of small pox in camp. One child has already died with the disease and serious results are feared.

—The proposed new bridge, the "Royal Albert," across the St. Lawrence, at Montreal, is to be a stupendous affair. The length will be 15,000 feet; one span of 500 or 600 feet at a height of 130 feet above navigation, five of 300 feet at the same height, four of 240 feet each, and fifty-one of two hundred feet each; the estimated cost is $4,000,000, and the work may be completed in three years.

Got His Blouse Mended.

Mrs. Hayes is a handsome, refined, and kindly matron, dark eyed and black haired. Her home she is said to make cozy and comfortable rather than pretentious. There is an amusing story told of her visit to her husband's camp in 1863. In one of the companies of his regiment was a good-natured, unsophisticated soldier named Parker, who, before Mrs. Hayes' arrival was known, was lamenting to his comrades the fact that there was nobody in camp to mend and put pockets in his ragged blouse. One of them replied: "Why don't you take it to the woman who does the sewing for the regiment and get her to fix it?" "Didn't know there was such a woman; where is she?" asked Parker. "She's up in the colonel's tent," said his comrade, "and if you'll take your blouse up there she'll mend it for you. That's what she's here for." Parker at once started for the colonel's tent, blouse in hand. Col. Hayes politely returned his salute, invited him in, and inquired what he wanted. He replied that he wanted his blouse mended and pockets put in it, and that he understood there was a woman there to do sewing for the regiment. With a merry twinkle in his eyes, the colonel called to Mrs. Hayes and asked her if she could do the work. She promptly took it, and told Parker to call for it in the afternoon. Parker returned to his comrades and told them how the colonel received him, and how kindly the woman undertook the work, and they could hardly tell where the joke was. And when, later in the day, Parker appeared with his blouse neatly mended and two ample pockets in it, he was the hero of his company.

—Since rock crystal has become so much employed in optics, the search for it has grown very active. The Alps are the chief field for this industry. The searchers generally prosecute their work alone, in order to avoid having to divide the spoil. It involves great labor and risk. An extraordinary haul has lately been made by a Berne physician, who when on the mountains a year ago with a guide, discovered a vein of crystal quartz sixty by twelve feet. It was too late in the season for them to do anything last year, but when the warm weather came, they repaired to the spot and procured as immense number of splendid stones. The large pieces went to museums and the fragments to opticians.

—The latest invention in pocket firearms is a magazine pistol. The magazine, containing five cartridges, is attached to the lower part of the barrel. By an ingenious yet simple piece of mechanism, the action produced by cocking the pistol loads it at the same time. The absence of danger in carrying it is its chief merit, as it is never loaded until required for use.

—A Chicago man dreamed that his child would be scalded to death. He took every precaution against such a catastrophe, but precisely five weeks and two days after the dream the little boy was run over by a cart, and escaped uninjured.

MAGIC
CONDITION PILLS!
The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!
No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:
Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.
WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1
MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.
Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.
WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875
MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 5th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.
Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.
WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.
MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.
JOHN W. LORD.
Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."
EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.
MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that he could hear of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.
DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.
MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get temporary relief. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrell, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.
Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.
LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.
THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they are introduced. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.
MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PU OMCINE.
BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.
is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physic clans as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.
Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.
Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.
CLEAR YOUR THROAT!
Relieve Your Lungs.
For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England;
PULMOCINE CORDIAL
Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or Inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," no does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.
For Coughs,
Croup,
Diphtheria,
Asthma, etc.,
USE
Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.
The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

ARMSTRONG'S LINCOLN BUTTER POWDER.

Good Fresh Butter All The Year Round.

BUTTER IN 20 MINUTES.

Lincoln Butter Powder is an entirely harmless article made from a celebrated English recipe, and now in daily use by many of the most noted farmers in the butter counties around Philadelphia.

In hot weather this Powder makes butter much firmer and sweeter than it usually is, and keeps it from turning rancid. It also removes the strong flavor of turnips, weeds, corn stalks, cotton seed, etc.; and the increased yield of butter much more than pays the trifling expense of using it.

Her Own Living.

Tall and light, with blue, wistful eyes, lips ripe and red as a wood-berry, and complexion all carmine and white, like a damask rose in the sunshine, Ermina Hall's was a face that an artist would have fallen down and worshipped. But it is ever as philosophers tell us, there is compensation in all things. The pock-marked girl who sat across the aisle from her in church was a millionaire's daughter, and this young girl with the angel face was on the lookout for an eligible position as governess. For Ermina Hall was penniless, and it was necessary for her to earn her livelihood in some way or other, and the trade of a governess was at least genteel.

"Keep a day school," suggested old Mr. Prince, who had been wont to dine every Sunday with Judge Hall during that eminent bankrupt's lifetime, and to consume a quantity of lobster salad, champagne and boned turkey which was simply appalling, upon these festive occasions.

"Nobody would come to me," said poor Ermina, with tears in his eyes. She had supposed, inexperienced child that she was, that Mr. Prince would have been ready with a twenty or fifty dollar bill in this, her necessity.

"Needlework," suggested Mr. Clay, who had mysteriously made money out of the very speculation that beggared the dead man.

"I never learned to sew," faltered Ermina, "I never could earn a cent that way."

"Humph!" grunted Mr. Clay. "The education of women in the present day is outrageously defective. It should all be reformed."

"Do you suppose," meekly hazarded Ermina, "that I could obtain any copying from your office? Madamoiselle Lefern used to say I wrote an elegant hand. Here is a specimen."

"Up strokes thin, down strokes black, long tails to the 'g's' and 'y's'—Italian school, eh? Pshaw! your writing may do for a perfumed note or a young lady's album, but no lawyer would look twice at it. But I dare say you will scratch along somehow."

"How?" murmured Ermina, resolutely repressing the tears that were rising to her eyes.

"How? Why, there are ways enough. Nobody needs to starve in this country. I dare say if you keep on the lookout, something will turn up."

And that was all the satisfaction that Ermina Hall got. She went to her rich cousin, Mrs. Bellairs Belton.

"I am sorry you came this morning, Ermina," said that lady, coldly. "I am busy with my accounts."

"I won't detain you an instant," said Ermina, with a sinking heart. "I—I—need something to do very much."

Mrs. Bellairs Belton shut her lips together as if her mouth were a new patent portmonnaie, and penciled down her figures without looking up.

"And I thought," went on Ermina, her heart failing her more and more, "I could perhaps teach your little children. I would work for very little, and—"

"Quite out of the question," said Mrs. Bellairs Belton. "I have just engaged a Swiss bonne, who will give them the regular accent."

And Ermina turned away, feeling almost desperate. Lunch was now in progress—she could perceive the fragrance of the chocolate, and see the dining-room girl setting French rolls and spiced salmon on the table, yet Mrs. Bellairs Belton never asked her to stay and break bread with them.

"O, how strange and cruel the world is!" thought Ermina, with a choking sensation in her throat. "I had so many friends when poor papa was alive; now I have not one except Major Miles, but I will not go to him. He was always criticising and carping even in the days of our prosperity; now he would be simply intolerable."

And so poor Ermina Hall crept into a cheap restaurant to appease the gnawing pangs of hunger. For she had lodged and boarded herself, in order to screw the greatest amount of livelihood out of the least possible amount of ready cash, and she had eaten but little the whole day.

An oyster stew and a cup of tea! It seemed like boundless extravagance to the poor girl; but she was very faint and hungry, and felt the sore necessity of food. She was early yet; there were few customers at the neat little white-draped tables, and the proprietor was leaning against the counter, talking to a woman who seemed to be some relative.

"They've struck, every one of 'em," said he. "The ungrateful fellows, after I had paid 'em regular waiters' wages all the Autumn when no one else did! And now, if I shut up shop, I won't have one of 'em back again. I'll employ women, hanged if I don't!"

"I don't see why you shouldn't," said his interlocutor. "They'll come for less and work harder. Women always do."

"So I've heard," said the restaurant man. "And I'll advertise tomorrow for a lot of girls to wait here."

Ermina rose and went timidly toward the red-faced, good-natured-looking man.

"Sir," said she, "you spoke of employing girls as waiters. I need work. I will come and work faithfully. Will you employ me?"

The restaurant keeper looked bewildered.

"You are a lady, miss?" stuttered he.

"I know that," said Ermina, as if she were making some damaging admission, "but ladies must live, and I am very poor."

So the next day she came in a frilled white apron and French print dress, and began her new duties in the Eagle eating saloon.

"At least," she told herself, "I am earning my own livelihood. And when I am busy I don't have time to think."

Mr. Bellairs Belton came in one day for a glass of ale and a plate of oysters.

"Bless my soul!" gasped he, as Ermina Hall, quick and neat, looking as if she had been born and bred to the trade, served him, "this is never you?"

"Why not?" said Ermina, laughing in spite of herself.

"My wife's cousin in a cheap restaurant!" he exclaimed. "Good heavens! what is the world coming to."

"It's not so disagreeable business as you might think it," said Ermina. "And I must live."

"Disgraceful! perfectly disgraceful!" said Mr. Bellairs Belton, as he bolted cut, leaving his oysters untasted.

Mr. Prince came in for a sardine and a cup of coffee—champagne and truffles were altogether out of the question when he had to settle the bill out of his own pocket—and he started and grew very red when he saw Ermina. But he looked straight into his cup of coffee, and pretended not to know her. And Mr. Clay stared at her as if she were some rare curiosity on exhibition, when he gave his order one day for a bowl of mock-turtle soup.

"So it's you, is it?" said he.

"Yes, sir, it's I," said Ermina.

"I think you might have gone into some more creditable business," said he.

"Any business is creditable which honestly supports a girl," retorted Ermina, "and if you can suggest any improvement, I am quite ready to listen."

Our timid little lassie had grown independent you, see.

Mr. Clay muttered something about "distorted ideas," and burned his tongue with his hot soup, while the young banker's clerk, who came to lunch every day, and sat opposite, laughed in his sleeve.

"That's the prettiest girl I ever saw," thought Rudolph Penfield. "If I could only afford to marry, and she were willing—two rather essential 'ifs,' by the way—I would make her my wife. I don't think I am positively disagreeable to her, for, gentle and modest as she is, I can see the color rise to her cheek when I come: and I believe she would be a jewel of great price to shine on the breast of the lucky man who wins her."

Three weeks after, young Penfield had waxed more positive upon the subject.

"I must have her," said he. "Little as the half of my salary is, it must be more than she earns here. And if my uncle looks favorably on the matter of my marriage, he'll be pretty sure to do something for us. I'll bring him here to see her. That will melt him."

And the next day Rudolph Penfield ordered cold roast lamb for two—himself and an old gentleman with grizzled hair and beard, and keen blue eyes like a clear January sky.

"Hallo!" said the old gentleman, "it's Hall's daughter!"

"It's Major Miles," thought Ermina.

"Come here, my dear," said the Major; "you're a girl of pluck. I like you. So does my nephew here. A girl who isn't afraid to work is the girl for my money."

And when, a few months later, Rudolph Penfield and Ermina Hall were married, the Major took them home to his brown stone house on Madison avenue.

"Rudolph must keep on working just the same," said the Major. "I can't afford to support him in idleness. But I want Ermina in the house with me. She is pretty, and I like to look at her; she's smart, and I like to talk to her."

The Bellairs Beltons left their cards when they heard that the young couple had been adopted by the wealthy Major Miles; but Ermina never returned the call.

"I have worked out the problem of my destiny without any help from them," said she quietly.

And so she had.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 18, 1876

A Conclusive Answer.

The Northern republicans in New Orleans answered the request of the Northern democrats in that city, for a conference looking to an agreement that the interlopers of both parties should insist that the Returning Board should merely canvass the vote of the State as returned by the local boards, without considering the question of fraud, as follows:

We join heartily with you in counsels of peace, and with the expression of an earnest desire for a perfectly honest and just declaration of the results of the recent election in Louisiana, by its lawfully constituted authorities, and we may add that we know of no reason to doubt that such a declaration will be made, but we do not see the propriety or the utility of a conference on the basis and subject to the limitations you propose, for we have no such duty imposed on us as suggested by the clause of your note first quoted. We are also requested to be witnesses at what shall occur in the canvass of votes, without power or influence over the result, or over the means by which, under the laws of Louisiana, the result is to be determined. We cannot doubt that in this, you, upon reflection, will concur with us. We are here as private citizens, with no official powers. We therefore cannot supersede or modify any law of this State, nor have we any right to control or influence any of its officers as to the manner in which they shall perform the ministerial or judicial duties imposed upon them by its laws, and should we, being strangers and without official function, attempt this we would be condemned by the people of every State in the Union for improper interference with local administration. The laws of Louisiana show that the Canvassing Board is expressly required, in certain cases, to exercise judicial as well as ministerial functions. Hence, if there are any facts requiring the judgment of the Board upon the validity of any election or returns as affected by such frauds or violence, it would be manifest interference with State rights and local self-government for persons like ourselves, without official right, to attempt to influence or control its judicial action. Had a corresponding board in the State of New York, in 1868, been authorized to pass upon fradulent returns of votes of the city of New York for that year, and had a delegation of citizens from Louisiana, however respectable, have attempted to influence its judicial action upon the points presented to it under the laws of that State, such attempt would have been universally condemned. If the duties of the Canvassing Board of Louisiana were merely ministerial or clerical, as in the case of an officer charged by law with the duty of verifying and declaring the result of an election, and invested with no discretion, as when the President of the Senate counts and declares the votes of the electors of the several States in the election of President and Vice-President, under the Constitution of the United States, a different case would be presented. It is, in our judgment, vital to the preservation of constitutional liberty that the habit of obedience to the forms of law should be sedulously inculcated and cultivated, and that a resort to extra constitutional modes of redress for even actual grievances should be avoided and condemned as revolutionary, disorganizing and tending to disorder and anarchy. To reduce the whole question, therefore, to the mere clerical duty of counting the votes actually cast and returned, irrespective of the question as to whether they are fraudulently and violently cast, or otherwise vitiated, involves a nullification of the provisions of the laws of Louisiana, which have already been adjudicated as valid by the Supreme Court, and would be unjustifiable here, as well as in any other State of the Union which has provided laws to protect rights of voters and the purity of the ballot. We cannot therefore concur in your proposition for a conference on that issue.

This reply was signed by John Sherman, Stanley Matthews, James A. Garfield, E. F. Noyes and Job E. Stephenson, of Ohio; William Cumback, John Coburn and Lew Wallace of Indiana; J. M. Tuttle, W. A. McGrew, J. W. Chapman, W. R. Smith, John A. Kasson, Iowa; William D. Kelley, W. S. Quay, Pennsylvania; Eugene Hale, Maine; O. Irving Ditty, Maryland; E. W. Stoughton, J. H. Election Notes.

A lady of this city who has been spending a few days in Alexandria, Va., reports that upon the receipt of the first election news in that place indicating the election of Tilden, the effect of the supposed result was immediately manifested in the conduct of the native white element toward the colored people. At once, as though a complete revolution had become an accomplished fact, the colored people ceased in the apparent estimation of the whites to have any rights which the whites were bound to respect. A colored woman who had been working in a white family, upon asking for the small sum due her, was told by the lady of the house: "I'll pay you when I get ready. Tilden is elected, and you have no right to have any pay." Even the white children called out to the colored children in the streets: "You'll be my slave now." One of the flying alarms among the poor negro population was the rumor which spread from mouth to mouth: "The white people are picking out their servants." Thus the hopes of the whites and the fears of the blacks alike show the pervailing expectation that democratic success means, sooner or later, the substantial re-establishment of slavery.—Washington Chronicle.

Whoever was responsible for the riot in Charleston on Wednesday, the evidence shows that the first shot was fired by a white man named O'Neill. He said his pistol was a self-cocking one and went off accidentally. He had known it to do so before and wound a colored boy who was examining it. There is a familiar story of a big brother who had a pleasant habit of whacking his little brother over the head. He always accounted for the blow by saying that his hand "slipped." The trouble with the accidental shooting in the South is that it always hits a negro.—N. Y. Tribune.

"The spirit of '61 is aroused," says a sensational headline in the Picayune. We have some reason to believe it is. In fact, that spirit has been rampant in several of the country parishes all summer. We have been fighting it in one shape or other for more than ten years, and hope to see it finally exorcised by the inauguration of President Hayes and Governor Packard.—N. O. Republican, 12th.

The New York Tribune of Thursday consoles Tilden for his defeat, as follows: "He may find still further consolation in reflecting upon the difficulties and embarrasments he has escaped. When he considers the great multitude of reformers who have been howling from the stump and writing blazing articles in newspapers, and carrying torches and staggering under banners and transparencies and other stimulants in his behalf; when he thinks of the long fast they have kept and the great hunger there is on them, and then of the comparatively small number of offices he would have at his disposal to meet the demands of their insatiate appetites, he cannot but be consoled."

Ex-Senator Osborn, of Florida, a cool-headed and very careful man, left Washington Monday for Florida, and on Friday the following telegram was received from him:

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 17.

To R. C. McCormick,—All right here.

(Signed) T. W. OSBORN.

At the republican headquarters in Washington more importance is attached to this despatch than any received within forty-eight hours, and any doubt or fears that may have existed regarding Florida are fully dispelled.

Full official returns from twenty-one of the thirty-two counties in South Carolina give Hampton, 51,745; Chamberlain, 61,201, Chamberlain's majority, 9456. Tilden, 50,571; and Hayes, 61,066; Hayes' majority, 10,495. In these counties, therefore, Hayes runs 1039 ahead of Chamberlain.

Gen. Butler appears to be about the happiest man in the country just now.

In denying the report that notices were posted in the Thomaston (Conn.) clock shops discharging any workmen who should vote the democratic ticket, Treasurer Seth E. Thomas says: "The officers of the Seth Thomas Clock Company vote as they are a mind to, and go to church where they please, and all of their workmen do the same, and they know that their employes are neither bigots nor fools."

The Portland Press thinks the adjective "bull-dozed" is "as barbarous as the method it describes."

Exeter has 154 persons, corporations and firms that pay a tax of $50 or upward. The largest tax is that of the Exeter Manufacturing Company, $1546.27. Fifty-eight persons or firms pay a tax exceeding $100 each.

The Nashua Telegraph is crushing Wendell Phillips with some of his dainty sentimentalities, because Mr. Phillips dared in the late campaign to espouse the cause of candidates who had performed while others preached. It will be remembered how the Telegraph crushed Hon. E. H. Rollins in the recent State campaign for the Senatorship. Mr. Phillips had best beware.

A saw and shingle mill at Bristol, owned by Elijah Sanborn, was burned Thursday. Loss $3000; insured $1500.

The old Milford pour house, near Danforth's Corner, was destroyed by fire Thursday afternoon. Loss $2000; cause unknown.

On Thursday, in Milford a fire destroyed the farm buildings of Calvin Merrill, together with thirty tons of hay, 300 bushels of corn, 100 bushels of potatoes and eight hogs. Loss on building and crops, $4000; no insurance. The fire was caused by a hired man smoking in the barn.

Brookline has wheeled into the republican column, and is likely to remain there. The republicans made a net gain of 22, and elected Joseph A. Hall, Esq., moderator and member of the Constitutional Convention.

The mill property known as the "Old Bell Mill," of Peterboro, owned by Amidon, Lane & Co., of New York, was sold at auction on Thursday, S. B. Rindge of Boston, of Parker, Wilder & Co., being the purchaser. The sum obtained was $5350. The sale was numerously attended by manufacturers from various localities.

Mr. Ludger G. Geoffrey, of Manchester, was on Thursday night presented with a month-old baby by some one who left the donation in a bundle on his doorstep.

To Worry the Liver

And injure the system generally take blue pills and calomel. To regulate it, and endow the entire system with healthful vigor, use Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Bilious invalids, which of these two recipes will you adopt? We doubt not, the latter. By so doing, you will avoid the disastrous consequences which the persistent or frequent use of mercury entails, and effectuate the desired reform in the action of the biliary gland without danger, as well as speedily and thoroughly. The Bitters invariably remedy yellowness of the complexion and whites of the eyes, pains in the right side and under the right shoulder-blade, furred tongue, high colored urine, nausea, vertigo, dyspepsia, constipation, heaviness of the head, mental despondency, and every other manifestation or accompaniment of a disordered condition of the liver. The stomach, bowels and kidneys also experience their regulating and tonic influence.

Armed to the Teeth,

Is a very common expression, but we think armed to embellish and preserve them to a ripe old age is decidedly more beneficial and appropriate—this can only be done by the fragrant "Sozodont." For cleansing, beautifying and preserving the teeth, sweetening and purifying the breath, it has no equal.

Guests can live better for less money at the Grand Union than at any other first-class hotel. Stages and cars pass the Hotel constantly to all parts of the city, and to the Philadelphia depot.

PROF. CLARKE'S LECTURE.

The public are indebted to Oliver M. Knight, Esq., the manager of the new course of lectures of which that by Mr. E. Warren Clark was the opening one, for one of the most entertaining and instructive addresses ever given before any lyceum course in this city. We regret to say that but four hundred people were present. However, the audience lost sight of its numbers in its interest in the subject which Mr. Clark so vividly kept before them for full two hours. Then so eager were his auditors that, after giving those who desired to go home an opportunity to leave the hall, Mr. Clark continued his lecture for about three-quarters of an hour longer, after which the specimens he had with him were inspected, it being nearly half-past ten o'clock before the hall was closed. Col. Russell H. Conwell is to deliver the next lecture, and he is well known to our citizens on account of his eloquent address at the Temple on the evening of last Memorial Day. Those who heard Mr. Clark's lecture are very desirous for him to return and address them on other subjects. Mr. Knight assures us that not one of the lectures of this course will be lacking in interest or be inferior to that of Thursday evening. We give room for the following commendation of Prof. Clark's lecture, from a gentleman who has for years been prominent in all movements to advance the educational and literary interests of the city, as we consider that so absolutely good a thing cannot be too much praised:

The lecture in the Independent Course, on Thursday evening, by Prof. E. Warren Clark, was a treat, combining instruction with amusement in a manner most entertaining. The subject, (Japan and the Japanese) which has been a sealed book for ages, its pages extending back to 650 years before Christ, is being gradually opened and explored, revealing the history and peculiar manners and customs of one of the most remarkable races on the face of the earth. From such lectures, illustrated with maps and the exhibit of the products of their peculiar arts, how much more is added to the stock of knowledge and food for thought of the audience, than the rambling material, of proverbs, and stories pointed with a moral, which make up some of our popular and most expensive lectures. Mr. Clarke was listened to by a very intelligent audience for two hours and a quarter; and even then, such was the interest of his theme, a large number of the audience again seated themselves for another half-hour, to hear more about the Mikado and the ladies of the Japanese Court. For such lectures the Independent Course deserves the thanks of the public and a full house. ‡

SUPREME COURT.

The evidence in the suit Griffin vs. the town of Auburn was concluded on Friday afternoon. This morning, the case will be argued by Hon. J. F. Briggs for the town and Hon. Lewis W. Clark for the plaintiff. The case has required an unusual array of legal talent to properly present it. The plaintiff is represented by Messrs. Clark, Cross and Hiland, the defendant by Messrs. Briggs and Fellows of Manchester and Mr. Hatch of this city.

The County Solicitor has signified his intention to commence the trial of the appeal cases on the criminal docket on Monday.

JOTTINGS.

Many persons will be glad to learn that the Seaman's Home is now again open to the public, the winter arrangements being completed. If the present prices can be continued, it would seem that no one need suffer for a meal the coming season. Under the new order of things both the Coffee-room and Reading-room are cheerful and home-like, while the perfect neatness cannot fail to gratify the very numerous patrons.

In choosing a hotel an experienced traveler usually selects an old established house with a standard reputation for cleanliness, comfort, and excellence of table. These features are the peculiar characteristics of the American House, of Boston, which is so well and favorably known throughout the country.

The Insurance Problem has become one of the most important questions in mercantile and marine life. So much that is specious and nothing more, has been offered, (and on trial proved of no value,) that property holders on sea or on land will gladly peruse the magnificent exhibit of the Delaware Mutual Safety Insurance Co., which appears in our columns to-day. Aside from the undoubted security offered by the "Delaware," the 40 per cent. dividend renders this a most economical as well as safe company in which to insure.

Any application sent to W. V. Hutchings, 25 State street, Boston, will receive immediate attention.

Beecher and Tilton passed through this city on Thursday in the same car. They did not occupy the same berth, however.

A Rye man says the last week of the political campaign was pretty tough on the members of the Rye Cornet Band, they playing six nights out of seven for the two political parties, including two trips to Portsmouth and one to Dover. One member declares that during that week he marched 1800 miles, wore out two pairs of boots, stamped down ninety acres of mud, and blew wind enough through his horn to produce a West India hurricane.

We are pleased to learn that B. P. Shillaber, Esq., is recovering from his recent severe illness.

An interesting temperance meeting will be held at Rechabite Hall, to-morrow (Sunday) evening, commencing at half-past 7 o'clock. Admission 5 cents.

The Times says: "The keeper of Boon island light reports that a flock of geese, evidently dazzled by the glare of the light, flew blindly against the lenses a few nights ago with such force as to kill eleven of the migrators outright." Tough glass or tough yarn.

The Seabrook correspondent of the Exeter News-Letter relates the following election day incident: "A certain honest but weak republican was induced to partake so freely of hard cider that he became dead drunk; in which condition his cold corpus was boxed up and stowed away in a horse-stable, to prevent him from voting. After the polls were closed he was released from durance vile and led to one of his neighbors, who gave him some more democratic cider. He was then started on the road for home, and left to stagger and stumble to his family as he might, in the dark."

On the evening of the 1st of November G. Harrison Jenness, Esq., of Rye, had a nice new harness hanging in his carriage house. On the morning of the 2d of November he didn't have that nice new harness hanging in his carriage house. Mr. Jenness will be happy to give his opinion of the thief who established the vacancy in his harness room, if the fellow will only call for it.

One-third of steam tug Clara Bateman will be sold at auction at noon to-day, at the steamboat wharf, foot of Deer street. This tug, which is in excellent order, is an important auxiliary to the commercial facilities of this port.

The new mansion of Marcellus Eldredge, Esq., corner of Islington and Cornwall streets, is finished, and will be one of the finest and most attractive residences in the city.

Fred Burditt, a seven-years-old boy, attempted to cross the Eastern Railroad track at Market street, Lynn, Thursday afternoon, in front of an engine, but was struck and knocked twenty feet, and had his skull fractured. The boy's mother was with him at the time.

OBITUARY.

Our community were surprised last evening, at the painful intelligence of the sudden death of Gershom F. Melcher, who though known to be in failing health, was not regarded except by a very few as being so near his end. He died yesterday afternoon at his residence on Richards Avenue, of heart disease.

Mr. Melcher was the son of the late Daniel Melcher, a native of Portsmouth, but for many years a resident and well-known carriage builder in Exeter. Gershom learned the trade of a watch maker with J. J. Woodward at Great Falls, and about thirteen years ago came to this city and engaged in business on Market Square in the store with the late Chas. T. Emery. Subsequently he took the stand so long occupied by the late Robert Gray on Congress Street, where he has since remained. In his business relations he was always agreeable to his customers and faithful in every detail. In the social circle he was regarded as a warm friend and genial companion. Always firm in his convictions upon political and other discussed subjects, never concealing his opinions upon men or measures of a public character, but always pronounced in his views, he nevertheless was universally popular, with all who were within the circle of his acquaintance. Indeed there are few men of his age who had more firm and cherished friendships than had Mr. Melcher.

Several years since he married a daughter of the late Andrew B. Vennard, Esq. Mr. Melcher's last appearance down town, was on the day of the late Presidential election, when he went to the polls and voted. He was always a democrat, as was his father before him. His loss will be keenly felt by his large circle of friends and his presence will be missed in our streets and business resorts by many who always enjoyed the sunshine of his countenance and his ever pleasant social relations.

Dr. John Dove, aged eighty-four years, a native of Richmond, Va., died there on the 16th. He was for sixty-three years a Mason and held high positions in the order. He was the oldest Grand Secretary in the world, having held the office over thirty years, and was Grand Recorder of the Grand Encampment of Knights Templar for thirty years.

The papers are beginning to discuss the question whether Russia would grant letters of marque to American privateers in case of a war between Russia and England. Quite likely she would, and quite likely there would be plenty of American applicants for such commissions, but they would have to run their own risks. All our government would have to do in the premises would be to rigidly observe the letter and spirit of the law—to do by England as England did not do by us in the day of our great trial.

MARRIED.

DREW—PICKERING. In Newington, Nov. 6, by Rev. Franklin Davis, Mr. James Drew and Miss Laura E. Pickering, both of Newington.

MELCHER. In this city, Nov. 17, Mr. Gershom F. Melcher.

UPHOLSTERY!

Daily Chronicle.

—The Burlington Hawkeye says that when Henry Clay Dean saw a blade of grass sprouting on his shirt bosom, he exclaimed, "We must have a change."

—As an evidence that times are on the mend, it should be noted that watches owned by Washington during the Revolution, that sold a year ago at $200 apiece, can now be had for $1 each, with a discount to the trade.

—Lucy Hooper, writing from Paris in the World, tells how the ex-Empress Eugenie's claim to beauty was established. As a young girl, at the court of Madrid, she wore the flowing drapery fashionable at that time, and which was unfavorable to the display of her exquisite figure. One day she fell into a lake and was taken out insensible. The then wet dress clung to her, and her reputation for faultlessness of form was never afterward questioned. The same writer says: "To her great credit be it said that, after she became Empress of the French, though she presided over one of the most dissolute courts of modern Europe, the breath of slander never dare assail her. Her married life was far from being happy. Like a true Spaniard, she was passionately jealous of her husband, who certainly gave her ample cause."

MAGIC

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 8th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds, now I weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have hitch I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldier, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I feel it my duty to give them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially during cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, 75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The improvement it seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrell, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physic cians as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after, dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy elief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

The Man Who Pulled the Bell Line.

Quite recently a conductor on one of the night trains going out of Atlanta, says the Constitution, got the impression that some one had tampered with the bell rope, and he seemed exceedingly anxious to get his hands on the offender. He searched through every car in the train, until at last he pounced upon a seedy, but very quiet looking individual, whose hat needed brushing and whose hair needed combing.

"Did you pull my bell-line?"

The seedy man looked up with a puzzled expression, but his countenance suddenly cleared and he replied:

"Sit down, my friend—I will make room for you. And so you have them strung up? I have often heard that you had belle-editors in this section, but the idea of a belle-line really never occurred to me. Did I understand you to say that some playful wretch—some hilarious villain—"

"What do you mean, sir?" exclaimed the conductor, astonished as well as irritated.

"I asked if you had pulled my bell-line. I want to know if you jerked that rope. If you did, it won't be healthy for you around here."

"My dear sir," rejoined the seedy individual, "I never, even by implication, go into an unhealthy climate if I can help it. I misunderstood the drift of your remarks. Do you suppose I would climb on the backs of these seats and risk my neck merely for the purpose of ringing a supposed bell at the other end of the train?"

"Well, the line was pulled," said the conductor.

"No doubt, sir—no doubt. We all have our troubles. Every profession has its vexations and troubles. Those of a conductor, I imagine, come when the average passenger, with whom he scrapes up a passing acquaintance, either pulls his bell-line or has no bottle in his valise. Now, sir, I am not an average passenger, and if you will pardon the seeming familiarity we will adjourn to the water cooler."

They adjourned.

The Sea-Serpent.

A correspondent in Japan of the New York Evening Post writes: That interesting specimen in natural history, the sea serpent, has been seen again, this time between Malacca and Penang. The fortunate spectators were the officers and passengers of the steamship Nestor, who "unanimously vouch for the fact." The commander, John W. Webster, has published a card on the subject, from which I take the following account of the serpent:

"Being on the bridge all the time (about 10 A. M.) with the first and third officers, we were surprised by the appearance of an extraordinary monster going in our course, and at an equal speed with the vessel, at a distance from us of 600 feet. It had a square head, and a dragon back and white striped tail, and an immense body which was quite fifty feet broad when the monster raised it. The head was about twelve feet broad, and appeared to be occasionally at the extreme about six feet above the water. When the head was placed on a level with the water, the body was extended to its utmost limit to all appearances, and the body rose out of the water about two feet, and seemed quite fifty feet broad at those times. The long dragon tail with black and white scales afterwards rose, and an undulating motion in which at one time the head, at another time the body, and eventually the tail formed, each in its turn, a prominent object above the water. The animal, or whatever it may be called, appeared careless of our close proximity, and went our course for about six minutes on our starboard side, and then finally worked round to our port side, and remained in view, to the delight of all on board, for about half an hour."

—It is about the season now for church sociables. The little games of chance, incipient lotteries, palaver, pious deceit, and shoving of trifles into visitors' possession, in return for their surplus cash—all this doubtful business is likely to begin. As managed, too many such enterprises result in putting brass into young ladies' faces while taking the silver out of young gentlemen's pockets. Money so raised is more apt to be an abomination than a blessing. Why should the people be inveigled into doing their duty? If churches cannot be built, and the gospel supported, without resorting to means which are both silly and demoralizing, let there be no building and no preaching. Christianity is worthy of honest patronage, and is only hindered by any other. Jesus Christ is not a child, to be amused with trinkets. He is a man of men, and asks manly service and candid discipleship.—Methodist Recorder.

—An Irishman's friend having fallen into a slough, called loudly to another for assistance. The latter, who was busily engaged in cutting a log, and wished to procrastinate, inquired, "How deep is the gentleman in?" "Up to his ankles." "Then there is plenty of time," said the other. "No, there is not," rejoined the first; "I forgot to tell you he's in head first."

South Carolina Settled!!!

The Returning Board finished counting the votes for electors in South Carolina on Saturday. The Hayes electors are all chosen, 230 being the smallest majority cast for any one of them. No votes were thrown out.

Election Notes.

A special from New Orleans says the board was in session Saturday, hearing a protest handed in by Curtin, Trumbull, and others, against the attempts made to throw out the returns from Baton Rouge East, and one of the Felicianas. Gen. Sheridan has withdrawn the troops from headquarters, and says a mixed representation of parties on the returning board will certainly secure peace. Gov. Kellogg says the parishes of Caddo, Bossier, Rapides and Desoto, claimed by the democrats, give a republican majority, and an honest vote of nearly 2700.

Hon. W. E. Chandler telegraphs to the N. Y. Herald from Florida that Hayes' majority is based on the honest vote of the State. If you believe the lying despatches sent North, you must think the white population here a police board of detectives.

The republicans in the next House will have 145 members as to whose election there is no reasonable doubt. The majority of the next House will be 147 members, and to secure this majority the republicans have only to gain, according to the figures claimed by the Republican Committee, two additional members. There are at least five Congressmen in doubt, three of whom the republicans confidently expect to elect. There are besides, doubtless, two additional republicans in South Carolina whom the democrats have not conceded to the republicans.

A Washington dispatch to the Tribune says that in military and naval circles it is believed that orders will soon be issued directing preparations to be made for the concentration of a sufficient force at Washington to quiet all apprehensions felt in the country of revolutionary demonstrations occurring to interfere with the counting of the electoral vote or with the inauguration of the legally chosen President.

Wendell Philips, in a letter to a friend in New York, says of President Grant: "We are wading through deep water just now, the ship labors heartily, but Grant will pull us through. How nobly he comes out in hours of danger, and when responsibility is to be taken in the face of doubt and mistrust! He'll stand by Jackson's side as the President who had a will and "took the responsibility."

An account of an interview with Gov. Hayes is published. The conversation turning upon the possibility of the corruption of a Presidential Elector, and upon the fact that one Elector might vote for the opposite party from that which had elected him, one of the gentlemen conversing with Gov. Hayes remarked, "No man in this country has courage enough to accept the office of President if elected by such a vote, and by courage I mean hardihood, bravado, wickedness, and all the qualities requisite to such an act." Gov. Hayes very promptly but quietly said, "I know one man certainly who has not." Enlarging upon this idea, he said, "Any man fit to be President or even the candidate of a great party for the office, would prefer to be counted out by fraud rather than be counted in by fraud, of which there is a reasonable suspicion."

The high moral tone of the democratic party crops out continually. The New York correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer telegraphs to that paper: "The democratic leaders here claim to have made satisfactory arrangements with Pinchback, the mulatto leader of Louisiana, whose influence is said to be paramount with the two negro members of the Returning Board. There is a beam of light for the democracy from this opening." It looks more like a beam of darkness.

This business is becoming very plain. The democrats tried to elect Mr. Tilden by stupendous bragging. Now they are trying to get him counted in by impudent bluffing. The St. Louis Times of the 14th editorially declares: "We will either have Tilden or a fight." This is language fit for the insane asylum or the jail. If the words come from a person legally and morally irresponsible, they entitle him to protection against himself in a strait jacket. If they come from one who knows their meaning, they entitle him to a place inside the first hangman's noose that may be prepared for those who get up a "fight" against the United States. He may rest assured that the loyal people who were willing to forgive those who took part in the rebellion of 1861 will see to it, if another rebellion should occur, that treason shall be made odious by the punishment of some of those who engage in or incite it. —Tribune.

The official vote of Maryland for President and Vice President is for Tilden 91,-780; Hayes, 71,981. Tilden's majority 19,-799.

Senator Bruce states that he was not molested during the campaign in Mississippi, but declares that the manner in which the republican vote was blotted out in that State would be laughable were it not so serious a matter, and the whole election there was a farce.

Gov. Tilden received more than his total Connecticut majority in three wards of Hartford and three of New Haven, regions which correspond in character with the famous, or rather notorious sixth ward of New York.

From the latest returns it appears that the democrats have elected 147 members of the next Congress, and the republicans 142 and Ben Butler. Reckoning Ben at what he will count for, as an offset to about ten ex-Confederates, the republicans will have a majority of about five—in everything but voting.—Manchester Mirror.

The democrats are indirectly conceding that the certificates from the three disputed States will be against Tilden by declaring that the whole contest will be transferred to Congress, and that the House will take the initiative in the struggle by sending a committee to each of the contested States and bring out all the facts of the late election, and that these will be ready for use by the members of the House in the joint convention for counting the electoral votes.

A leading democrat of this city, it is said, received a dispatch from Boston yesterday as follows: "We have got votes enough to elect Tilden, but we can't find 'em."—Lewiston (Me.) Journal.

A Washington special to the Globe says that Judge Settle, late republican candidate for Governor of North Carolina is in the city, accompanied by Mr. Keogh, Chairman of the State Republican Committee. They have come to consult with Secretary Chandler and others as to what is best to be done in that State, which was evidently carried by fraud. They are preparing an exhibit of facts.

The bondsmen of Patrick E. Hannover, of Worcester, Mass., who was arrested some days ago, and bailed in $1000 on the charge of fraudulently obtaining sundry naturalization papers, want to find him.

John A. Kelly of Worcester, Mass., Warden of Ward V., has been arrested on a warrant charging him with violating the State law in regard to challenging votes at the recent election. Kelly is a democrat, and it is alleged that at the election he took no notice of challenges made, allowing all who presented themselves to vote without making any attempt to enforce the State law.

News and Notes.

The United States troops at Fort Porter, Buffalo, N. Y., have been ordered to be ready to move at a moment's notice. It is believed they are intended for Detroit, but why they are to go there is not stated,—possibly it is on account of the Fenian scare in Canada.

The prospects of a war in Europe are increasing.

A telegram from Calcutta states that later accounts says 127,000 persons perished during the cyclone which passed through Eastern Bengal on the 31st of October. The Government is taking active steps for the relief of the distressed.

Mrs. Emma Willetts and daughter, residing at Lawrence, Long Island, were burned to death last week by starting a fire with kerosene.

On Thursday night the barn of Mr. Calvin Folansbee, of East Medway, Mass., was burned, with twenty tons of hay, thirteen cows and eight swine. Loss $2000; insurance $300. After the fire the charred remains of Mr. Folansbee were found in the ruins.

Louis St. Germain, who recently escaped from the St. Hyacinthe prison in Canada, and more recently committed a burglary in Nashua, was arrested in Lowell last week and returned to Nashua on Saturday.

As a Saville fishing smack was passing through Jones's inlet, near Flushing, Long Island, it ran on a bar and broke in two. Two of the three occupants were drowned.

Curiosities of Card Playing.

One of the monthly periodicals, the pages of which usually contain a little gossip concerning the game of whist and other card games, in the form either of original communications or notices to correspondents, inserted about three years ago a letter from a gentleman at Dundee on a subject which whist-players recognized as coming among the curiosities of their favorite game, viz., the chance which sometimes brings together a remarkable group of cards in one of the hands dealt out. He said: "One of the most extraordinary incidents in connection with whist, I daresay you ever heard of, occurred here recently. Four gentlemen of the highest respectability, with whom I am well acquainted, were playing at whist last Wednesday evening. They had been playing about a couple of hours, when one of them, after having dealt, found his hand to consist of the whole thirteen trumps. Two packs of cards were used alternately all the time, and this occurred with one of them, after being shuffled and cut in the usual way."

The question at once suggests itself: Were the cards really well shuffled, so as to do away with any special classification which they had previously undergone? If they formed a new pack arranged systematically; if they had not been shuffled since the playing of some one of the more peculiar games at cards: if they had been used by children to place side by side for the production of some fanciful or pictorial display—then the finding of (say) all the hearts at distances of exactly four cards apart, so as to give out all thirteen to the dealer, could easily be accounted for. But here the name of the informant was given, together with the evening and the locality of the play, furnishing much guarantee that no hoax or exaggeration was perpetrated. Besides this, we know that such a coincidence can occur; and mathematicians, or at least arithmeticians, have devoted no small amount of attention to a determination of the chances for and against its occurence. Not long ago, in London, four gentlemen sat down to whist, and in cutting for partners cut or turned up the four aces. Of course, for the purpose of the game, another process of cutting was necessary, and there was an end of the matter; but the fact, thus placed on record, affords a second instance of the occurrence of something which in its nature was exceedingly improbable.

One recorded example of strange hands at cards was testified in a very complete way, to remove all doubt of the good faith of the narrator. Thirteen years ago, the military cantonment at Jubbulpore, in the East Indies, five officers of Her Majesty's Ninety-first Foot were assembled, four playing at whist and one looking on. A brief narration was written in the name of, and signed by all five, officers—comprising the lieutenant-colonel, two captains, and two ensigns of the regiment—and transmitted to the editor of a London weekly newspaper. The cards used on this occasion had been played with before, and were shuffled and cut in the usual way. When all the fifty-two cards had been dealt out, and the hands were looked at, the combinations were such as might well astonish the players. The dealer was found to have all the thirteen trumps (spades;) his partner had eleven clubs; his antagonist on the left hand had twelve hearts, and he on the right hand twelve diamonds! In so far as the dealer's hand contained all the thirteen trumps, we have already noticed an instance of this kind; but the extraordinary thing is that each of the other three hands was made up so very nearly of one suit only. There was a fair probability, for example, that the dealer's partner (all the spades being held by the dealer himself) would have nearly equal numbers of clubs, hearts, and diamonds, four or five of each; but that he should have so many as eleven of one suit was certainly not to be expected. And so of the other two hands; there was a combination of improbabilities so extraordinary as to make the odds enormous against such a phenomenon occurring in actual play.

Mr. Babbage, or some other expert mathematician, once set himself the nice little sum of calculating the number of different ways in which the fifty-two cards of a pack can be distributed among four players—thirteen to each—taking every possible combination and permutation. It would be no use to present the answer here in a long row of figures, for no one can realize to himself what such a numerical array really conveys; nor would it be much better to play with the words billions and trillions, seeing that these are mere words and nothing more to most of us; but the following illustration is more likely to be appreciated by the unlearned many: "If the entire population of the earth, taken at 1,000,000,000 of persons, were to deal the cards incessantly, day and night, for 100,000,000 years, at the rate of a deal by each person a minute, they would not have exhausted the one hundred thousandth part of the number of essentially different ways in which the cards can be so distributed." We know what Dominie Sampson's exclamation would have been if he had read or heard this.—All the Year Round.

To Worry the Liver

And injure the system generally take blue pills and calomel. To regulate it, and endow the entire system with healthful vigor, use Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Bilious invalids, which of these two recipes will you adopt? We doubt not, the latter. By so doing, you will avoid the disastrous consequences which the persistent use of mercury entails, and effectuate the desired reform in the action of the biliary gland without danger, as well as speedily and thoroughly. The Bitters invariably remedy yellowness of the complexion and whites of the eyes, pains in the right side and under the right shoulder-blade, furred tongue, high colored urine, nausea, vertigo, dyspepsia, constipation, heaviness of the head, mental despondency, and every other manifestation or accompaniment of a disordered condition of the liver. The stomach, bowels and kidneys also experience their regulating and tonic influence.

Armed to the Teeth,

Is a very common expression, but we think armed to embellish and preserve them to a ripe old age is decidedly more benefical and appropriate—this can only be done by the fragrant "Sozodont." For cleansing, beautifying and preserving the teeth, sweetening and purifying the breath, it has no equal.

E. G. PIERCE, JR., P. M.

DEATH OF SYLVESTER HAM.

It is our sad duty this morning to chronicle the death of Mr. SYLVESTER HAM, which occurred at his residence in this city shortly after midnight of Saturday. The immediate cause of his decease was an internal cancer or tumor, which had been developing for a year or more but had not been very troublesome until within a few months. Mr. HAM was at work at his trade, that of joiner, last Thursday, and at that time injured himself by lifting, which brought on severe pain and a hemorrhage, that were but the precursors of a fatal result. His many friends will be pained beyond expression at this sorrowful announcement and this (to them) sudden disappearance from their living presence of an associate so well known and so universally respected. He was a member of the Masonic Fraternity, by whom he was highly esteemed. We believe he had been a member of the City Council, but feeling averse to holding office declined further advancement in that direction. He was one of the active members of the old Portsmouth Cornet Band for a score of years, commencing with its inception and ending only with its disbandment. Possessed of a modest and singularly retiring disposition, he yet was every inch a gentleman and delighted in unostentatiously doing good, never forgetting the simplest courtesies which so many of us neglect in the hurry of every-day existence. He was more than usually even-tempered in disposition; of a noble, kindly nature which led him to feel charitably for the errors of others; self-poised in mind and content with doing his duty to himself and all mankind in a quiet way that won him the friendship of all who knew him, and never the enmity or dislike of any. Of the vast numbers who pass a fitful existence here for a few-score years and then leave behind nothing but a blessed memory we know of no truer soul than SYLVESTER HAM. His character was of the purest and his integrity without suspicion. He was a faithful exemplar of the Golden Rule, as all who knew him well can bear testimony. And better is the record of a life so pure, so well-spent and so honest in intention and action alike, than the praise of an army with banners and music, or the high-sounding honors to which men whom the world calls great, so persistently aspire.

JOTTINGS.

Members of Osgood Lodge No. 48, I. O. of O. F. are requested to meet at Odd Fellows' Hall to-day (Monday) at 1 P. M., to attend the funeral of their deceased Brother Gershom F. Melcher.

The next lecture before the Temperance Reform Club will be delivered in the Temple on Sunday evening, at half-past seven o'clock, by Rev. Eugene M. Grant, pastor of the Universalist Church of this city. Mr. Grant has but lately come among us and is a stranger to Portsmouth people, but he bears an excellent reputation as an earnest advocate for all that is good and true; and from what we have heard of him from the platform in the matter of temperance, we judge him to be no ordinary speaker.

Mr. Charles G. Wood has been chosen Treasurer of the American Unitarian Association, in place of Mr. Arthur T. Lyman, resigned.

On Thursday, brakeman Edward F. Smith of Newburyport, employed on one of the freight trains of the Eastern railroad, while walking upon the top of a car between Revere and Boston came in contact with a bridge, by which his skull was badly fractured. He was taken to the Massachusetts general hospital, and it is feared that he cannot recover.

POLICE COURT.

Saturday, November 18th.

John A. Tucker was brought up on a complaint of having stolen a cow. The evidence indicated some irregular proceedings in connection with the killing and selling of the cow by defendant, but he was discharged by Judge Batchelder on account of a defective warrant.

—The following sacerdotal fact, throwing much light on the vexed question of the "apostolic succession," comes to us from a friend in Benicia, California: An old lady belonging to "one of the sects," on meeting the parish rector, said, "Pray, Mr. Matthews, will you tell me what you Episcopalians mean by the 'apostolic succession?'" "Certainly, my dear madam," replied the rector, who was a little given to practical jokes. "You see, my name is Matthews; I am descended from Matthew the Publican." "Oh!" she answered, "that is excellent; and how about Mr. James?" "Why, don't you know—James, the brother of John, sons of Zebedee?" "Why, yes, certainly; but how about Rev. Bishop Green?" This puzzled our reverend friend for an instant, but he soon brightened and replied, "Why, Bishop Green derived the succession through his mother's family."—Harper's.

Hon. James G. Blaine.

The New York correspondent of the Chicago Journal writes that paper as follows:

"The praises of Mr. Blaine for his course during the campaign, particularly in this State, are on every republican's lips here, and loud now are the denunciations uttered against Secretary of War Don Cameron for his action in the Cincinnati Convention in defeating his (Blaine's) nomination. Republicans here, with few exceptions, feel that with his magnetism and splendid managing capacity, he would have aroused and swept the country. How little effect that talk of his railroad transaction would have had against him is shown by the result attending the Tilden railroad revelations made during the campaign. The republicans of New York hardly recovered from the disappointment of his defeat in the convention, and I have learned in Philadelphia that the same was true of republicans there."

The argument that because Tilden was not injured by the exposure of his tricks at "railroad wrecking" a republican candidate would not have been harmed by a false accusation, does not hold good, for disclosures that would not injure a democratic candidate in his party would force a republican candidate off the ticket. In proof of this is the unquestioned fact that Mr. Blaine lost the republican nomination because he had merely been accused of wrongdoing, though the pretended proofs of it had been overthrown as fast as brought forward; while Tilden's swindling did not suffice to defeat his nomination, nor to prevent him from very nearly capturing the Presidency,—if indeed it shall not turn out that the great trickster's desperate personal endeavors to have himself elected, by money and fraud in the North and fraud and murder in the South, have unhappily been successful.

That the slanders against Mr. Blaine would have had little effect in the canvass is better indicated by the election of Hon. B. F. Butler, in Massachusetts. Gen. Butler was handicapped with his salary-grab record,—for, like those great democratic "reformers," Sam. Randall and Fernando Wood, he was an open advocate of the back-pay grab, and like them pocketed his share,—and his financial theories are certainly not those of the mass of the republican party; and yet he not only defeated Hon. Impromptu Tarbox but Hon. Mr. Hoar also, having a liberal majority over both of them together. But the voters of his district in electing him did not endorse either the salary-grab or the rag-baby; they voted for him in spite of his record on those matters, knowing that on any question regarding the conservation of the results of the war he will be right every time, and a bold and determined upholder of the right. And much more would the unsupported slanders against Mr. Blaine have been kicked aside as unworthy notice, while his splendid record of opposition to secession and to the ex-rebel revival would have roused an enthusiasm which Gov. Hayes' nomination did not awaken.

Accident on the B. & M. Railroad.

On Friday the 10:30 A. M. freight train from Boston for Dover, over the Boston & Maine Railroad, met with a serious accident at Ballardvale, Mass., by which two men lost their lives and another was seriously injured. As the train, consisting of forty-seven heavily loaded cars, drawn by two engines, (the Bay State and the Boston,) was approaching the Ballardvale station the switch just below the crossing was discovered to be misplaced. As soon as the discovery was made Harry Nute, engineer of the Bay State, whistled for brakes and with his fireman jumped off the machine. Charles H. Walker, the engineer of the Boston, the second engine, also called for brakes and told his fireman, Carlos H. Miller, and a nephew, John W. Blake, who was riding on the engine, to jump for their lives. The train, which was running at a high rate of speed, passed over the switch on to a side track opposite the Whipple File Works, the forward engine striking a platform car standing on the track, throwing both engines and some thirty-eight cars off the iron. Both engines were badly smashed and the cars a total wreck. The forward car pushed the tender of the Boston off the track, jamming the engineer, Charles W. Walker, who stuck to his post, up against the end of the boiler, where he was found dead, his hand on the "throttle." Carlos W. Miller, the fireman, and John W. Blake, Walker's nephew, jumped off the engine. Miller was badly injured internally, and died about two o'clock. Blake escaped uninjured. Harry Nute, the engineer of the Bay State, and David Smith, the fireman, escaped with slight injuries, though Nute was badly shaken up. Moses Stephens, the brakeman on the forward end of the train, had his left leg broken and the right ankle crushed. Walker was thirty-two years old and leaves a wife and two children. Miller was thirty-four years old and leaves a wife and one child. The cause of the accident was wholly the carelessness of William Horen, a section hand belonging in Ballardvale. He opened the switch, he says, to remove a hand-car from the main track, and forgot to replace it. Superintendent Furber estimates the loss to the road at from ten to twelve thousand dollars.

—The customs officer at Paris, Canada, was surprised recently by an ancient dame presenting herself and insisting on paying the duty on a number of spoons she stated she smuggled into the country twenty years ago. There was no mistake about it. Those silver spoons had troubled her in her dreams from that day to this, and lately, having got religion and joined the church, she felt she could not leave their weight on her conscience any longer. She must pay up and did.

UPHOLSTERY!

Daily Chronicle.

—A curiously simple but ingenious levelling instrument is thus described in a Dresden paper:—"Two glass tubes, standing upright on feet, and open above and below, are connected below with an India rubber tube of any desired length. If water is poured into one of the tubes it will naturally rise to the same height in the other, however even may be the surface on which they stand. When ground is to be levelled the tubes should be set up at convenient distances and stakes put in the ground so as to reach the height of the water-level. The more uneven the ground is the higher the tubes must be; but the inconvenience arising from this may be alleviated in a measure by the use of stones and other supports. The chief advantage of the new instrument is, that levelling may be performed with it even around corners.

MAGIC
CONDITION PILLS!
The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!
No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are represented to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected in Him Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 23d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I commenced taking them I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty; but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal 'continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.
JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I feel like giving them the praise, so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrell, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. Send three packages more to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.
MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.
BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.
Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.
Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.
CLEAR YOUR THROAT!
Relieve Your Lungs.
PULMOCINE CORDIAL
Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or Inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.
For Coughs,
Croup,
Diphtheria,
Asthma, etc.,
USE
Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.
The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

INCREASES THE QUANTITY IMPROVES THE QUALITY ARMSTRONG'S LINCOLN BUTTER POWDER.

Good Fresh Butter All The Year Round. BUTTER IN 20 MINUTES.

Lincoln Butter Powder is an entirely harmless article made from a celebrated English recipe, and now in daily use by many of the most noted farmers in the better counties around Philadelphia.

It does not change the color of the butter, makes finer and sweeter than is usually produced, and is from twenty varieties. It also removes the strong flavor of turnips, weeds, corn stalks, garlic, etc., and the increased yield of butter more than repays the trifling expense of using it.

Goose Shooting in Shinnecock Bay.

The waters, as we approach the middle of the bay, are so clear that, though the depth is now three feet or less, it does not seem so many inches. Sailing on a few hundred yards, we come upon a dry shoal, just a wash, fifty feet long, by about fifteen in width, and in a moment our keel grates the sand. All hands now jump overboard, and the boxes of geese are carried ashore. The geese are taken out separately, and tied to stakes driven in the sand where the water is an inch or two deep, the line of stakes forming semicircles whose outer edges are from twenty to thirty yards from where we shoot. We then deposit our "duds" in boxes about six feet long by two and a half wide, sunk into the sand, so that they are invisible twenty paces distant; yet, not only form a perfect "blind" from which to shoot, but shelter us completely from the piercing nor'westers.

We then put the empty decoy boxes back into the boat, and after packing up everything, and so disposing the sand as to give it a natural look about our sand boxes, both boats get under way and stand over to the beach, a mile off, leaving us alone in the middle of the bay. But the water between us and the beach is not much more than knee deep, so the danger is not appalling. The wind blows keenly, and we cower down into our sand-boxes, and cocking our guns, peer over the edges, looking seaward eagerly for game.

Hardly have we ceased meditating on the peculiarity of our situation when the old gander begins to cock his head on one side and look knowing. Casting an eye to westward, we spy in the distance a long line of geese apparently heading in over the beach. Now begins the anxious time; minutes seem hours; they may come or they may not. Now—now—they swerve seaward again, and immediately the old gander gives a shrill honk, in which he is joined by the nineteen other geese who vie with one another in shrillness and flapping of wings. Now they turn again, and the gander immediately subsides. So sure as they turn off he pipes up and the chorus is renewed, but so long as they head for us he don't "say a word." "Now, here they come, sure pop! don't move a muscle. For Moses' sake, keep that head of yours down, Jack!" How we shake with nervous excitement. Here they are, right over us; see how they circle round us; blessed if I don't think I could catch that fellow by his legs; strange they don't see us; now they settle down; see them inspect the decoys; how pretty they look as they preen themselves; and how hypocritically innocent our old gander looks, as if he hadn't lured them on to destruction and wasn't gloating over it! Now then, give each of them a barrel where they are, and then one as they rise. Are you all ready? Bang! bang! bang! What a splutter? Six down, by all that's lovely! Now we gather our dead and cover them with sand, so as not to scare the next lot; and then, reloading our guns, snuggle down into our boxes out of the wind.—Scribner for December.

—There has been great joy at the Corners, followed by an awful revulsion and suspense, Nasby tells us in The Toledo Blade. When the news first reached there on Wednesday, that Tilden was elected, the whole population began to get its "chaims" ready for presentation to Congress. The whole amount reached $200,000, and it was decided to sell them to an agent rather than run the risk of having them all eaten away during their passage through Congress. Nasby proceeds: "The spekilator footed up the amount and drew his pockit-book to pay 'em off at the rate uv thirty per cent. It wuz a critikle period. Bascom got there with his akkount book, to receeve the money, which he intendid to take out wat wuz comin to him—he had bills agin us wich wood absorb the most uv them—and for wat balance wuz doe, it wuz understood that he shood give us credit at his bar. His eye glistened, and I wuz weepin teers uv joy. 'Thank Hevin!' I exclaimed, 'This is the substanshel froots uv victory!' At that critikle moment, jist when the Corners wuz to be made opulent, Pollock rode up with a Louisville paper, wich he throwed in to us with a fiendish smile. 'Not a dollar,' sed he; 'them claims uv yourn ain't wuth the paper they are written on. Look at the paper.' I did look, and fell faintin to the floor. 'Louisiana, Florida, and South Carolina for Hayes! Hayes elected by one vote!' That wuz all, but it wuz enuff. That one vote hez cost the Corners deerly. We are despondent. Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C. Nov. 18.

The fatality of the leaders of the national, or out of regard to their prejudices I should say Confederate, democracy, crops out through the covert threats of resistance to Mr. Hayes' inauguration, in case he is declared elected by the authorities legally qualified to decide in the case of three disputed States; and the evil counsel of their most extreme partisans appears to be received with undisguised favor in many sections, where the lessons of the past sixteen years have left but a slight impression, if, indeed, they are not altogether forgotten. If the present complications are amicably adjusted it will never come about through the wise teachings of a portion of the democratic party press. Many of their leading papers are filled with hints and insinuations of armed resistance. President Grant is warned that he is liable to the same fatal accident that, in other times, has left the thrones of tyrants without an occupant; while others of the less pretentious organs of democratic sentiment are running over with incendiary appeals to the most lawless and reckless of their party. It is on the other hand, a matter of pride and congratulation with republicans that not one word has been spoken by any member of their organization whose character or standing would insure him an audience, advising anything but the most prompt acquiescence in the result, whether favorable or otherwise. From the tone of Southern democratic papers of the inflammable character alluded to, the approved method favors throwing the reins for starting the ball upon the democracy of those States North and West which give Tilden their electoral vote. They reason that the South has elected their (the Northern democracy's) candidate and will look to the Northern wing of the party to inaugurate him. I am glad to say that I have no evidence that these marplots represent a majority of the democratic party. On the contrary the New York Herald and other moderate democratic papers are doing much to neutralize the poisonous effect of such treasonable and wicked teachings; but any one having access to democratic papers from some of our large towns in the North and to those coming from the late rebellious States can readily verify all I have said. On the evening of the election and the succeeding Wednesday morning, while in the first flush of a supposed triumph, the insolent and seditious language of representative Bourbons here, left no room to doubt their purposes, at least. The reply of the visiting republicans in New Orleans to the invitation to meet the members of Mr. Hewitt's committee to arrange for a fair count of the vote "actually cast" has probably enlightened the dark understanding of these gentlemen. They do not appear to entertain a hope of either of the States in doubt, if their efforts to confine the Board of State Canvassers and members of the Returning Board to the simple duty of counting the votes as returned to them and declaring the result, should miscarry.

Although the excitement of last week has died away there is no abatement of the interest begotten by the election. When it was first noised about town that two republican electors were ineligible each individual democratic heart in the city was made temporarily light and glad; but they were as quickly depressed through the ingenuity of some satanic Radical who appears to have invented a story to the effect that six of the Tilden electors who were participants in the rebellion, could not legally act as their disabilities had never been removed.

No decision has as yet been reached by the committee appointed to frame a permanent form of government for the District: but a majority, upon an informal exchange of views, appeared to favor a government by Commissioners. One member of the committee advocated restoring the right of suffrage, and another thought that the General Government should pay 40 per cent. of the expenses of the District.

President Grant appears to be quite as popular to-day as he was in 1865 after compelling the evacuation of Richmond and capturing Lee's entire army—the death blow to the ephemeral Confederacy; and no man in the whole country is regarded by democrats as a safer man to let alone. His prompt and determined action when almost every one about him seemed to have lost their heads, has inspired a renewed confidence in him and a feeling that so long, at least, as he is at the head of the Government, treason will remain so odious and its chances of success so hopeless that new enterprises in that line, if contemplated, will be abandoned.

But little doubt is now entertained here that Russia means war, unless Turkey furnished ample assurances of protection to her Christian subjects in the future. But it is not believed that the Sultan can furnish the required guarantees, as Turkish public sentiment will not permit; and it is suspected that Russia is only too glad of an opportunity to carve up his sick neighbor. John Bull has given a snort of defiance and appears concentrating all his tremendous energies for a death grapple with his traditional foe. No one here appears willing to hazard his reputation as a prophet, by definitely predicting anything with regard to the extent or duration of the impending struggle.

The city is fast filling up with people come to stay the winter. The coming session of Congress is by every one expected to prove one of the most exciting and eventful of any in our history. The old, old struggle coeval with men and which has convulsed this nation many times during the past quarter of a century, is to be renewed upon the floor of the House and Senate, with a bitterness that has not been equalled for ten years. All the signs betoken a storm of fearful violence.

MAXWELL.

Election Notes.

Why were not prominent politicians from all parts of the country invited to help count the vote in New York City? There was more corruption there than in all the United States besides, and very little said about it.—Portland Press.

There is a tinge of sadness stealing o'er the democratic papers which makes a sad contrast to the bright smiles they wore a week ago.

In Monroe,, Louisiana, James Pinkerton, for refusing to promise to vote for the democrats, was shot dead, his wife fatally injured, and a baby ten months old drowned in the river. Twelve negroes were killed in that parish. Proofs of this are decisive, and the names of the twelve are given.

It is believed that telegrams addressed to the National Committee from the South have been intercepted, and in some instances, entirely suppressed by democratic operators in the telegraph offices through which they would have to pass.

A humorous advertiser in Hartford commences a newspaper notice as follows: Peter Cooper wins first money and the race; Hayes and Tilden distanced for foul driving.

Besides the Southern rebel electors whose disabilities have not been removed, it is suggested that several others are disqualified by reason of having sent or accepted challenges to fight duels, and at least two by indictment or conviction for crime.

Says Robert G. Ingersoll: "In the Presidential game the democratic party has a hand filled with stolen cards—Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, New York and Connecticut. Full-handed flush? Looking over the tops of these stolen cards, across the table, with one hand on a revolver, the old political bloat, thief, and bulldozer shouts to the republicans: 'Don't you touch Louisiana! Don't you steal a card on me! Don't touch it! The people demand Reform!'"

A New Orleans dispatch to the New York Times says many democrats are returning North disgusted and unwilling to stay and countenance attempts to defraud republicans out of the fruits of an honest victory.

The New York Herald says troops are being concentrated in Washington, it is supposed to frustrate a rebel plot to seize the city. Whether exaggerated or not, it is a matter for future investigation, that the organizations in the Southern States known as rifle clubs aggregate some 263,000 members, officered, armed and drilled, who are ready at a moment's notice to respond to a signal of their leaders to be given in furtherance of a plan agreed upon in connection with the pending Presidential complications.

W. S. Faircloth has been appointed Judge of the Supreme Court of North Carolina, in place of Settle, resigned. The Legislature assembled on Monday.

The Boston Herald and the Globe are in a feverish flutter suggestive of the pool-room, lest the official count will not elect their candidate, Tilden, to the Presidency. So sad!

Speculation as to the personnel of the next Cabinet is phenomenally cautious.

The New Orleans Republican instructs an enquiring world as to where and how the word "bull-doze" was originally constructed. It says: The pleasant brethren of the "Stop," a political society, were in the habit of giving warning calls once, twice, three times, to those whom they desired and demanded should join the "Stop." If, on the third and last call, they did not comply with the demand and take the oath, the unfortunate negro who refused was taken to the woods and given a "bull-dose" of the cowhide on his naked back. A cool hundred well laid on was considered a bull's dose for once; and the victim either listened to such potent reasoning and took the oath as a member, or fled the country. From a bull's dose soon came the verb to bull doze.

Hart's Location is heard from. It gave Hayes nine votes and Tilden two votes. As this is the burg that less than two years ago sent two democratic representatives down to Concord, it must be that intimidation has done a fearful work there now, or that fraud did a large business there then. Perhaps some democratic ready figurer who has figured away all doubts as to Tilden's election will now concentrate on Hart's Location and figure away the doubt that arises there.—Nashua Telegraph.

Hon. Joseph Segar is accumulating testimony of the frauds practiced against him in the Second District of Virginia, to secure the election of John Goode to Congress. There is no doubt that he will be able to make out a clear and equitable case before the Committee on Elections.

President Grant says that whoever is legally declared to be President shall be inaugurated, if the army and navy have to be assembled to do it.

The official vote of Ohio shows that Hayes and Wheeler have a majority of 7,516. There were 3,057 votes cast in the State for Peter Cooper for President, 1,636 for Greene Clay Smith, the Prohibition candidate, and 76 votes for the Anti-secret Society ticket. The aggregate vote in the Presidential election is 658,649. which is an increase of 27,060 over the aggregate vote for State officers in October last, and over the vote for Governor last year of 65,966. The increase over the vote for President in 1872, which is the heaviest ever cast in Ohio prior to last year is 129,213. It is estimated that at least ten thousand republicans refrained from voting.

Terrible Accidents.

On Saturday night, at Sacramento, Cal., during the performance at Moore's Opera House the floor gave way, killing five and wounding about one hundred spectators. The house was situated over a large livery stable and was formerly used as the State armory. It had recently been converted into a theatre by putting up a gallery and a tier of boxes, making the hall capable of seating 1000 persons. The floor was unsupported, except by the usual beams. A vaudeville troupe had engaged the theatre, and it being the opening of the establishment the house was crowded. Soon after the performance commenced a sudden sinking of the floor was noticed, accompanied by crackling of the beams, and directly the entire auditorium, carrying with it the gallery and stage, was precipitated into the stables beneath. The rear portion was partly supported by the stalls beneath, and the audience were thrown toward the stage. The lights were extinguished by the concussion, and a scene of fearful confusion ensued. The fire alarm was struck, and in a few minutes the firemen were on the ground, and, with the assistance of the police, proceeded to rescue the wounded and remove the dead. A great crowd had meantime assembled, and the excitement was intense. Hundreds of people crawled from the ruins unassisted and uninjured. On clearing away the debris five persons were found dead. Eddie Peak, of the Swiss Bell Ringers, and Mrs. Wilson, a variety performer, were injured, but neither of them seriously. Many of the wounded taken from the ruins are in a critical condition and a number of them will probably die.

A party of fifty-six persons left Cincinnati on Saturday night in two furniture wagons to attend a wedding some distance out in the northwestern part of the county. About ten miles out, at the crossing of the west fork, in the darkness, one of the wagons, containing thirty-six people, was driven off the side of the bridge, falling twenty-five feet to the rocks beneath. One old man had his back broken, a young man had his skull fractured and a little girl received concussion of the brain; all three will probably die. Nine or ten others were injured, but none fatally.

During a church entertainment at Perryville, N. Y., Friday night, a floor gave way and dropped fifty or more ladies and children a distance of twelve feet. Many persons were badly bruised and had limbs broken, and one lady was fatally hurt.

—Even silence is libelous, it seems. McKillop, Sprague & Co., the Commercial Agency of New York, have been sued by Messrs. Hyde Bros. & Swift for $20,000. The complainants aver that the agency gives their firm no rating as to credit or capital in its printed book. Whether this is good law or bad it will be the privilege of the courts to determine, but it is certainly an expensive penalty for ignorance of the commercial standing of a firm.

To Worry the Liver

And injure the system generally take blue pills and calomel. To regulate it, and endow the entire system with healthful vigor, use Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Bilious invalids, which of these two recipes will you adopt? We doubt not, the latter. By so doing, you will avoid the disastrous consequences which the persistent or frequent use of mercury entails, and effectuate the desired reform in the action of the biliary gland without danger, as well as speedily and thoroughly. The Bitters invariably remedy yellowness of the complexion and whites of the eyes, ease in the right side and under the right shoulder-blade, furred tongue, high colored urine, nausea, vertigo, dyspepsia, constipation, heaviness of the head, mental despondency, and every other manifestation or accompaniment of a disordered condition of the liver. The stomach, bowels and kidneys also experience their regulating and tonic influence.

Armed to the Teeth,

is a very common expression, but we think armed to emotion and preserve them to a ripe old age is decidedly more beneficial and appropriate—this can only be done by the fragrant "Sozodont." For cleansing, beautifying and preserving the teeth, sweetening and purifying the breath, it has no equal.

Spalding's Glue is up to the sticking point.

The Grand Central Hotel, New York, leads in the popular demand for low prices. It has reduced its rates from $4.00 to $2.50 and $3.00 per day.

THE FAMILY PROVIDED with GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP need have no fear, if it is used freely, of Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Itch or any other of those annoying and disfiguring eruptions, which children are so apt to contract at school.

By the wreck of the Atlantic 600 lives were lost. By the use of Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam more than that number are saved every day. 35 and 75 cents per bottle.

Important to persons visiting New York or the Centennial. The Grand Union Hotel, New York, opposite the Grand Central Depot, has over 350 elegantly furnished rooms. Elevator, steam and all improvements. European plan. Carriage hire is saved, as baggage is taken to and from the depot free. Guests can live better for less money at the Grand Union than at any other first-class hotel. Stages and cars pass the Hotel constantly to all parts of the city, and to the Philadelphia depot.

E. G. PIERCE, Jr., P. M.

POLICE COURT.

The jury in the case of George G. Griffin vs. the town of Auburn, for damages for alleged injuries by a defective highway, returned a verdict on Saturday afternoon of $2500 for Griffin. The case occupied all of last week and about 150 witnesses were examined.

On Monday the appeal cases were in order.

In State vs. George Marden and State vs. Mary E. Marden, the complaints were quashed.

State vs. John Taber was heard in the afternoon. The defendant, a man about 75 years of age, was charged with an assault upon a little child, ten years of age. The case was argued by counsel and given to the jury at 3:30. They returned after a short consultation, rendering a verdict of not guilty. Small, Solicitor; Page for deft.

State vs. John Harrington (or Hornet) was next in order. The warrant alleged that the defendant willfully and maliciously broke a window-frame and five panes of window-glass, of the value of five dollars, of the property of one Katharine Reed. Considerable circumstantial evidence, bearing more or less directly on the case, was offered by the State. The defendant himself was the principal witness in his own favor; he emphatically denied having committed the deed, and explained as best he could any little circumstances that shadowed his innocence. The case was submitted by counsel without argument. The Judge's charge was rather in favor of the prisoner; and the jury, after an absence of five minutes, returned a verdict of "not guilty," which was generally satisfactory. Small, Solicitor; William H. Hackett for defendant.

SUPREME COURT.

Monday, November 20th.

James Nixon and Joseph Smith, tramps, were sent to jail for sixty days and each ordered to pay $6.90 costs.

Maggie Sullivan, for an aggravated assault on James Flynn, was bound over in the sum of $100 to appear at a higher court.

JOTTINGS.

This evening, at the Temple, the Cantata of "Esther, the Beautiful Queen," will be given, with a strong cast of vocalists, gorgeous costumes and appropriate accessories. Tickets thirty-five cents to all parts of the house. A large number of tickets have already been sold, and a large audience is certain. We are desired by Dr. Goodall to state that the time set for the commencement of the Cantata is a quarter before eight o'clock, and intending spectators are earnestly requested to be in their seats by that time, as the entertainment will commence promptly as advertised.

The adjourned meeting of the citizens of Portsmouth, called by the direction of the Mayor and Aldermen upon the petition of Joseph H. Foster and others, "opposed to the further expenditure on the part of the city for the Portsmouth and Dover Railroad, to take the sense of the voters thereon before final action of the city government is had in the matter," will be held at Franklin Hall, on Friday evening, Nov. 24th, at 7 o'clock.

Two more of the older citizens have gone the way of all the earth. Leonard Akerman, Esq., an active business man of this city for some sixty years, died Monday forenoon at the age of 78 years; and Mr. Mark Caswell died the same day at the ripe age of 83 years.

The cabinet size bust of Whittier on exhibition and for sale at Foster's bookstore, executed by our former townsman, Mr. D. W. French, is an exceedingly lifelike and desirable work of art. The subject himself says of it, "I can see nothing which could be changed in it for the better, and my friends regard it as an excellent likeness." The friends both of Mr. Whittier and Mr. French have here a very favorable opportunity to show their appreciation of the two worthy men and eminent artists in their respective departments, by securing copies of this representative New England bust.

News and Notes.

The loss of life by the great East Indian Cyclone is now put at 215,000.

The quickest passage ever made between Liverpool and Portland was made last week by the steamer Peruvian of the Allan line, —seven days, twenty one hours and fifteen minutes.

The ravages made in the main building, at the Centennial, says the Philadelphia Press, are becoming painfully apparent. Scarcely one of the departments appears intact, and where one does it looks lonely by contrast. If there is one thing more than another that adds to the air of desolation pervading the main building it is the packing straw, which is littered around every where, and is so inseparably connected with the idea of "moving-day" that one involuntarily thinks of the vast building being cleared out by night to make room for a new tenant in the morning. All the foreign exhibitors are busily at work, and a babel of sounds is the result. Turks and Spaniards, Chinese and French, Italians and Japanese, Brazilians and Norwegians, all seem to be running a race to see which will get packed up first.

At Custer City, Saturday night, William H. Hosford, Deputy Collector of Wyoming, was fired on twice by Charles Lightner of Omaha, neither shot taking effect, when Hosford drew a revolver and shot Lightner, killing him instantly. Lightner was drunk, and forced his way into Captain Hozrodt's residence, from which Hosford ejected him.

Urgent appeals to Col. Robert Ingersoll to lecture are reaching him from various regions.

The old Boston Cultivator and the New England Rural Home have been consolidated, and are now published as the American Cultivator, a very handsomely printed and ably-edited eight-page paper. Judging from the first number we should say the proprietors mean to deserve even a larger share of public patronage than the Boston Cultivator merited and received, and we hope they will get all they deserve.

Nine prisoners in the county jail at Columbus, Ohio, overpowered the Sheriff Saturday evening and escaped. Four were afterward recaptured, but the leader of the gang was shot twice by the Sheriff before he would surrender.

John Sullivan of Boston, while on a wrecking train on the Boston and Maine road, bound for the scene of the accident at Ballardvale on Saturday, was knocked by a bridge from the top of a car at Reading, and instantly killed.

Jack Hughes and Thomas Mullen, two well known counterfeiters and associates of old Boyd, now in prison for counterfeiting, have been arrested on suspicion of being concerned in the attempt to rob Lincoln's tomb.

Edward Sparrow and Charles Maker were drowned on Friday in a small pond in Harwich, Mass., by the capsizing of a boat in which they were fishing.

Thanksgiving Proclamation.

Through the infinite goodness of Providence we are permitted to witness the close of the harvest season which marks the beginning of the second century of our republic. Blessings innumerable have been bestowed upon our State and nation, and we should be remiss in duty as a Christian people did we not signally recognize the Author of these continued favors. Special praise and thanksgiving to God were regarded by the early fathers as their most reasonable service. Recognizing the utility and importance of this usage, I do, with the advice of the Council, appoint Thursday, the 30th day of November, (the day designated by the President of the United States for a National Thanksgiving), as a day to be observed in this special manner by the people of this State.

You are earnestly invited to abstain as far as practicable from your usual avocations on that day. Let it be devoted to those social amenities and deeds of charity which befit the occasion; and, assembling in our usual places of public worship, let devout gratitude for the past fill our hearts. Let us humbly pray that He who "keepeth covenant and mercy with them that love Him," even "to a thousand generations," will bless our land with righteousness, peace and plenty; that he will bind our people together in fraternal love, and deliver us from the evils of internal discord; and, finally, that "His goodness and mercy may follow us all the days of our lives."

Given at the Council Chamber this the tenth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six, and of the Independence of the United States the one hundred and first.

P. C. CHENEY.

By the Governor:

B. F. PRESCOTT, Secretary of State.

Tweed on Tilden.

"Well," soliloquized Tweed, "the Administration has made at least as much political glory out of my arrest as Tilden has; and if it does not find reasons for my return, as I think it will, at least to Cuba if not to Spain, or for my detention in its own hands until after the election, if the worst comes to the worst, and I am immediately surrendered upon my arrival, then I will prove the sorriest campaign document to Tilden that ever any ambitious candidate laid hands on. I've got secrets enough of his to damn him at least as bad as I am damned—secrets along side of the blackness of which fraudulent income returns are white as snow. I wonder if he remembers the proposition he made to me to bring testimony to support and establish any statement I might choose to make if I would only 'peach' on Sweeney and Hall! I can call up before him some ghostly reminiscences of those old times. Had I been left at liberty in Spain I should utterly have defeated every chance he ever had of an election, and now that he calls for my presence in order to accomplish his political purposes, he shall find that I have yet a power, not merely to accomplish his defeat in this campaign, but his political death as well. Tilden is a shrewd fellow, underestimated by his political opponents, a man of wonderful ability and skill, but a man whose selfish ambition overleaps all bounds. He has overshot his mark this time. I've heard about somebody by the name of Brutus killing another man named Cæsar because he was ambitious; and if Sammy is going to be Cæsar he'll find that I can be Brutus. As I said, I still have hope. This order from Washington forbidding all communication with me, and even with the shore, upon my arrival in New York, until the Department is heard from, looks as if the Government thinks it may have to give me up again."

Thus Tweed soliloquized.

—"Did you do nothing to resuscitate the body?" was recently asked of a witness at a coroner's inquest. "Yes, sir, we searched the pockets," was the reply.

—Affectation hides three times as many virtues as Charity does sins.

Centaur Liniments.

The lame can be healed and the wounded made whole. We now know just what the Centaur Liniment will do. They will not mend broken bones or cure Cancer, but they will extract soreness, allay pain, cure Rheumatism and a larger range of flesh, bone and muscle ailments than any article ever before discovered.

Scientific skill cannot go beyond the effects of these remarkable preparations. Chronic Rheumatism of many years' standing, Neuralgia, Weak Back, Fever Sores, Weeping Sinews, Sciatica, Caked Breasts, Distorted Joints and Sprained Limbs of the worst kind are cured by the White Centaur Liniment.

It will destroy the pain and heal without a scar, all ordinary Burns and Scalds. It will extract the poison of Bites and Stings, and the treat from Frozen Limbs. It is very efficacious for Earache, Toothache, Itch and Cutaneous Eruptions.

Mr. Josiah Westake, of Marysville, O., writes:

"For years my Rheumatism has been so bad that I have been unable to stir from the house. The first three bottles of Centaur Liniment enabled me to walk without my crutches. I am mending rapidly. I think your Liniment simply a marvel.

C. H. Bennett, Druggist, Rock Prairie, Mo., says:

"Centaur Liniment sells better and gives the best satisfaction of anything in the market."

What the Centaur Liniment has done for others it will do for you. It is handy, it is reliable, and it is cheap.

The Yellow Centaur Liniment

is worth its weight in gold to owners of horses and mules.

It is Liniment has cured more Sprained, Sweenied, Ring-boned and Galled Horses in three years than have all the Farriers in the country in an age. Its effects are simply wonderful.

We have thousands upon thousands of certificates as strong as the following:

"My horse was lame for a year with a fetlock wrench. All remedies utterly failed to cure and I considered him worthless until I commenced to use Centaur Liniment, which rapidly cured him. I heartily recommend it."

REV. GEO. W. FERRIS,
Manorville, Schoharie Co., N. Y."

DEAR SIRS,—I have used your Centaur Liniment in my family, and find it to be of great value. Please send me one dollar's worth, one for the mules and horses. RILEY SICKLES.

FALLS STATION, WYOMING CO., PA.

It makes very little difference what the case is, whether it be Wrench, Sprain, Poll-Evil, Ringbone, Scratches or Lame ness of any kind, the effects are the same. Liverymen, Stage proprietors, Farmers, &c., should never be without the Yellow Centaur Liniment. It is sold everywhere, and warranted in its effects.

Castoria.

It is a mistake to suppose that Castoria is not adapted to grown persons as well as Children. They only need to increase the quantity. But children have so many complaints for which Castoria is adapted—like Wind Colic, Sour Stomach, Worms, Tetter, Teething and Croup, that it is especially recommended for them.

Its effects are more certain than Castor Oil. It contains no alcohol and is as pleasant to take as honey. It never gripes. By regulating the stomach and bowels the Castoria cools the blood, expels worms and prevents feverishness, quiets the nerves and produces health—then of course children can sleep in quiet and mothers can rest.

Castoria is recommended by all physicians and nurses who have tried it, and it is having a rapidly increasing sale. It is prepared with great care after the recipe of Dr. Samuel Pitcher, of Mass., at the Laboratory of J. B. Rose & Co., 46 Dey St., N. Y.

Daily Chronicle.

—The little daughter of a noted politician, who likes to travel on his war record, unwittingly furnished the "opposition" with a good joke on her pa. A one-armed soldier came to the house begging assistance, and the little girl, in condoling with him, said, lispingly: "My father wath a tholdier, but he didn't get hurt. He wath a prudent tholdier."

—We cut a piece of mince pie last night and then dreamed that a twelve-foot giant dressed in pea green boiler iron, ornamented with red-hot shoes, and who wore railroad spikes for coat tails, was sitting down on our breast while he pulled on a pair of water-pipe elbows for boots.—Easton Free Press.

—It would cost almost an independent fortune to purchase the piano that "carried off the honors" at the Centennial Exhibition. There are so many of it.

ESTABLISHED IN 1833.

THE OLDEST ESTABLISHED HOSPITAL
— IN THE —
UNITED STATES.
No. 9 Beaver Street, - - - Albany, N. Y
SURE CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Dr. YOUNG,
SUCCESSOR TO
Dr. TELLER,
DECEASED.

The above named private Hospital was established in Albany in 1833 by Dr Lispenard and for a number of years its chairs were presided over by that gentleman, but for the past 20 years, Dr. Teller, who is now deceased, transacted the business of the Institution.

Owing to the great demand for more spacious apartments on account of the large increase of business, the Hospital has been removed to No 9 Beaver Street, two doors above its old location, where patients will find magnificently furnished rooms for their reception, and are so arranged that patients do not come in contact with one another, seeing only the doctor, thereby avoiding the unpleasantness of meeting others, which always occurred at the old office.

LADIES will find rooms provided for their especial accommodation and entirely private.

YOUNG MEN, addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their health and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasures of married life and also those afflicted with private diseases of any nature, are advised that in consulting Dr. Young they will find a physician fully qualified to cure and restore them to full health and manly vigor.

Dr. Teller's great work for the married, or those contemplating marriage—100 pages—full of plates,—price 25 cents. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail post paid.

TO THE LADIES—DR. YOUNG still retains the only agency in America for the sale of Dr. Vichol's Italian Female Monthly Pills. Sent by mail on receipt of $1.00, price per box.

DR. YOUNG is the only agent for Dr. La Mott's celebrated Galvanic Belts.

Invalids out of the city can be cured by consulting the Doctor by letter, and enclosing remittance. Medicines sent by mail or express, securely packed from observation. All orders must be addressed to DR. S. V. R. YOUNG, 9 Beaver St., Albany, N. Y

CONDITION PILLS!
The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Three Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.
Your truly. JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

[WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldier, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.
JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

[EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 19, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S PILLS and Dr. Dumpling's Pain Destroyer, I have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been so free from the Rheumatism for twenty years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yea, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

[DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Rev. Mr. Sherrell, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend these Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.
MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultimate thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. Every day's delay, every moment's delay, may be a fatal one. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,
Croup,
Diphtheria,
Asthma, etc.,
USE
Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely and unconditionally.

We speak in this matter "WHAT WE DO KNOW," after years of experience, AND PLEDGE OUR REPUTATION FOR THE FULFILMENT OF WHAT WE HERE DECLARE. ARMSTRONG'S LINCOLN BUTTER POWDER.

Good Fresh Butter All The Year Round.

BUTTER IN 20 MINUTES.

Lincoln Butter Powder is an entirely harmless article made from a celebrated English recipe, and now in daily use by many of the most noted farmers in the butter counties around Philadelphia.

In hot weather this Powder makes butter much firmer and sweeter than it usually is, and keeps it from turning rancid. It also removes the strong flavor of turnips, weeds, corn stalks, cotton seed, etc.; and the increased yield of butter much more than pays the trifling expense of using it.

TWO WORLDS—THE OLD AND THE NEW.

Peace, in her palace over the Atlantic,
From the New World deals her awards around.
While war's leashed hounds, a strain, for bloodshed frantic,
In our Old World can scarce be held in bound.

Let here, each nation armed against its neighbor;
Cross in the face of Crescent reared for fight;
There to the blessed battlefields of labor
United States that all the world invite.

For a far different shock from the impingings
Of broadside twixt a "Cheesepeake" and "Shannon,"
The strife of Corliss and his monster engines,
With Cyclops Krupp and Essen's monster cannon.

Happy young Titan that between two oceans
Thy guardian Atlantic and Pacific,
Growest apart from our Old World's commotions—
With room to spread and space for powers prolific.

Wisely exchanging rifles, swords and rammers,
For spades and plowshares, axes, saws and treadles,
Thou putt'st thy strength in engines and steam hammers,
And thy gun-metal mouldest into medals.

Earth has no clime, no sky, but thou commandest;
No growth, but thy wide-spreading soil can bear;
No ore, but the rich ground on which thou standest,
Somewhere or other, bids thee stoop and share.

No height thou hast but all thy sons may reach,
No good, but all are free to reap its profit;
No truth, but all thy race may learn and teach,
No lie, but whose lifts its mask may scoff it.

Oh, happy in thy stars, still rising higher,
Happy e'en in thy stripes so lightly borne,
How far may thy meridian growth aspire,
That showest so majestic in thy morn?

To what height may not Heaven's high favor lead thee,
In cycle of the ages yet to be,
When these first hundred years of life have made thee,
For arts and strength, the giant that we see!

Recklessness with Rifles.

Two brothers named Watson have been giving remarkable exhibitions of foolhardiness and skill in Tony Pastor's Theatre. They are billed as "noted Western scouts and sharpshooters," and have the look of frontiersmen. They began by displaying rifles, and shooting bullets through blocks of wood, to prove that the ammunition and missiles are genuine. On both sides of the stage, close to the front, thick wooden pads are placed, for the bullets to lodge in. At the beginning of the display of marksmanship, one man holds an apple in his fingers, and the other shoots a ball through it from across the stage; and next the man who has risked his fingers becomes the shooter in a repetition of the feat. Each in turn hits the bull's eye of a target ten times without a miss, the bull's eye being just above the head of the brother who holds the apple. A potato is placed on one's head and shot off by the other, the potato being split to pieces and the bullet entering the pad in front of which the holder stands. This feat is repeated many times, the brothers changing attitudes and holding the rifle in position seemingly awkward enough to increase the peril. The brothers wheel quickly and shoot potatoes simultaneously off each other's heads.

Yesterday one of the potatoes was barely grazed, but a second trial was successful. A candle was snuffed with a bullet; and, as a culmination, one held a lighted cigar in his mouth and the other shot off the ashes, the distance being the entire width of the stage.

The brothers, who profess to have acquired their skill by long practice on the plains, use breech-loading rifles, and handle them with wonderful quickness. The younger seems to be the best marksman—at least he fires quickest after getting his weapon up to aim, and rarely fails to hit. The older sometimes misses.—New York Sun.

—Capt. Harry Scott of the British navy has thrice saved his ship by digging down to the coal ignited by spontaneous combustion. He sank a shaft to the lower strata, and the men could only work by standing in pails containing water. The ignition is always under the hatchway, because when the coal is shot down the spouts the heaviest lumps tumble forward, aft, or at the sides, leaving the smallest in the middle, which becomes so compact that the density of the mass prevents air from passing through it or, in the event of fire, water from percolating. It flows toward the bilges and into the timbers without extinguishing the fire or even cooling the heated coal.

—The potato crop of Maine, this year, probably reaches 2,500,000 bushels, worth a million dollars. In Aroostook county, some 300,000 to 500,000 will be converted into starch. Large quantities are also being shipped to Bangor for exportation. In Aroostook, the farmers get about 90 cents per bushel, while at Bangor, the great potato mart of the State, the price ranges from 50 to 60 cents.

— Henry Watterson telegraphs, "New Orleans is as quiet as a nursery." As quiet as a nursery! Is Watterson a poor, ignorant, innocent bachelor, or—or are we?—Worcester Press.

—A dark disappointment—Trying to put your foot on a step which is not at the head of a pair of stairs.

—It is something of a paradox to speak of a horse as rearing up when he stands on his hind feet.

— Without reference to thanksgiving, some one has spoken of Russia as a Turkey gobbler.

—The man who will get all he can take is better than one who will take all he can get.

Daily Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1876

Election Notes.

Dakota goes republican by nearly four thousand.

Democratic honesty is again illustrated by the result of the recent campaign in North Carolina. Heretofore it has been estimated that the total vote of both parties in the State was 200,000, round numbers. Of this Judge Settle, the republican candidate for Governor on the 7th instant, received 105,000, or a clear majority of 10,000; but Vance and his friends bring in returns giving the democrats 120,000 votes, and they are not through counting yet. So apparent has his stuffing of ballot-boxes become that General Cox, the democratic manager, is beginning to apologize for the "unexpectedly" heavy majority. The question is where did these 25,000 extra votes come from?

It is generally expected that Mayor Wickham will appoint John Kelly as Comptroller Green's successor. — N. Y. Tribune.

The Graphic's Washington special says the officers of the House of Representatives have been figuring on Congressional returns received, 142 republicans and 144 democrats are elected. Three districts in New Hampshire are yet to elect. Four districts are now in doubt; one in Louisiana, one in Missouri and two in South Carolina. Estimating that these doubtful districts are divided equally between the two parties, the House may stand democrats 146, republicans 147. Among the democrats is Alexander H. Stephens, who is not expected to be able to take his seat.

Northern papers notice that wild geese are flying southward. They are probably democrats on a wild goose chase.

Six hundred majority for Hayes in South Carolina is exceedingly welcome news to those who feel that the weal or woe of the great nation hangs by a slender thread. This is a great improvement on South Carolina's rebellious political action in 1861, and does her more honor than we can name.

They told Charles Francis Adams to be virtuous and he would be happy; upon that he acted and now he is miserable.

"They will cheat us if they dare," was Governor Tilden's reply to a reporter who asked him if he believed there had been any attempt at frauds by the republicans. We hope "they," the republicans, will not "dare" to do anything not entirely defensible under unquestioned law. But we pity Governor Tilden. He has looked within, and he beholds the imminent possibilities of fraud, and underhandedness, and violence. He now remembers how he connived at the gross frauds which gave the electoral vote of New York to Horatio Seymour in 1868, and which seated John T. Hoffmann in the Executive chair. He looks back a few weeks and beholds the fraudulent registrations carried on with his knowledge under his nose in New York city and in Brooklyn. He recollects the plight of the immaculate Josephs and Marcus who dared so much in the way of forged tax receipts in this city, altogether in his interest. Mr. Tilden has "dared" to cheat and swindle in politics for several years, and now he is trying to count the curses of an evil life as they come home to roost. He counts 184 electoral votes, but nobody knows better than he that but for outrageous cheating he would not count half so many. No wonder he is afraid, and no wonder he turns pale in the hour of suspense.—Phila. North America.

And now the defeated candidate goes about among his friends, living, as it were, a new life; but the drinks wasted will never return.

It cannot be top frequently impressed on the public mind that, if the conduct of elections in the South is to be made the subject of complaint, the only party which has a right to complain is the republican. The sixteen Southern States owe almost solely to negro enfranchisement the possession of the twenty-one votes added to their representation in the electoral college by the apportionment of 1871. In most of the States the democracy wield this additional power, while virtually disfranchising the element to whose admission to the franchise it was due.—New York Times.

A great many democrats have caught the Hayes fever.

The following is an extract from a letter of one of the best informed politicians of Mississippi: Chalmers has been "counted in" over Lynch, who, instead of getting the 18,000 majority to which he is entitled, is ruled as defeated by 5000. Show me a Returning Board that can beat that!

Chalmers is a reformer, and he goes to New Orleans to-day to see a fair count in Louisiana.—God save the mark! And Lamar, Senator elect, depending upon the most woesome deeds that ever disgraced civilization for a seat in the most august and dignified body on earth, accompanies him for a like pretended purpose. Magone has gone to Florida to secure another "fair count," so you may see that if the boys in blue don't now "hold the fort" the war for the Union had far better not have been waged.

Tilden voted for himself in New York, as he nominated himself in St. Louis. Hayes modestly stayed away from the polls, as he avoided using influence at Cincinnati.

The Presidential contest is narrowed down to Florida and Louisiana.

It will be simply impossible for any returning board to manipulate the ballot boxes and return a false verdict.—New Orleans Times. (dem.)

The Alabama majority for Tilden and Hendricks electors is 34,283.

A New Orleans dispatch of the 18th says that in one Louisiana parish, giving over one thousand democratic majority, the democrats voted for Tilden and Hendricks direct, and not for the Electors.

A despatch to Secretary Chandler from W. E. Chandler at Tallahassee, Florida, says there is no cause for uneasiness among the republicans; that the prospect for success could not be better, and that confidence heretofore expressed as to the result is still maintained.

Senator West is advised from New Orleans that only twelve hundred tickets with the names of the five republican electors omitted, were printed, and it is not believed that all were voted. The tickets were printed independently of those furnished by the Republican State Committee, and the report that 3000 such tickets were voted is pronounced gross exaggeration.

After all, the heart of Samuel Bowles is in the right place. So is his candidate.

The official vote of Pennsylvania is as follows: Hayes, 384,146; Hartranft, 366,204; Cooper, 7204; Smith (Prohibitionist), 1318; and a peculiar ticket, headed by a local candidate, 83. Hayes' plurality, 17,944.

The Supreme Court of Columbia, S. C., peremptorily refused to order the Board of Canvassers to count in detail according each county. The board will listen to errors and omissions.

A New Orleans special says the electoral votes of Ascension and Avoyelle were canvassed, both giving republican majorities. No objections were raised. These parishes give six republican representatives.

News and Notes.

It suits the purpose of certain democrats now to make much of the popular vote as against the electoral vote—the very democrats who, all their lives have been advocating the rights of the States as against all the people of the whole country.—N. Y. Evening Post.

George Varney, of Gonic, aged 18 years, was instantly killed Tuesday morning by being caught in a belt in the mill of the Gonic Manufacturing Company. He was shockingly mangled, nearly every bone in his body being broken.

The New York Times says the State of New Hampshire is one of the most sober and sensible States in the Union.

Says Sam. Bowles: The country had best make haste to devote itself to business, the retrenchment of expenditure, and the reorganization of industries on bases more compatible with the altered values of things and the slackened demands for them. This is what we were doing before the election, and this is equally imperative after election. Even a Hayes or a Tilden cannot evoke prosperity from the ground by a stamp of his foot. It is the feet of the other 45,000,000 which have got to take a new hold on our industrial development.

The message of the President it is understood will deal vigorously with the election complication, and its tone will be similar to that of his order to General Sherman. It is asserted by those who know him best that no man was ever more earnest than he on this subject, and in case trouble arises he will be prepared to meet it at its inception.

A party of filibusters, having headquarters in this city and Los Angeles, are meditating a raid upon Lower California. They intend to charter a schooner in San Francisco, and land at some point in the neighboring territory, and their allies at Los Angeles are to march overland and meet those going by water at a certain point. Some of the filibusters are supposed to own mines in Lower California, and others have titles to land. It is ostensibly proposed that the party combined will go to work to develop the mines and work the ranches, but the real object, according to trustworthy Mexican authorities, is to further a filibustering scheme and take the first move that will culminate in annexing the territory to the American republic. The Stars and Stripes are to be thrown to the breeze over the colony to be founded by the filibusters. —San Francisco Chronicle.

Governor Beveridge of Illinois has the credit of issuing the shortest Thanksgiving proclamation this year. It contained only 58 words and could have been written on half a sheet of commercial note paper. That is the Beveridge for us.

At 11 o'clock yesterday morning Rose Anderson and her child appeared at the West Jersey ferry house, and the boat not being in the dock, she went into the ladies' room. The weather being quite chilly she placed the child in front of the stove to warm himself. Two ladies came and she went to the retiring room with them. She returned in a few minutes, and the child had disappeared. The mother imagined that the youngster had strayed outside and proceeded to search for him. In the meantime the boat had arrived and departed, and the mother learned that a man had embarked for Camden having in his arms a child answering the description of her own. After a wait of fifteen minutes, the mother went to New Jersey, and on careful inquiry learned that a man had been seen passing out Market street. At the candy stand in front of the West Jersey Hotel he stopped and purchased a ball of popcorn, which he gave the child. He then went out Market street. The boy is very intelligent, and answers the name of George Washington Anderson.—Philadelphia Press.

Jacob Reed, an aged and respectable citizen of Plainfield, committed suicide last Saturday morning by hanging himself in his stable. Financial difficulties are alleged as the cause. He leaves a wife and one daughter.

Business is improving, says the money article of the Boston Daily Advertiser, and in some departments of trade there has been more activity. If the country could be relieved from the political anxiety under which it is now laboring, business ought to steadily revive. The lightness of stocks of manufactured goods of all kinds must in the end tend to this result; overproduction was one of the leading causes of the depression.

The gold yield of California this year is estimated at $20,000,000.

The President has begun the preparation of his annual message, and all except the Cabinet are excluded from the Executive mansion. This being the last annual message it will be somewhat larger than previous ones. Reference will be made to the progress of and the adjustment of our complications with Spain. Also to the success of the International Exhibition. He will recommend the Government exhibits to be transferred to the capital as a permanent monument to the powers and resources of the United States.

The forthcoming Constitutional convention will be held in the Capitol at Concord, in Representatives' hall. It will assemble on Wednesday, Dec. 6.

Mrs. Lelia Morse, daughter of the late Professor Morse, denies that she ever was engaged to marry Samuel J. Tilden. She says that the thing is impossible; for she is a republican!

Spain proposes to retain Cuba at any cost; but the joke of it is that Cuba must pay the cost.

The Cyclone in India.

The correspondent of the London Times at Calcutta gives the following additional details of the visit of the cyclone, October 21. He says that three large islands, namely, Hattiah, Sundop and Dakhin Shahabazpore, and numerous smaller islands included in Backergurge, Nookholly and Chittagong districts were entirely submerged by the storm wave of October 31, as was also the mainland for five or six miles inland. These islands are all situated in or near the estuary of the River Megna. The largest, Daklain Shahabazpore, was 800 square miles in extent. It had a population of 240,000. Hattiah and Sundop together had about 100,000 population. Up to 11 o'clock on the night of October 31, there were no sign of dangers, but before midnight the wave swept over the country to a depth in many places of twenty feet, surprising people in their beds. Dense groves of cocoanut and palm trees around the villages enabled many to save themselves by climbing among the branches, and some took refuge on the roof of their houses, but the water burst houses asunder and swept them out to sea. Some were carried thus across the channel ten miles to Chittagong district, but the vast majority were never heard of again. The country is perfectly flat, and almost every one perished who failed to reach trees. There is scarcely a household in the islands and on the adjacent coast but that has lost many members. The cattle are all drowned, boats swept away, and the means of communication with other districts is destroyed. There is much distress among the survivors, which the Government is relieving. The Government Gazette says that wherever the storm wave passed it is believed that not a third of the population survived. The islands have barely one-fourth their former inhabitants.

The stench from putrefying bodies is insufferable, and a general outbreak of cholera is hourly expected. The Times correspondent says this fear is happily not yet realized except in Nookhally, where disease has appeared. The news from the famine-threatened districts of Madras is somewhat better. Rain has come in time to do some good. In Bombay the prospects are still gloomy. Actual famine in two or three districts seems probable, and great distress in four or five more.

To Worry the Liver

And injure the system generally take blue pills and calomel. To regulate it, and endow the entire system with healthful vigor, use Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Bilious invalids, which of these two recipes will you adopt? We doubt not, the latter. By so doing, you will avoid the disastrous consequences which the persistent or frequent use of mercury, metals, and effervescent drugs produce in the action of the biliary gland without danger, as well as speedily and thoroughly. The Bitters invariably remedy yellowness of the complexion and whites of the eyes, pains in the right side and under the right shoulder-blade, furred tongue, high colored urine, nausea, vertigo, dyspepsia, constipation, heaviness of the head, mental despondency, and every other manifestation or accompaniment of a disordered condition of the liver. The stomach, bowels and kidneys also experience their regulating and tonic influence.

The Grand Central Hotel, New York, leads in the popular demand for low prices. It has reduced its rates from $4.00 to $2.50 and $3.00 per day.

THE FAMILY PROVIDED WITH GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP need have no fear, if it is used freely, of Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Itch or any other of those annoying and disfiguring eruptions, which children are so apt to contract at school.

By the wreck of the Atlantic 600 lives were lost. By the use of Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam more than that number are saved every day. 25 and 75 cents per bottle.

Important to persons visiting New York or the Centennial. The Grand Union Hotel, New York, opposite the Grand Central Depot, has over 350 elegantly furnished rooms. Elevator, steam and all improvements. European plan. Carriage-hire is saved, as baggage is taken to and from the depot free. Guests can live better for less money at the Grand Union than at any other first-class hotel. Stages and cars pass the Hotel constantly to all parts of the city, and to the Philadelphia depot.

P. & D. R. R. AID.

The following is the bill before the Common Council providing for an additional subscription to the stock of the Potsmouth and Dover Railroad:

An ordinance relating to the Portsmouth and Dover Railroad.

WHEREAS, the sum of one hundred thousand dollars is required to pay the debts of the Portsmouth and Dover Railroad and to complete the road: and the Legislature has authorized the issue of new stock at par to that amount, and empowered the present stockholders to subscribe for and take the same:

Be it ordained by the City Councils of the city of Portsmouth:

SECTION 1. That His Honor the Mayor be authorized and instructed to subscribe for four hundred and forty shares in said new stock, at one hundred dollars each, in the name and behalf of the city of Portsmouth: and that His Honor the Mayor issue to the city treasurer his warrants to pay for the same.

SEC. 2. For the purpose of obtaining money to pay for said stock His Honor the Mayor is authorized and directed to issue bonds of the city to an amount not exceeding forty-four thousand dollars, payable in twenty years from date, with coupons attached for interest at six per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, and to dispose of the same at not less than the par value thereof. Said bonds shall be signed by the Mayor and countersigned by the Treasurer, and the dates and amounts thereof recorded by the City Clerk: and the coupons shall be verified in such manner as the Mayor shall direct.

SEC. 3. This ordinance shall not be in force until the city of Dover shall have determined by proper ordinance to subscribe for its proportion of said new stock.

POLITICAL CONUNDRUMS.

While our anxious readers of both parties are waiting with more or less impatience for the announcement of the official vote for President, they may amuse themselves over the following figures:

In one ward of a city, in which 800 votes are cast, 401 being a majority, the republicans have 100 majority, throwing 450 votes to 350 by the democrats. There are three aldermen to elect, and the vote at the close of the polls is declared as follows:

Whole number of votes	800
George Washington, repub., has	450
Thomas Jefferson, do.	450
Andrew Jackson, dem.,	340
James Buchanan, do.	350
Franklin Pierce, do.	350
Luther McCutchins, repub.	350

The cause of the small vote for Luther McCutchins is the fact that 100 republicans decline to vote for him, and scratch his name from their ballots, which contain the names of Washington and Jefferson; but do not vote for a third candidate, all ballots being cast on a single piece of paper, as is the custom here. For the same reason, Andrew Jackson runs one behind his associates on the democratic ticket. If the law requires a majority of votes to elect, which candidates are chosen? If a plurality only is necessary, who are the candidates actually elected?

SUPREME COURT.

On Tuesday, State vs. William Quinn, appeal case from the Police Court, charged with rude, indecent and disorderly conduct, breaking up a dance held exclusively by the colored people in the South ward room on the 4th of September last. The case was given to the jury at 12 o'clock, and at 1:30 they returned a verdict of guilty; sentenced to pay a fine of $20 and costs. Small, Solicitor; Call for deft.

Next, Benson vs. Tilton was called; action on a mortgage. The defence was reached in the afternoon and several witnesses were examined. Stickney and Hatch for plaintiff; Marston and Eastman for defendants.

JOTTINGS.

Poems in autumn fill a dreary waste basket.

Nothing makes a young man so happy as to get around to the post-office after it is closed and see a letter in his box; to have his heart whisper that it is from her; to dream sweet and tender fancies, hallowed with love's sacredness, all night, and to come down in the morning and find it a bill for $1.50 for his last year's business suit.

On with the dance; let jaw be unconfined:

The second dance of the course of assemblies that is being given by the Portsmouth Light Artillery Company will occur at Mechanics' Hall to-morrow (Thursday) evening. A pleasant and respectable party attended the first and the course was considered successfully inaugurated but the excitement of election intervening it was deemed best to postpone them for awhile. It is now hoped by the managers that those who derived so much pleasure from the first dance will not forget this, the second, and will bring their friends along, too.

Bouncing a book agent is not an argument against literature.

The publisher of "The Nursery" has issued a list of premiums for obtaining subscribers to his popular magazine. The list comprises articles useful and ornamental, including books, games, knives, skates, and toys of all kinds. Here is a chance for boys and girls to obtain a nice holiday gift for themselves or a friend, making a little healthful exertion. "The Nursery" enters upon its eleventh year in January, 1877, and is as full of life and animation as ever. The secret of its success is found between covers every month. The price is $1.60 a year. It is published by John L. Shorey, 36 Broomfield street, Boston, who will send a sample number with the premium list for ten cents.

Don't fail to attend the citizens' meeting at Franklin Hall next Friday evening if you are opposed to granting more municipal aid to the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad.

If you haven't bought tickets for the performance at the Temple to-night, you had best secure the few remaining seats immediately. "Queen Esther" had quite a reception last evening, of which more hereafter.

A number of people went to Wallis' Sands, Tuesday, to see the effect of the storm; the waves were very high and the sight was a grand one.

At the Supreme Court, Tuesday morning counsel for the defence was cross-examining one of the witnesses for the prosecution, a colored gentleman, in regard to the effect of a blow received by one of his brethren: "Did he have a black eye, sir, after that blow?" asked the counsel; "Yes, sar, and before de blow, too, sar," was the reply, much to the enjoyment of the Court.

Accounts from Newburyport, Salem and Gloucester, along the northern shore, and from Cape Cod ports, represent the storm as the most violent of the season; but the temperature was not very cold.

The alarm of fire about 3 o'clock Wednesday morning was caused by the burning of the dwelling house owned by Mr. Clarence B. Mason, on Boyd's road. The furniture was nearly all lost, including a large new piano. The fire is supposed to have caught from a defective chimney.

Tilden Tactics in Georgia.

The Constitutionalist of Augusta, Ga., of November 8th, the day after the election, says:

A number of colored men who have for years held good paying positions in the stores of our merchants, voted the Radical ticket. This, too, after having received kindnesses without number from their employers. More than half a dozen of these ingrates were discharged last evening, and others will be today. The delivery porter at the store of J. G. Baltie & Bro. received his dismissal as soon as he returned from the polls, and now a good porter is wanted by them, but he must bring satisfactory evidence that he voted the democratic ticket. Such an one can get a good situation by applying early this morning. A prominent colored barber on Broad street, who has made his living off his white friends for years, is reported to have voted the Radical ticket. The fact will be ascertained to-day, and, if found correct, his name will be given to the public, that they may know who to patronize in the future.

We are getting a list of all the colored people who have been making their living off their white friends and who voted the Radical ticket, and intend publishing their names. If they can afford to vote with the Radicals, they surely cannot expect assistance from democrats. There are plenty of negroes who voted the democratic ticket to fill all the places, and it is but justice that they should have them.

And in conclusion it says: "The Solid South never behaved better in all its life!"

—An English butter maker of large experience, who is now on a visit to this country for the purpose of looking over our cheese and butter dairies, gives the following information concerning a method in practice among the best butter-makers in England for rendering butter firm and solid during hot weather. Carbonate of soda and alum are used for the purpose, made into powder. For twenty pounds of butter, one teaspoonful of carbonate of soda and one teaspoonful of powdered alum are mingled together at the time of churning, and put into the cream. The effect of this powder is to make the butter come firm and solid, and to give it a clean, sweet flavor. It does not enter into the butter, but its action is upon the cream, and it passes off with the buttermilk. The ingredients of the powder should not be mingled together until required to be used, or at the time the cream is in the churn ready for churning.

Now, supposing Hayes declared elected by counting the votes from the three doubtful States as given in the official certificates, the democrats will have no constitutional means of redress. The very utmost they could do would be to use force to prevent the inauguration of Hayes; but as President Grant will be still in office this would be a tougher job than anybody would care to undertake. A resort to arms would be treason, and with the army at his command Gen. Grant would make short work of treason. We may, therefore, quietly dismiss all the "gorgons, hydras and chimeras dire" which distempered and caviling imaginations have conjured up, and accept the safe conclusion that, let the official count be as it may, the result will be acquiesced in by the defeated party and the peace of the country be preserved.—New York Herald.

"Under Which Flag?" is the suggestive head line under which the Pittsburg Commercial puts its telegraphic report of the pending count of the votes in Louisiana.

There is one thing settled beyond all question and dispute, and that is, when Benjamin F. Butler opens his mouth in the Forty-fifth Congress, let no Cox crow.

—Sitting Bull will spend his winter vacation in the Big Horn district.

—The following manifesto appears in the Louisville Courier-Journal: All notices of marriage where no bride-cake is sent will be set up in small type and poked in an outlandish corner of the paper. Where a handsome piece of cake is sent, the notice will be put conspicuously in large letters; when gloves or other bride favors are added, a piece of illustrative poetry will be given in addition. When, however, the editor attends to the ceremony in person, and kisses the bride, it will have especial notice—very large type—and the most appropriate poetry that can be begged, borrowed or stolen.

Centaur Liniments.

The lame can be healed and the wounded made whole. We now know just what the Centaur Liniment will do. They will not mend broken bones or cure Cancer, but they will extract soreness, allay pain, cure Rheumatism and a larger range of flesh, bone and muscle ailments than any article ever before discovered.

Scientific skill cannot go beyond the effects of these remarkable preparations. Chronic Rheumatism of many years' standing, Neuralgia, Weak Back, Fever Sores, Weeping-Sinews, Sciatica, Caked Breasts, Distorted Joints and Sprained Limbs of the worst kind are cured by the White Centaur Liniment.

It will destroy the pain and heal without a scar, all ordinary Burns and Scalds. It will extract the poison of Bites and Stings, and the frost from Frozen Limbs. It is very efficacious for Ear-ache, Tooth-ache, Itch and Cutaneous Eruptions.

Mr. Josiah Westake, of Marysville, O., writes:

"For years my Rheumatism has been so bad that I have been unable to stir from the house. The first three bottles of Centaur Liniment enabled me to walk without my crutches, I am mending rapidly. I think your Liniment simply a marvel.

C. H. Bement, Druggist, Rock Prairie, Mo., says:

"Centaur Liniment sells better and gives the best satisfaction of anything in the market."

What the Centaur Liniment has done for others it will do for you. It is handy, it is reliable, and it is cheap.

The Yellow Centaur Liniment

is worth its weight in gold to owners of horses and mules.

T is Liniment has cured more Sprained, Sweenied, Ring-boned and Galled Horses in three years than have all the Fairiers in the country in an age. Its effects are simply wonderful.

We have thousands upon thousands of certificates as strong as the following:

"My horse was lame for a year with a hitlock wrench. All remedies utterly failed to cure and I considered him worthless until I commenced to use Centaur Liniment, which rapidly cured him. I heartily recommend it.

REV. GEO. W. FERRIS,
Mannsville, Schoharie Co., N. Y."

DEAR SIRS.—I have used your Centaur Liniment in my family, and find it to be of great value. Please send me two dollars worth, one for the mules and horses. RILEY SICKLES.

FALLS STATION, WYOMING CO., PA.

It makes very little difference what the case is, whether it be Wounds, Sprains, Poll-evil, Ringbone, Scratches or Lameness of any kind, the effects are the same. Liverymen, Stage proprietors, Farmers, &c., should never be without the Yellow Centaur Liniment. It is sold everywhere, and warranted in its effects.

Castoria.

It is a mistake to suppose that Castoria is not adapted to grown persons as well as Children. They only need to increase the quantity. But children have so many complaints for which Castoria is adapted—like Wind Colic, Sour Stomach, Worms, Tetter, Teething and Croup, that it is especially recommended for them.

Its effects are more certain than Castor Oil. It contains no alcohol and is as pleasant to take as honey. It never gripes. Sprains relaxed bowels and bowels the Castoria cools the blood, expels worms and prevents feverishness, quiets the nerves and produces health—then of course children can sleep in quiet and mothers can rest.

Castoria is recommended by all physicians and nurses who have tried it, and it is having a rapidly increasing sale. It is prepared with great care after the recipe of Dr. Samuel Pitcher, of Mass., at the Laboratory of J. B. Rose & Co., 46 Dey St., N. Y.
